IS SORRY HE SAID IT.

Governor Penoyer Explains His Awkward Position.

HE IS ASHAMED OF IT NOW.

It Was Only a Private Conversation With a Reporter and Not Intended to Reach the Public.

PORTLAND, April 27.—Governor Penoyer today handed the Associated Press the following: "The interview relative to my reception of President Harrison's message, published in the press reports was an imperfect statement of a private conversation with a member and ex-member of the Oregon legislature, and was not intended for publication. While I insist, with all deference to the opinion of others, that my proper place to receive the president is at the state capital, and not at the state line, where he will be met by a legislative committee, yet I concede that if I had authorized the interview as published I would be liable to censure which, under the true state of facts, is unmerited."

ALL OVER A WOMAN.

An Elopement, a Poisoned Husband and a Seducer Nearly Hanged.

WABDO, Neb., April 27.—The most intense excitement prevailed here over an elopement, resulting in an attempt to commit murder, followed by an active session of Judge Lynch and concluding with the arrest of ten prominent citizens for mob violence. Mrs. Frank Burgess, wife of a prominent stockman, became infatuated with G. E. Freeman, an implement man, and securing a large share of his husband's money, fled from the depot to meet Freeman and leave the city. The elopers were overtaken and the wife returned to her home. In the evening Freeman sneaked into the house and when supper was over Burgess was taken violently ill from the effects of poison. Thinking that Burgess was dead and believing that Freeman had poisoned him, a mob gathered and secured Freeman. Preparations were made to hang the fellow when the husband recovered and begged that his wife should not be killed. Later on ten citizens who were in the mob were arrested for attempted murder.

THE BRIDE OF DEATH.

Married But Two Hours When the Groom Becomes a Widower.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., April 27.—Miss Anna L. Otto, daughter of Daniel Otto, of Pottsville, in this county, was engaged to be married to John A. Peter over a year ago, but a lingering illness from which Miss Otto suffered, prevented their marriage. A few weeks ago she recovered her health fully, as she believed, and with her old-time spirits, in Friday last she was again taken ill. She and her lover had agreed beforehand that the marriage should come off on that day. The Rev. C. E. Bartholomew was called in, and he performed the ceremony, with the bride's parents and relatives gathered about the sick lady. Two hours later the new-made bride was dead.

FELL TO HIS DEATH.

The Grim Destroyer Met Him at the Bottom of the Stairs.

PORTLAND, April 27.—Jack Harris, a well-known character in this city, was found dead at the foot of the stairway at the Halton House, this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. He had fallen down stairs apparently, and when he was picked up was dead. How he fell will never be known, as no one in the hotel saw him. When he was found that death must have ensued almost instantly. He was about 72 years of age.

Smuggling Chinese In.

WASHINGTON, April 27.—The government authorities have been notified of the arrival of five Chinese who landed in Mexico and were smuggled in through Arizona. Ling Chai, who lived here several years, went back to China, got his four sons and brought them back by a new route. He says a party of fifty came in through Arizona with him, and that there is a Chinese agent in Mexico doing a large business in smuggling.

Imitating Chicago.

PORT ANGELES, Wash., April 27.—Port Angeles Saturday voted to extend its city limits taking in 52 squares. In area Port Angeles is now the largest city in the state.

AN UNKNOWN MURDER.

Body of a Young Woman Found Near Kansas City.

KANSAS CITY, April 27.—The body of an unknown woman has been found near Linderman, a suburban town of this city, by a hunter. The ground was torn up in several places some fifty yards from where the body was hidden, and a handkerchief wound around the neck and twisted with a stick. The wife of a farmer living near the scene of the crime saw a woman answering in the description of the body pass her house yesterday afternoon with a short, heavy-set, dark man, who had a heavy stick in his hand. The same pair were met by Mr. McCormick, of Randolph. The pair got off the train at Randolph, and were evidently in good temper. All that was found on the body was a piece of paper on which was written in printed letters: "I am tired of life." It is presumed that this was placed on the body by the man carrying away the impression that the woman had killed herself.

