Senator Mitchell has presented petitions and made recommendations for increases in mail service in Oregon as follows: Albia to Long Creek, to six times a week; Brittain to Granite, to three times a week; Prichette to Sisters, to two times a week; Ontario to Burns, to six times a week.

Mr. A. W. Best's fine collection of oil paintings on exhibition in the building opposite Stewart & Sox's has been admired by the large number of people who have called to see them. Mr. Best is a talented artist, and will no doubt meet with success in organizing a class for instruction in oil painting.

Interesting exercises were held at the W. C. T. U. hall last evening, being in commemoration of the women's crusade. An enjoyable musical program was rendered, and "Crusade Memories" by the president, and an address by Rev. J. H. Hughes, of Corvallis, concluded the evening's exercises.

By the direction of the legislature, Secretary of State McBride has telegraphed to the Oregon delegation in congress house concurrent resolution No. 21, asking congress to make an immediate appropriation for a portage railway at the dalles of the Columbia, as a much needed measure of relief to the producers of Eastern Oregon.

A man not far from The Dalles sold his son-in-law one half of a cow and then refused to divide the milk, maintaining that he sold only the front half. The son-in-law was also required to provide all the feed the cow consumed and compelled to carry water to her three times a day. Recently the cow hooked the old man and now he is suing his son-in-law for damages.

OREGON PACIFIC MATTERS.

Col. T. E. Hogg Is Not Here—A Party Goes to the Front.

A ripple of excitement was created in railroad circles yesterday, when it was reported that Col. T. E. Hogg, president and receiver of the Oregon Pacific railroad company, had arrived with a party of New Yorkers, and that the party had gone to the front on a special train. The report, however, proved to be a mistake. Wm. M. Hoag, vice-president and general manager, is here, having just returned from a trip to San Francisco, and in company with several gentlemen, who are strangers, went to the front yesterday morning. One engine with a snow plow had gone over the road to the end of the track the day before. They found about five feet of snow. The party returned to Corvallis last evening, and will go to Yachima to-day.

As to Col. Hogg's visiting Albany, it seems from the best information obtainable that he will probably be here before very long, and there is good reason to believe that work on the road will go forward this year.

Wheat Country.

Other sections of the Northwest may make claims to be great wheat-producing regions, but the Willamette valley remains the banner section, for while other places get a crop only once in three or four years, the crop in the Willamette never fails. This year the valley wheat, which always brings the highest price of any raised on this coast, has been particularly fine, and brings 10 cent per cental, or between 5 and 6 cents per bushel, more than Eastern Oregon wheat. A great deal of the valley wheat is now manufactured into flour for shipment, and this flour wins its way wherever sent on account of its whiteness. Before many years all the wheat of the Willamette will be made into flour for shipment and consumption.

Officers Elected.

A grange was organized at Fairmount school house, across the river from this city in Benton county, Saturday, R. A. Irvine being the installing officer. The following officers were elected: M. V. Leeper, M.; P. H. Bowman, O.; Cora E. Leeper, L.; J. L. Williams, S.; P. H. Walton, A. S.; F. L. Holmes, C.; W. N. Phillips, T.; H. J. Reed, Sec.; H. Phillips, G.; K. M. Holmes, For.; Bertin Walton, Pomona; E. J. Phillips, Ceres; Zua Skeels, L. A. S. After the election was over a recess was taken, and a fine dinner served.

A Bail for Burglars.

The proprietors of the novelty store opposite Fortmiller & Irwin's closed their store as usual last evening, but neglected to take in the samples of goods displayed in front. Later in the evening some by-passers saw the goods hanging out, and awakened the owners, who occupy rooms in the rear. They were astonished when confronted with the fact that they had left so tempting a bait for the light-fingered gentry, and will no doubt be more careful in the future.

An Exciting Glove Contest.

