THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

The Army Appropriation Bill Passes the Senate.

THE UMATILLA RESERVATION.

Arrangements Being Made for Telegraphic Communication Between the United States and Hawaii.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—In the senate this afternoon the army appropriation bill was passed.

Quay presented resolutions from the Pennsylvania legislature favoring the federal election bill. A number of pension bills were passed, including one giving a pension of $50 a month to the widow of General Noyes, and a house bill granting a pension of $100 a month to General Siegel.

Senate bill granting the Umatilla Irrigation company a right of way through the Umatilla reservation, Oregon, was passed. A bill to pension Mary Ann Doherty was objected to and went over. Edmunds gave notice of an amendment to the diplomatic appropriation bill to enable the president to make arrangements for telegraphic communication between the United States and the Hawaiian islands for a period of not less than fourteen years and appropriating three million dollars therefor, not more than $250,000 to be expended any one year.

SHE LOVES A CONVICT.

Why an Ex-Congressman Seeks a Separation from His Wife.

DES MOINES, Iowa, Jan. 31.—Chester Turney, the young convict who caused Governor Larrabee so much trouble, has now brought about the separation of ex-Congressman C. H. Gillette and his wife. Turney was convicted several years ago of larceny, and sentenced for a long term in the Anamosa State Prison. Mrs. Turney demanded of Governor Larrabee the full, free and unconditional pardon of her son. The governor agreed to do so if she could get the necessary petition.

She succeeded in doing this and soon had a formidable list. Then the governor refused the pardon and became involved in a controversy with Mrs. Turney, in the course of which he published his record of the case. She then had him arrested on a charge of libel, and after two trials the governor was acquitted.

Among the women most interested in the case of young Turney was Mrs. C. H. Gillette, whose husband is a brother of the famous dramatist. She gave him a home when he was released from prison and placed him in the office of the Iowa Tribund, of which Gillette, was a part owner. He refused to share his earnings with his mother by the advice of Mrs. Gillette, and her son's ingratitude almost drove Mrs. Turney crazy.

Encouraged by Mrs. Gillette, young Turney endeavored to have his mother adjudged insane, but was defeated by the evidence of Gillette, who had tired of the fellow. So strong was the attachment between Mrs. Gillette and the ex-convict that Gillette expelled Chester from his house, quit his wife and is now arranging for a separation. Mrs. Gillette is a brilliant woman and was instrumental in securing her husband's election to congress.

CRISPI WILL RESIGN.

The High Tax Bill Rejected by a Large Majority.

ROME, Jan. 31.—In a debate in the chamber to-day on the tax question, Prime Minister Crispi urged that the taxes proposed by the government were imperatively necessary to prevent Italy from falling again to the servile condition she was in as regards foreign power in 1874. The conservative members of the chamber, who were in office in 1874, protested in an uproarious manner, and the present minister of public works left the treasury bench. The bill was rejected by a large majority, and Crispi announced that he would resign. It is doubtful if he will be able to reconstruct the cabinet.

Intense excitement prevails in political circles. Premier Crispi to-night went to Quirnal to place his resignation in the hands of King Humbert. The king declined to accept it until he had further considered matters.

SEVERE COLD.

Blizzard and Extreme Cold in Minnesota and Dakota.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 31.—A severe cold wave preceded by a blizzard is reported from many points in Northern Minnesota, North Dakota and Montana. The temperature at some points dropped to 20 below zero. The wave is moving south rapidly.

HE TURNED TO STONE.

A Petrified Man Exhumed in Pennsylvania.

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—The petrified body of Andrew Beck, once a well-known resident of Brooklyn, was interred in Cypress Hill Cemetery a few days ago beside the grave of his wife. Beck's body, which had turned into stone, was exhumed from the graveyard at Kemble, Pike county, Pa., where it was buried in the summer of 1884. Many persons who knew Mr. Beck in life and who saw the petrified body said a sculptor could not have hewn the face more life-like than it was found to be when the casket was opened.

John Beck, the eldest son, decided to have his father's remains disinterred, and brought the body to Brooklyn for burial beside the wife. The body was shipped to Brooklyn, and reached Cypress Hill Cemetery a few days ago, and was temporarily put in the receiving vault.

When the lid of the casket was unscrewed, instead of a skeleton the people who gathered about it were surprised to find a full-formed man. The color of the skin was dark brown and there was a damp deposit on the face. When this was brushed away with a cloth the features were found to be almost white and as hard as flint. The features were strikingly natural.

A FATAL WRECK.

One Man Killed and Others Injured in a Collision.

