

Morning Daily Herald

ON SALE.

The DAILY HERALD will be on sale each morning at H. J. Jones' book store, where it can be procured at 5 cents per copy.

JOTTINGS ABOUT TOWN.

Coll Van Cleve is over from Toledo.

Miss Vesta Mason left yesterday to visit relatives.

E. D. Casick came up from Salem last evening.

Mrs. R. F. Wineman is convalescent from her recent illness.

W. R. Blyden has been in relief for a day or two on business.

Arthur Gray is spending a few days with his parents in this city.

Rev. I. E. Fisher is conducting a protracted meeting at Jefferson.

The Three Sisters came up the river yesterday, going on to Corvallis.

Miss May Mills, who has been quite ill for some time, is slowly improving.

Willie Davidson has accepted a clerkship with John Isom Jr., in his candy store.

The firm of Copeland & Gardner of Toledo, failed; liabilities, $9,000; assets, $3,000.

A plat of Osborn's addition to Lebanon has been filed in the office of the county recorder.

Mr. and Mrs. Jenny Reams, pioneer residents of Eugene, are spending the winter in this city.

A. W. Thompson will remove to Olympia to engage in the painting and paper hanging business.

License to wed has been granted by the county clerk to Ala B. Marshall and Miss Mattie Wallace.

Only one fatal case has occurred so far of diphtheria in this city, that being the 13 year old daughter of A. B. Morris.

Three more persons were immersed yesterday in the canal by Rev. J. T. Stewart, of the Christian church.

The citizens of The Dalles held a rousing meeting Friday night to celebrate the passage of the portage railway bill.

The citizens of Halsey will hold a public meeting on the 21st inst., consider the question of the erection of a flouring mill there.

Mr. Ehret has purchased of Mrs. Hyman, this week, a beautiful Hennie & Long piano, and presented to his daughter Minnie.

W. E. McPherson sold yesterday to Mrs. E. M. Sedgwick, of this city, a house and two lots in the part of the city. Consideration private.

A pleasant social was given Friday evening at the residence of Mrs. L. E. Blain by the Sunday school scholars of the United Presbyterian church.

A vein of coal, claimed to be two feet thick and twelve feet wide, has been found in a canyon on the farm of Blair Forward, about five miles south of Silverton.

Astorian: Spokane, Seattle and Tacoma publish the proposed new city charter in the papers before submitting it to the legislature. In Oregon things are done differently.

The firemen's hall that is to be given at the opera house next Wednesday evening will, without doubt eclipse anything of the kind that has been given in Albany for some time.

B. B. Henrick, who was arrested at Salem sometime ago, charged with rape on his 14 year old daughter, has been released, the grand jury having returned a not true bill against him.

The Salem street commissioner deserves credit for getting a rock pile for tramps.—Statesman.

They will be a great convenience for his helplessness to brain lated pedestrians with.

Some Corvallis sports arranged a genuine old-time cock fight recently. Shultz Bros., of this city, are the possessors of a thoroughbred fighting cock, and say they will match the winning Corvallis fowl for $25 or $50.

Invitations will be issued this week for a social dancing party by the Assembly club, at the opera house, Thursday evening, Feb. 26. Portland music has been secured and the committee in charge propose to make it the affair of the season.

Timber land locaters have been active of late in the hills east of Galesville on the Oregon Pacific. A large amount of timber land lies in that direction, unsurveyed; the promise is, however, that it will be surveyed during the coming summer.

The Walla Walla Statesman is authority for this statement: Hunt's surveyors have been at work below town for several weeks sounding the Columbia in order to determine the best place for bridge. It is given out they have decided on a point one mile above the ferry at old Wallula.

Fairhaven Herald: Prize-fighting seems to be getting into the right channel. Within the past week, in two of these brutal exhibitions one each of the principals has been killed, and the others have been jailed on charge of murder. There is a bright suggestion in those instances for a way to fight the thing to a finish.