A couple of amateur boxes caused a little some Saturday night, and one of them was badly scuffed. While indulging in a friendly set-to, Alvin Long landed a chance blow upon Duret Moore's neck at the butt of the ear. The latter fell senseless, and remained in that condition so long that those present began to fear that he would not recover. He revived, however, in a few minutes, and no serious effects followed.

Goods Into Effect To-Day.

The amended city charter will go into effect to-day, and there will now be nothing to prevent the city from beginning preparations for the system of public improvements to be made in Albany this summer. The city now has the right to issue $75,000 bonds for this purpose. First on the list is the wagon bridge across the Willamette, next the sewers and then the city hall.

From Minneapolis.

Mr. S. Newcomb, representing the Minneapolis Journal, was in the city yesterday. He lived in Albany 31 years ago, and was unable to discern any of the old landmarks, which have been obliterated by the city's steady growth. He is accompanied by his wife, and they will spend a few weeks visiting old friends in Linn county. They went to Sweet Home yesterday.

To Encourage Railroad Building.

The bill passed by the legislature providing that all railroads built in this state shall be free from taxation until five years after completion and giving them the right of way across state lands will do much to encourage the building of such roads.

New Spring Goods.

I am now receiving my first invoices of spring novelties in wash goods, prints, gingham neckties, etc., also just received a new line of all wool summer plaid and beige. SAMUEL E. YOUNG.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION.

The State Association Will Meet at Eugene, May 19, 20 and 21.

A meeting of the executive committee and officers of the Oregon State Sunday School Association was held in Portland Saturday, to arrange for the time and place for holding the annual convention of the association. Rev. J. Hoberg, of McMinnville, president; C. A. Woody, statistical secretary, and G. L. Fay, treasurer of the association. Rev. G. A. Blair, of Eugene, Rev. E. G. Wheeler, and E. W. Allen, Esq., member of the executive committee, were present.

Eugene was selected as the place for holding the next convention and May 19, 20 and 21 the dates fixed. An extensive program was arranged and the very best workers and speakers in this department of work in the state will be secured to be in attendance and take part in the work of the convention.

The report of President Hoberg, made at this meeting, showed that he had done a good deal of active and efficient work in visiting and assisting in organizing county associations. It is desired that this feature of the work be made active between now and the holding of the state convention, and as many county conventions held as possible. An official call will be issued at an early day.

Robbing A Postoffice.

Once in a while the safe crackers turn their attention to Uncle Sam's post offices and try their hands upon the coin there deposited. It is not often they seek for wealth in this e quarters, for the penalties are severe and the means of conviction and punishment better than in any other quarters. The Ashland Tidings tells how the office of that place, suffered at the hands of this class of individuals, it says: "The safe crackers who have been placing their trade at different places in Oregon along the coast, were put out Wednesday night by burglars effected entrance to the postoffice through the window at the rear end, and apparently had all the time they needed to do their work. They drilled a half-inch hole through the front of the safe near the combination knob and then inserted a strong coil and broke off short the shaft which held the tumbler of the lock. This left the lock turn without any difficulty, and they were not compelled to use any powder at all. They obtained about two hundred dollars in cash, but did not take any postage stamps, of which a considerable quantity was in the safe."

Eastern Oregon Artesian Wells.

Senator Dolph, in order to ascertain the amount necessary to carry out his amendment for experimental artesian wells in Oregon, addressed a letter to the agricultural department, and received in reply stating that the full plant for boring wells might cost $45,000, but a 100-foot well could be sunk for $180, and a 150-foot well for $200. The letter further states that artesian wells for town purposes have been sunk at Baker City and Pendleton, Or.; Tillamook, Wash.; and Essex City, Idaho. In the counties of Klamath, Lake and Harney there should be found an abundant supply of artesian and overflow waters at very moderate depth. The entire foothills section and the basin of the Columbia should also supply such waters.

The Alaska Census.

