The Closing Days of the Oregon Legislature.

WAGON ROAD BILLS VETOED.

The Assessment Bill Defeated—The Appropriation Bill Passed—Will Adjourn at 10:15 Saturday.

SALEM, Feb. 19.—The action of the house in fixing the time for adjournment at 10:15 o'clock Saturday, instead of Friday, indicates that the members are determined to use their best endeavors to perform all the work that is before them that it is possible for them to reach.

The veto of Governor Pennoyer of the wagon road measures will probably end those draws upon the public treasury, as it will probably be impossible to pass the bills over the veto. The house can pass the bills over his veto, but it is likely the senate cannot. If not, this will reduce the appropriations of the session about $130,000. While it will save a very appreciable sum to the state treasury, it will undoubtedly hinder the meritorious improvement of many localities in different por of the state. There was quite a query from different quarters as to whether the governor would have used his veto so sharply if the joy caused by the senate action in abolishing the railroad commission had not been changed to gall by the re-consideration and continuing of the commission.

The senate sat down upon the assessment and taxation measure, as usual, and there will be no change at this session. The house proposes and the senate disposes of all assessment amendments. The trouble is, too much is undertaken and consequently nothing is accomplished.

The general appropriation bill was thoroughly considered in the house in the committee of the whole, and while its gross amount was alarmingly large, no item could be found that could be cut out, and it was adopted as it came from the committee, and of course met no opposition in the senate.

The Portland consolidation bill has been approved by the governor and is now a law.

IN THE HOUSE.

The house was opened with prayer by Rev. E. S. Bollinger, of Salem.

Mackay's senate bill fixing the salary of the Multnomah assessor at $6000; passed.

The veto message of Governor Pennoyer on Miller's bill for $16,000 for a wagon road along Rogue river was tabled.

The veto message on senate bill granting the right of way to Grant's Pass Sugar Pine Lumber Company for a flume, was made a special order for Friday at 10.

The veto messages on all of the house wagon-road bills, special order for 2 P. M.

The first reading of all the senate bills was gone through. Among them was Veatch's bill repealing the railroad commission act; indefinitely postponed.

Senate bills, second reading.

Blackman's $2500 wagon-road bill.

Fullerton's wagon-road bill.

Crosno's wagon-road bill.

Weatherford's for a bridge at Albany.

Norval's on mining claims liens.

Fullerton's amending the code.

Hatch's amending the school law.

Norval's transferring funds.

Willis' on school districts in towns of $10,000 inhabitants.

Final reading of senate bills.

Matlock's bill allowing the state and other agricultural boards to hold real estate; passed.

Moore's bill for the recovery of private property; passed.

Willis' bill for $79 15 for the relief of David McCully; passed.

Raley's bill amending the county bounty law; failed.

Fulton's bill recording articles of incorporations; passed.

Norval's bill protecting Mongolian pheasants; laid on the table.

Tongue's bill requiring persons to aid officers in the discharge of their duties; passed.

The house went into a committee of the whole on the general appropriation bill, which passed.

EVENING SESSION.

Omnibus bill by Miller for $127,000 for wagon roads, the same as recommended by the joint committee, all of the bills vetoed by Governor Pennoyer being included in one bill, but the money to come from the 5 per cent fund from public land sale, instead of from the general fund, read three times and passed 40 to 17.

IN THE SENATE.

House concurrent resolution, requesting the governor to extend an invitation to President Harrison to visit Oregon, when he takes his trip to the coast, and for committees of both houses to receive him at such a time; adopted.

A message from the governor was read that he had vetoed Blackman's senate bill 7, and the Monument and John Day road bill $5000; made a special order for 2 P. M.

She senate resolution that the clerk to examine the Oregon National Guard be allowed $7 50 per day during the time employed; adopted,

Also that the door-keeper get $6 per day; adopted.

Also $10 per day to the committee examining the journal, after the close of the session; adopted.

The assessment and taxation bill was taken up.

Discussion of Tongue's amendment, assessing credits, was continued; adopted, 15 to 13.

Moore offered an amendment providing for road work during a certain time that the bill is not in effect. Tongue offered a substitute; rejected. Moore's amendment adopted.

Bill read third time, and failed to pass.

EVENING SESSION.

The general appropriation bill was taken up and read. Veatch made his usual objections. The bill was read third time and passed; Veatch voting no.

Senate resolution by Veatch that the governor secretary of state, or any other official, be hereby instructed to not make any more contracts with Captain John Mullan for work done in the interests of the state, referred to select committee of Veatch of Lane, and Cogswell of Lake, on motion of Fulton.