The Dalles Times-Montaineer says: "Through the state, it is traveling through the state. One travels alone and sells a dozen capsules for $2, to put in lamps to make a quart of oil last a year. It takes two days for the capsule to get in working order, and by that time the hick is out of the country but your oil still diminishes." The only safe way to treat the traveling fraternity of the kind referred to is to shut the door in their faces. Home merchants carry all the improvements in oil and lamps. Deal with them.

THE REAPPORTMENT.

How Oregon Will be Represented in Future Legislature.

The joint reapportionment committee of the Oregon legislature has submitted a bill which makes the following apportionment of senators and representatives from the several counties of the state.

SENATORIAL DISTRICTS.

Table listing senatorial districts and their constituent counties, including 1st-Marion, 2nd-Linn, 3rd-Lane, etc.

REPRESENTATIVE DISTRICTS.

Table listing representative districts and their constituent counties, including 1st-Marion, 2nd-Linn, 3rd-Lane, etc.

CHANGES MADE IN THE OLD APPOINTMENT ARE NOT GREAT.

The total population was divided by the total vote, giving a ratio of 4.4.

Then the vote of each county was multiplied by 4.4, and upon the figure so obtained the apportionment was made.

Multnomah county gains a joint senator with Clackamas, while Marion loses one representative, and Linn loses a senator. Lake and Klamath are the only counties that have to be joined together to get one representative. All the other counties get at least one, and there are also joint representatives for Coos and Curry and Wasco and Sherman counties. The counties of Jackson, Marion and Washington each lose a representative, and Multnomah, Union and Grant each gain one. The bill meets with general favor, and has been made a special order for consideration by the house for Monday at 4 p. m.

Church Notices.

Services at the Congregational church to-day will be as follows: At 11 a. m., "What to do With Christ." At 7:30 the first in a course of lectures to young people on the subject, "The Strength and Weakness of Young People." A fifteen minute prayer meeting after the evening service. All will be made welcome to these services.

At the Christian church to-day, morning, theme, "The great Change." Evening theme, "A Gospel Bridge." A number will be received into the fellowship of the church at 11 a. m. A cordial invitation is extended to the public.

At the M. E. church there will be preaching at 11 a. m., and 7:30 p. m., by the pastor. At the morning service the administration of baptism by sprinkling and pouring will be administered. Sabbath school at 2:30 p. m. Epworth league at 6:30.

Preaching services at the Presbyterian church at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Sabbath school at 12:15 p. m. Y. P. S. C. E. meeting at 6:45 p. m. The subject of the morning sermon will be "The Path of Duty." In the evening the pastor will begin a series of discourses on "Christian evidences."

Worth Trying.

Newspaper recipes are not always sure in their pretensions, but the following for a wash to kill insects on fruit trees bears the impress of being worth trying: "I take a pound of sulphur, a pound of concentrated lye or caustic soda, and a gallon and a half water, and I boil these together for quite a long time, an hour or two, then I add a half a gallon of the commonest fish oil I can get instead of whale oil, and I boil that until it is converted into a soap; it takes some time to do that, and while in the kettle, just as soon as it is converted into soap, I add a half a gallon of coal oil while it is hot, and stir it up so that it mixes thoroughly, and then put twenty-five gallons of water in a tub, gradually beat it up until it becomes a homogeneous mass—it makes a milky preparation but it remains thoroughly mixed without any trouble. Apply it cold and use it in the spring of the year, just as the tree is coming into blossom.

Any suit in the house for coat for the rest of this month. New spring goods will arrive the first of March.

T. L. WALLACE & Co

THE BOSTON OPERA COMPANY

Will Appear in La Mascotte at the Opera House Friday Evening.

Who is there that hasn't at some time or other laughed at "La Mascotte" with its wealth of mirth provoking situations. This standard comic opera is to be produced by the above talented opera company at the opera house next Friday night. The Boston Opera company has been playing for the past three weeks at the Park theatre, Portland, to standing room only. The Portland Press speaks very highly of the Bostonians. The Oregonian says: "The Boston comic opera is one of the best opera companies ever seen in Portland. The Examiner says: Manager Ford of the Park theatre has done well by himself and to the public by bringing the Boston Caity Opera company to Portland. The evening Telegram says: Successful first night. Sir Arthur's Lullivan's master work. "The Mikado" was produced in an excellent manner last night by the Boston Caity Opera Co. at the Park theatre, and the large audience expressed their satisfaction at the performance. Managers Warner and Craner deserve great credit for engaging such talent and it is earnestly hoped the public of Albany will appreciate Messrs. Warner and Craner's endeavors in bringing nothing but first class attractions to Albany. On Saturday evening "Erminie" will be produced, and a special children's matinee on Saturday afternoon, when Andrews' tuncful opera "Olivette" will be given.

