The friends of Conductor Conser, whose leg was broken in the Falouse accident, will regret to learn that he is not getting along very well, as the limb does not seem to unite. Graydel Bray, aged 61 years, died in Curry county, near Eckerly postoffice, January 29. Mr. Bray came to Oregon in 1852, and has resided in Coos and Curry counties ever since. He was in several of the early Indian wars. Some 12,000 bushels of potatoes yet remain in American bottom, below Buena Vista, awaiting a chance to ship. It is very unusual for boats to be so scarce at this time of year. The extreme low water now is in prominent contrast with the very high water just a year ago. Soon Be Pulling Snags. The stern Corvallis, now being rebuilt at Portland for the government, will be used in pulling snags and removing obstructions in the upper Willamette river. She is of very light draft, so as to be employed in shallow water. She is so near completion that it is expected she will have all finished by Monday next. Major Handbury, United States engineer, under whose charge the Corvallis was built, says she will be put to work on the upper river just as soon as the vessel can be made ready. It is his purpose to make navigation above the locks as easy as a child's play, and he trusts that purpose can be made it.

Leave No Loopholes. The East Washingtonian says that the proposed plan of leaving the regulation of railroad freights and fares to a commission appointed for that purpose would not result in another disastrous bill, as the investigation and nothing more. Before we can hope to obtain relief the corporations must be restrained by laws in which there are no loopholes. Better Chance for Justice. The Lincoln County Times says: A bill has passed one branch of the legislature and will probably become a law, giving nine jurors the power of bringing in a verdict instead of requiring the unanimous vote of the entire twelve. This would do away with one man hanging a whole jury, and justice would not be so often cheated. A Unique Feature. A unique feature of the entertainment Tuesday evening was the auctioning of a number of young ladies, they to become the partners of the gentlemen bidding them in. The young gentlemen, however, incurred the extra expense of ice cream and cake. The bidding went as high as three dollars. And We Will Have It. Newberg Graphic: The vindicator of East Portland and the Albina Corridor are making a vigorous kick against the consolidation idea. It is only a question of time when Portland will swallow all her suburbs with a gulp even this failure is made this time. Well, Oregon ought to have one big city.

Death by Paralysis. Nathan Vaughn, who came from Kansas last summer, father of F. G. Vaughn, the sawmill man of the Lyons firm of Vaughn & Sloper, died at his home in Lyons yesterday evening very suddenly from the effects of paralysis. He was about 65 years of age.

The Old Swindling Scheme. Just now a great many persons in this vicinity are receiving circular letters from a humbug portrait company which has Chicago for its headquarters. The scheme, an old one, is only one more way of extorting money from the unwary. The following is a copy of the letter: "Dear Sir: To introduce our work in your vicinity we will make you a portrait in crayon, water color, or pasting life size, worth $30, strictly speaking free of charge. Send us your photo. The victim sends the stamp and photo, and in due time receives a very nice letter from the concern stating that they have some neat frames that would just answer the purpose, and they insist that the owner of the likeness have them frame the picture and send it to him. They say in so much as they make no charges for the picture, it being merely a sample to introduce their work, the one receiving it should place his order with them for a frame. Their prices are reasonable. Unsuspecting one orders the frame and in due time a package awaits his call at the express office. It is C. O. D. for $25 or more dollars and is accompanied by his order for the frame. And actually, to save trouble, the man who has been gulled pays the bill and gets his free picture and cheap frame for a big price.

Crawled Ten Miles. George Tibbert, a young herder employed by Irmel & Spencer, rode into Mayo recently to have a tooth pulled, and on his return his horse threw him into insensibility. When he gained consciousness he found that matches carried in his pocket had become ignited, setting fire to his clothing and severely burning one foot. Being unable to walk, it is said he crawled on his hands and knees ten miles to reach assistance. He was brought from Mojave to Tehachapi Thursday evening for medical treatment. It is thought amputations of the foot will be necessary.—Tehachapi Summit Sun.

Burned to Death. A singular death was discovered Sunday morning this side of Monday at the Bartholomew freight wreck, which occurred some time last week. A man had been sent up there to watch the wreck, at the same time given a jug of liquor. When Fred Eaton came by with his train he observed the lifeless form, and at once stopped his train to investigate. Sure enough the man was dead. He had built himself a campfire, rolled into it and died. One side of his leg was burned to a crisp, and his stomach was roasted in a fried mass. Eaton telegraphed to Superintendent Ryder and the body was taken to Montpellier.—Pocatello (Idaho) Herald.

Teachers Examination. Notice is hereby given that the regular public examination of teachers, for Linn county, will take place in Albany, commencing on Wednesday, Feb. 25th at 1 o'clock p. m., and continue until Friday noon, Feb. 27th. All teachers must positively be present at the time of commencement, as no one will be admitted to the examination who is not so present. G. F. RUSSELL, County School Superintendent.

Messrs. Price & Robson have removed their stock of hardware into their elegant quarters in the new Baltimore block.

LETTER FROM ALBANY.

What a Correspondent of Eastern Oregon Writes from This City.

An Albany correspondent of the Oregon Scout of Union county, writes as follows under date of the 26th ult: There has been no snow in this section this winter and the coldest weather we had would hardly freeze potatoes. Of course, we may have lots of bad weather yet, but the backbone of winter is broken for the Willamette valley this season. Albany's charter has been presented to the legislature for amendment. The amendment will give our city fathers some chance to do city improvements, issue $75,000 bonds to build sewers and a steel bridge across the Willamette river at this city. The legislature is now all the talk. Each man has his pockets full of "bills," mostly for appropriations of one kind or another. We hope they may not all pass. The "Wm. M. Hoag" was the first river steamer to come to Albany this winter. We see no reason why we should not have an open river at least half of the year, if not all the year. Albany has enjoyed some good theatres lately, having had several companies that have played in Pacific coast cities and Portland to large houses. The enterprising lessees of the opera house, Messrs. Warner & Crain, have been associated with traveling troupes, and being well acquainted will spare no pains to give Albany her share of the best shows on the road at all seasons.

The Mystery Explained. The mysterious noises connected with the Almsworth block in Portland are thus commented upon: The noise is said to have resembled the moaning of the wind in a forest of fir trees, accompanied by the rattling of bones. While none of those who suffered by these disturbances were of a superstitious turn of mind, they were at a loss to understand them. The report of these diabolical orchestration coming to the ears of the reporter who holds the chair of "spookology," an investigation was at once decided upon, and, in order to make it as thorough as possible, it was thought best to do the job in broad daylight. Finding a single body guard in the office not many blocks away from the building, the reporter set out upon his task about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. A flight of narrow winding stairs' pointing skyward was selected for the route, and reaching the roof, accompanied by the rattling of bones, while none of those who suffered by these disturbances were of a superstitious turn of mind, they were at a loss to understand them.