THE WAGES OF SIN.

A Burglar Shot Dead While at His Work.

THERE IS A MORAL ATTACHED.

He Was Too Slow in Making His Escape and the Result Was He Will Sit at No More.

PORTLAND, April 27.—About 5:15 o'clock this morning, an unknown burglar was shot and killed by A. S. Stowbridge in the latter's place of business.

From the story told by young Stowbridge, who sleeps in a room on a sort of gallery in the rear of the store, it appears that shortly before 5 o'clock this morning he was awakened by the sound of breaking glass. He proceeded to investigate, and proceeded to investigate. Upon reaching the door at the head of the stairway leading to his room, which is about fifty-five feet distant from the front door of the establishment, he perceived two men carrying away small pieces of glass from the broken pane in the door.

When they had made an aperture large enough to admit the body of a man, one of them entered the store while his companion took up his position on the sidewalk.

Stowbridge, from his position at the head of the stairway, could clearly discern the figure of the man as he entered. He opened one or two show cases, and was carefully examining their contents when Stowbridge leaped to move a little in order to secure a better view of the intruder.

Just as he started to cross the platform as cautiously as possible, the floor creaked slightly and attracted the attention of the burglar. He looked in the direction from whence the sound came, and catching a glimpse of Stowbridge, he made for the door. At the same same instant the young man cocked his gun.

The burglar by this time had reached the door, and was evidently about to beat a retreat through the broken pane, when he paused for an instant, and wheeled around to ascertain the cause of the interruption. Stowbridge, thinking perhaps the man intended firing a shot, leveled his gun and discharged one of the barrels. The burglar dropped instantly to the floor on the north side of the door and made no further motion. The shot had undoubtedly killed him instantly.

LATER—the deceased was identified as William Hayes, who recently came here from the East. The coroner's jury this evening returned a verdict of justifiable homicide, and Stowbridge was released.

WILL COME AT LAST

GROUND BROKEN FOR THE GRANT MONUMENT.

General Porter Speaks Words of Praise for the Dead Hero—Very Impressive Ceremonies.

NEW YORK, April 27.—Amidst the plaudits of thousands of citizens, bare of trumpets, beating drums, booming of cannons, melody of children's voices, and the presence of General Grant, the ground was broken to-day for the monument which is to be at the tomb at Riverside Park, where rests all that is mortal of General Grant.

The Marine band played an overture after which Mr. J. C. Clark, Wright, captain of the department, of Commander Freeman's staff, offered a prayer and the chorus sang the "Star Spangled Banner." Commander Freeman presided. He introduced the chief orator, Mr. J. C. Clark.

General Porter said in part: "Sixty-nine years ago to-day there issued into the world a being who was destined to stand prominent in the history of his country, and to his credit for this reason, to the credit of the earth. The most conspicuous figures in history have risen to prominence by gradual advances, but Ulysses S. Grant came before the people with a sudden bound. Almost to the eyes of the world he was in the blaze of his camp fires and in the flashes of his guns those windy days and nights in front of Donelson. From the final sheathing of the sword to his ashes laid to rest in yonder tomb, he was the chief citizen of the republic and the great central figure of the world."

The orator said that one word which more characterized General Grant than any other was his loyalty to his country, to his friends and to his God. For this reason chiefly men were loyal to him. He was created for great emergencies. In ordinary matters he was an ordinary man, in momentous affairs he towered as a giant. The speaker closed by saying: "No efforts of man's hands can add a single laurel to his brow, all honors earth can give have been bestowed upon him. The people whom he served have resolved to fashion a tomb worthy of his ashes and near in a monument of rock a fitting tribute to his name."

