CASES OF POISONING.

Head Cheese Gets In Its Deadly Work In Eugene.

ALLIANCE IN CALIFORNIA.

Canadian Cattle Subjected to Inspection—Famine Claims Filed—She Killed Herself—Number of Failures.

EUGENE, Dec. 27.—Several parties in this city have recently been victims of accidental poisoning, supposed to have been eating head cheese. Yesterday the family of L. H. Wilkinson were all reported in a precarious condition, and today it is learned that Joel Ware, formerly county clerk, and his entire family are sick with the same symptoms. They ate meat of the same kind and from the same market as that which was suspected to have poisoned the other family. Some of the victims have been prostrate for two days and are yet in a dangerous condition.

GUARDING AGAINST DISEASE.

All Stock Imported from Canada Must Be Imported.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27. The secretary of agriculture today made an order to close all ports except St. Albans, in the collection district of Vermont, against the importation of cattle, sheep and other ruminants and swine, and requiring all such animals imported through this collection district must enter at the port of St. Albans, where they must be inspected by the vetrinary inspector of the department of agriculture. This is done as a protection against the introduction into this country from Canada of any contagious disease.

Recommends Its Re-establishment.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—Secretary Proctor is now considering the report of Captain Lee, who was recently sent from San Francisco to Fort Riddell, California, to investigate the report that the abandonment of that fort would be a dangerous move, owing to the temper of the Piute Indians that are settled around there. The report states that although the rumors are somewhat exaggerated there is no reason for disregarding the warnings, and recommends the post to be reestablished.

Coal Barges Reported Lost.

LEWES, Del., Dec. 27.—The steamship Saturn from New York or Baltimore arrived at the breakwater this morning, reporting a severe snow storm and heavy gale yesterday morning. The coal barges Storm King and Antelope which he had in tow broke loose and immediately drifted out of sight. It is feared they and their crews are lost.

The value of the estate in this was originally $1,500,000 and $110,000 has already been forwarded for the maintenance of the hospital, in accordance with the wishes of the deceased by whom it was founded, and whose death was the result of a cancer. Colonel Graniss, as executor of the estate, has had occassion to examine into the methods of treating cancer in this country, and it is stated, believes he has found a genuine remedy for the disease.

FELL THROUGH A BRIDGE.

A Brother Picks Up the Body of His Own Sister.

LOCKHAVEN, Pa., Dec. 27.—Emma Mather was killed on a railroad bridge near Halfax by a train running at a high rate of speed. She was half way across it, and realizing her danger, attempted to drop through the ties into the creek below. This space was too narrow, however, and while she was trying to squeeze through, the engine struck her. All her clothing was torn from her as the locomotive passed over her, killing her instantly. Her body dropped into the creek, and one of the men who helped to carry the crushed body to the shore stopped to see if he could identify it. Suddenly he exclaimed: "My God, it is my sister." The girl was 23 years old.

THE POPE'S VIEWS.

HE HAS PREPARED HIS ENCYCLICAL.

The Papacy Is Necessary for Social Reform—There Should Be a More Equitable Division of Riches.

PARIS, Dec. 27.—Advices from Rome state the pope has finished a draft of his encyclical upon the social question. His holiness has been working upon the subject for over a year.

The pope considers the question one of the greatest of the present time. The encyclical will be the crowning act of the pope's work in this direction. An Associated Press correspondent is enabled to give the substance of it now. The encyclical will review and expound the whole question affecting wage workers. His holiness will dwell on the general principle upon which social economy is founded, and the dominant idea of distributive justice, which should regulate the intercourse of men and the spread of wealth.

The pope says that distributive and restorative justice is needed to prevent misery and sweating on the side, and exorbitant riches and tyranny on the other. His holiness expresses himself again in favor of intervention by the state within the limits previously set forth, and he condemned policies as now organized and advocates more equitable and just dissemination of riches. The pope is convinced that papacy should head the present social and democratic movement, and will appeal to all conservative forces and to protestants to aid in securing the safety of society.

The pope's physician says his holiness may live for some time yet, as he has a constitution and is suffering from no infirmity.

Asking for a Receiver.

CHICAGO, Dec. 27.—According to charges made in court today, the Standey, Winston Company, a real estate corporation, was wrecked by stock speculations. President P. E. Standey and Bertam Winston, treasurer, today applied for the appointment of a receiver for the concern, and that the affairs of the corporation be wound up. Standey is charged with misappropriating $70,000. A receiver was appointed. Winston says most of the money has gone in a wild and reckless speculation on the Chicago stock exchange.

BALTIMORE, Dec. 27.—The agents of the Johnstone Line have given up for lost the steamship Tiranemore, which left here November 26th, for London, with a general cargo valued at $175,000 and 450 head of cattle, and besides the 34 officers and crew were 12 cattlemen on board.

