

Morning Daily Herald

ON SALE. The Daily Herald will be on sale each morning at H. J. Jones' book store, where it can be procured at 5 cents per copy.

NOTICES ABOUT TOWN.

C. C. Cherry, of Tacoma, is in the city. Do not miss the Goodyear minstrels to-night. Mr. S. P. Barger, of Brownsville, was in the city Monday. Remember we are in the lead in the grocery line. Allen Bros. H. H. Hewitt made a trip to Oregon City and return yesterday. Remember the Hill-Park concert company to-morrow evening. The great Goodyear Minstrels at the opera house this evening. The state temperance alliance will convene in Salem on Wednesday. Seonick delivers those fine seedless oranges to any part of the city. Miss Ida Brish has removed her millinery store into the Blumberg block. The W. C. T. U. will meet this afternoon at 2 p. m. instead of 2:30 as usual. The Oregon Pacific bridge was examined with promoters Sunday afternoon. The finest line of groceries ever brought to this city can be found at Allen Bros. Gen. W. H. Odell passed down yesterday from a visit to the Siuslaw country. Immense bargains in childrens and misses shoes are to be found on Searls' bargain table. Reserved seats for the Hill-Park Concert Wednesday evening will be 75 cents, general admission 50 cents. Mrs. Gussie Palmer, who has been visiting her parents in this city, has returned to her home in Pasco, Wash. Hon. E. L. Eastham, state senator from Clackamas county, died at Oregon City Sunday morning after a lingering illness. Mrs. Coakley, of Salem, who is visiting her sister, Mrs. D. R. N. Blackburn, in this city, was taken seriously ill on her arrival here. You can get fresh Columbia river smelt and silver salmon at the Albany fish market next door to the postoffice. M. Hyde, proprietor. Will the lady who carried a zinc tray home from the W. C. T. U. hall the morning after Thanksgiving please return the same to Mrs. T. Hopkins. Do not neglect to reserve your seats early for the Hill-Park Concert Co. Lovers of good music will enjoy a rare treat in this entertainment. Any one having old clothing to give away will greatly oblige the Ladies Aid Society by leaving the same with Mrs. Dr. Crawford, Mrs. Searls or Mrs. Kelly. The house of Thomas Samuels, Corvallis, was entered one night last week while the family was asleep and thoroughly ransacked. The thief found about $15, which he took. New goods of the latest patterns sold at Matthews and Washburns is why they will sell over four loads of stoves and ranges this year, they have their first carload of Jewel Stoves and ranges now on the road to arrive Feb. 1st. Lawyer Wright, who has been absent for the last three weeks attending to legal business at Spokane Falls, returned last evening, after successfully attending to his business in the superior court at that city. Two Indian women at the Siletz reservation became jealous of each other and Thursday engaged in a desperate hand to hand battle over the affections of a certain dinky brave. One of the combatants was badly hurt from a blow in the face, which ended the fight. Mr. and Mrs. Byron Phelps have issued cards announcing the marriage of their daughter, Harriet N. Phelps, to Will H. Barry, of Seattle, on Thursday next. Mr. Barry was formerly editor of the Corvallis Gazette. He is now city editor of the Seattle Post-Intelligencer. Mr. Riley Kirk, of Brownsville, was in the city yesterday en route to Salem. He has a strong petition from citizens of Linn county asking the legislature for an appropriation for a wagon road into the Calapooia mines, which is of more benefit to the public at large than many of the wagon road bills before the legislature. The Salem ministers have got into a merry war over the matter of opening the morning session of the legislature with prayer. Some of the doctors of divinity became so angry over a supposed slight that they used language leading to the belief that the ministers themselves needed prayers more than the legislators. The delightful spring-like weather causes many to believe that there will be no more wintry weather this winter. It is much more probable, however, that there will be some winter in February. Two or three years ago the first snow fell on February 1st and there is plenty of time yet to have all the winter required or desired in Oregon. Rev. A. M. Acherson of Oakville, preached a very excellent sermon at the United Presbyterian church last night on "Jesus Christ the precious foundation." Quite an interesting after-meeting was held and a number of inquirers were made the subject of special prayer. Rev. W. W. Logan will preach this evening at a prayer meeting which will be held in the church at 8 P. M.