REAL ESTATE SALES.

U. S. to Louis K. Brooks, 156 acres, patent.

U. S. to Alonzo McIntyre, 106 acres, patent.

Leander Bortner to John E. Alkin, 40 acres, $1775.

G. L. Blackman to B. M. Hutor, 1 lot, Blackman's add to Albany, 50.

L. F. Smith to Elizabeth E. Davenport, lot 4, blk 5, Tangent, 100.

R. J. Foster to T. W. Humphrey and Wm. Yost, 4 acres, 2200.

A. Hackleman to L. Finn, trustee, 1 lot, blk 52, H's, 2d add, 275.

L. Finn, trustee, to E. M. Horton, 1 lot, blk 52, H's, 2d add, 500.

Hannah Reed to Henry McEntyre, 160 acres, 50.

H. McEntyre to J. A. Gibhead, 160 acres, 450.

Amanda Turner to H. McEntyre, 160 acres, 50.

A. McEntyre to Henry McEntyre, 160 acres, 50.

BONAFIDE CLEARANCE SALE.

At the Ladies Bazaar—All Goods Will Be Sold.

Regardless of cost for the next thirty days, to make room for our large new spring stock. Don't miss this opportunity to secure bargains.

Cures Diphtheria.

The following from the Scientific American, is something that ought to be pasted up in a conspicuous place in every household: "At the first indication of diphtheria in the throat of a child, make the room close. Then take a tin cup and pour in a quantity of tar and turpentine equal parts. Then hold the cup over the fire, so as to fill the room with the fumes. The patient on inhaling the fumes, will cough, spit out the membrane, and diphtheria will pass off. The fumes of tar and turpentine loosen the matter in the throat and thus affords the relief that has baffled the skill of physicians."

One Week More.

The legislature will conclude their work this week, having consumed the 41 days allowed them by law. They will then go home to answer to their constituents for what they have or have not done. They have succeeded in doing one thing and that is in introducing more bills than any of their predecessors. There have been about 500 bills introduced in both houses.

Land Contest Decided.

The land contest case between C. A. Graves, and J. A. Schooling, evidence in which was taken before the county clerk here some time ago, has been decided by the land office at The Dalles in favor of Schooling. The contestant is not satisfied with the decision of the register and receiver, and has appealed the case to the general land office.—Ochoco Review.

THE WORLD ENRICHED.

The facilities of the present day or the production of everything that will conduce to the material welfare and comfort of mankind are almost unlimited and when Syrup of Figs was first produced the world was enriched with the perfect laxative known as it is, the only remedy which is truly pleasing and refreshing to the taste and prompt and effectual to cleanse the system gently in the Spring-time or, in fact, at any time any the better it is known the more popular it becomes.

All kinds of canned goods at Parker Bros.

Lullow shoes at Klein Bros' exclusive shoe store.

Egan & Archison are selling monuments at Portland prices.

Prescriptions compounded with care at Hulin & Dawson's drug store.

Viereck will shave you or cut your hair in the most approved style.

We are sole agents for Hanan & Sons fine shoes, carry them in every size and width, every pair warranted, try them.

T. L. WALLACE & Co.

ABOUT NEWSPAPER WORK.

A Noted Writer Compares the Methods of the Eastern and Western Press.

(Special Correspondence, Copyrighted.)

