

Morning Daily Herald

JOTTINGS ABOUT TOWN.

J. L. Cowan went to Salem yesterday. W. R. Bilyeu returned last evening from Salem. Jay W. Blain and family went to Portland yesterday.

Thomas Froman was in Salem on business yesterday. Mrs. Dr. W. H. Davis returned yesterday from Harrisburg.

A social dance will be given at the academy Saturday evening. The only place you will find the celebrated Ludlow shoes is at Searls' shoe store.

Mias Annie Park, the greatest living lily cornetist will appear at the opera house to-night. Sole agency for Ludlow's fine shoes for ladies, misses and children at Searls shoe store.

Reserved seats for the Hild-Park Concert this evening will be 75 cents, general admission 50 cents. Almost every day teams can be seen tied up on First street. The existence of an ordinance prohibiting this is ignored.

Robert Huston, of this city, is in Portland, being subpoenaed in the case of Searl & Dean vs. The Oregon Pacific railroad. Will the lady who carried a zinc tray home from the W. C. T. U. hall the morning after Thanksgiving please return the same to Mrs. T. Hopkins.

New goods of the latest patterns sold at Matthews and Washburn is why they will sell over four loads of stoves and ranges this year, they have their first carload of Jewel Stoves and ranges now on the road to arrive Feb. 1st. The Tillamook Herald says that Senator Mitchell has introduced a bill in Congress granting the Albany & Astoria F. R. the right of way through the Grand Ronde Indian Reservation, with a provision that the road shall be built within three years. This shows that the projectors of the road mean business, and there is no doubt about the road being built in the near future.

Not the Howling Kind.

Mr. W. A. Malin, of this city, was in Portland a few days ago and on being interviewed by an Oregonian reporter said: "I am here to stay. Albany is a bright little city, surrounded by the finest agricultural country on earth. There is no better beneath the sun. But the town is quiet. There is not, perhaps, that enterprise there which this progressive age demands. Yet her people are genial and whole-souled, and if they would only get up and howl for Albany they could build up a city there that would surprise the natives." Mr. Malin ought to know that Albany is not of the howling kind. The city is enjoying a steady growth, and is making as rapid progress as any town in Oregon. A free wagon bridge, a complete sewerage system and a new city hall will cause the expenditure of $75,000 this season, besides many new public buildings and private residences. Business is good and the city is growing steadily. That is enough without any howling.

Grange Installation.

Harmony grange No. 23, had a very interesting, as well as instructive meeting on Jan. 14th, it being installation day. At the usual hour grange was called to order by the master, J. B. Thompson. Some private business was transacted after which the doors were thrown open to admit a few visitors, not grangers. The installation was ably conducted by Mart Miller, assisted by M. H. Wilds, every officer elected being present, after which a bountiful repast was spread and dispatched in true granger style. Order was again called and the afternoon was spent in instructive addresses until late in the evening when the patrons repaired to their respective homes satisfied that Harmony grange has a faithful set of officers and a bright future.

The Minstrels.

A very creditable minstrel performance was given at the opera house last night by the Goodyear, Elitch & Schilling company. The royal court first part was something as catchy as it is new in minstrelsy, and took very well with the audience. The quartettes and musical novelties were good, while the orchestral accompaniment was up to the usual standard. The most striking feature of the entertainment was Clivette, the great French shadowgraphist. The company is a good one. An excellent band is one of the features of the company to be admired. The enjoyment of the entertainment was materially marred by the performance being cut short to allow the company to leave on the overland train. There was much just indignation over it.

A Church Social.

A very enjoyable social was given last evening at the residence of J. L. Cowan by the ladies of the First Presbyterian church. A large number of young folks were present and a very pleasant evening passed. An elegant lunch was served.

Change of Business.

J. A. McFarren yesterday afternoon purchased of George Savage his dry business and will hereafter conduct the same. Mr. McFarren is an experienced drayman, and will always be found on hand for business.

