NOW IN CALIFORNIA.

The Presidential Party Reach the Pacific Coast.

AMONG THE ORANGE GROVES.

An Enthusiastic Welcome Extended in Los Angeles and Elsewhere—Receptions and Speeches.

INDIO, Cal., April 22.—The presidential party entered the state of California at Fort Yuma at 4:50 o'clock this morning, and was presented with a large quantity of beautiful flowers and wreaths. The entire party was asleep at the time so they did not see the presentation committee. When the president and party reached Indio at 8:15 o'clock, it was received by a large and influential delegation, including Governor Markham and staff, ex-Governor Perkins, Senator Hilton, Judge Van Vleet, of Sacramento; S. M. White, of Los Angeles; Colonel C. F. Crocker, vice-president of the Southern Pacific, and Mr. Stump, the chairman of the republican committee. Governor Markham made a glowing address of welcome.

In reply the president said he would not undertake, while almost choked with the dust of the plains just left, to say all he hoped to say in the way of pleasant greeting to the citizens of California. Some time later, when he had been refreshed by their olive oil and their vineyards, he would endeavor to express his gratification at being able to visit California. He had long desired to visit the state, and it was an objective point on his trip. He had seen the northern coast and Puget sound, but never before had been able to see California. He remembered from boyhood the excitement of the discovery of gold, and always distantly followed California's growth and progress. The acquisition of California was second only to that of Louisiana and the control of the Mississippi river, it secured us this great coast and made impossible the ownership of a foreign power to any of our coast line. It had helped to perfect our magnificent isolation which is our great protection against foreign aggression.

He thanked the governor and committee for their kindly reception, and assured them that if he should have any complaint to make of his treatment in California it would be because its people had been too hospitable.

Several Indian tribes, including Chief Cabazon, chief of the Indio tribe of Indians, who is over 100 years of age, presented an address to the president asking for justice and assistance. The ceremonies took place on the platform of the station and were very interesting. The governor and party left here in company with the president at 8:50 a. m. for Los Angeles.

LOS ANGELES, April 22.—At no place visited by the president since his departure from Washington, was he accorded a heartier or more hospitable welcome than at Los Angeles, at which place his flower-laden car arrived at three o'clock this afternoon. As the train rolled into the station the national salute was fired. The people cheered lustily and all the bells and whistles joined in the acclaim. The city was lavishly decorated in honor of the distinguished visitor. Every available point of vantage was covered with flowers, including the carriages provided for the visitors. Calla lilies seemed to be the favorite flower, and they were seen on every side. The ceremonies opened with a street parade, in which all the United States troops, militia, G. A. R. post, and civic organizations in this city and vicinity, participated. They were escorted through the streets, crowded with enthusiastic people. Hundreds of children lined the sidewalk at one point of the route, and they showered the president with flowers as his carriage passed slowly by. The parade ended at the city hall, where a covered platform had been erected for the public ceremonies. This platform looked like a tropical garden. On either side reaching to the roof was a tapering floral column with a base of evergreens and calla lillies. Flag draperies were festooned from the center. Addresses of welcome were made by Governor Markham and Mayor Hoyard, and the president responded.

In the course of his speech the president said: "This magnificent domain on the Pacific coast, seized for the union by the energy, courage and wise forethought of Fremont and his associates, is essential to our perfection as a union. Nothing more important in territorial extension, unless it be the purchase of the territory of Louisiana, ever happened. We touch two oceans and on both we have built commonwealths and great cities, and are thus secure in that territorial individualities and isolation which gives us assurance of perpetual peace. (Cheers.) The provident care of our government should be given to your sea coast defenses until all these great ports of the Atlantic and Pacific are made safe. (Cheers.)

Brief speeches were also made by Secretary Rusk and Postmaster-General Wanamaker, after which the president and party proceeded to the Hollenbeck hotel where dinner was served. In the early evening the president went to the pavilion and held a public reception, which was largely attended. Later the president, Secretary Rusk, Postmaster-General Wanamaker, and the ladies, were entertained at the Union league club. The president's invitation to the club was on a solid silver card, suitably inscribed. The entire city was brilliantly illuminated at night.