PORTLAND, Feb. 10.—A journalist, my son, is a college graduate, has been employed on a newspaper for a week or so and who has been assigned to chronicle the doings of the police courts. A newspaper man is one who for many long and weary years has been delving night after night writing editorials and otherwise creating or directing public opinion. That is the difference. Such was the definition given of newspaper workers, by the late Andrah Davis, who a few years ago was one of the best known of the forcible newspaper writers of the East. Between the newspaper men of the East and West there is to be noticed a vast difference. This difference, however, is not so great between the actual workers of the Atlantic and Pacific coasts, but in that great country that lies between the two the trained journalist blossoms forth in almost endless variety. He is an omniscient, a philosopher, on the occasions, makes his presence known and his influence felt in a way that no "professional" ever would stoop to, and at the time his companions declare his promise of a great and brilliant future. Oftentimes if he received his just deserts he would be wearing a striped suit and pegging away at shoes in some institution which is supported by the state.

The casual glances of the columns of the great dailies of the two coasts by the uninitiated does not show much apparent difference, but to the experienced eye there is a difference that forcibly presents itself. The style of preparing the articles for the press, the use or exclusion of certain words bespeak of the training or school in which the writer has been bred, and often without realizing the men fall into a style which is so marked that in a short time their individuality becomes so marked that the article can be readily picked out, even by the inexperienced reader. This individuality is more discernible on the west coast than on the east coast. At one time it was generally supposed that the best newspaper men in the country made their homes in the city of New York. Long since, however, has that opinion been exploded. Now it is admitted in the East that a large majority of the more brilliant writers have gone to the West and now their handiwork is to be seen on every hand. The reason for this is obvious. In the West, individuality of thought and independence in putting those thoughts on paper are encouraged. The writer is allowed more latitude than in the offices of the East, where the editor or the man whose name appears on the paper is the only one who is allowed to have an idea or to suggest a thing that to his mind would be a good thing for his paper. In the West it is different, and a bright idea or a happy thought is appreciated and accepted only by the editor but often by the business office, and as a result the man who steps out of the beaten track and uses his brains in the way the Editor intended that it should be used is the one who nine times out of ten receives the highest salary and whose services are the most in demand.

The great difference between newspaper workers can be more readily noticed by a comparison of the papers of the west coast with those of the middle country. The dailies of the states of Michigan and Minnesota are fair samples of what a generally bad man can do when allowed to write just what he pleases and to indiscriminately abuse his conduct. In Minnesota this is especially noticeable, and the writer who can be the most abusive is looked upon as the most valuable member of the staff. This is due to two causes, first, because the editors have never on any recent training themselves, and second, because it is the home of the "trained journalist" who is fully equipped to teach the world just what is necessary to be done in order to attain unusual happiness and the world must differ with them unless the world wants to receive a good resting at the hands of the scribe. The Minnesota journalist is not in his element unless he is getting some one in trouble, and if he can find anyone, rather than lose an opportunity he gets himself into trouble, and then the people who have felt thrills of his pen have a slight chance to get even with him, and it is seldom that he can go into court and give testimony before a jury and have them believe him, for the people have become so accustomed to his mistatements that they fall into the belief that he cannot tell the truth even when under oath. This is the reason so many libel suits are instituted in those states, and it also explains the reason why so many of them are successful, and the papers are compelled to figure in their annual expenses so much for profit and loss, the profits and loss being the amount of the verdicts obtained during the year by irate citizens who have had their feelings injured and their peace of mind disturbed by the irresponsible and untrained journalist.

One of these men was employed on a certain newspaper in the Sound country. The city editor, who was invogled into giving him a job, has never forgiven himself for being lunched into it by such a novice, but he tells the story himself.

"I sent that fellow out to do the harbor front," said the city editor, "to hear him talk one would be led to suppose that he was a second Cummings and as good men were mighty scarce just then I congratulated myself on the acquisition of an available man to our staff, especially as the opposition paper was paying more than I could afford. I believe that had he demanded more money than the office would allow me to pay him, I would have went down into my own pocket and dug up the balance rather than to have lost the opportunity of hiring him. He knew all about how to do the assignment I gave him, and when one of the boys who had been on that boat offered to give him some pointers about the work, his manner was so chilly that the old timer felt like giving him a smack in the mouth, and now I wonder that he didn't do it. The first day he came back with an everlasting lot of three-masted schooners. He had more three-masted schooners in the harbor than had ever entered the Sound since it was discovered, and he was sure he was right. In looking over his copy I found that he had one loaded with coal that came from a town way up on top of the Cascades. That was too much, and when he intimated that I did not know enough to come in out of the door, I gently escorted him to the dock and deposited him on the sidewalk. Our paper did not announce the arrival of any three-masted schooner from the mountains that day."