Miller's bill to appropriate moneys to certain counties for construction of wagon roads, read first, second and third time and passed, 16 to 10.

THE SIOUX ARE MAD.

THEY WILL GO ON THE WAR-PATH IN THE SPRING.

They Complain of Shabby Treatment from Secretary Noble and are Spoiling for a Big Fight.

CHICAGO, Feb. 19.—American Horse, an Ogallala Sioux, one of the signers of the Sioux reservation treaty, who has just returned from Washinton, swears that his people will go on the war-path in the spring. Young-Man-Afraid-His-Horse, Medicine Bull, White Ghost, Mad Bear and others say the same thing. In an interview with American Horse he said frankly that in the spring, just as soon as they got fodder for their horses, they intend going on the war-path. American Horse further said, after Secretary Noble had treated him and his companions so shabbily, he talked to the secretary very plainly, but the interpreter did not tell Noble what he said. The Ogallalas wanted to be put under the military and requested that General Miles be allowed to be present at the conference, but Noble would not listen to it. The truth of the matter was that the Ogallalas, who were in the main friendly, are sore because they did not get more concessions than the Brules, who were mainly hostile. Young-Man-Afraid-of-His-Horse said they got some clothing at Washington and two weeks' rations. The rations were eaten already, while none of the clothing was fit for squaws and papooses. "In the main the people will not be satisfied," said Young-Man, "and will possibly go on the war-path in the spring. We have been shamefully treated by Secretary Noble. He seemed to think we had no rights." Medicine Bull, White Ghost and Mad Bear, all Brules, were none too friendly anyhow. They were very morose, and said plainly that they were in favor of going on the war-path in the spring. "The best thing to do is to fight," said White Ghost. "We are not treated right, and don't expect to be." Louis Primeau, an interpreter from Standing Rock, talked very freely. He said the reds were disgusted and would make a very unfavorable report when they got back.

AFTER NINETEEN YEARS.

The Mare Island Dry Dock Completed at a Cost of $2,800,000.

VALLEJO, Cal., Feb. 19.—Yesterday the last stone in the large granite dry dock, which has been in course of construction at Mare Island for nineteen years, was placed in position. The dock has cost the government $2,800,000.

Noted Sculptor Dead.

BERLIN, Feb. 19.—Herr Leurssen, the sculptor who modeled the bust of President Garfield, died suddenly to-day from apoplexy. When the news was communicated to his wife, she was so overcome with grief that she was seized with convulsions and shortly afterwards died.

WITH MUFFL'D DRUMS

Conveying Sherman's Remains to Their Last Resting Place.

DEPARTURE FOR ST. LOUIS.

President Harrison and Cabinet, Ex-Presidents Cleveland and Hayes Attend the Funeral Services.

NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—New York to-day paid every possible tribute of respect to the memory of General Sherman. The dawn of his funeral day opened bright and clear. The courts remained closed. Exchanges were closed at noon, and general business brought almost to a standstill. All who could do so ceased their daily occupations to do honor to the dead soldier.

At an early hour people began to assemble in the street opposite the residence of General Sherman. From almost every house along the street the American flag floated at half-mast. There were few visitors in the early hours of the morning. Only the most intimate friends and a few old soldiers were admitted, and the latter were obliged to show certificates that they served in the army.

A few minutes before 11, a large floral shield was received at the house from West Point cadets.

At 11 o'clock, Secretaries Blaine, Proctor and Rusk, Generals O'Brien, Homer and Ewing, arrived at the house.

Services of prayers began at noon and were over at 12:30. The prayers were read by Rev. Father Sherman. Close to the casket stood the other son, P. T. Sherman. In the front parlor were all the other members of the family, Secretary Blaine and Mrs. Damarosch. Father Sherman was assisted by Father Taylor and two other priests. Father Sherman in conducting the simple service, read from the Scripture the passage beginning: "I am the resurrection and the life." After this selections were sung from the Oratio of "Elijah." Mr. Sherman again read the Scriptures, and the "Miserari" from Mendelsshon was given. Prayer was offered by the son and the services concluded with music.

There were about 150 persons present at the services, the greater number being relatives; but among the friends were Mrs. Grant and Senator Cmeron.

Among the visitors were George W. Childs, A. J. Drexel, Hiram Hitchcock, Chauncey M. Depew, ex-Presidents Cleveland and Hayes, Joseph Choate, Rear-Admiral Braine, General Schofield and Governor Pattison and Bulkely, with their staffs. It was close on to 5 o'clock when President Harrison with Lieutenant Ernest, his aide-de-camp, reached the house.

