Best quality of raisins, citron, orange and lemon peel, zante currants, dates and figs, and many other good things at Kenton's cash grocery store near the P. O.
Parties desiring costumes for the New Year's masquerade ball should call upon Will & Link, at their music store in the opera house building.
The store of Smith & Moore at Tugent was broken into a few nights ago and about $50 worth of cutlery and other merchandise was carried away.
A Hackleman expects his son Thurston, who lives in Michigan, to arrive in a day or two, with the remains of their little child, whose death occurred recently.
Mr. H. John of A. John & Co. S. E. the largest costumers on the coast, will be here with a full selection of costumes for the masquerade ball in New Years eve Dec. 31st.
Dr. Barker has returned from the mines of the Golden City Mining Co., in the Quartzville district. The company expects to put in a quartz mill in the spring to work their mines.
Several prominent lawyers of Albany have been "bilked" by a man who claimed to represent the Portland Rubber Stamp Company. He took several orders, getting from $1 to $2 each instance.
Mrs. Gilbert is prepared to do dressmaking of all kinds. She has employed a first class dressmaker from Sacramento, and will guarantee satisfaction on all kinds of work. Children's garments a specialty. Location, First street over the Golden Rule Bazaar.
Remember the grand masquerade ball New Year's eve, at the opera house. Masks will not be removed until midnight. Calcium lights, moonlight dance and other new attractions will be introduced. Spectators reserved seats at Will & Link's music store.
The wife of a Baker City laborer presented her husband with three babies all in one day. The folks were named Wunder, and the Daily Democrat in mentioning the occurrence says "Wonders will ever come. At that rate it don't look as if that particular family of Wunders cease very rapidly.
Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Baltimore of this city, made their daughter a fine Christmas present. It is a J. B. Baker & Co. piano from Will & Link's music store. A. W. McClain also bought of the same firm a fine organ for his family. Such presents would be acceptable by any one.
Mr. Julius Gradwohl, proprietor of the Golden Rule Bazaar store, informs us that he invites the general public who desire to purchase any holiday presents to hurry up, as his goods are going very fast, and Christmas is too close at hand to make new orders. He still has plenty of beautiful holiday goods, but he cannot tell how long they will last, and some items are already sold out.
Cakes for Christmas.
A large supply of cakes for Christmas at Parker Bros. Also fresh candies.

THE CHRISTMAS OBSERVANCES.

The Daily Decked Trees and Exercises at the Various Churches.
Christmas eve was observed by the Sunday schools at the various churches of this city in an appropriate manner, and the distribution of presents from the early decked trees, laden with beautiful presents and surrounded by decorations for the occasion, was participated in alike by old and young.
At the Presbyterian church a beautiful effect was produced by using the electric lights to illuminate the tree and its accompanying arch and pyramid of evergreens.
At the Evangelical church a candle offering was given with appropriate exercises.
At the Baptist church, the Methodist, the Congregational, and the Christian churches the presents were tastefully arranged among the evergreens of the stable, and were distributed with the usual exercises, while at the United Presbyterian church were two trees and the proverbial chimney down which the little old dream of jolly Santa Claus coming.
The exercises at the churches were most entertaining. Many homes about the city were also illuminated and adorned with brightly decked Christmas trees, where the little people joined with the older ones in the enjoyment of Christmas cheer.
In this city to-day the savor of roast turkey and plum pudding will be abroad, and the day will be given over as a holiday. The banks and many other business houses will be closed and no business will be done, except the routine of work that must go on.

RAILROAD MATTERS.