CHICAGO, Jan. 31.—This morning the Chicago & Eastern Illinois suburban train was blocked at Thirty-first street by a freight train, and while laying there the Chicago & Erie accommodation train came up at a high rate of speed and, not noticing the Eastern Illinois in the dense fog, dashed into the rear coach. A terrible panic prevailed. R. G. Adena was killed. Frank Rosenbaum, engineer on the accommodation train and John Ziegler, a passenger in the suburban were fatally injured.

SEALS NUMEROUS.

SEALS WERE NEVER SO ABUNDANT AS NOW.

They Are Found in Myriads and the Indians Are Killing Them Off By the Hundreds.

SEATTLE, San. 31.—James G. Swan, of Port Townsend, has obtained and publishes the affidavits of numerous sealers that fur seals are born all along the coast and that the pups can swim as soon as born. If this can be proven it is said it will change the whole Behring sea controversy, as it is claimed fur seals breed only on islands, and that the species would be exterminated if hunters were not excluded from Behring sea. Judge Swan offers to prove the truth of his statement to congress or a federal commission. Fur seals were never so abundant at Cape Flattery as now. They are found in myriads, and the Indians are killing them by the hundred.

A TITLE FOR COIN.

A Business-Like Advertisement for a Rich American Wife.

PARIS, Jan. 31.—Belief in the American woman's supposed mad desire to possess a coronet and a title, even at the risk of purchasing with it a more or less effete specimen of blue blood, is no doubt the reason which has inspired the following advertisement in the Nice Gazette:

"A count of untarnished honor, bearing one of the proudest names of the world, of ducal and princely family and allied to several reigning families, having suffered reverses of fortune through no fault of his own, would marry an American lady of honorable or even middle class who could assure him affluence for his declining days. Roman Catholic preferred. Kindly address to office of the Nice Gazette."

The American colony is lost in speculation as to who it can possibly be. Some shrewd people declare it is only a ruse adopted by an assumed scion of nobility in order to get replies which may afterward be used for other purposes by the ingenious advertiser, in which money will not play an altogether unimportant part. It is current gossip that several young ladies have banded themselves for the purpose of plucking out the heart of this mystery and declare they will have at least some fun out of it. They intend to write to the untarnished count and throw themselves and their fortunes at his feet in order to discover his identity.

Wife Tappers Sentenced.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 31.—Judge Murphy to-day sentenced W. J. Fallon and J. W. Nagle, convicted of having tapped the Western Union wires to steal telegraphic accounts of the results of Eastern horse races in order to beat the pool rooms. Each was sent to San Quentin for four years. An appeal to the supreme court will be taken.

A Test Case.

CARSON, Nev., Jan. 31.—John P. Sween was acquitted to-day. It was a test case of the 12 o'clock closing law of Nevada saloons throughout the state. The law is now a dead letter.

No Senator in Dakota.

PIERRE, S. D., Jan. 31.—Two more senatorial ballots were taken to-day without a result.

STATE AND COAST.

Articles Incorporating the Albany Collegiate Institute.

$7,000,000 FOR PORT ORCHARD

Three Suits Against the City of Seattle—Death of an Aged Indian on the Umatilla Reservation.

SALEM, Jan. 31.—Articles of incorporation were filed to-day with the secretary of state by the Albany collegiate institute, D. P. Mason, president; George E. Chamberlain, secretary. The board of trustees are the incorporators; estimated value of property, $12,000.

SCALPED BY A WOMAN.

The Singular Fate That Befell a Footpad in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Jan. 31.—Miss M. E. Wilmount was stopped on West Lake street by a footpad named Frank Patterson, who attempted to take her purse containing $60. Miss Wilmount held the purse with one hand, and, screaming, grasped the fellow's hair with the other. He managed to escape with the loss of a part of his scalp, which he left in Miss Wilmount's fingers. Patterson was arrested shortly after, the police having followed his bloody trail over half a mile from the scene of the scalping.

PORT ORCHARD'S PRIZE.

$700,000 to Be Appropriated for Dry Docks at That Place.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—The proposed amendment to the naval bill appropriates $700,000 for a dry dock at Port Orchard, Washington.

Suits Against Seattle.

SEATTLE, Wash., Jan. 31.—Three suits against the city of Seattle were heard in the superior court to-night at a special session to determine whether the city had the right to impose a special license of $1000 per year upon saloons having musical and theatrical attractions. A short time ago the city council passed an ordnance increasing this class from $100 to $1000. A number of proprietors of variety theatres got out restraining orders to prevent the city from collecting this license and the police from interfering with their saloon or musical attachments. The court has the case under advisement.

The Markets.