CIVILIZED MONGOLIANS.

Chinese Who Have Joined the Church and Try to Do as Their White Neighbors Do.

Mrs. Nancy Westfall, wife of Jim Westfall, the well known Chinese contractor, was baptized at the Baptist church Saturday evening. Her husband is already a member of the church and is liberal with his means in the advancement of the work of the church. A Chinese mission school is conducted in connection with the church and two other Mongolians have embraced the Christian faith and joined the church and a class of a dozen young Chinamen, pursue English studies under Miss Rosa Trumbull, daughter of the former pastor, and they also attend a mission Sunday school at the church. The Chinamen seem deeply in earnest in religious work and care themselves as dignified and upright manner at all times. Jim Westfall is an intelligent sort of a Chinaman. He has been considered wealthy, but he says he lost a good many thousand dollars in recent railroad contracts, and his wealth is not as large as many suppose. He always manages, however, to give a liberal sum to all charitable and public enterprises. When he was married a year or so ago he went with his bride to church in a cab, and behaved very much after the fashion of white dignitaries.

ABSENT OREGON LOBBYISTS.

Familiar Faces Missed at the Present Sessio of the Legislature.

There are many familiar faces which have graced or disgraced former sessions of the legislature missing from the present one says a writer in the Salem Statesman. Bill Sweeney, the great lobbyist, who attended many former sessions in the capacity in his brilliant imagination of owner of most of the votes, is conspicuous by his absence. The writer don't know what has become of Bill; but he has probably transferred his pastures to more luxuriant fields, where the "picking" is not so short, perhaps in form and stenographic notes are not heard in the hall of the house or the senate chamber. When he raised his gentle voice in his nasal twang he would always make the hall on G. Washington's fine picture back of the speaker's stand on end. Then there is Andrew Jackson Lawrence, the member of many third houses from Baker City. He is absent, and the third house can't be thoroughly organized without him. Then there is H. H. Adams, of Yamhill, who at one time thought he had a life lease on the other of sergeant-at-arms, and it looked like he had. But he isn't here this time. Bob Miller, the Roman gladiator of debate in the last session, hasn't showed up yet at this session. Rocky Lariart's familiar face is missing. He's too busy warming the easy chair of the Portland collection of customs. Jonathan Bourne, the high roller from Multnomah, don't seem to be one of the boys any more. Poor old Bill Samuels, who was sergeant-at-arms in the special session of '85, when Mitchell was elected, is now in the insane asylum. Too much Portland whiskey was at the bottom of it. The lobbyist and disreputable. The writer will not soon forget Phil's maiden and only speech introducing Senator Mitchell after his election. It wasn't as eloquent and feeling as Senator Mitchell's, but it was as enthusiastic. Phil called him "Senator Mitchell." D. E. Stanley isn't here with his normal school bill—he went out of the normal school business at Month last spring. Mrs. Abigail Scott Lumley was in the session of 1887, and the women of Oregon have no one to specially represent their interests, unless it is the lady clerks. Emperor Norton is here, but whether or not his sack has been drained or in sight the writer was not. Bill Barnhart is here as of yore, but then. Ovens the original swamp angel, hasn't yet showed up. W. P. Keedy, the king of the lobby is here, but what he is working for doesn't appear to the writer. A. A. Bennett, the Oregon Pacific lobbyist, is on the scene of action, but he don't seem to want anything. And then there is Linn Applegate. He must not be forgotten. He lacked only one year to reach U. S. senator thirty long years ago, and he has been an astounding candidate ever since, but never got nearly so close to it again. He finally got to be a lunatic agent at the Klamath reservation, but got fired for once and taught the linn department how to run the whole works, and Linn is now at Ashland, and he'll no doubt be here. He'd be sadly missed if he didn't miss the session the honor of his august presence. There are dozens of names who passed their parts in the shifting scenes of by-gone legislative action whose names this pencil pushes does not now recall, and he will probably resume this text of reminiscence at another date.

