THE LEGISLATURE

The House Refuses to Consider Simon's Amendments.

ASSESSMENT AND TAXATION.

The Senate Holds a Night Session and Adjourns Until Monday Assessment Bill in the Committee of the Whole

SALEM, Feb. 6.—The senate concluded to work and voted a night session, but will rest -morrow. A few bills were passed, one by Fulton on important matters pertaining to building and loan associations.

In the house, contrary to expectation, after conclusion of consideration of the assessment and taxation bill by the committee of the whole, a vote was taken which practically indicates that the bill will pass.

The senate morning session was called to order at 10.

New bills were introduced as follows:

Hilton—Changing the name of Alkali, second reading; corporations.

Norval—For securing liens for laborers on mining claims, second reading; mining.

Norval—Amending acts to transfer certain special funds to the general fund, and providing for paying outstanding warrants, second reading; claims.

Fullerton—Regarding the management of the insane asylum, second reading; ways and means.

Blackman—For the relief of J. J. McGee, second reading; corporations.

Fullerton—Incorporating Winchester, second reading; corporations.

Sinclair—Amending acts regarding clerical aid for the secretary of state. second reading; to ways and means.

Tongue moved that when the senate adjourn it be until Monday at 2; lost, 10 to 18.

Sinclair—To limit hours of labor, second reading; to judiciary.

Fulton moved that the senate hold an evening session; carried; and when it adjourn afterwards it be until 2 P. M. on Monday; carried, 20 to 9.

A message from the governor asking the senate to confirm the appointment of S. Hamilton, of Roseburg, as regent of the State University, his excellency having appointed him last June, was received and the same confirmed,

A substitute for Crosno's bridge bill at Corvallis was introduced by Hilton, chairman of the commerce committe.

SENATE BILLS THIRD READING.

By Mackay—Relief of T. G. Harkins, furnishing Washington monument memoral stone; passed.

By Cogswell—Protecting employes in claims for wages; passed.

By Mackay—Fixing the salary of the assessor of Multnomah county; passed.

By Fulton—Regulating money-loaning by building and loan associations; passed.

The joint committee to examine the books, etc., of the penitentiary, reported favorably on the management of that institution, and recommended additional cell-room; adopted.

Adjourned.

EVENING SESSION.

The third reading of bills was continued:

Fullerton's Camus valley road in Douglas county, $2000; passed 19 to 10.

Fulton, protecting salmon and other fish; passed.

Cogswell moved that the senate do now recede from its action on the amendments to the Australian ballot bill, house bill 122; carried unanimously.

IN THE HOUSE.

The house opened without prayer.

The senate bill, embracing the Simon amendment, with other amendments of the same, was sent in. A motion by Miller to suspend the rules and read first time by title was lost, 29 to 25; fourteen democrats voting aye. A two-third vote is required.

The house went into a committee of the whole on the big assessment and taxation bill, with Barrett in the chair. The committee on suostitution made three reports:

The first, by Butler, that no deductions be allowed for indebtedness, except on real estate mortgages.

The second, by Hall, that deductions be allowed for indebtedness held in the county.

The third, by Jennings, that deductions be allowed for indebtedness owed within the state the same as the present law.

The house took up Butler's substitute, and after discussion it was adopted by a vote of 28 yeas to 26 nays.

Dustin said he did not understand the question, and moved to reconsider the vote; carried, 25 to 23.

Jennings' substitute was lost. 25 to 28.

Hall's amendment was lost. The original question and Butler's substitute were adopted, 27 to 26.

The motion that the committee's report be that the bill do not pass was lost, 26 to 27.

The motion that the report be that the bill do pass was carried. 26 to 23.

Adjourned.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

In the house this afternoon the report by Barrett, chairman of the committee of the whole, on the assessment and taxation bill, with 53 amendments, was adopted. Ordered engrossed and 500 copies printed and made a special order for Tuesday next.

EVENING SESSION.

The motion to re-consider the vote by which Durham's bill of $1000 for the penitentiary library was lost; carried. The bill was then carried.

The senate bill to regulate primaries, the Simon amendment bill was read twice and ordered printed.

The Thomas usury law, failed to pass.

Adjourned until 10 o'clock Saturday.

RAILROAD MATTERS.

Hill, of the Great Northern, Backer for the Pacific Short Line.

SIOUX CITY, Iowa, Feb. 6.—A deal has been made in New York whereby Hill of the Great Northern, appears as backer of the Pacific Short Line. The objective point of this line is Ogden, Utah. A quarrel between the Sioux City and New York stockholders caused the road to be put into the hands of a receiver in December. Last week the Sioux City party, who has $1,000,000 in the road, affected a contract to buy the interest of the New York parties. The Hill interest will then put money in to complete the line immediately.