Six Hundred Poor Children Have a Christmas Dinner—Steamer Lost With All on Board.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 27.—Joseph Hochyller, the Austrian nobleman who committed suicide in San Diego on Christmas day, was well known in certain circles in this city. He was a distant relative of Rudolph Hocholler, who is the Austro-Hungarian consul for San Francisco. The latter states that deceased was not the son of a banker, but the son of a wealthy lawyer, whose family moves in the highest circles in Trieste. Hocholler was likewise not a count, but Hoilherr, which is a title similar to an English baron. The deceased came to California five or six years ago, bringing with him his bride, Miss Alteri, a lady of high standing in Germany. According to the consul the couple eloped and were married in New York city.

"The young man was always fast," said Consul Hocholler. "He had neither trade or profession and disliked business of all kinds. Just why he settled in San Diego, I never was able to learn. He comes from a wealthy family and consequently was always plentifully supplied with money. I remember that at the time of his runaway marriage he came into more or less newspaper notoriety, and the San Francisco papers printed long accounts of the escapade taken from New York newspapers."

VERY GOOD PRICES.

The Horses in the August Belmont Stable's Sold.

BAYSIDE, N. J. Dec. 27.—The sale of crack racers and pick of yearlings at the Nursery stables of the late August Belmont took place today. All the prominent turfmen had representatives present. The highest price paid for racers was $25,000 for Potomac, three year old son of St. Blaize, $13,000 for La Tosca and $7,000 for Raceland.

Knocked Out in Three Rounds.

PORTLAND, Dec. 27.—In the 15-round match for points between Dave Campbell, of Portland, and Larry Sullivan, of Astoria, it was clearly shown that Sullivan was no match for the Portland boy. He went to grass three times in the first round. In the second considerable sparring was done and honors were about even. In the third Campbell awaited his chance and landed a right hander on Sullivan's head, which sent him under the ropes. He rallied before time was called, but to receive a knock out blow, which settled him, notwithstanding the vigorous punches of his second in a vain endeavor to bring him to his feet.

The War Is Over.

RAPID CITY, S. D., Dec. 27.—News brought in today indicate that the Indian troubles are about to be brought to an end without the sacrifice of more lives. General Miles' advices of last night that hostiles in the Bad Lands had listened to friendliness and were on their way to Pine Ridge, was confirmed by dispatches from General Brooke today. The whole body of braves, squaws and pappooses are now en route to the agency. General Miles has ordered several bodies of troops to carefully search the Bad Lands for stragglers, secreted arms, etc., and to draw in toward the agency. The general now wants to know where Big Foot is, nothing definite from him yet having been heard.

NEWS FROM JACKSONVILLE.

A Murderer Committed to Jail Without Bail.

JACKSONVILLE, Dec. 27.—I. G. Story, who killed R. R. Roberts in Sam's valley, December 17, had a preliminary examination before Justice Gale, and was found over in bonds of $2000, which he furnished, and was discharged from custody. He was rearrested on December 24, upon an information filed by District Attorney Colvig, charging him with murder in the second degree, and had an examination before County Judge Neil, and was committed without bonds to await the action of the grand jury.

Christmas passed off quietly in Jacksonville. There was no festivities, and the merchants say that the holiday trade has been better this year than for years past.

The Jacksonville-Medford railroad is nearing completion, and there will be a grand celebration and ball on New Year's day in Jacksonville, in honor of the first through train.

OUT OF THE WAY.

HE EVIDENTLY KNEW TOO MUCH.

So He Is Arrested and Tried On a Trumped Up Charge, but Will Have a New Hearing.

SEATTLE, Dec. 27.—Sensational developments in the Charles K. Hammond grand larceny case, were brought out in a motion for a new trial in the superior court today. Hammond was convicted of stealing a seal skin sacque and gold watch belonging to Mrs. Simons, with whom he was drinking and carousing one night at his saloon. To day a affidavit of ex-policeman Hanna was filed in court, in which Hanna states that Mrs. Simons called on him to search the room of a woman named Bohannon, whom she charged with stealing her sacque and watch.

Another affidavit was filed in which a lodging house keeper named Beadle, swears that Simons, husband of the woman who swore that Hammond had stolen her things, had been treating some of the jurors in the Hammond case to drinks during the trial. It is claimed that the whole case is a conspiracy to get Hammond out of the way.

The man who worked up the case and figured as the prosecuting witness is suspected of being an English detective in the employ of patrons of Hammond's Cleveland street house in London, sent here to rid the country of Hammond lest he "blow" on some of the English nobility.

FLORIDA GIRLS.

Harry Burns, the passenger agent of the Southern and Florida Railroad, has just returned from a trip to the land of flowers. Mr. Burns says that on last Saturday afternoon some young ladies of Jasper, which is on the line of the Georgia Southern in Hamilton county, Fla., went out to visit a cave a mile or so from town. The cave was a small one, of but little length, but it was an interesting place, and was much visited by people living in the locality.