COAST NOTES.

New-ways Obtained from Exchange Throughout the Northwest.

Six inches of snow and fair skating at Linkville during the past week. The river is now seventeen inches above low water mark at Corvallis. By the re-location of the Polk-Yamhill line, Yamhill gains 2,750 acres of tillable land, assessed at $80,000. Last Thursday a Roseburg Chinaman, who was tired of living hanged himself in a wash house. Quite an excitement was caused by the discovery of the body. The Grant's Pass Board of Trade earnestly recommends the Southern Pacific authorities to construct a better depot building at Grant's Pass, and have memorialized Mr. Koehler to that effect. A 2-year old child of E. M. Corbiss, of Eugene, attempted to drink some carbonic acid it had found the other day, but luckily did not swallow any of it. However, the acid burned the child's tongue and lips quite severely. A petition praying the legislature to amend the assessment law, so that church property will be taxed, and also one against the closing of the World's Fair buildings at Chicago on Sunday, have been in circulation in Jackson county lately and were numerously signed. The Warner valley Chinaman who ensured the adoption of a white girl had a tough time in getting a marriage license, that document being refused him in his own country and at Lekeview. He finally made the bill at Fort Belknap, however, where he was married by contract during the holidays. Ashland people are taken up with the phenomena of a picture of a female form in the guise of an angel, which has appeared on the streets in the wall of the Catholic church in that city. Mr. P. Lytleton has made arrangements to have an artist make a crayon drawing of it. The figure was caused by a leak in the roof, but the curious part of the thing is the picture has no arms. At Cow Creek last week a Chinaman was killed by a hatchet, and he had been gambling and one owed the other 15 cents when he went to bed. The creditor afterward went to the tent to collect the money he claimed was due and was met by a hatchet, and threatened to send the debtor to the Flowery Kingdom unless he then and there made a settlement; but the latter was too quick, and drawing his pistol, killed the aggressor. The contractor eluded the officers and made his escape, and has not been heard of since.

Those who are entitled to vote are those who are on the list of stockholders as of January 1, 1891. W. C. CASSELL, President. JAY W. BLAIN, Secretary. FOR RENT—Two newly furnished sleeping rooms close to business part of town. For particulars inquire at this office.

A Talented Company.

Music loving citizens of Albany will be treated to something new on the evening of the 21st. The Hill-Park Concert Company, under the management of Clayton's Lyceum Bureau, of Chicago, will give one of their charming concerts on that evening and they should be greeted with a good house. The papers speak in their praise. Herr Hill is master of the violin and Miss Anna Park does marvelous work on the cornet. The company is composed of only five people, but they are stars in their profession. The very best stock of tooth brushes, clothes brushes, solid back hair brushes and whisk brooms at Hulin & Dawson's drug store.

New Theater for Portland.

A late number of the San Francisco Music and Drama says: Manager John F. Cordray's latest enterprise has been extraordinarily successful. His new Seattle theater is nightly taxed to its utmost capacity, and there seems every prospect for a continuance of this state of affairs. Encouraged by this appreciation of his efforts, Mr. Cordray has placed another iron in his fire and is forming a company with a capital of $200,000 to erect a new opera house in Portland. Plans are now being prepared by a famous architect, and it has been decided that the building shall be eight stories high and occupy the site of the present theater. No expense will be spared in rendering the house elegant and comfortable.

The Siletz Indians.