Hon. Luiz E. Torres, governor of Lower California, and other foreign officials, participated in to-day's ceremonies.

STILL WANTS TO FIGHT.

Willing to Squander Thirteen Thousand On It.

ASTORIA, April 22.—John Grant, president of the Astoria Athletic club, received this morning a dispatch from Chicago, signed by Chas. E. Davies and George Clark, asking if the offer of a seventeen thousand dollar purse for the contest to a finish, to take place in July, between Hall and Fitzsimmons was still held open by the Astoria club. Grant sent the following reply: The seventeen thousand dollar purse is withdrawn and the club will now give thirteen thousand dollars, eleven thousand five hundred to go to the winner.

Washington G. A. R., and W. R. C.

PUYALLUP, April 22.—The ninth annual encampment of the G. A. R., department of Washington and Alaska, and the encampment of the Sons of Veterans and Woman's Relief Corps of the department of Washington began here to-day.

SILVER QUESTION.

WHAT ARE MR. CLEVELAND'S VIEWS.

Claims the Reporters Published Some Things He Did Not Say—Not All His Opinions.

NEW YORK, April 22.—Ex-President Cleveland, who had an opportunity to read his views given yesterday on the silver question, said to reporters on the subject this morning: "I have just read the report and it seems to me it has been generally embellished and expressions put into my mouth that were never uttered by me, but expressions used by another gentleman present. While some of the opinions may be regarded as partly my views upon the subject of silver coinage, yet there are so many other expressions credited to me, it would require considerable weeding out before the supposed conversation could be strictly termed an accurate report."

BRUTAL MURDER.

A Drunken Man Shoots and Kills His Brother.

SPOKANE FALLS, April 22.—The report reached here that a brutal murder occurred at "Rickey ranch," near Colville yesterday. John Abrahams, while drunk, quarrelled with his brother Adolph Abrahams, and shot and instantly killed the latter. The murderer secured a horse and made his escape. A posse of fifty men are pursuing him. John Abrahams has an unenviable record. The murdered man was the opposite of his brother, being a man of quiet and sober disposition. He leaves a wife and family.

LOOKING UP MINERS.

Want Six Hundred to Take the Place of Strikers.

SEATTLE, April 22.—The executive committee of the Knights of Labor gave out the statement to-day regarding the situation of the strikers in New Castle and Gilman mines. The information has been received by the joint local executive board that T. B. Corry, late superintendent of the Oregon Improvement company's mines at Franklin and New Castle, is now in the East endeavoring to secure six hundred miners for Washington. Corry is only ostensibly discharged by the company, it is thought.

MORE SLUGGING.

Fitzsimmons and Hall to Pound Each Other $12,000 Worth.

CHICAGO, April 22.—Parson Davies, for Jim Hall, and George R. Clark, for Bob Fitzsimmons, signed articles of agreement for a fight to a finish with four-ounce gloves, Queensbury rules, for a purse of $12,000, to take place at St. Paul or Minneapolis. The winner to get $11,000, the loser $1000, both contestants agreeing to weigh not over 156 pounds.

Poisoned by Well Water.

BURLINGTON, Ia., April 22.—The laborers at Gilbert, Hodge & Co.'s lumber yard drank freely of water from an old well, and as a result of poison from sewerage, five are dead and several others critically ill.

THE REPUBLICANS.

Ringing Resolutions by the League Convention.

ENTHUSIASM FOR HARRISON.

The Question of Foreign Immigration as Viewed in the Light of Recent International Events.

CINCINNATI, April 22.—The league convention was late in convening and many delegates were not in the hall when President Thurston called it to order. A big box of American tin plate, forwarded by Congressman Neidringhause, of St. Louis, was placed on the stage and a lively scramble for possession of the brilliant souvenirs followed.