The difficulties of taking the census are severe enough in every locality, but for extreme difficulty Alaska seems to take the lead. This work was intrusted to Mr. Ivan Petroff, who accomplished in 1890 what was termed a census reconnaissance of the entire coast. Mr. Robert P. Porter, superintendent of census, has issued a bulletin stating that some of the returns from interior districts of Alaska will not be obtained till spring. Mr. Petroff's journey in Alaska took about 12,000 miles, and the distance which was covered by his assistants will probably be before or five times as much. The superficial area covered is estimated at 570,000 square miles.

Robbing The Virtuous Hen.

Reports come to us that some of the boys in certain parts of town have been engaged recently in robbing the virtuous hen of her products, and taking from the owner a considerable sum of cents per dozen just now. Now, boys, this is wrong, and we want to warn you that girls are loaded, dogs are unchained for you, and one hen is even charged with dynamite and any time you are caught in a neighbor's henry you are liable to be blown into smithereens, so that Gabriel will have nothing more than one overture to call your scattered fragments together—stay-tones.

Officers Elected.

Sunday the Baptist Sunday school elected the following officers: Superintendent, W. S. Thompson; assistant superintendent, O. P. Goshaw Jr.; secretary, Anna Fosbury; organist, Edna Allen; assistant organist, Nellie Bolton; chorister, W. C. McNeill; librarian, Arthur Fosbury; treasurer, H. F. Merrill. The annual report of the secretary showed very gratifying results. The attendance has steadily increased and 27 from the school have united with the church during the year.

COAST NOTES.

Newly Items Obtained from Exchange Throughout the Northwest.

A new hotel to cost $20,000 is among the things of the near future for Astoria.

The capital stock of the Spokane Street Railway Company has been increased from $50,000 to $500,000.

The two-year-old child of P. Geiger, living several miles south of Salem was accidentally scalded Saturday, and died a few hours after in great agony.

The Seattle city council has decided to discard the use of the name Whitechapel in that city. Police officers are not allowed to use the word, and newspapers are asked to discard it also.

The contract for building the new court house at Olympia was let Friday, to John Rigby, of Seattle. The contract price is $107,300, and $150 additional for each foot in height to be added to the original plans.

The city of Roseburg has granted a year's franchise to L. J. Hard to construct and maintain an electric light system in that city. The franchise calls for a good system.

James Att, a butcher of Eugene, attempted to commit suicide last week with a dose of mandarin, but a stomach pump foiled him. Domestic trouble is the cause of his desire to die.

Millitamen of Salem are agitating the question of building an armory in that city. At present they have no place except the old armory building, which is totally inadequate to the needs of the soldier boys.

There is nothing now to prevent Southern Oregon from having an extra large fruit crop, says the Grant's Pass Courier. The weather has been just cold enough to hold the trees back, and in addition to the thousands of young trees set will bear their first crop. We will have many thousands more boxes than we did last season.

It is expected that fun will soon begin in the country north of town, says the Pendleton East Oregonian. Land jumping has commenced and farmers who have settled upon and improved railroad land are up to their eyes in party lively for the jumpers. Holders of the forfeited lands will hardly relinquish their grasp without a battle, and shotgun arguments may be used to impress upon the minds of the newcomers that they cannot enter upon peaceful possession of the soil.

One day last week a man by the name of Garret started from Springfield to go to Mr. McDonald's timber claim, which lies about eight miles east of Cedar Flat, says the Eugene Guard. Night coming on before he reached his destination, and snow having fallen during the day, he became confused and lost his way. Having no matches, and a fire which he was compelled to travel all night to keep from freezing to death. He was found the next day about 10 o'clock by John McMahon of Jasper. His face, hands and feet were badly frost-bitten, and he would have perished in a few hours had he not been found.

What Became of the $1,500?