The chorus sang "America," when Commander Freeman arose to initiate the particular ceremony of the day, breaking of ground for the monument. The spade he used was a fine specimen of American handiwork, bearing an inscription giving the chief events of General Grant's career. Before turning up the sod, Commander Freeman said:

"We gather to-day not simply as representatives of hundreds of thousands of the living and dead whom he led to victory, but of the entire nation, the men who wore the gray as well as the men who wore the blue. Now, in the presence of Almighty God, and these witnesses, we, the representatives of the Grand Army of the Republic, break the sod preparatory to laying the foundation of a monument which shall stand as a slight expression of the love of this nation for its great chieftain and shall tell all the world that the United States of America do not forget its heroic dead."

At the close of his remarks, Commander Freeman took the spade in his hands and with it tossed the earth. This ended the ceremonies and the crowd went to their homes.

CHILI TO HAVE PEACE

After a Long Contest the Much Desired End is Reached.

A FIGHT WITH TORPEDOES.

Three Iron Clads of the Revolving Navy Sunk and One Hundred and Fifty Men Killed.

NEW YORK, April 27.—The Chilean location and fleet have cable advice regarding a naval battle stating to have occurred on the 22d. The government cruisers Lynch and Condell, attacked in the bay of Caldera, the ironclads Blanca, Encalada, and Hinasar and destroyed them with whitehead torpedoes. The attacking cruisers suffered no damage and returned to Valparaiso where they are preparing for a cruise, after the remaining vessel of the revolving squadron. This is considered a decisive blow to the rebellion.

LONDON, April 27.—A dispatch to the Times from Valparaiso says: Casualties on the government boats were one killed and ten wounded. On the Acagona one hundred and fifty were killed.

THE NEW ORLEANS AFFAIR.

United States Attorney Has Finished His Investigation.

NEW ORLEANS, April 27.—United States Attorney William Grant, who has been instructed by the department of justice at Washington to furnish a report of the lynching of the Italian in the parish prison on March 14, has completed his investigation and forwarded the result by Sunday's mail. Mr. Grant will not indicate the nature of his report. He has been engaged on it for three weeks and it probably covers the entire subject, as the document will be used in further negotiations with the Italian government, and will furnish the state department with its first official information. There is much speculation as to its contents. The grand jury will meet again Tuesday, and as no more witnesses have been summoned in the lynching case, it is believed that the grand jury investigation is practically completed, and its report will be forthcoming during the week.

VICTORY FOR THE LOTTERY.

Louisiana's Octopus Is Getting a Lease of Life.

NEW ORLEANS, April 27.—At the last session of the legislature, John A. Morris and associates made application for a renewal of the Louisiana State lottery charter for twenty-five years, offering to pay the state more than a million dollars per annum for the privilege. A bill, embodying amendments, was adopted by the legislature, and vetoed by a two-thirds vote of the legislature. The secretary of state having refused to promulgate the act, Morris & Co., applied for a mandamus compelling him to promulgate the proposed constitutional amendment for lottery, and the bill by the people at the next general election. The district court to-day rendered a decision in favor of the lottery company.

SULLIVAN HAS A FRIEND.

Frank P. Slavin Visits the Champion and They Talk.

ST. LOUIS, April 27.—Frank Slavin, the well-known pugilist, had a long chat to-day with John L. Sullivan. This evening he said to a reporter that Sullivan told him he was no longer in the ring and that he was bound by contracts for two years that prevented a return to the ring, and furthermore he liked the new profession better. Slavin acknowledges Sullivan as the champion and intends to go for the winner of the Jackson-Corbett fight. He and Sullivan parted the best of friends and Slavin said the man who made a bluff about Sullivan would have to fight him first.

Street-Car Drivers Victorious.

DETROIT, Mich., April 27.—The result of the meeting of the board of arbitration appointed to settle the difference between the City Railway company and its employes is a complete victory for the latter, the company promising to take back all the strikers and give them employment during good behavior. Hereafter all grievances will be arbitrated. To-day about 200 employes of the Michigan car works reported for duty, but the remainder, 2,000 men, drove them away. The strikers presented a demand for an advance of 10 per cent wages. The company promised a reply this afternoon.