THE SWEET HOME RIOT.

Rev. Mr. Bittner Makes a Statement. Wholesale Arrest of Evangelical Church Members.

As a result of the trouble in the Evangelical church at Sweet Home Deputy Sheriff D. S. Smith left this city this morning armed with warrants for the arrest of six of the participants. The warrants were issued in Justice Humphrey's court, and were for the arrest of Rev. H. I. Bittner, presiding elder of the Bowen faction of the church, Rev. C. A. McElroy, George Slavon, Rudolph Spring, Samuel Notting, sr., and Samuel Notting, jr. Mr. Thomas Morris was the complaining witness. The complaint alleges that the defendants committed riot by unlawfully and forcibly breaking into the Evangelical church at Sweet Home.

Deputy Sheriff Smith on the way up to Sweet Home met Rev. Mr. Bittner coming to Albany. He read the warrant to him, and on his promising to report to the authorities in Albany he was allowed to proceed on his way to this city, while the officer proceeded to Sweet Home after the others. Rev. Mr. Bittner came to Albany and was released on his own recognizance. He gave his version of the affair in the following statement:

REV. MR. BITTNER'S STATEMENT.

Thomas A. Yost did not preach here since the beginning of the church trouble, but by consent of two trustees of said church, Rev. G. McElroy has for months used the church one-half of the time. Again the aforementioned minister was holding a protracted meeting in said church during the past week, which was also announced over Sunday last. Rev. H. I. Bittner was called for, and came to assist in Rev. Mr. McElroy's protracted meeting, which he was holding in peaceable possession of the church.

Without a notification given Thomas A. Yost and accomplices barricaded the church door from within and placed a guard before the door and one on the inside with deadly weapons. By a light placed against the windows the men on the outside saw the fortification within and the fighting attitude of the equipped guard with clubs and missiles inside. They then became indignant and broke in the door in order to give to the public and congregation without of more than 150 persons, their rights, which these barricaded doors had withheld. Mr. Bittner did succeed three times for a few moments at a time to keep the murmuring masses from making violent attacks, but beyond his control the door was taken down and possession of the church obtained. It occurred on Saturday evening, January 17th, and not on Sunday. Mr. Bittner further stated to a HERALD reporter that several clubs and formidable weapons were left inside the church by the other faction, and that two of them had been thrown out through the window. A rock was thrown at Mr. Bittner as he entered the pulpit, which he picked up, and these missiles he says will be introduced in court. The case will come up for preliminary examination this afternoon at 2 o'clock, if the other defendants arrive. A ray trial is expected.

MONMOUTH NOTES.

MONMOUTH, Jan. 19. Prof. J. M. Garrison, from Forest Grove, is conducting a series of writing lessons, for the benefit of some of the Normal students. Rev. Mr. Hughes, of Corvallis, is holding a protracted meeting here at the Christian Church.

Among our many visitors last week, we noticed Messrs C. L. Hawley, and Mr. T. Fenton, both graduates of the class of 1880. The owners of the motor line, are having their road bed ballasted up. The motor is a paying investment, as it has averaged 1400 passengers per week since it has been running.

Arrangements are being made by Mr. F. S. Barzee, for the erection of a $7,000 hotel here in the spring. This will be a needed improvement, and will no doubt, do a flourishing business, as there is no hotel here. We are sorry to note the death of Mrs. L. Bentley, on last Monday night, she was one of Oregon's early pioneers, and has long been an invalid.

The Athletic Association of the normal will give an entertainment in the near future. The proceeds of the evening will be used to purchase new apparatus for the gymnasium. The normal school now has an enrollment of 212 students of which 96 are in the teacher's class. There is no reason why Oregon shall not soon be supplied with trained teachers.

A Severe Fall.