Said the Southern Pacific Will Not Extend the Oregonian Line.
According to an evening paper of San Francisco the people of southern Oregon have lost their prospects of having a new railroad for very unique reasons. It says that some Scotch capitalists intended to buy the Oregonian railroad which runs from East Portland along the east side of the Willamette river to Coburg. Huntington made the purchase on behalf of the Southern Pacific company, or at least that was his intention, but he was very much surprised when Colonel Crocker and Stanford objected on the ground they had not been consulted in the matter. Huntington was indignant and some tactful remarks were made. Huntington did succeed in getting Mr. Hopkins to assume half the indebtedness of the road and the New York magnate then proceeded to extend the road south from Coburg entirely separate from the Southern Pacific company. He first built from Coburg to Springfield, and there a large surveying party made a survey 54 miles long through the country between the middle and coast forks of the Willamette river. This movement aroused great interest in that section, many believing a new line would be built. The surveyors have now all been called in and work ceased. Stanford and Crocker have finally agreed to join the road to the Southern Pacific. Huntington has abandoned the idea of extending the road regardless of the interests of the Southern Pacific lines in Oregon.
Extreme Low Water.
The Corvallis Times rises with this remark: The Willamette river is lower than ever before known at this season of the year. Yesterday the Fremont's logging outfit consisting of a wagon and three yoke of oxen forded about a mile and a half above this city and the driver didn't get a drop of water on himself. The lake has never been known in December.
The Lantern Exploded.
Edward Schmeier, a clerk at Mueller & Garrett's was using a lantern in their warehouse early yesterday morning, when it exploded, causing a brick blaze. He extinguished the flames by smothering them with his coat. His hands were considerably burned in the operation.
Lutheran Meeting and Service.
The Lutherans of Albany and vicinity are kindly requested to meet at the First Presbyterian church on Dec. 26, at 11 o'clock a. m., for the purpose of organizing. Services will be held in the afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. Gust E. Meyer.
The Albany Postoffice.
Who will be the successful one among the candidates for the Albany postoffice is still a matter of conjecture. It is not likely that the Oregon delegation in congress will unite upon a man for the position until after the holidays.
No "Herald" To-morrow.
Owing to Christmas, and the desire on the part of the printers, along with the rest of the world, to enjoy the festivities of the day, no paper will be issued from this office to-morrow morning.
The Union Pacific.
Is the only line running two fast trains daily from Portland to Omaha, St. Paul, Kansas City, Chicago, St. Louis and all points East and South. Buy your tickets at C. G. Hawkins, foot of Broad-albeit street, Albany.
Holiday Book.
Ladies call Mrs. Hyman's and give your order for the juvenile book for Christmas. The latest out.
I have a few albums and glove boxes that I will sell for less than cost to close. E. C. Searls.
The heat make of gold pens at French's, at reduced price.
Fine cheese at F. L. Kenton's.

IMPROVE THE STREETS.

Some Plans Should Be Adopted Bettering the Condition of the Thoroughfares.
The present muddy condition of the business streets of Albany is a source of unfavorable comment, both by residents here and visitors. It is but the annual recurrence of the same old trouble that must exist until some permanent street improvements are made.
This same question is agitating other cities of the Pacific coast, and has elicited some discussion which might be applicable here. It at least shows that other towns are trying to do away with muddy streets.
The subject of introducing some more modern style of improving streets is being quite generally discussed, and the discussion comes up none too soon. People can have good streets if they will pay for them. A writer in the Oregonian says: It is useless and senseless to complain of muddy streets as long as streets are improved with crushed stone or gravel. The first cost of such improvements is less than stone block, asphalt or wooden blocks; but the macadam or gravel soon wears out, and is a constant expense all the time it is doing so, as all the stone or gravel has to be hauled away in the form of mud or dust. A gentleman who is in favor of having better streets says the "Nichol" on pavement is the best, being a smooth, not a "bed" and although in Portland it did not last forever, it lasted longer and made a better street than macadam, and if it had been placed on a proper foundation and the blocks carefully selected, it would have lasted as long as any one could expect.
Asphalt streets are probably the best in level ground; but a great deal of wooden block pavement, and brick pavement, is being laid in Eastern cities. None of these are liable to be converted into mud with such celerity as the crushed rotten stone used on the streets here. If there is any place where an anti mud pavement is needed, it is right here in this moist climate.
Mrs. Abbott.
This marvelous phenomenon will appear at the opera house in this city on Christmas night. Every seat should be taken. Nothing like it has ever been seen here. Prices within reach of all. "Two large and powerful men failed to lift her off her feet," says the Boston Herald. A number of other tests were made, and the visitors were astonished at the results. Neither the management nor Mrs. Abbott attempt to account for the results produced. They do not claim that the force employed is spiritual, mechanical, muscular, electrical or odd. They simply say that they do not know how the feat is performed. They give the exhibition in full view of the audience, without the use of a cabinet or dark stage, with no appliances save ordinary articles of furniture.
A Commendable Christmas Present.
The Southern Pacific Railroad have done a very commendable act, in donating one hundred dollars to the Indian school at Chemawa, for the many acts of kindness performed by the pupils and teachers at the Lake Laugh disaster. It will be remembered that the pupils of this school were unremittent in their kindness to the unfortunate victims of that wreck, and the railway officials have given this amount as a mere expression of good feeling for such action.
Ordered to Leave Town.
Scarcely a day passes but that Chief of Police Hoffman or some of his subordinates, order one or two, and sometimes a dozen, tough characters who arrive at the depot upon the brake man of the overland train, to move on, and do not allow them to stop here. One night recently ten of these fellows were compelled to move on and the next night six more were served the same way. Albany's police force deserves credit for keeping these chaps out of the city.
Important to Housekeepers.
It gives Julius Gradwohl great satisfaction in selling his fine Golden Rule tea and baking powder, with elegant prizes without them, that his customers who have purchased invariably return and say they are well pleased, that the tea is No. 1, and the baking powder is as good as the best. All his teas and baking powder bear the name of Julius Gradwohl's Golden Rule Bazaar, and are expressly put up for his business, and he still continues to give with each pound of tea or baking powder an elegant piece of glassware.