Chinaman Fatally Shot.

COLFAX, Wash., Feb. 6.—Lee Yonk, a Chinaman, was shot in the jaw this afternoon, the bullet penetrating the spinal column, where it lodged. Lee will probably die. Back Kin was arrested for the shooting.

Blood-Thirsty Sam Jones.

LAGRANGE, Tex., Feb. 6.—Sam Jones is here. He says he is afraid his row with the mayor of Palistine, Tex., will lead to others. "Some smart Aleck will want to whip me again; I won't have peace until I kill some one."

MAKING LAWS.

THE WASHINGTON LEGISLATORS' TRICKS AND DOINGS.

Railroad Legislation Sat Down Upon--Some Measures Will Pass But No Restrictions.

OLYMPIA, Feb. 6.—A lively tilt, indicating in some measure the temper of the legislature on the railroad question, occurred in the house this morning, between Granger and the anti-railroad legislation element, and it resulted in the complete defeat of the former fellow. The railroad bill had been set for the special order at 11 to-day, but when that hour arrived, he moved to postpone until next Tuesday. A very warm debate ensued in which Tyler was accused of deliberately pursuing dilatory tactics in order to kill the bill. He maintained that he wanted time merely to prepare a substitute bill and he carried the house with him by a large majority. The vote is taken to indicate that the legislature will not pass several laws. It is disposed to accede the demands of the farmers for reduction of grain rates, but it is not at all likely that a restrictive general measure will be passed. Much of the time of to day's session in both houses was taken up in consideration of Hill's code bills. The senate passed a number and the house acted upon two only, referring the remainder to the judiciary committee.

Among the prominent bills introduced to-day was one by Nevin, of Skamania, fixing the liquor license uniformly at $1000, and prescribing the method of obtaining a license in such a manner that local option in its strictest sense will be eancted.

Idaho Senatorship.

BOISE CITY, Idaho, Feb. 6.—In the senate to-day a resolution was offered that as a doubt existed as to validity of election of Dubois as United States senator for the term beginning March 4th, next, the legislature meet in joint session and elected a senator for that term. The resolution adopted by the vote was 9 to 8. The democrats voting with the friends of Judge Claggett. The resolution will come up in the house to-morrow where its fate is in doubt though there seems to be a probability of its success.

The Test Was Successful.

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 6.—A successful test of the new overhead system of electric railway was held this morning. The first through trip will be made this evening.

Business Difficulty.

PROVIDENCE, Feb. 6.—Work at the Oriental mills has been stopped under attachments, aggregating $387,000. A second assignment is looked for.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS

The World's Fair And Silver Coinage Matters.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE HOUSES

The Senate Wants More Information Regarding the Killing of General Barrundia.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—In the senate, Paddock presented a resolution from the Nebraska house of representatives against the passage of the Conger lard bill, for the reason that it would inflict great losses on the cattle industry in Nebraska, and in favor of the passage of the Paddock pure food bill.

The conference report on the bill to provide an additional associate justice of the supreme court of Arizona was agreed to.

The naval appropriation bill was reported with sundry amendments.

Hawley offered a resolution, which was agreed to, calling on the president for correspondence in reference to the conduct of Naval Officer Reiter on the occasion of the arrest and killing of General Barrundia and the action of the navy department.

Morgan addressed the senate in support of a bill reported from the committee on foreign relations in aid of the construction of the Nicaragua maritime canal.

IN THE HOUSE.

McKinley asked unanimous consent to present for consideration a bill providing that nothing in the tariff act shall be held to repeal or impair the reciprocity treaty with the Hawaiian islands. Bland thought the bill should be considered in a committee of the whole, and McKinley moved that the house go into a committee for that purpose, but withdrew his action when he found it was impossible to limit the time for the debate.

The speaker laid before the house a senate bill amending the land forfeiture act of September 29, 1890, regarding the period within which settlers, purchasers and others, under the provisions of said act may make application for the purchase of lands forfeited thereby. When such period begins to run from the passage of the act, it shall begin to run from the date of promulgation by the commissioner of the general land office of instructions to officers of local land offices for their direction in the disposition of said lands. The bill passed with verbal amendments.