The present session of the Oregon legislature will be asked to adopt a resolution urging congress to throw open the lands of the Siletz Indian reservation, near Yaquina bay. The Indians are anxious to take their lands in severalty and let the remaining lands be sold for their benefit. If the Indians are to be given a chance to make their own way in the world the opportunities should be given them. A strong point in their favor is that while the Indians elsewhere were indulging in ghost dances and boisterous orgies, the Siletz were contributing $700 toward the erection of a church. They should be given lands in severalty, as asked for.

The Baptist Revival.

The special services are to be continued this week at the Baptist church. Seven more were baptized on Saturday night. Over forty have professed conversion so far in the meeting, and a large number have applied for membership, making the whole number of admissions during the three months of Rev. Geo. W. Hill's pastorate about fifty. The house was crowded Sunday night to hear Rev. C. M. Hill of Portland, brother of the pastor, and Superintendent of Missions for Oregon, who is to preach this week. Meetings afternoon and evening at the same hours as last week.

A Linn County Member.

The Salem correspondent of the Oregonian in referring to the personnel of the Oregon legislature says: Two members of the last house performed their duties so satisfactorily that their constituents elected them to the senate: Croso, of Benton, and Myers, of Linn; the former a most energetic republican, the latter an ardent democrat. The former has the good of the agricultural college most at heart, the latter the interests of the farmers, of the lady clerks and of a bill to appropriate $3000 for the improvement of a public spring at Solaville, Linn county.

A Church Difficulty.

As a result of the rupture in the Evangelical church trouble has occurred at Sweet Home. Rev. Thomas A. Yast has been expelled from the church since the beginning of the trouble. Last Sunday, it is said, Rev. Mr. Bittner of East Portland, went up and, it is claimed, broke into the church and took possession. Thomas Morris, who is a member of the church, came to town yesterday morning to procure the arrest of Rev. Mr. Bittner, which, however, has not yet been done.

Farewell Reception.

A pleasant party was tendered Miss Clara Read, at the residence of her brother, Mr. W. F. Reed last evening by her many friends, who assembled to bid her goodbye. Miss Read, her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Reed, and little Francis Read, will leave Wednesday evening for a visit in the East. They will go via California and expect to be absent about three months. They will visit their old home in Missouri.

The Water Shut Off.

The water was shut out of the Santiam canal Sunday and yesterday in order to allow the big water wheel of the Lebanon paper mills to be out in place. As a result the woolen mills of this city and other factories were temporarily shut down. Boys had large fun catching large quantities of chubs and suckers which were left high and dry.

Death to Duane.

The Salem Statesman says that General Manager Koehler has issued orders regarding narrow gauge cars on the West Side narrow gauge and the P. & W. V. railroad will be done at Portland. The immediate subject of repairs will be the rolling stock and motive power of the narrow gauge lines, which will be given a thorough overhauling. Air-brakes will also be fitted to the engines and cars. The question is being discussed of putting on a passenger train from Sheridan into Portland, something like the McMinnville express on the standard gauge. The Oregonian East Side line will now be called the Woodburn-Sheridan branch of the Southern Pacific. It belongs to the O. & C., and is operated under a lease to the Southern Pacific.

It Can't Vote.

That portion of the governor's message pertaining to the fishing industry, which he suggests that something should be done to prevent the catching of salmon by means of a fish-wheel recalls the story of the Irishman when he first cleared a rotary snowplow in fish clearing a railroad track. The native of the Emerald Isle, after watching the rapid work of the plow remarked that "Ye gorra, it could do the work of fifty men, but it could not vote." The fish-wheel cannot vote and, therefore, it must be abolished.—Salem Statesman.

The Umathia Reservation.

The Penitentiary Tribune. The commissioners appointed to appraise the lands of the Umathia Indian reservation, in Eastern Oregon, have finished their work and are now engaged on their report. Considerable time has been consumed in arranging for the opening of this reservation to settlement, and it is the intention of the commissioners to forward their report in time to allow of the lands being placed in readiness for settlement early in spring. The settlement of these lands will add considerably to the trade, population and industries of Pendleton.

