THE WILLAMETTE VALLEY.

How the Country and the Cities are Growing in Wealth and Population. A new comer, who arrived in Albany a few months ago, has written the following to one of the big Eastern papers: This Willamette valley, is to the vast region for six hundred miles east of it, just what the Hudson and adjoining regions along the Atlantic have been to the old West, to such states as Ohio, Michigan, Indiana, etc. It is the depot for all the great ocean wholesale trade, from where the commodities are distributed. No other place can compete with this coast for that position, and nothing can prevent the growth of many enormous cities as Albany is because of the restriction of our ocean commerce. As the region east of us fills up with settlers this trade must grow. That such regions as Eastern Oregon, Idaho, Montana, Washington and Utah will steadily increase in population, we have every reason to believe. There is no other country in the world to surpass it in healthfulness, climate and mineral wealth. The Willamette Valley then, will be the great storehouse, nursery, and manufactory for all the commodities mankind requires. The monstrosities to bring, place, make, develop, and distribute all things, must concentrate here, along this coast, so that one continuous line of cities and great busy towns will extend for hundreds of miles. Before we know it, ten million people will be settled in the region we speak of, and their demands will be our warrant for making the preparations. Just think what a number of large towns grew up close together along the Atlantic—all made by the demands of people settling in the woods west of them, at a time when all carrying was done by horses, and it took a generation to cut the trees off a farm, and another generation to grub out the stumps, and when the whole national population was but ten millions. Contrast then with now, and our chances with theirs. Towns grow in one month now as fast as they did then in years. THE FIRST CASE. Will Cowan and Albert Sternberg Gathered in Under the New Curfew Law. Last night between the hours of 9 and 10 o'clock, while on their way home from a long day in the store, Will Cowan and Albert Sternberg, of the clothing firm of T. L. Wallace & Co., were halted by the police, under the ordinance requiring all minors to be off the street by 9 o'clock; but after investigation by the police it was found that the boys had just closed the store, and that it was impossible for them to get in any earlier, each selling five of those elegant new spring suits after supper. They were allowed to go home unmolested. W. C. T. U. ANNIVERSARY. The following is the programme of exercises to be rendered at the W. C. T. U. hall on Friday evening, April 17th: Music—Orchestra. Scripture reading. Prayer. Address—By the president, Mrs. E. F. Sox. Solo—Mrs. C. O. Lee. Lecture—Mrs. Emily P. Stevens. Collection. Music—Quartet. A cordial invitation is extended to all. Double Birthday Party. A few of the friends of Mr. A. B. Woodin tendered him a most enjoyable birthday party at his residence on Broadway street last evening. The occasion was also the anniversary of the birthday of Mrs. Dr. C. C. Kelley, they being both the same age, 57 years, and the occasion resulted in the celebration of the double event. An enjoyable evening was spent and a delicious luncheon was served. Mr. Woodin was presented with a fine gold-headed cane by his friends, a beautifully ornamented cake from his sister, Mrs. Martin, a silver cake knife from Mrs. Woodin and Mrs. H. A. Warner, and a silver watch-box from Mrs. Kelley. The latter was presented by Mr. Woodin with a beautiful cup and saucer. The following guests were present: Mrs. Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Train, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Hopkins, Mrs. W. R. Bilyeu, Mr. Walker, Barker, Mrs. W. Vance, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Warner, Mr. and Mrs. N. H. Allen, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Cusick, Mr. and Mrs. E. Huston, Mr. and Mrs. Dr. C. C. Kelley, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Sittes, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Hewitt, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. French, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Hopkins, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Turner, Mrs. Fish, Mrs. A. B. Seal, Mrs. C. J. Stewart, Mrs. Martin, Miss Kelley, Miss Bird Martin. The Maxwell Case. The case of Elias Maxwell, who was arrested for incest, came up before Justice Humphrey yesterday at 9 o'clock. The defendant waived examination and was held in $1,000 bonds to await the action of the grand jury. He furnished bonds and was released. Maxwell is an old resident of Linn county. The relatives of the family have suspected that the crime was being practiced by the father, and were instrumental in causing his arrest. Dr. E. N. Blackburn appeared for the defense and J. R. Wyatt for the state. A Solent Variety. Every morning at an early hour can be seen a long line of wagons unloading a fine lot of lettuce, radishes, onions, rhubarb, etc., at Mueller & Garrett's. Don't fail to call early and secure the best.