Among the writers of the West who can more than hold their own with those of the East, and who by their individuality have made their names familiar to every editorial room on the coast, and whose articles have been appreciated by millions of readers, are the Hon. Harvey Scott, Ambrose Bierce, of the San Francisco Examiner, Ned Clough, of the Oakland Times, Frank Pixley, of the Argonaut, Joe Lynch, of the Los Angeles Herald, Jack Egan, of the Seattle Telegraph, Neb Townsend, Tom Flynn, Arthur McLean, Sam Davis, Lucius Bigelow, Vivian and Hart, of the Oregonian, F. A. Carle, J. B. Nelson, of the P. I., Col. Will Visscher, "Rabelais," and many others of equal ability. Such men are a credit to the West and by their work they are compelling the East to recognize the force, ability and aggressiveness of the Western Press.

FRANK H. JONES, Staff Seattle "Telegraph."

BUSINESS LOCALS.

Parker Bros., grocers.

Go to Searls' for a new necktie.

A fine line of house slippers at Searls' shoe store.

Don't forget the grand clearance sale at the Ladies Bazaar.

Lullow's shoes all sizes and widths at Searls' shoe store.

Sauer kraut and salmon bellies in quantities to suit, at Mueller & Garret's, the leading grocers.

We have just received a fine lot of choice groceries, which we will sell at bedrock prices these hard times, also a nice lot of horse-radish and parsnips. Mueller & Garret.

Boenicke will receive by the next steamer 50 boxes of fine Riverside navel oranges, to be sold cheaper than any other house in the city, delivered by express to purchasers.

A. Boenicke has secured the exclusive agency for Albany of Robert's fine candies, and on the next steamer will receive a fine lot of these choicest candies on the Pacific coast. They will be sold at 50 cents per pound, the same as is charged for Portland candies.

MARRIED.

MARSHALL-WALLACE—On Friday evening at 5 p. m., at the residence of B. Marshall, on second street in this city, by J. E. Stewart, Mr. Ala B. Marshall and Miss Mattie Wallace, both of Albany, Pacific.

DIED.

MORRIS—In this city on Saturday, Feb. 14, 1891, of diphtheria, Orla, daughter of A. B. Morris, age 13 years.

MAXWELL—Near Knox Butte on February 11, 1891, of diphtheria, Rhoda, daughter of Elias and Mary Maxwell, aged nine years.

OPERA HOUSE!

ENGAGEMENT EXTRAORDINARY!

BOSTON GAITY

Comic Opera Co.,

40--ARTISTS--40

FRIDAY & SATURDAY

AND SATURDAY MATINEE,

February 20th and 21st.

FRIDAY, 20th—Andran's Favorite Opera,

"LA MASCOTTE."

SATURDAY MATINEE—Andran's Masterpiece,

"OLIVETTE."

Saturday Evening,

"ERMINIE."

PRICES—50 cents and $1.00.

MATINEE—Children 25c. Adults 50c. Seats now on sale at Will & Link's music store.

Building and Loan Association.

THE ANNUAL MEETING of the Albany Building & Loan Association will be held in the hall of Oregon parlors on Friday evening February 20th, 1891. This meeting is for the purpose of electing directors to serve for the ensuing year, and hear the annual reports of the officers. Every stockholder should be present, either in person or by proxy.

tion of an available man to our staff, especially as the opposition paper was paying more than I could afford. I believe that had he demanded more money than the office would allow me to pay him, I would have went down into my own pocket and dug up the balance rather than to have lost the opportunity of hiring him. He knew all about how to do the assignment I gave him, and when one of the boys who had been on that boat offered to give him some pointers about the work, his manner was so chilly that the old timer felt like giving him a smack in the mouth, and now I wonder that he didn't do it. The first day he came back with an everlasting lot of three-masted schooners. He had more three-masted schooners in the harbor than had ever entered the Sound since it was discovered, and he was sure he was right. In looking over his copy I found that he had one loaded with coal that came from a town way up on top of the Cascades. That was too much, and when he intimated that I did not know enough to come in out of the door, I gently escorted him to the dock and deposited him on the sidewalk. Our paper did not announce the arrival of any three-masted schooner from the mountains that day."