Long before the procession moved spectators began to take positions along the line of march. Decorations along the route were not so numerous or so elaborate as when General Grant was buried, but, nevertheless, they were strikingly handsome and in great profusion.

Just about 2 P. M., troop Sixth cavalry formed to the left of the house in the middle of the street. Six lieutenants appeared in the doorway, bearing on their shoulders the casket of the general, which they placed on the waiting caisson. Members of the family, friends, invited officials and pall bearers then took their places in carriages, and followed by members of Lafayette Post, G. A. R., formed on either side of the mansion, the procession commenced to move, but very slowly, as both sides of the street were crowded with hundreds of carriages, waiting to take their places in the line.

Following came the military, consisting of the military order of the Loyal Legion, G. A. R., cadets and the National Guard, consisting of the Sixty-ninth, Twenty-second, Seventh and Twelfth regiments and the First and Second batteries, artillery. Behind these were the Sons of Veterans and civic organizations, who brought up in the rear of the parade.

The pageant started down Eighth avenue from Seventy first street to Fifty-seventh street, then turned into Fifth avenue and down to Washington square. Here the parade, except the guard of honor and escort of mounted police, was dismissed. Lafayette Post 50 having in its center the caisson and black charger, swung into Broadway and marched to Canal street and thence to Des Broseses street ferry. Carriages, in which were the family, followed closely, and all boarded the ferryboat, which was in waiting, and which took the remains across to Jersey City. There the body was placed in a special car, and the family occupied another car.

The train left Jersey City at 6:45 P. M.

A YOUTHFUL MURDERER.

Bent on Theft He Fractures a Chinaman's Skull.

NEVADA, Cal., Feb. 19.—Last night a messenger arrived with news that a brutal crime had been perpetrated at the Wilson ranch. Henry Willis, aged 19, went to the house occupied by Chinese gardeners, who have the ranch leased, and finding an aged Chinaman alone asked for a cigar, which was refused. Willis took a trunk from under a bed, when the Chinaman interferred. A struggle ensued. Willis, picking up an ax, fractured the old man's skull. He dragged the trunk to a neighbor's and took therefrom over $300 in coin, with which he fled to Dutch Flat, eighteen miles distant. Sheriff Dunster pursued and, finding him in bed at home early this morning, arrested and brought him back. Young Willis has served one term in the Placer county jail, for petty larceny at Dutch Flat and is suspected of having been engaged in numerous thefts here. The Chinaman will die.

A FOOL AND HIS PISTOL.

He Mistakes His Friend for a Burglar and Kills Him.

WHEELING, W. Va., Feb. 19.—George Hess, of Fulton, was mistaken for a burglar by his brother-in-law, named Ball, at Pleasant Valley, yesterday morning, and shot. He died almost instantly. Mrs. Hess has been in delicate health, and her husband, fearing a flood, received permission from her physician to take his family to the residence of his mother-in-law at Pleasant Valley. The hack containing the party did not arrive at the Ball house until after midnight, and Mr. Hess tried to arouse the sleeping family. With his little child in his arms, he went to the porch and called several times. The young man of the family saw a form on the porch, and thinking there was to be a repitition of an attempt to enter made by burglars last Sunday, armed himself and went to the door. When he opened it Mr. Hess spoke, stretched out his hand and attempted to enter. Ezekiel fired, and Hess, still clasping his child, fell to the porch dead. The child screamed, "Oh, papa is dead," and the boy ran out and discovered what had been done. The young man at once came to the city and gave himself up. There was a verdict of accidental death.

DEATH ON THE RAIL.

A PASSENGER TRAIN WRECKED AND BURNED.

Many Passengers Killed and Burned to Death—Removing the Bodies from the Wreck.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 19.—Details of an accident on the Illinois Central railroad are furnished from Jackson, Tenn. The report says: "The south-bound passenger train on the Illinois Central road jumped the track about forty miles south of Jackson this morning. Every coach was overturned and before the approaching freight train could be flagged it crashed into the wrecked train, setting it on fire. It is said nearly all the coaches were burned, and over a dozen passengers killed outright or burned to death, and a number injured. Two bodies have been taken from the wreck."

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

Speaker Reed Able to Preside Over the House Again.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19. — The house committee on foreign affairs has decided to recommend concurrence in all the senate amendments to the diplomatic and consular bill, except the Hawaiian cable project. The house committee has already reported a separate bill for the charter of that company with a government guarantee, which was prepared with great care and caution, which is regarded as a more practical proposition than that of the senate.

Speaker Reed, having recovered from his temporary indisposition, called the house to order this morning.