FIREMEN'S MATTERS.

The Engines Should Be Provided with Teams—The Fire Clusters. At the meeting of the city council Tuesday evening, the matter of supplying horses for the different fire engines was discussed and referred to the committee consisting of Chief Engineer C. H. Stewart and the committee on fire and water, with instructions to make a report at the next meeting of the council, which will be next Friday at 7:30 p. m. A proposition has been received from one of the dray companies, to stable a span of horses in each engine house, nights and Sundays, providing the city will furnish swinging harness, and residence near the engine houses for the drivers, which would perhaps cost $20 per month. Albany is desirous of metropolitan affairs needs horses to draw the engines. The next step towards the improvement of the efficiency of the fire department will be an electric fire-alarm system. The condition of the fire-alarm system of the city are being investigated by the city council, and they will all be put in thorough repair. STATE HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY. The regular quarterly meeting of the State Horticultural society was held at the senate chamber of the state house in Salem Tuesday. The statesman says the forenoon session was informal, as many of the members did not arrive until the 11 o'clock train. Pending their arrival W. W. Hoskins made a talk on the subject of when and how to plant trees. He advised people to plant in the fall and to plant deep furrows, when preparing the land, just where the rows are to be planted. Mr. Jory said the borers were doing very great damage south of Salem. These he said were brought on trees shipped in from nurseries. He urged that great caution be taken when planting. All trees should be disinfected when they are planted. He said the beetle did the damage. Upon the arrival of Dr. Cardwell, president of the society, the meeting was called to order, when followed a paper on the subject of strawberries, by Jay O. Francis. The paper was discussed vigorously. The idea being advanced that the fruit grower to be successful must have his product look attractive when marketed. Gen. Varney said he would plant Clark's seedlings for The Dalles, and Sharpless, Wilson, and Manchester were recommended for this section. VETERAN SESSION. Upon reassembling after dinner, Mr. Hoskins told "How to Reveal the Oregon Red Apple." He said we can grow the apples if we could only get the people to see that it requires care, and that they would make money if the proper care were given. The discussion of this subject brought out the fact that the soil required much lime for the apple. The codlin moth, Mr. Jory said, was the apple enemy now. To catch this enemy the fruit grower should use the bark and wash them, destroy hundreds of the larvae. The dead twigs are probably from the lack of nourishment. It is not safe to plant young trees where old trees have been. Mr. Hooper read a paper on the subject of "The Strawberry and its Culture." A discussion of it followed. A paper was read from Dr. A. Sharpless, of Eugene, relating to how best the society extend its usefulness. "E. J. Beatty read a paper on "What I Know about Drainage," which was discussed at length. Several minutes were engaged, but it was found the paper distributed all except the title drainage. Mr. Whitman had placed tiling among willows and the during a dry season took possession of the tile for considerable distance. The tile will drain when an open ditch will not. It will pay in our state without question. The rain is loaded with plant food. S. A. Clark talked on the subject of "Shipping Fruit." Mr. Wallace said he thought we were egotistic in this matter of raising fruit. He said we must improve our varieties and ship good fruit, such fruit as will create a name and establish a market for Oregon. The subject of prune culture and what varieties to plant for profit entered largely into the discussion, but, no matter what the fruit or the variety, it was the unanimous sense of the meeting that fruit-growing demands keen attention, good soil, and hard work. It was decided to hold the July meeting of the society at Newburg, at which exhibits of fruit are expected to be made and premiums for excellence awarded. LETTER LIST. The following is a list of letters remaining in the post office at Albany Or. April 15th 1891, unclaimed for: John Armstrong, Link Boon, Clarence Edward Barton, M. Chasman, George Dietrich, Harlas Chickson, Hal Fellows, Robt. T. Hedrick, H. S. Hayward, P. D. Halse, C. Forth, Miss Sarah B. Walton. REUBEN THOMPSON, P. M. Taken Under Adversement. The case of Lee Kendall, arrested for lewd cohabitation with his daughter, came up in Justice Humphrey's court yesterday morning. The defense held that the divorce was not legal and that the couple is still husband and wife. The point raised was that the decree of divorce had not been properly signed by the judge. The case was argued and was taken under advisement by the court until 10 a. m. today. LATER—Since the above was written the defendant has been discharged. The couple have been remarried. FURNITURE IN QUANTITIES. Fortmiller & Irving are constantly enlarging their magnificent stock of furniture. They received another full car load recently.