Mr. John Smith, the well known pioneer of Albany, is confined to his bed from the effects of a severe fall a few days ago. He slipped upon the sidewalk at his residence and fell in such a way as to fracture his hip. Dr. Ellis is the attending physician, and hopes the fracture will not prove serious. Mr. Smith is 92 years of age, and has a host of friends who will sympathize with him in his misfortune.

Hild-Park Concert.

At the opera house to-night the Hild-Park concert company will give one of their excellent entertainments. Herr Carl Hild is a violinist of skill and power. Miss Annie Park, the world's greatest lily cornetist, is a wonder. All the other members of the company are all artists in their line.

Remember we are in the lead in the grocery line. Allen Bros.

BROWNSVILLE NOTES.

BROWNSVILLE, Jan. 20. Mrs. W. C. Sperry, on Thursday paid Albany a visit.

W. Thorp, of Lebanon is visiting R. H. Ourl and family. Miss Josie Ross, on Wednesday visited friends in Albany.

Mrs. H. J. C. Averill, is suffering from an attack of ill health. Miss Ellen Blanchard of Oregon City, on Thursday returned home. Watt Starr, residing near Halsey, was on our streets on Friday last.

Miss Coney of Oakville, is visiting her sister Mrs. A. Gentry, of this place. Peter Hume, left for Albany on Tuesday, returned home on the following Friday.

New cross walks, side walks, and fencing is being built in Hausman's addition No. 2. Wild straw berries, are in bloom in the sheltered localities, on the hills surrounding town.

Harvey Stanard and family, are occupying a portion of the town residence of A. C. Stanard.

J. F. Vernon passed Sunday with his family at this place, and on the following Monday morning returned to the Santiam.

The family of R. L. Blanchard, on Tuesday removed to Albany, at which place Mr. Blanchard is employed in the Woolen Mills.

John Montgomery, in the employ of the E. W. M. Co., store at Portland, has been passing a week with family friends of this place.

Letters received from O. P. Coshow, Sr., state that he arrived in California safe and sound, and is enjoying improved health, from the change of climate.

The protracted meeting which has been in operation for the past two weeks, has been largely attended, at the M. E. church, South Brownsville, Rev. Aldridge and Calder have occupied the pulpit.

Calapooia Lodge No. 43, I. O. O. F. on Saturday evening installed their officials for the coming year, at the conclusion of the installation ceremonies, a palatable supper was partaken of at the Arlington hotel.

The E. W. M. Co., have been "shut down" for the past week, making necessary repairs to the pulleys, belt and also repairing, and adding new flues to the steam boilers in the cleaning and scouring department.

An extension known as Hausman addition No. 2, is at present "out in the cold," but steps will shortly be taken to have the city limits extended in that direction, and the residents of that locality will then become entitled to all city privileges.

On Saturday the regular train, on the Oregonian R. R., passed through Brownsville, having a number of flats loaded with the remains of the Narrow Gauge rolling stock, which was dismantled, and taking dead head ride for the last time on this division.

Although the climate of Oregon, cannot be duplicated, or beat, this winter has been exceptionally mild, and we have arrived at the middle of January, without a heavy freeze or a single snow fall, the rains have been warm, and unaccompanied by extreme wind or hasty weather. These remarks were occasioned by noticing the amount of out door improvements that are going on irrespective of season, house building, fencing, laying of sidewalks, and general work that in any Eastern state would be very uncomfortable job, and not performed by laborers in shirt sleeves, minus coat or vest.

HALSEY NOTES.

Lake Creek school closed Friday. Joseph Pearl is building an addition to his stable. Mr. Nash, of the tile factory, is building himself a house.

The warehouses are constantly cleaning and shipping grain. Joseph Robinette and wife, of Lewiston, are visiting friends here. Harvey Bond has returned from Junction and is visiting in Albany.

Homer Van Winkle is teaching school in the suburbs of Albany. John Wigle has buried three of his children, and two others are very sick.

Halsey public school is progressing nicely under the management of Prof. Michner. Matthew Warmouth and Mr. Van Winkle are slowly recovering from their late illness.