A Fast Craft.

WASHINGTON, April 27.—The U. S. steamer San Francisco arrived at Payta, Peru, yesterday en route to Chili. The cruiser is maintaining a reputation as a speedy vessel.

New York at the Fair.

ALBANY, N. Y., April 27.—The world's fair legislation bill passed both branches of the legislature to-day.

Suits to order this week at cost. Zaches, the tailor, opposite post-office.

KILLED BY A FREIGHT TRAIN.

MODESTO, Cal., April 27.—A laboring man named Henry M. Drummond was run over by a freight train at 11 o'clock last night, three miles south of Modesto, while stealing a ride between two freight cars. The man was intoxicated and fell off. His left side and leg were horribly mangled. The man was not found until early this morning. He had been working at Rotterdam colony, Merced county. In his pocket were letters from his father and mother from New York entreatng him to come home. Coroner Phelps is holding an inquest this afternoon.

MURMURS OF WAR.

PREPARATIONS FOR A BLOODY STRUGGLE.

Russia Strengthening Her Fortresses and Getting Military Railway Lines in Order.

BERLIN, April 27.—A Vienna correspondent gives certain details in answer to the denial of warlike preparations by Russia. Several first class fortresses, including Warsaw and Korne, also second and third class fortresses, are being reinforced for the reception of increased quantities of ammunition, provisions, etc. The network of railways leading up to Galicia and Rukovina is now being extended. All these lines are under military supervision, and the stations are supplied with military commanders. Everything has been made ready for the immediate transport of troops. All provincial and municipal officers stand under orders of a committee at St. Petersburg, whose duty it is to prepare for the transformation of the army from a peace to a war footing in the shortest possible time in case of emergency. A new army corps, the Twentieth, is being formed near the Galician frontier. Altogether, the conduct of Russia is said to be that of a nation getting ready for war.

The Cologne Gazette accuses the newspapers of distorting occurrences in Germany with the view of arousing the war sentiment in France.

A Fatal Quarrel.

RENO, April 27.—A Verli special to the Gazette says that last evening John Ramsey and D. Thompson had a difficulty over two other men who were engaged in a fight, when Ramsey drew a pocket knife and plunged it into Thompson's neck, shoulder and side several times. One blow penetrated the chest, between the sixth and seventh ribs, wounding the lung. The other wounds are not serious, being all flesh wounds. Ramsey was arrested.

Private Miller Dead.

WALLA WALLA, April 27.—At a parade this evening a telegraphic message was received from Gen. Ruger, commanding the division of the Pacific, expressing the sense of grief of President Harrison at the act of the soldiers in lynching Hunt Friday night, and declaring the necessity of better conduct in the future and a full explanation of the present crime. Private Miller, who was shot by Hunt, died this evening.

Quiet in the Coke Region.

SCOTSDALE, April 27.—Reports this morning indicated quietness throughout the coke regions. Additional men are reported at work at all plants, except Adelaide, where there is a dispute regarding pay. A Uniontown special says a company of national guards have been ordered to Leis-nring Works No. 1, where trouble is expected, as the strikers have been drilling for some time.

The Slayer of Casey.

STOCK FALLS, S. D., April 27.—The prosecution closed in the case on trial of "Plenty Horse" for the murder of Lieutenant Casey, to-day. The last witness, a half-breed, named Richards, positively stated that "Plenty Horse" shot Casey. The defense in the opening admitted the killing, but argued that the act was committed during the war and that "Plenty Horse's" mind had been fired by the Messiah craze.

GRANT'S BIRTHDAY.

The Annual Commemoration Dinner in New York City.

NEW YORK, April 27.—The annual dinner in commemoration of the birthday of General Grant was held at Delmonico's to-night