LO ON A TEAR.

An Indian and His Spouse See the Sights and Get Gloriously Drunk. An Indian belonging to the classic tribe of the Siletz came over from Corvallis yesterday, accompanied by his wife. The pair of aborigines were evidently bent on seeing the sights of the city and did not wait for the glare of the electric lights, for in less than an hour the proud head of the family was howling drunk, and was led off to the city jail by Chief of Police Hoffman. He had on his person a bottle of bitters which he said he purchased in a drug store. Just what the U. S. court would say about selling bitters to Indians is not known. The Indian did not like to be torn from the bosom of his family, so to speak, just as he was beginning to have a good time, but he yielded gracefully to the stern-eyed man of the law. His dusky wife put up at a dive on Second street known as the "People's Laundry" to wait until her liege lord should become sober and get out of jail. COAST NOTES. A movement is now on foot to clean the bars and drifts in the Cowitz of saw logs. It is stated that $100,000 worth of sawlogs are now in the Cowitz. The Toledo board of trade will soon be in receipt of a small quantity of sugar beet seed, which will be distributed among the farmers who will give it a fair trial on tide lands. The Smith family was represented in the penitentiary during the last two years by 10 members. There were also 6 Millers, of Johnsons and Williams 5 each, and of Browns, Jones and Thompsons 4 each. The Athena Press reports that the depth of moisture this year in Eastern Oregon soil is three feet as against only one foot last year. This means the finest crop that this section has known for years. Chief Homily, of the Umatillas, is dead. He was probably the best known Indian of the Pacific Northwest, owing to his many good deeds towards the pioneer whites during early Indian wars. He was about 75 years of age and greatly respected as a counselor among his people. He was born in the vicinity of Wallula, where the Walla Walla joins the Columbia and there he will be buried. Salem's heaviest taxpayers this year are comprised in the following list: Ladd & Bush with following city taxes on $140,000; Stewart estate on $52,500; Brayman Bros. $20,465; G. W. Gray, $27,520; J. J. Murphy, $19,075; Lombard Ins. Co., $25,000; Salem Flouring Mill Co., $22,000; Salem Water Co., $20,000; S. P. R. Co., $22,500; Williams & England, $27,572; R. M. Wade, $13,500; R. M. Wade & Co., $12,000. J. L. Curtis, county surveyor of Union county, has completed his examination of the proposed road to the Seven Devils names. He reports a very practicable route and an easy grade, but says the road will cost more than was anticipated. It will cost $7000, he says, to build a good road to Ballard's landing, to connect with the road now building from the mines, which is the only practicable route into that region. Mrs. Barrett, an evangelist now holding fourth in Southern Oregon objects to having her record published throughout the country or Mrs. Emma Molloy. The Ashland Record told people who she was and published facts concerning several minor details. Mrs. Molloy has since made strenuous efforts to have the editor of the Record, E. J. Kaiser, indicted for libel, but the grand jury refused to take any notice of the matter. THE WORLD ENRICHED. The facilities of the present day or the production of everything that will conduce to the material and comfort of mankind are almost unlimited, and when the better it is known the more the world was enriched with the perfect laxative known, as it is the only remedy which is truly pleasing and refreshing to the taste and prompt and effectual to cleanse the system gently in the Spring-time or, in fact, at any time any the better it is known the more popular it becomes. Anniversary Meeting. The anniversary meeting of the Woman's Christian Union will be held on Friday evening next, April 17th, at their hall, at which time Mrs. E. N. Condit, of the City of Albany, an able speaker and national organizer will lecture. Mrs. Stevens is a very entertaining speaker, and coming from a sister state should be cordially welcomed at 3 o'clock she will give an address to which all ladies, whether members of the union or not, are cordially invited.
