Several severe cases of la grippe are reported at Seio. Jack O'well died of the disease Sunday, and several others are dangerously ill with the disease.

DROWNED IN THE SANTIAM. Mrs. McHale Meets Her Death in the Swift Raging Stream. The remains of Mrs. Mary McHale, who was drowned at Coe, on the North Santiam, last Sunday, were brought to this city on the Oregon Pacific train last evening and taken to the undertaking rooms of Messrs. Fortmiller & Irving. The death was a sad accident and leaves a party of immigrants from Nazranee and Michigan, Michigan with a very mournful experience. The lady was a widow, about thirty-three years of age, with one child, a little girl of five years of age, and had come to Oregon with friends, the family of C. L. Pomeroy, to take up government land. Full of life and ambition the whole party, consisting of two families, C. L. Pomeroy, L. G. Heffron and Mrs. McHale and child and John O. Fox, went to the front on the Oregon Pacific, just a week ago, the train running up from Halstead to Coe to carry them and their baggage. On Sunday the men were out looking at the timber, and the three ladies of the party started to cross the North Santiam on the foot log across the stream at Coe. Mrs. McHale took the lead, Mrs. Pomeroy followed, but Mrs. Pomeroy would not venture, but a smaller log led to the opposite bank. Not deeming it safe to try walking the smaller log the ladies turned back. Mrs. McHale soon exclaimed, "Oh, Mrs. Heffron, I am getting dizzy." Mrs. Heffron held her to rest on her hands and knees, and looked back to see how she was getting along, and saw her slip from the log. The water was very swift and about 12 feet deep under the log, the lower side of the log just touching it. The lady came to the surface once, Mrs. Heffron gave the alarm by screaming at the top of her voice and waving her apron in a very few minutes all of the men in the vicinity, about twenty in number, headed by Mr. Pomeroy, were on the ground and every effort possible was made to save the unfortunate lady, but without avail. Just below the deep place in which she first fell was a riffle covered with jagged rocks against which she was carried in a very few minutes leaving wounds on the head that would have caused death had recovery had not already taken place. The body was followed by Mr. Pomeroy wading out on the first riffle below and others further down grappling with poles, but the body would slip away and it was a full mile and a quarter below where it was finally brought to the shore and tenderly carried to the house. No blame could attach to any person and every one expected themselves to the utmost. The lady was betrothed to Mr. John O. Fox. Her child has been in Mr. Pomeroy's family for the past three years, and they will retain it, considering it no burden, as they think as much of it as of their own child. Mr. Fox is an excellent gentleman and is very much broken up over the loss of the lady, who was of most estimable character and amiable disposition. The funeral will take place from the Catholic church, of which she was a member, at 2 p. m. today, and a full attendance should be given for the sake of these people who are like strangers in a strange land. The remains will be interred temporarily in the city cemetery until the relatives can be consulted, they being in Michigan, excepting one brother who lives in Colorado. Leprosy in the Penitentiary. Superintendent Downing of the state penitentiary, is more than uneasy over the symptoms developed by a prisoner who is a patient in the penitentiary hospital. It fears the inmate is the dreaded leprosy. The unfortunate victim is a colored man named W. M. Morris, who has for several months been developing symptoms of some horrible disease, which is now making quick inroads upon him. At first his ailment was thought to be nothing more serious than a venereal disease, but it is now thought to be leprosy. The body is rotting, and already has holes large enough to hide a person's hand. Morris was born in Richmond, Va., and came to the prison three and a half years ago from The Dalles. Dr. Downing will likely prohibit visitors at the prison for some time. Morris will be removed to a barn near the prison and there treated till cured or dead. The decaying body emits a horrible smell which no disinfectants are able to remove. The prison officers are at a loss to know what course to pursue. They will try and get an order to remove him to some hospital for treatment. Two Days Only. The Ladies' Bazaar will introduce the style of "sales days," and on next Wednesday and Thursday they will have a special sale of their elegant and stylish trimmed millinery, consisting of all the latest novelties in hats, bonnets and bouquets for ladies, misses and children. Each hat will be marked in plain figures at less than one-half its actual price. This is no clearance sale, but a special sale of the most reasonable goods, and will last but two days. Don't fail to visit this sale, as there are the greatest bargains ever offered in the millinery line. Positively for two days only. Uncle Tom's Cabin Under Canvas. McFadden's Pavilion Double Uncle Tom's Cabin Co. will appear in this city on Tuesday April 14. The company has two car loads of special scenery, a magnificent brass band and will give a great show. This will be the first time ever seen in this play in Albany, and it is expressly to make room for it that the show is given under canvas. Their advertisement will be found in this issue.

FOR STATE ATTORNEY GENERAL. The Name of Hon. Geo. E. Chamberlain, of Albany, Mentioned in this Connection. Oregonian April 7. In discussing the work of the state legislature during the last session, Senator Jeff Myers, of Linn county, yesterday referred to the law creating the office of state attorney general as one of the few measures that gave rise to little discussion. "This law," said he, "creates the office of state attorney general. No such office has been in existence in this state heretofore. The attorney general is to be elected by the people, and will hold office for the same term that the other state officials do. The bill, I think, was passed on the 10th of February, and it was to become operative ninety days after its passage. As no state elections will be held in the immediate future, it will devolve upon the governor to make an appointment." "Have any names been mentioned in connection with this office?" asked the reporter. "Yes, several names have been mentioned, but the most prominent among them is that of Hon. George E. Chamberlain, of Albany. Mr. Chamberlain represented his district in the state legislature six or eight years ago, and he is considered a strong man. He is an attorney of great ability and wide experience, and his reputation for honesty and integrity is without stain or blemish. For a time he was engaged in the practice of law in Albany with Judge L. Flinn. He is a man in every way fitted for the office, and I do not think a better appointment could be made. Should he be honored with this office, I can vouch that he will fill it to the satisfaction of the people of this state. The emoluments of the office are not large, the annual salary of the state's attorney general being fixed at $3000. The duty of this office is to advise all the state officers in any matter the state may be interested in."