In the committee of the whole to-day the house considered the paragraphs in the sundry civil appropriation bill, relating to Chandler's substitute for the world's fair bill. Wilson, of West Virginia, questioned the efficiency of the national commission in the expenditure of government money and criticized the salaries paid to the officials. The total amount of the salary list, he said, was $68,540, and under the authority given the commission to increase the number of appointees as the fair grew, the salaries would swell until they swamped government appropriation. Breckenridge, of Kentucky, defended the action of the appropriation committees. It was the duty of congress to make the fair a success, not a failure, and he, as a member of the appropriation committee, had felt it his duty to concur in the recommendation of the appropriations which have been made. Vaux, of Pennsylvania, made a constitutional argument in opposition to the provisions of the bill. Butterworth, of Ohio, in opposition to the substitute, said the United States was committed to a certain thing, no matter through what instrumentality. The faith of the country was pledged. The fair would not only result in an advantage to Chicago, but it would also result in the glory of this republic. The centennial exposition had been of the greatest benefit to the country. Butterworth appealed to the gentleman whether Chicago had not fulfilled all she had promised and more; whether Illinois had not met every requirement of the law. Chicago had raised $11,000,000. This was a United States enterprise. Had Chicago been liberal or not, was she to be censured because she deemed it proper to pay a director general out of the national treasury. Chicago had done well. There was not an example of the kind in history, where a city had done so much for a nation, and he asked for Chicago fair treatment. Replying to Wilson's strictures upon the board of lady managers, Butterworth created much applause by his gallant allusions to the women of the world. He proceeded to argue in support of the salaries provided by the bill, and warmly supported their retention. Chandler then offered his amendment. Mason raised his point of order. Pending the decision of the committee the house took a recess.

Representative Morrill, chairman of the Raum investigation committee, has made a report which has been agreed to by his republican colleagues. The democratic members of the committee will present a minority report with regard to the refrigerator branch investigation. The report says: "There was an entire absence of any evidence showing or going to show that any refrigerator stock ever had been offered for sale to, or purchased by any of the employes of the pension office, or that there was any stock held by any one for the benefit of the employes or any of their families, the only exception being Bradley Tanner. The committee finds that Tanner spent four days while he was on his yearly leave of absence on the company's business and wrote a few letters for the company; but that he was never interested in the universal refrigerator company and his promotion was due to Commissioner Tanner, who appointed him. The committee finds there is no evidence to show any favoritism to Lemon or any other attorney and no truth in the charge that Lemon procured the situation in the pension office for his former employees.

The action of the house to-day in sustaining the decision of the chair (Payson) by which Bland's free coinage amendment to the sundry civil bill was ruled out of order, is thought by many to mean that no free coinage bill can pass this congress. There were probably some republicans who voted to sustain the decision of the chair who, himself is a silver man, because they believed the decision was in accordance with the rules. Silver men have given up all hope of getting any sort of a report from the committee. Bland and Bartine left the committee, refusing to take any further part in the proceedings, since it was evident to them it was not the purpose of the committee that anything should be done. In doing this they placed all their faith in their ability to force an issue before the house, by attracting provisions for the free coinage appropriation bill. To do this it was necessary as they all appreciated to over-rule the decision of the chair, which necessarily would be in accordance with the rules. To-day's vote was a test of their strength on this sort of a motion and the result makes it apparent that the free silver appropriation bill in the house can carry. The leaders of republicans do not propose to let the free coinage bill go to the president as a rider on appropriation, if they can help it, as this would make his position particularly embarrassing and would probably result in the failure of the appropriation bill, making an extra session necessary.

TRAIN ROBBERS.

THEY BOLDLY CAPTURE A TRAIN AND ROB IT.

The Express Messenger Blew Out the Lights and Opened Fire, Driving Off the Robbers.

DELANO, Cal., Feb. 6.—The passenger train was boarded by robbers at Alila this evening and under cover of pistols the engineer, Thorne, and fireman, Radliff, were forced to pull out to a point a mile this side and halt. The engineer and fireman were taken back to the express car, the messenger saw what was up, blew out his lights and, instead of opening the door commenced firing at the robbers. Many shots were exchanged, one of which struck Messenger Hasswell in the forehead, causing a slight wound and another striking the fireman in the side, producing a fatal wound. The robbers were beaten off and abandoned the undertaking. The train pulled to this point and Radliff's wounds were examined and are pronounced fatal. The trainmen say there was either two or four robbers engaged, and from indications they are the same parties who were engaged in the former robberies committed near that point.

THE SAME OLD DODGE.

And It Hauls In the Greedy Sucker.