A Lively Scene.

On the corner of Second and Elsworth street yesterday could be seen people going in and out of Mueller & Garrett's cash grocery. Their prices and quality of goods seem to please everybody, and animals are willing to take advantage of cash business and secure bargains by calling on them. Their motto is: "Large sales and small profits."

America Takes the Lead.

America now takes the lead as an iron producing country, united with China, would do the washing and mining of the world. Mueller & Garrett are taking the lead in the grocery business of Albany, as their cash figures prove every one.

Good Beef.

Schultz Bros. are now selling grain fed beef at their meat market, which is appreciated by the people of Albany.

NOTES FROM TANGENT.

TANGENT, OR., Jan. 19. Henry Jackson has gone to the hills to spend the winter. The drugs and medicines here are sold in a family residence. Farmers are very busy plowing. The ground was never in better order. The public school opened today with Prof. Charles Howard in charge. The thermometer registered 28 degrees above freezing point yesterday noon. A locomotive and tender, passing here the other day, killed a horse for J. B. Jenks. There is a protracted meeting now in progress at this place. It is conducted by the Methodist. All invited. Mr. Wm. Churchhill left here last week for Durango, New Mexico, to be gone two or three months for the benefit of his health.

The Goodyear Minstrels.

Goodyear, Elitch & Schilling's Minstrels will appear at the opera house Tuesday Jan. 20. This is a large and finely equipped company and it is claimed that the company styled the Monte Cristo Royal Court. Walls of silk, plush, velvet and satin draped, and festooned with heavy gold cord and fringes. The question is being discussed of putting on a passenger train from Sheridan into Portland, something like the McMinnville express on the standard gauge. The Oregonian East Side line will now be called the Woodburn-Sheridan branch of the Southern Pacific. It belongs to the O. & C., and is operated under a lease to the Southern Pacific.

Walls of silk, plush, velvet and satin draped, and festooned with heavy gold cord and fringes. The question is being discussed of putting on a passenger train from Sheridan into Portland, something like the McMinnville express on the standard gauge. The Oregonian East Side line will now be called the Woodburn-Sheridan branch of the Southern Pacific. It belongs to the O. & C., and is operated under a lease to the Southern Pacific.

It Can't Vote.

That portion of the governor's message pertaining to the fishing industry, which he suggests that something should be done to prevent the catching of salmon by means of a fish-wheel recalls the story of the Irishman when he first cleared a rotary snowplow in fish clearing a railroad track. The native of the Emerald Isle, after watching the rapid work of the plow remarked that "Ye gorra, it could do the work of fifty men, but it could not vote." The fish-wheel cannot vote and, therefore, it must be abolished.—Salem Statesman.

The Umathia Reservation.

The Penitentiary Tribune. The commissioners appointed to appraise the lands of the Umathia Indian reservation, in Eastern Oregon, have finished their work and are now engaged on their report. Considerable time has been consumed in arranging for the opening of this reservation to settlement, and it is the intention of the commissioners to forward their report in time to allow of the lands being placed in readiness for settlement early in spring. The settlement of these lands will add considerably to the trade, population and industries of Pendleton.

A Lively Scene.

On the corner of Second and Elsworth street yesterday could be seen people going in and out of Mueller & Garrett's cash grocery. Their prices and quality of goods seem to please everybody, and animals are willing to take advantage of cash business and secure bargains by calling on them. Their motto is: "Large sales and small profits."

America Takes the Lead.

America now takes the lead as an iron producing country, united with China, would do the washing and mining of the world. Mueller & Garrett are taking the lead in the grocery business of Albany, as their cash figures prove every one.

Good Beef.

Schultz Bros. are now selling grain fed beef at their meat market, which is appreciated by the people of Albany.