Mrs. Pentland, while on her way east of the mountains, stopped in Salem. While there she fell down a stairway, dislocating her knee cap. The doctors say she will be compelled to use crutches for some time.

The prune subject is being agitated in this vicinity. Mr. S. Kamaday has purchased 1500 trees, Bond Bros. 1300, Wilson Bros. 1000, R. Templeton 600, John Cummings has bought 500 peach trees.

A Talented Company. Music loving citizens of Albany will be treated to something nice to-night at the opera house. The Hild-Park Company, under the management of Slayton's Lyceum Bureau, of Chicago, will give one of their charming concerts on that evening and they should be greeted with a good house. The papers speak in their praise. Herr Hild is master of the violin and Miss Anna Park does marvelous work on the cornet. The company is composed of only five people, but they are stars in their profession.

A Runaway Meat Wagon.

L. L. Judson's meat market team ran away yesterday forenoon on Second street, creating a small ripple of excitement. The damage was slight.

MOSSBACK.

Now that I am not alone in regard to the question of the state furnishing money for the support of fairs, I will not hesitate longer in being branded with the above epithet. Eighteen mills on the dollar! Goodness! No wonder that taxpayers will try in every conceivable manner, both legal and illegal, to avoid the payment of such public burdens; and do I love the sentiment of Linn county's taxpayers when I say they are opposed to being taxed $250,000 or $150,000 or even any sum at all for the purpose of advertising us at the great coming World's fair. (I think I do). Is it booming we need just now? or is it not a steady legitimate growth with easy taxation and a government out of debt better? There seems to be a growing tendency nowadays, especially among those who do not take much thought, that the government ought to assume the protective position; the people being the creature of the people, it is therefore a self evident fact that the government cannot in the nature of things, be parent, the child does not assume the position of family head. But you answer that the people may assume the position of the government head. Well, so they may, but this is where the trouble comes in, everybody's business is nobody's business, as the saying goes, and when Uncle Sam undertakes to supply everybody's wants by legislative enactment, that is, issuing or underwriting, to issue money from nothing (I mean an issue unsupported by a value) as some of our financial architects would have it do, it would soon be discovered neither the good government nor the good people who constitute it could long subsist on straw money.

Therefore I stand in with our good Governor Penney on his position that legislators have no right to tax their constituents without their consent, for any other than truly an economical administration of government matters, and I trust that sufficient pressure will be brought to bear to defeat the movement to appropriate for the World's Fair Exposition.

I have been making some inquiry and find that about four say no appropriation to three who say not to exceed fifty thousand and about a third think the money could be used to better advantage.

Pilotage and towage on the Columbia, I also agree with the Governor on this question, I have always held that the state should control its charging only sufficient to cover operating expenses.

MOSSBACK.

The Brooklyn Bridge. One of the loveliest scenes to be seen in New York city is at the Brooklyn bridge every morning and evening, thousands of people riding across on cable cars, which run at intervals of five minutes. The same can be seen at Mueller & Garrett's cash grocery store, where they can be seen going in and out of their place all day long with the pleased countenances because there is the place to get just what you want at the lowest cash figures.

A Lively Scene.

On the corner of Second and Ellsworth street yesterday could be seen people going in and out of Mueller & Garrett's cash grocery. Their prices and quality of goods seem to please everybody, and those who are willing to take advantage of the cash figures can secure bargains by calling on them. Their motto is: "Large sales and small profits."

It was the girl who had studied the currency question who remarked, "There is not enough gold to go round," when she discovered that the engagement ring was too small for her. By buying your groceries at Mueller & Garrett's, you will always have gold enough to go round.

Purchasers of Boots and Shoes bear in mind that big advertisements and offers of big discounts do not always mean best values. You will have to pay some one a profit as no one can do business without expense. The question is who can sell you the best goods for the least money. SAMUEL E. YOUNG.