NEW YORK, Jan. 31,—Money on call easy, closed 3; prime mercantile paper $5 @ $7; sterling exchange steady, sixty day bills $4.84½; demand $4.86¾.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 31—Wheat, No. 1 shipping $1.37½ @ $1.38¾ with $1.40 for choice articles; milling $1.42½ to $1.43¾.

LIVERPOOL, Jan. 31.—Wheat unchanged.

Death of an Aged Indian.

PENDLETON, Jan. 31.—Twel-Ka-Da-Ma-Nine, the oldest Umatilla Indian, died yesterday. The Indians say he was more than 120 years old.

A SINGULAR INCIDENT.

A Carload of Miners Narrowly Escape Death.

An old mining man, W. J. Hanks, while in a reminiscent mood the other evening, related a singular incident that occurred in the Gould & Curry mine some years ago.

Hanks was at one time the foreman of the Gould & Curry mine, and on one occasion, after a skip had been lowered for the 1200 feet level of the mine, loaded with miners to relieve another shift, a carman by some blunder dumped into the mouth of the shaft a carload of newly sharpened picks that went hurling down the shaft with gathering velocity and seemingly carrying death and destruction to everything in their path. The foreman and workmen on the surface were horror stricken, but in less time than it takes to tell it Hanks signaled, but the skip was stuck, and he hurriedly descended the pump compartment to the 1200 level. There, to his great relief, he found the miners had made the descent in safety, and were, in fact, unaware of any accident having happened.

An inspection of the shaft revealed the fact that not a single one of the murderous picks had reached the bottom, and they were found at various points stuck fast in the timbers of the shaft. In falling the handles had swerved them in curves from side to side of the shaft, and with the acquired force they had all been caught and firmly imbedded in the wooden walls. It was with great relief that Hanks detached and sent them to the surface.—Reno Gazette.

OFFERED AS A SACRIFIC.

Terrible Fate of an Indian Child in British Columbia.

In June last an Indian named Blue Horn went hunting and trapping in the Beaver hill, near Fort Saskatchewan, accompanied by the eight-year-old son of a Victoria Indian. On his return from the hunting trip to the camp he was surprised to find the boy not there.

An extended search failed to reveal the boy. Saturday a half-breed from Beaver lake found in the woods about six miles east of Fort Saskatchewan the skeleton of a child in a standing position, its arms stretched out and its wrists tied to two trees. From circumstances surrounding the affair it is evident the lost boy was offered as a sacrifice to secure good luck in hunting by the Indians.—Victoria Exchange.

Cleveland and Hill Entertained Smiles

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—At a dinner given to-night at the Manhattan Club, ex-President Cleveland and Governor Hill met for the first time since the Centennial banquet at the Metropolitan hall two years ago. The guests were all seated when Hill arrived. He bowed to Senator Brown, then looking directly at Mr. Cleveland smiled and bowed to that gentleman, who returned the salute and then with a bow to the rest present Governor Hill sat down, as did the others. Dinner and general conversation was then resumed.

THE ELECTION BILL.

Abandoned in the Interest of More Important Business.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—It can be stated with positiveness that the managers of the election bill have finally decided to abandon the measure in the interest of important public business remaining to be acted upon. This decision has been communicated to the democratic managers.

REVOLUTION IN CHILI

REPUBLICANS MAKE AN ATTACK ON A CITY.

A Large Number Killed on Both Sides—Banks and Commercial Houses Closed.

OPORTO, Jan. 31.—The revolutionary uprising, which began this morning, is ended. Shortly after the beginning of the revolt, the insurgent troops and a portion of the fiscal guards seized the city hall and proposed to these and then declare a republic. A strong body of loyal troops laid siege to the building and after a bombardment a spirited charge settled the insurgents. The insurgents will be tried by court-martial, and in all probability the ringleaders will be shot.

LATER.—The insurgents to the number of 400 assembled at 4 o'clock this morning and with cheering paraded the principal streets. They made several attempts to seize the perfecture of police and the central telegraph office, but their plans, however, were frustrated by the municipal guard. The general in command summoned the loyal troops, when a few civilians supporting the rebels dispersed. The latter then proceeded to the Hotel del Ville, fortifying that structure to the best of their ability, but lacking ammunition, speedily submitted in response to artillery bombardment. Six or seven officers of inferior grade took part in the revolt, which was of a distinctly republican character. The civilian leader in the revolt was a lawyer named Alves Veiga. Veiga formed a republican directory, consisting of Senor Freitas, judge of high court; Soures, retired general of officers; Prof. Silva and the brothers Leite, but none of these persons were present, however, when the town hall was captured. Three soldiers and four civilians, including a woman, were killed during the fight and 36 soldiers and 10 civilians were wounded. Under directions of the authorities the offices and printing rooms of all republican journals were raided and all documents found in the places were seized. Every person found on the premises was taken into custody and the building placed under the charge of the military. All banks and commercial houses in the city have closed their doors.