It was thought to be an old lime sink, such as abound in many parts of Florida, and the floor of the cave resounded to the tread although there were a great cavity underneath. The young girls noticed that lumps of earth would occasionally loosen themselves from the roof and walls of the cave and fall to the floor, but they thought nothing of it, and when it began to grow dark they left the cavern and started home. Before they had gone half a mile they heard a heavy rumbling noise in the direction of the cave, but thought it was distant thunder, and paid no further attention to it.

The next day (Sunday) morning the young ladies were much startled to learn from a visiting neighbor that the big lime sink had fallen in the evening before, leaving a chasm of unknown depth. All day they were nervous from thinking how narrowly they had escaped an appalling death.

Mr. Burns says that the term "bottomless pit" graphically describes the appearance of the Jasper lime sink, according to what was told him by a man who went to see it on Sunday. The man said that a hole big enough to swallow a ten-room house had fallen in, leaving walls as straight as those of a well, except that they slanted to one side. As far down as he could see the chasm led to darkness, but there was no bottom in sight. Away down there in the midnight blackness, there was running water, for the faint rushing as of a swollen river in the distance came up from the pit.—Macon Telegraph.

A BRUTAL MURDER.

The German Socialist Leaders Uphold the Party.

A LAND-SLIDE AT TACOMA.

Her Money Goes to the Cancer Hospital—Coal Barges Gone—A Receiver Wanted—Foundry Fails.

SAYVILLE, L. I., Dec. 27.—A most brutal murder was committed at Bohemia, a small village ten miles north of here, late last evening. Frank Krulis, a cigar maker, walked into the house of Constable Sasheck and laid on the table a finger and said he had killed Wrence Toupa, a fellow cigar maker, and had brought the finger to prove it. Constable Sasheck thought him joking, but he said, "I mean what I say; Toupa told lies about me and I concluded to kill him. I met him on the road to-night and cut his throat. I wanted to make sure he never would speak again, so I cut open his belly and placed his bowels over his face. Then I cut off a finger for you." Constable Sasheck hastily summoned a posse and accompanied by the murderer they went out and found the body. It was a horrible sight. It lay in a frame of snow. The clothing was torn from it and a hole the size of a sugar bowl was in the abdomen. The entrails lay over the breast and face and the right ear and the index finger on the left hand were missing. When the party returned to the village they were an excited crowd and wanted to lynch the murderer, but the constable succeeded in getting him to jail. When searched the missing ear was found in his pocket, and he told Judge O'Brien he had brought it for him and handed the judge the blood-stained knife with which the awful deed had been committed. It is thought that jealousy was the cause.

THE SOCIALISTS.

A Spurious Koch Remedy Palmed on the Doctors.

(Copyright 1890 New York Associated Press)

BERLIN, Dec. 27.—Socialist leaders issued manifesto to-night affirming the determination of the socialist party to rally the peasants around the flag of the socialistic reform. It says the life of the agricultural laborer is scarcely human and that they are serfs in all but name. They must be taught that the patriarchial system of the mortal foe of the agricultural laborer. Peasant proprietor and petit-bracy are becoming brandy distillers and will make peasants slaves if machinery, as town workers have already been made. The manifesto asks the members of the party to contribute money to assist in rural propaganda.

It has been discovered that a spurious imitation of Koch's lymph is being manufactured and a number of cases reported in which foreign medical men have been deceived into buying it. Its manufacturers are not discovered. The medical profession throughout the empire is growing more and more indignant over the manner in which the lymph is distributed, and his secrecy regarding its production. Koch declares he has a right to do as he pleases with the discovery.

The official census of Germany recently completed gives Berlin a population of 1,574,485, an increase of 750,000 in five years.

Slide on Northern Pacific.

TACOMA, Wash., Dec. 27.—A big slide occurred on Friday night on the Pacific division of the Northern Pacific railroad at Olequaw canyon near Winlock, where the Union Pacific has been grading to cross the tracks of the Northern Pacific. The track was covered for several hundred feet and a temporary track was built around the obstruction. Trains were delayed about eight hours.

They Will Be of Interest.

The Fast Portland Vindicator says: Last Sunday Rev. H. V. Rossinger, pastor of Holladay addition Congregational church, commenced a series of lectures on the impressions he received from his trip around the world. If the first is a forecast of what is to follow, then a splendid treat is in store for all who can hear him. He is a ripe scholar and an entertaining speaker. He has a story to tell and he tells it well.

A MYSTERY EXPLAINED.

The papers contain frequent notices of rich, pretty and educated girls eloping with negroes, tramps and coachmen. The well-known specialist, Dr. Franklyn Miles' says all such girls are more or less hysterical, nervous, very impulsive, unbalanced; usually subject to headache, neuralgia, sleeplessness, immoderate crying or laughing. These show a weak nervous system for which there is no remedy equal to Restorative Nervine. Trial bottles and a fine book, containing many marvelous cures, free at Stanard & Cusick who sell, and guarantee Dr. Miles celebrated New Heart Cure, the finest of heart tonics. Cures flue tering, short breath, etc.