MARYSVILLE, Cal. Feb. 6.—Charles Newcom, a well-known rancher of Sutter county, was victimized out of $1500 yesterday by confidence sharps. A man called on him, claiming he was looking for land for investment, and obtained Newcom's confidence, and both got in a buggy and started to look at the country. They were met by another man, claiming he was traveling in the interest of the Louisiana lottery. He said he wanted to overcome the prejudice against the lottery by having several prominent men win large prizes, and said he would have the two new acquaintances win as much as they would show coin. Stranger No. 1 offered to put up $8500 if Newcom would show $1500. Newcom agreed and both came to town where Newcom got his money. Stranger No. 1 produced a tin box in which he said was his $8500. He offered Newcom another box to put his in. The coin was put in locked up. Stranger No. 2 said he had received a telegram calling him to Tehama and asked the men to meet him at Marysville next Saturday. They agreed and Newcom was handed his box and went home. On opening the box next morning he found two dirt clods and some shot in the box. The confidence men had changed boxes and skipped with the coin.

IMMENSE CAPTURE.

Opium Seized in the Possesion of Chinese Merchants.

EARHART IS AFTER THEM.

Dempsey Still Slugging--A Rancher Swindled out of $1.500--Electric Railway Successful.

PORTLAND, Feb. 6.—Never in the history of Portland has such a general opium clean-up been made by the United States customs house inspectors as those ubiquitous officials have effected during the past three days and nights.

The office of Collector Earhart is filled with contraband opium, seized under the provisions of the act recently passed by congress. Every safe in the department is full of cans, cups and packages, and the floor is covered with boxes and baskets and big stone jars, all full of the soothing drug. The total value thereof, as stated by Collector Earhart, is something over $15,000, and is one of the largest effected for many years.

The inspectors who made the raid are Messrs. Burns, Alstead Eagleston, who held a conference with the general traveling inspector, J. H. Coblentz, about a month since. They did the most of their work the afternoon, contrary to their usual tactics. Thus, they worked quite a surprise upon the Chinese who were caught with their hands down, and, on demand, brought forth the desired article. The houses of Wa Hing, Tong Took Tong, Yeum Wi Tong, Man Oak, Took Sang Co., Ou Caang Wa Co., Wing Chin Loon Co., Ye Hop Co., Seid Back, Wing Sing Co., Quong Sang Wo Co., Quong Toy Co., Woo Toy Co., Chung Yeun Quong Koen Co., Nan Gee, Twin Woo, Gee Hop, Foy Yeun, Lee Loon and about thirty small shops were visited in regular order. Each house had from ten to 200 cans of the drug, which was taken.

MORE APPROPRIATIONS.

The Telegraph Cable and Dry Dock for the Coast.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—Some of the additions to the naval appropriation bill as reported to the senate are: One appropriation of $25,000 to enable the president to cause soundings to be made between San Francisco and Honolulu for the purpose of determining the practicability of laying a telegraphic cable, and an appropriation of $25,000 for the purchase of a site for, and $200,000 for beginning work on a new dry dock to be located in Puget Sound or the Columbia river. The limit of the cost of the new dock being placed at $700,000, and discretion being left with secretary of the navy as to its exact location.

OFFICIAL CENSUS.

The Recount of Salem and Portland Left Out.

SALEM, Or., Feb. 6.—Secretary of State McBride, is just in receipt from Superintendent of Census Porter, the official census returns of Oregon by counties. No account is taken in the returns of the account of Salem and Multnomah county, and it is evident the recount will be ignored. The figures was obtained for the use of the congressional apportionment committee. They give the state population of 312,490. The three largest counties as follows: Multnomah, 75,657; Marion, 22,453; Linn, 16,139.

DEMPSEY HEARD FROM.

He Is Still In the Business of Bruising.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 6.—Jack Dempsey, who arrived from Galveston last night, was seen to-day, and in response to inquiries said: "I see no reason why I should forsake the ring. I certainly met a better man in Fitzsimmons, but it is not every one in the middleweight division that possesses the extraordinary natural advantages he does. I have no fixed plans for the future yet, but I certainly am not out of the business." Dempsey leaves for Portland to-morrow.

The Markets.

NEW YORK, Jan. 31,—Money on call easy, closed offered at 2½; prime mercantile paper $5 @ $7; sterling exchange quiet and steady; sixty day bills, $4.85; demand $4.87¼.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 31—Wheat, $1.36 per cental for No. 1, milling grades $1.40 @ $1.42½ per cental.

PORTLAND, Or., Feb. 6.—Wheat, Willamette, $1.22½ @ $1.25; Walla Walla, $1.12½ @ $1.15.

A Proper Ending.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 6.—A jealous man attacked his wife with a hatchet and knife. She escaped with no fatal injuries. He then fatally cut his own throat.

Death of a Pioneer Editor.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 6.—John P. Hale Wentworth, a pioneer journalist, died here to-day, aged 63 years.

Free Silver Men.

BOSTON, Feb. 6.—The free silver advocates will be addressed by Senator Stewart, of Nevada, on February 13.