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS. Beet Growing in Connection With the Proposed Dairy Farm. Plenty of grass makes plenty of milk, better and money, and that is what we want, both in the city and country. We are told money is scarce, but that is not the case. If we had plenty of good grass the year round, we could much easier solve the problem of plenty of butter milk, and money. The beets being us right there—beets are grass in the winter. Give a cow a bushel of beets per day during the winter months together with enough other feed and good care and you will have no trouble in getting a good cow to produce 2 lbs. of butter a day right in the winter. You see it does not require much land to raise beets enough for your stock. One bushel a day per cow for four months is only 120 bushels and one acre of well prepared land will produce one thousand bushels of beets and the labor attached to cultivate them is not great. What time should beets be planted? They should be planted as soon as the ground works well and not later than the month of April. If you have beets on your land, choose such, if not, any other land good for wheat or oats will answer. Plow deep, 8 or 10 inches, pulverize it well and mark it out one 3 feet apart. Plant in straight lines and drop 2 or 3 seeds together about 12 inches apart in the row and cover with an inch of fine soil. When well up, go over the field and only leave one plant in a place. Keep the soil fine and mellow, especially during the dry weather and you will be astonished to see what a immense crop you can get and money it will return you in the shape of feed and produce. C. H. Sumner. A Wealthy Occupation. The matter of catching seals in the northern seas must be one of the bonanza occupations of the day, according to the following report from the Astoria. The Indian hunters on the British Columbia coast are rolling in wealth and the probabilities of schooners securing hunters among them are less than ever. The Indians scorn the $150 offered by the schooner captains, and will take $500 for several years. They fixed the latter sum as their price a month ago. Morris Moss, a Victoria buyer, has ruined their usefulness by paying them $12 a skin for all they can lay down in Victoria. The Indians have already sold over 1000 skins at this rate and have several more on hand. They are waiting for a rise in the price. Seals have been running close in shore this spring, enabling the Indians to do great execution in their canoes. The rate paid to the Indians by Moss is unprecedented and indicates high prices on the clean-up in the fall. Clatsop County Coal. In the Astorian office has been for the last two days something that is novel in Astoria, something that probably has not been anywhere else in this city for several years—a fire with Clatsop county coal. The coal is from Knappa, and burns well, leaving a small gray ash. Some years ago the Astorian kept a fire up for some time with Nehalem county coal, which also burned well. It is a matter of regret in every sense, that Astoria and Oregon generally should be paying out gold 20¢ for imported coal, when millions of tons of fine coal lie in our hills all over the country, from Blind Slough to Arch Cape.—Astorian.

REAL ESTATE SALES. T. E. Hogg Sells Valuable Property in This City to George S. Coe. Among the real estate sales recorded during the week is the transfer of the Montebello property by T. E. Hogg, president and receiver of the Oregon Pacific real estate company, to Geo. S. Coe. The property is worth half a million dollars, though the consideration in the deed is the nominal sum of $5. The sales for the past three days are as follows: F. A. Watts to Wm. A. Thrift, 118 acres, 13 w 4; consideration, $5000. E. B. Skipworth et al to E. B. Thrift, 118 acres, 13 w 4; consideration, $5. U. S. to John Clansen, 160 acres, 12 E 2; Patent. Archie Foster to Sarah J. Foster, 12 E 2; consideration, $300. O & C R R Co to Chas. E. Clark, 80 acres 11 E 1; consideration, $300. O & C R R Co to James Clark, 80 acres 11 E 1; consideration, $30. U. S. to James Clark, 80 acres, 11 E 1; Patent. T. Egenton Hogg, of Corvallis, to George S. Coe of New York city, all the Montebello property purchased by grantor of assignee, 210.19 acres, excepting about 5 acres; consideration, $5. Amos Ilegueto Lucicela E White 22.50 acres 12 w 4; consideration, $787. Lucy C Fletcher to R. M. Fletcher, 50 acres 15 w 3; consideration, $777. Strander Froman, referee, to T. F. Young, lots 7, 8, 14 13, 6 A; consideration, $425. A Hackleman to J. M. Bardue, lots 5 and 6, H's 3rd A; consideration, $25. Mary F. Rhodes to Nellie P. Meyers, lots 6 and 7, H's 3rd A; consideration, $1. R. M. Fletcher to W. J. Steele, 100 acres, 15 w 1; consideration, $1000. Work at Yaquina. Galvan A. Levid, in charge of the government work at Yaquina, has about fifty men employed, and the tramway on the north side is being extended about fifteen feet per day. As soon as this work is a little further extended and the plowdriver on the way, the work of placing rock in the jetty will be begun. The necessary ironwork, cars, barges, etc., for this work are all in readiness. There will not be any more work done on the north jetty at present, as it is desired to see what effect the south jetty will have, but some more work will have to be done there by and by. Before it can be begun a wharf about 200 feet long will have to be built across the sandy strip of ground between the two side arms of the approach to the old wharf. Public Surveys in Oregon. Oregon and Washington are not liable to go to much money for surveys out of the appropriation of the last session of congress because the surveyor-generals of these states have not made contracts for the amount apportioned to them for the fiscal year ending June 30. Commissioner Carter has advised to give rapidly growing Western states all the money for surveys that can possibly be used, but where the funds have not been expended, he will be compelled to shorten the allowance. Further, it is quite likely that the next congress will appropriate the balance of that which was used during the current year, and the amount remaining over will be carried back into the treasury.
