Public Sentiment Aroused Over the Question.

PLAIN TALK ABOUT IT.

The People Demand that the Bridge Be Built this Summer—Nothing Must Be Permitted to Defeat It.

"I stood on the bridge at midnight." "How do you stand on the bridge question?" That was the question asked many times yesterday.

The bridge was the chief topic of discussion in this city yesterday. After the petition, which has been before the city council, asking the city to purchase the ferry, was published in the Herald, the question was the general theme of conversation.

Men could be seen in little groups on every street corner talking about it, and it was discussed in offices, in homes, and by shoppers and merchants across the counters.

There was but one sentiment on the question of building the bridge this summer—all demand it, but on the question of the city purchasing the ferry for $3000, possession to be given on completion of the bridge, the opinion was divided.

All this was over a matter that is not new. Similar scenes were enacted in Portland and Salem, when the true had come for building a bridge. The ferry owners and a good many citizens there, as in Albany now, contended that their property could not be destroyed by an improvement for public use, without compensation.

The building of the bridge, however, must not be considered as depending upon the purchase of the ferry. The owners of the ferry are old residents of Albany and with every other citizen recognize the necessity for a bridge.

A number of members of the board of trade and citizens met in the city hall yesterday evening to consider the matter of sending a man to Portland to direct immigration toward Albany.

There is no doubt that much good could be done, and the interest of the city and surrounding country greatly advanced by employing a live, energetic man to remain at Portland and portray the advantages of Albany and surrounding country to the many immigrants and home-seekers arriving from the East.

THE TEACHERS.

Convening of the District Institute at the Opera House.

THE OPENING EXERCISES.

Address of Welcome by Mayor J. L. Cowan—Other Addresses—The Programme for To-Day.

The teachers' institute, embracing the districts of Linn, Marion, Polk, Yamhill and Tillamook counties, convened in this city last evening.

A large number of teachers had arrived yesterday and many more will be here to-day. There was an array of pretty school-mistresses and veterans of the school room, pedagogues both old and young.

Music was furnished by the college orchestra. Mayor J. L. Cowan then delivered the address of welcome, tendering the teachers the freedom of the city, so to speak, and a cordial welcome at the hands of the people of Albany.

The response was delivered by Prof. Yates, of Corvallis. A novel and most interesting marching song was executed by the little girls of the public school.

The programme for the remainder of the session is as follows: WEDNESDAY, MORNING SESSION. Special discussions—School Organization and Management—Methods of Conducting Recitations—Modern History—Methods of Teaching—Teachers' Examination—Miscellaneous.

General discussions—Whispering or no whispering?—The question of corporal punishment. AFTERNOON SESSION. Special discussions—The relative importance of parent and teacher in the formation of the child's character—Topical methods of teaching geography—Oral instruction in primary schools—Miscellaneous.

General discussions—General information in the school room—Reviews and examinations—What and how? EVENING SESSION. Recitation. Address of welcome by Mayor J. L. Cowan.

Recitation. Lecture, President Van Scoy, Willamette University, Salem. Special discussions—Object Lesson—The tracing problem—Hand and eye training in the public schools—Reading—Methods of teaching—Primary reading and spelling—Miscellaneous.

General discussion—Are public examinations and exhibitions advisable? AFTERNOON SESSION. Special discussions—Scope of common school work—Blunders in English—The daily preparation of the teacher—School room sanitation—Miscellaneous.

THE WORLD ENRICHED.

The facilities of the present day or the production of everything that will conduce to the material welfare and comfort of mankind are almost unlimited and when a Syrup of Figs was first produced the world was enriched with the only perfect laxative known, as it is the only remedy which is truly pleasing and refreshing to the taste and prompt and effective to relieve the system gently in the Spring-time or, in fact, at any time any the better if it is known the more popular it becomes.

THE S. O. Corset.

Imparts a most graceful shape, securing comfort and elegance. Every corset has the self-opening clasps. These clasps, simple in construction, have double the strength of the ordinary clasps, can be hooked and unhooked in the usual manner, and have the great advantage in the ease with which they can be unhooked, by merely pulling the string, and the corset will open like a flash. These clasps are so constructed that they will always stay secure, by fastened until the string is pulled. Any feeling of distress or discomfort from exertion, or any other cause, can thus be instantly relieved without disrobing, allowing healthful action of the body, to the great comfort of the wearer. G. W. SIMPSON, Sole Agent.

Looked on the Bright Side. A Georgia editor has the faculty of looking on the bright side of things down to a fine point. He says: "We have been down with the grip three days, but we are feeling quite cheerful, as we own a hot in the cemetery and the coffin factory owes us $10 for an advertisement." In another column of his paper he acknowledges the receipt of a "cheerful little book entitled 'Are You Ready to Die?'"—Mail and Express.

"To Him Who Waits." One of the escapes now wanted at Auburn Prison was seven years in making his way to liberty, using a saw only thirty-five minutes a month and sometimes not for a whole year. He had everything to gain, however, and when he at last dropped off the wall he covered all traces of his route and cannot be found.

The following resolutions of condolence were adopted by the students of the Normal school.

Whereas, in the wisdom of God who has seen best to remove from our midst the beloved wife of our esteemed President P. L. Campbell, therefore be it.

Resolved, That in her death we have lost a true friend and an example of noble womanhood.

Resolved, That we as a school tender her our kindest sympathy in this sad bereavement.

Resolved, That the flag be draped in mourning and raised at half-mast for the period of one week.

P. L. CAMPBELL, President.

F. COMPANY'S BANQUET.

A banquet was tendered the members of F. Co., O. N. G., at the Delmonico restaurant, last evening by Geo. E. Chamberlain, the newly elected captain. A delicious menu was served, and the occasion was one long to be remembered.

Lieutenant Colonel Irvine presented his successor with the shoulder straps of the office in a humorous speech, which was rapped to in an eloquent manner by Captain Chamberlain. Toasts were proposed and short speeches made by the invited guests and members of the company, and the members finally broke camp with three rousing cheers for their new commander.