BUENOS AYRES, Jan. 31.—Further advices from Chili are to the effect that in several skirmishes, the government troops succeeded in recapturing Pisagua. It is also learned that the insurgents occupied Taltal.

Canadian Parliament.

VICTORIA, B. C., Jan. 31.—A special to the Colonist from Ottawa says it seems to be a settled fact that a dissolution of the dominion parliament will take place immediately. The cabinet met to-day, and Sir John McDonald had a long discussion with the governor-general. Actual announcement will be made Monday or Tuesday. The trade policy will probably be the issue before the people.

California on Wheels.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 31.—The last itenerary for "California on Wheels" was forwarded to the car to-day. The train will leave Portland, Oregon, February 8th, and stop at Oregon City, Salem, Albany, Eugene, Roseburg, Medford, Ashland, and several points in California. The cars left San Francisco December 3, '89 and will be home February 28th.

SANTIAM COUNTY.

The Division Question Has Reached a Fever Heat.

4000 PEOPLE IN THE 'FORKS.'

Who Pay Taxes On Over a Million Dollars—They Are Unanimous for Division.

SALEM, Jan. 31.—Matters are growing warm on the question of a division of Linn county, creating Santiam county out of the section known as the Forks of the Santiam, with Scio as the county seat. In the morning the Statesman will publish a column article signed by O. S. May, P. O. Smith, R. Shelton, J. C. Simpson and others to the effect that there are now 4000 people living in the Forks, who pay taxes on over a million dollars, outside of exemption and indebtedness. The proposed new county will contain over a thousand square miles and the parties named say the people of that territory are almost unanimous for division. They think the movement for division will be defeated on account of the political ambitions of Linn's senators and representatives, because after the division Linn would be republican. They arraign Senator Myers for not remaining true to their cause.

ALASKAN SALMON.

Cannerymen are Endeavoring to Form a Combine for Protection.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan 31.—There are thirty-eight salmon canneries in Alaska, all of which have offices in San Faancisco. Their managers here are attempting to form an organization or combine among themselves for mutual protection. Inquiry revealed the fact of the thirty-eight companies in Alaska the efforts to form a combine of eight canneries situated on Karluk river, Kadiak island, has practically been successful. These eight companies represent over $2,000,000 in capital. These companies employed a force of 550 men last year and put up 260,000 cases of salmon, and the present year they propose to take more salmon than last and yet they will reduce their force of men to 160. The companies will all agree to employ the same force of men as catchers and then a superintendent will be appointed and he will see that each day's catch is equally divided among the eight companies. It is claimed this consolidation is for the purpose of reducing the cost of taking, so that these canneries can compete with the thirty canneries of the territory and make money.

The World's Fair.

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—Miss Ford, lady manager at large of the Columbian World's fair, received a telegram to-day from Mrs. Palmer, president of the lady managers, stating that the directors approved the proposal to erect a womans' building, allowing $200,000 for the purpose.

A Verdict of Manslaughter.

JACKSONVILLE, Or., Jan. 31.—I. J. Stacy, who killed J. M. Roberts at Moonville on December 17, was tried and the jury to day returned a verdict of manslaughter. The attorneys for the defense moved for a new trial.

Lieutenant Schwatka Improving.

MASON CITY, Ia., Jan. 31.—Lieutenant Schwatka, who was injured by a fall last night and was thought to be dead, has regained consciousness and will probably recover.

SHE MAY BE MRS. ASTOR.

The Girl on Whom John Jacob Is Said to Look Fondly.

Miss Ava Willing of Philadelphia whom the gossips have had betrothed to John Jacob Astor, son of the late William Astor, has a softly brilliant complexion with a lovely pink flush that comes and goes in her cheeks. Her face is round, and its beauty is emphasized by the daintiest oval chin with a dimple in it. Her hair is very dark brown, almost black, and her eyes, which are of deep-violet blue, look much darker for the long black lashes which curtain them. Miss Willing's figure is extremely pretty and graceful, with a rounded waist and lovely shouiders. She is a trifle above medium height, and while she impresses you as being very slender, she is, as a matter of fact, quite plump, and there is not a sharp angle about her. She appears to be thoroughly natural and unaffected. Her manner is sweet and winning. Her intimates say she has the loveliest disposition imaginable, and if only half of the nice things said of her are true young Mr. Astor is to be most heartily congratulated on winning so fair and so charming a bride.—Exchange.

A Life Saving Station.