CRUSHED HIS LEG.

The Accident That Befell a Young Man in the Harrisburg Flouring Mill.
HARRISBURG, Dec. 24.—Yesterday morning Lewis Anderson met with a serious accident in the flouring mill of Levi Douglas, at this place. He was in the third story of the mill looking after some part of the machinery, when the engineer below heard him crying for help. He hastened to his assistance, and found him lying upon the floor, with one leg broken, it having been caught in the machinery crushing the limb above the ankle.
The unfortunate man was given medical attention at once, and will recover. He had until recently been employed in the Red Crown mills in Albany, and was an industrious young man.

THE MILK MAIDS CONVENTION.
This unique entertainment will be given by the ladies of the M. E. church of Albany Dec. 30th, 1890, at the opera house. Following is the programme:
Music—Milburn Overture—Orchestra.
Solo—Mrs. C. O. Lee.
Music—Selection—Orchestra.
Select Reading—Miss Moses.
Music—Crescent City Waltz—Orchestra.
After which the laughable farce entitled "The Milk Maids Convention" represented by twenty-six ladies in costumes, will be presented. A popular feature of this will be the milk stool drill. Admission 25 and 35 cents.
About Holiday Goods.
"Useful as well as ornamental" is the kind of Christmas presents to be found at T. L. Wallace & Co.'s, such as gents' fine lisle thread and kid gloves, silk and fine linen handkerchiefs, mufflers, silk suspenders, fine neck wear, ladies' wigs, shirtings, fancy negligee cashmere and silk shirts, silk and alpaca umbrellas, with fine gold or silver handles, fine plush velvet slippers or a fine ready-to-put-on tailor made suit or overcoat for men, boys and children, valises, hand grasps, a fine silk hat, and hundreds of other valuable things too numerous to mention.
Boots and Shoes.
Purchasers of Boots and Shoes bear in mind that big advertisements and offers of big discounts do not always mean best values. You will have to pay some one a profit as no one can do business without expense. The quest on is who can sell you the best goods for the least money.
A NATIONAL EVENT.
The holding of the World's Fair in a city scarcely fifty year old will be a remarkable event, but whether it will really benefit the nation as much as the discovery of the Restorative Nerve by Dr. Franklyn Miles is doubtful. This is just what the American people need to cure their excessive nervousness, dyspepsia, headache, dizziness, sleeplessness, neuralgia, nervous debility, duress, confusion of mind, etc. It acts like a charm. Trial bottles and fine book on "Nervous and Heart Diseases," with unequal testimonials free at Standard & Cusick. It contains no opium, morphine or dangerous drugs.

How Severe Colds Are Broken Up in Montana.

From the Virginia City, Mont. Mail, 1890.
When we find a medicine we know to possess genuine merit we consider it a duty, and we take pleasure in telling the public what it is. Such a medicine we found Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, last winter, when a gripe was prevailing. We are satisfied that we would ward off several attacks that were threatening by the use of this syrup, and we have since relieved, in a few hours, severe colds, and in the course of two or three days, entirely broken them up by using an average of several of our friends whom we have recommended it. It is all that it is represented to be by the manufacturers. If you have a cough and want to stop it, Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will do the work. For sale by Foshay & Mason.

The Reason Why.

Why is it that Klein Bros. can afford to sell boys' and shoes so reasonable? Because they are both practical shoe makers and make their expenses by working on the shoe bench, and any boot or shoe you buy of them, no matter what kind it is, man, woman or child, that rip, run over or the sole rips loose, they repair them for you free of charge, and as they do all the work themselves, they don't charge you 25 to 50 cents a pair extra for a warrant to pay some shoemaker to repair them for you. They also make a specialty of repairing rubber boots.

Little Giant and Cowles'

Boys' shoes, misses and children's shoes—different styles—all sizes and widths MADE SOLID ALL around. Try a pair—nothing better—medium in price. Every pair warranted.