The senate bill was passed for the relief of settlers on certain lands in the southern part of Iowa.

IN THE SENATE.

A bill was introduced in the senate to-day granting a pension of $2500 a year to the widow of Admiral Porter.

A bill authorizing the Coos Bay and Roseburg railroad company to construct a bridge across Coalbank slough, in Oregon, passed the senate to-day.

In the senate, senate bill to increase the pension of Brigadier-General Lowell to $72 a month was passed.

A Sloop Wrecked.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 19.—The steamer Mont Serratt arrived this morning, four days from Nanaimo, and reports that on the 16th inst. the sloop Laureta No. 9, from Victoria, was picked up dismantled, and about two feet of water was found in her hold. The sloop was taken in tow, but about midnight of the 16th a gale arose, and it was found necessary to cut her loose from the steamer.

Northern Pacific Dividend.

NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—The Northern Pacific directors met to-day and declared a regular quarterly dividend of one per cent. They also decided to resume work on all the projected extensions and push them to completion.

A STORM OF SLEET.

A Wide Area Enveloped in a Coat of Ice.

THE WIRES PROSTRATED.

A Town Swept Away by the Floods—A Rumored Appointment of Secretary Windom's Successor

CHICAGO, Feb. 19.—A phenomenal sleet storm plastered a great area of country with ice to-night, from the Alleghenys to the Missouri river north of the Mason and Dixon's line. It began about 6 P. M. and in half an hour the telegraph wires began to show signs of demoralization, By 9:30 the life had been temporarily checked out of the larger portion of the wires through a wide section of the middle states by the constantly thickening coat of ice.

Thousands of words of belated newspaper dispatches are piled up unsent in offices in the edge of the affected district.

Much damage, it is feared, will result from the excessive formation of ice.

THE FLOOD'S RAVAGES.

An Entire Town Swept Away in West Virginia.

WHEELING, W. Va., Feb. 19.—Word has been received that the whole town of Riverside, a suburb of Parkersburg, was entirely swept away by the flood to-day. It contained about a thousand inhabitants. No loss of life is reported, and no details are obtainable.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Feb. 19.—The flooded portions of this city have been turned over to the health bureau, and the poorer classes will be taken care of. Business is being slowly resumed.

FELL INTO A WELL.

A Laborer Killed at Oswego, Falling a Distance of Fifty Feet.

PORTLAND, Feb. 19.—Gottlieb Jacob, a German laborer, at Oswego, fell into a well, a distance of 50 feet to-day, and was killed. He was being lowered into the well when the windlass broke. His legs were both broken and he was otherwise badly hurt, but after being taken out he was conscious for some time and directed the manner of his burial and the disposal of his property. He died on the way to the hospital.

THE CHINESE MUST GO.

The California Legislature Introduces an Exclusion Act.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 19.—A bill has been introduced in both houses of the legislature to exclude Chinese from this state and to compel those who remain to register, so that it may be known what becomes of them. The bill is said to have the sanction of the federal officials at Washington, and has been passed upon as constitutional by the attorney-general of the state.

THE TREASURY PORTFOLIO.

Will Ex-Governor Foster Succeed Secretary Windom?

NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—Ex-Governor Foster of Ohio, denied to-night that the president had summonded him here. He had a long talk with the president to-day, but would not say about what.

A local paper will say to-morrow that Foster accepted the treasury portfolio to-day, and that his name will be sent to the senate soon.

The Pacific Coast Cables.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 19.—The subject of a cable from this city to the Farallone Islands has been revived by the Chamber of Commerce in connection with the projected cable to Honolulu. The following dispatch was sent to-day by President Tyler of the chamber of commerce to the California delegation in congress: "We suggest that the Hawaiian cable could be made available for the Farallone Islands by an amendment requiring a branch thereof to said islands. It is important to the lighthouse and signal service for merchantile purposes and useful in time of war."

General Sherman Was a Catholic.

NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—Rev. Thomas Ewing Sherman was seen by a reporter to-day, touching the subject of General Sherman's religious belief. He said in a positive way that may well remove all doubt: "My father was baptized in the Catholic church, married in the Catholic church and attended the Catholic church until the outbreak of the civil war. Since then, my father has not been a communicant, but always said to me: "If there is any true religion it is the Catholic religion."

Honors to Sherman.

OLYMPIA, Feb. 19.—The legislature held no session to-day, having adjourned over from yesterday to take part in the exercises in memory of General Sherman. They were held at the opera house and were very largely attended. Addresses were made by Senators Owings and Parkinson and Major C. M. Barton.