The committee on resolutions through Judge Webster, of Nebraska, presented a report. The resolutions honor the memory of General Sherman, Admiral Porter and Secretary Windom, endorse the course of Speaker Reed, favor protection and reciprocity, declare emphatically for a free ballot and a fair count, remember the claims of soldiers and declare the aim of the league to be the dissemination of the principles and doctrines of the republican party as fashioned by the teachings of its greatest leaders.

"We endorse the wise, statesmanlike, courageous and patriotic course of the administration of President Harrison. Its conduct, both in domestic and foreign affairs, has been such as to command the thorough respect and hearty admiration of every true citizen. Its attitude in dealing with alien residents and giving to them protection accorded to American citizens, and no more, is just and should commend itself to the civilized world.

"We oppose any attempt to debase the currency and coin of the country, but insist upon such legitimate increase of our circulating medium and such maintenance of double standard as will fairly satisfy the increasing necessities of trade and commerce. Recent events have made more apparent than ever the necessity for exercising the sovereign and right inherent in our nation, as in all others, to use discrimination in the admission of foreigners as residents in this country. We therefore recommend such changes in our laws as will effectually prohibit the immigration of paupers and criminals and of people so alien from us in their ideas and habits of thought that they cannot be assimilated in the body politic. We recognize the republican press of the country as a great and indispensible force in the advocacy and promotion of republican principles."

The breeze was felt when a Wisconsin delegate, whose accent told he was of foreign birth, begged on behalf of many republicans in the Northwestern states, that the proposed language in restricting immigration be expunged. He said the meaning of the words might be all right, but they would be distorted by enemies with telling effect upon the foreign born republican vote of the northwest. They had had experience and wanted no more. After a lengthy debate, all after the word "criminals" was struck out the resolutions adopted.

The reading of the Harrison endorsement created the most enthusiasm of the convention. Delegates rose and with waving handkerchiefs, hats and canes, kept up demonstration for several minutes.

The secretary read letters from several distinguished republicans. President Harrison's letter evoked a hearty applause.

NEWS ALONG THE COAST.

Brief Paragraphs From the Columns of our Exchanges.

Pendleton's water works system netted over $600 for the city during the month of March.

Crook county's present indebtedness is only $12,758 11, while she has resources amounting to $21,040 74.

Eastern Oregon sheep men are getting ready for sharing. The wool clip will bring a larg amount of money to the state this year.

It is generally understood that most of the Eastern sheep buyers in Oregon this year will be compelled to return home with their contracts only partially filled. The fact is, the sheep are not for sale.

Mrs. Charles Frank, who was dangerously injured at Sublimity several weeks ago by a runaway accident, is slowly improving. Her injuries are very sever, and it is the opinion of physicians that she will never fully recover from the shock.

The sale of Walla Walla school lands will begin July 1.

Tacoma people are building a steamboat, which they claim will be the fastest on the sound.

A celebration of the discovery of Gray's horbor in 1792 is proposed to be held at Gray's harbor city on the 4th of July.

T. F. Buchanan, of Crook county, lost two fine horses recently that had not been out of the stable. His suspicions being aroused, an autopsy was which resulted in the finding in the stomachs a quantity of powdered glass and iron fillings. If Mr. Buchanan can find the enemy who has wreaked his revenge on dumb brutes it will go hard with him.

Tacoma is in conference with C. R. Wright, of Philadelphia, relative to purchasing the city water works, the city now desiring to own them itself.

Centralia thinks that toughs driven out of Tacoma and Seattle are locating in that town. Burglaries are frequent and the policemen have all they can do to keep the hobos from taking the place.

A band of Indians have just returned to Snohomish from the head waters of the Pilchuck laden with fish, where they spent six weeks in fishing for salmon, which swarm that stream at this season of the year.