Among the writers of the West who can more than hold their own with those of the East, and who by their individuality have made their names familiar to every editorial room on the coast, and whose articles have been appreciated by millions of readers, are the Hon. Harvey Scott, Ambrose Bierce, of the San Francisco Examiner, Ned Clough, of the Oakland Times, Frank Pixley, of the Argonaut, Joe Lynch, of the Los Angeles Herald, Jack Egan, of the Seattle Telegraph, Neb Townsend, Tom Flynn, Arthur McLean, Sam Davis, Lucius Bigelow, Vivian and Hart, of the Oregonian, F. A. Carle, J. B. Nelson, of the P. I., Col. Will Visscher, "Rabelais," and many others of equal ability. Such men are a credit to the West and by their work they are compelling the East to recognize the force, ability and aggressiveness of the Western Press.

FRANK H. JONES, Staff Seattle "Telegraph."

BUSINESS LOCALS.

Parker Bros., grocers.

Go to Searls' for a new necktie.

A fine line of house slippers at Searls' shoe store.

Don't forget the grand clearance sale at the Ladies Bazaar.

Lullow's shoes all sizes and widths at Searls' shoe store.

Sauer kraut and salmon bellies in quantities to suit, at Mueller & Garret's, the leading grocers.

We have just received a fine lot of choice groceries, which we will sell at bedrock prices these hard times, also a nice lot of horse-radish and parsnips. Mueller & Garret.

Boenicke will receive by the next steamer 50 boxes of fine Riverside navel oranges, to be sold cheaper than any other house in the city, delivered by express to purchasers.

A. Boenicke has secured the exclusive agency for Albany of Robert's fine candies, and on the next steamer will receive a fine lot of these choicest candies on the Pacific coast. They will be sold at 50 cents per pound, the same as is charged for Portland candies.

MARRIED.

MARSHALL-WALLACE—On Friday evening at 5 p. m., at the residence of B. Marshall, on second street in this city, by J. E. Stewart, Mr. Ala B. Marshall and Miss Mattie Wallace, both of Albany, Pacific.

DIED.

MORRIS—In this city on Saturday, Feb. 14, 1891, of diphtheria, Orla, daughter of A. B. Morris, age 13 years.

MAXWELL—Near Knox Butte on February 11, 1891, of diphtheria, Rhoda, daughter of Elias and Mary Maxwell, aged nine years.

OPERA HOUSE!

ENGAGEMENT EXTRAORDINARY!

BOSTON GAITY

Comic Opera Co.,

40--ARTISTS--40

FRIDAY & SATURDAY

AND SATURDAY MATINEE,

February 20th and 21st.

FRIDAY, 20th—Andran's Favorite Opera,

"LA MASCOTTE."

SATURDAY MATINEE—Andran's Masterpiece,

"OLIVETTE."

Saturday Evening,

"ERMINIE."

PRICES—50 cents and $1.00.

MATINEE—Children 25c. Adults 50c. Seats now on sale at Will & Link's music store.

Building and Loan Association.

THE ANNUAL MEETING of the Albany Building & Loan Association will be held in the hall of Oregon parlors on Friday evening February 20th, 1891. This meeting is for the purpose of electing directors to serve for the ensuing year, and hear the annual reports of the officers. Every stockholder should be present, either in person or by proxy.

WINTER CLOTHING AT COST THIS MONTH

To make room for Our new spring stock, now arriving.

ELEGANT NEW SUITS FOR MEN AND BOYS

Full line of Albany Woolen Mills Goods just Received. Finest and largest line of shoes in town.

Allen Brothers, Grocers.