The following story of the doings of one individual, related by the Pendleton East Oregonian, is interesting, but the question naturally arises as to what became of the coin placed in the hands of the gentleman for safe keeping. Pilot Rock is a trifle east of the pleasant little lake played over the people there by a clever stranger who sported the very aristocratic title of Boggs. When Boggs came he at once gained the confidence of the Rock's inhabitants. He had money and property to the amount of $75,000 in Ohio, he sold, and he had lately won $1,500 in Pendleton playing poker, which he gave to a gentleman here to keep for him. He said he had to come back to this city to meet his wife, and that he would like to get a horse; also a new coat so that he could receive his wife in proper attire. On the strength of this and other assurances he borrowed a horse and saddle for the ride from James Smith, a gun from a shepherd, a coat from someone else, Stock Inspector Wynn's only glove, told Landlord Johnson to prepare a room in nice style for the reception of his wife, and rode away. He was like the ship in the old old song and the people whom he victimized will trust no more in a stranger. Two or three warrants were sworn for his arrest, but he rode the borrowed horse safely out of the country. It since transpired that Boggs stole a horse at Wallula, which he traded at Pendleton for a gold watch. He is an old jaded hand, and is just out of the pen. He is described as a fairly well dressed and good-looking man, about forty years old, with light complexion, and brownish colored whiskers, weight about 180 pounds. He has an infinite gift of gab and an easy address.

ANOTHER LANDSLIDE

AN AVALANCHE IN THE FAMOUS COW CREEK CANYON.

Wires Are Down—Many Men Put to Work to Repair the Damages—A Storm of Snow.

PORTLAND, Feb. 23.—At 12 o'clock last night another landslide occurred in Cow Creek canyon, and in consequence several pieces of track went down and the Western Union wires were broken or grounded. Therefore the company is at a loss to know to just what extent the slide occurred, but it is supposed to be somewhere near West Forks.

A large force of men was pined upon the obstruction this morning as it is hoped that it will be cleared away by night. Several inches of snow have fallen in the canyon, and rain is likely to set in, as it is growing warmer. In such an event, worse complications may follow, as the earth is now very soft.

The through train due here early this morning is behind time, and doubtless will not arrive earlier than midnight. South-bound trains are leaving, however, on schedule time, expecting the slides to be cleared by the time they are reached.

ROSEBURG, Feb. 23.—Train No. 16, on the Southern Pacific, which arrived last night, was delayed here all day on account of a landslide at Roberts Hill, seven miles south of here. The bridge superintendent went out with a wrecking train and a force of men, and this afternoon succeeded, in building a temporary track around the slide. Train No. 15 arrived from the south to-night.

SEASIDE, Cal., Feb. 23.—It began snowing again this morning. All trains are blocked by slides and washouts north and south. The northern express is many hours overdue, being delayed near Tunnel 9. There is eight feet of snow at the summit of the road to Fall River.

WASHOUTS IN CALIFORNIA.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 23.—Southern Pacific officials were sent today receiving reports of the condition of the railroad tracks. At Dunsuir, on the northern route, a bad slide occurred Sunday night, which filled the track up to a deep cut for many feet. It will be several days before communication can be established. The Central Pacific was clear up at noon, but the wires were down beyond Truckee and no other reports have been received. Southward the line is clear as far as Mojave. Beyond Mojave rumors of a bad washout are denied by the local officials. Approaches to Lodi's 17 Solidad canyon have been washed out for a distance of several hundred yards. Wires are down and the officials have but few particulars. They are consequently unable to state when traffic will be resumed. The southern overland was unable to get through to-night.

The Best Yet.

W. R. Graham, the merchant tailor, has just opened an elegant line of new patterns for gentlemen's clothing. He has a very large line to select from in suits, jackets, pantaloons, and all kinds of clothing. His new patterns are not surpassed by anything in the city, and he has marked his prices down to the very bottom. Hundreds of suits will be made to order for $22.50 and $25. Those desiring a neat fitting good suit at very low cost should call and see his stock.

Business Removal.

Expecting to occupy in a few days the Strahan brick on Second street, between Lyon and Broad-albin streets, I have added to my usual stock of coal, consisting in part of hay, oats, chop feed, mill feed, oil cake, meal, one car of assorted weights salt and a large invoice of lime, cement and plaster, all of which I am prepared to sell at wholesale or retail at bed-rock prices for cash only.