A most pitiable case is that of Joseph Vosgien, a poor fisherman of Snohomish. Several days ago he tore his hand upon a rusty nail and his entire right arm is now blood poisoned and presents a frightful spectacle. The arm must be amputated and this may not save his life.

Drunken Spree Ends In Murder.

WALLA WALLA, April 22.—Nathan Hunt, a gambler, to-night shot Edward Miller, a soldier of the fourth cavalry. The bullet entered his left shoulder and lodged under the shoulder blade. SHERMAN'S FORTUNE

HE HAD BEEN A CAREFUL, PRUDENT MANAGER.

The Children Will Have Ample Incomes—Gift Accepted Through Love of Their Father.

PHILADELPHIA, April 22.—Lieut. Thackeray says while Miss Elizabeth Sherman and her sister would accept the $100,000 fund, because it was to be given as a token of the subscriber's love for Sherman, the publication in the New York papers stating that General Sherman was an improvident man, has caused much annoyance. He was just the reverse. "At the lowest estimate," remarked Thackeray, "Miss Elizabeth Sherman and her sister and brother Tecumseh have an income of $3000 a year. Besides General Sherman left a great mass of war correspondence of great historical value. There will also be a good income from the general's memoirs."

The Wool Market.

The fact that this city is one of the best wool markets on the coast is becoming known. The Dalles Times Mountaineer is trying to make the local buyers in that city to a competition. It says: "There is some local discussion among wool growers in this part of the county as to whether The Dalles will pay as much for that product this year as Albany and Brownsville will pay. The valley towns mentioned paid better prices for Crook county wool last year than could be secured from buyers in The Dalles, and on that account several large clips were hauled over the Cascade mountains. The whyfore of this fact has not been the case at all. One thing is certain, and that is if our growers can do enough better this year to make it pay than to haul their wool over the mountains to the Willamette valley, many of them will do so, regardless of the difference in roads. The difference in distance is not material. However, The Dalles is our natural market, and this matter lies entirely in the hands of that city's wool buyers this year."

Will Examine the Siuslaw River.

Orders have been received from the chief of engineers for Major Handbury, Captain Symons and Lieutenant Burr, United States engineers, who have been appointed a board to examine the mouth of the Siuslaw river, to meet in Portland at the call of the senior member. They will proceed to visit the Siuslaw, and then formulate and submit a project for the proposed improvement. They will probably start next Monday or Wednesday, as the stage leaves Eugene only twice per week.

The finest and best assortment of ladies Oxford's and slippers ever brought to Albany at Searls' shoe store.

Blodgett & Son have removed their stock of groceries into the building formerly occupied by Blackburn & Pironi, and have added a bakery department, and are now prepared to furnish their customers with fresh bread, pies and cakes of all kinds.

Fine comb honey and salmon bellies at Mueller & Garret's, the leading grocers.

RESISTING EVICTIONS

The Huns Fight To the Bitter End.

HUNGARIAN GIRL KILLED.

A Pistol in the Hands of the Man She Was Fighting For Killed Her—Further Evictions Are to Be Made.

UNIONTOWN, Pa., April 22.—The county officers went to Adelaide this morning, but after making two evictions were overpowered by the strikers and driven away. Reinforced by Sheriff McCormick and a large number of deputies, they returned when a pitched battle took place between the posse and about 300 Hungarian men and women, in which a Hungarian girl was killed and others injured, among whom are several deputies. The deputies were trying to keep the Hungarians from carrying back household goods thrown out of the houses in the morning. A big, strong Hungarian was fighting with several deputies and Sheriff McCormick came to their assistance. The Hun saw him coming and tried to shoot. The girl who was killed was a lover of the Hun and was fighting for him against the deputies. The latter say the pistol went off in the hands of the Hun and killed the girl. Company "C" of the 18th regiment, was quickly brought to the scene and it is believed had they not been every deputy would have been injured if not killed. Sheriff McCormick was slightly wounded in the hand by a stray bullet. Evictions will take place at Leith to-morrow and trouble is feared.
