Disturbed a Religious Meeting. Last Sunday evening four young men, Bert Schmidt, Carl Rainwater, M. Hopper and Joe Kelley, having braced up some what by liquid backbones, proceeded across the river to the school house, where divine service was in progress, in search of a gentleman who had given them offense.

Finding the man in the meeting they boldly entered and commenced an assault, which was ended by a lady getting between them and the object of their vengeance. Their action, however, completely broke up the meeting.

Yesterday the young men were in the city trying to compromise the matter, but there was a likelihood that they would finally be arrested for the offense.

More Hops.

Messrs Hansen, father and son, the father being president of the principal Milwaukee Wis., hop and malt company have been seen traveling over this coast and while in Seattle the elder Hansen said: "There is a greatly increased acreage of hops in California, Oregon and Washington principally in California. The prospects are that there will be a vast increase in the production of the coast. This season unless the bee get into the vines after the buds have been formed, as they will if wet weather continues much longer. The outlook in the other hop countries of the world is still uncertain."

Fun At Lebanon.

McMahon's Circus laid over at Lebanon last Sunday, and the result was much fun. About the first feature of the day was a game of baseball between the Lebanon boys and a picked nine from the circus. The result was an overwhelming victory for the Lebanon club. The game was witnessed by a large crowd, and betting was quite lively. In the evening a purse of $10 was raised and two negroes went to the outskirts of the city and indulged in a ten-round grass-snipe prize fight in the pugilistic style. After this a white man and a negro took a turn at it and the result was that the man was soon on his back unable to rise until he was carried out. Aside from this many excursions, the boys "from the hills," and some that were "bumped at the games" and it is so-called one man lost $80 besides numerous others lost smaller amounts. Taken all in all the Sabbath was very pleasantly whiled away.

Under The Snow.

The Post Intelligence relates how Mrs. F. D. Ray, wife of the Rainier hotel and her son Teddie, returned last evening from a visit to Syracuse, N. Y. They came over the city and indulged in a ten-round grass-snipe prize fight in the pugilistic style. After this a white man and a negro took a turn at it and the result was that the man was soon on his back unable to rise until he was carried out. Aside from this many excursions, the boys "from the hills," and some that were "bumped at the games" and it is so-called one man lost $80 besides numerous others lost smaller amounts. Taken all in all the Sabbath was very pleasantly whiled away.

Mysteriously Disappeared.

It was learned yesterday that Wm. Barbour, a well-known furniture dealer of Lebanon, had disappeared under very mysterious circumstances, says the Salem Statesman. A little over two weeks ago he took $800 and went to Portland for the purpose of purchasing new goods. He arrived at the city all right and bought the goods and paid a few small bills. He left no shipping orders for his purchases and after a couple of weeks, one firm he had bought of addressed him at Lebanon, inquiring what he wanted done with the goods.

The World Enriched.

The facilities of the present day or the production of everything that will conduce to the material welfare and comfort of mankind are almost unlimited and when Syrup of Figs was first produced the world was enriched with the only remedy known, as it is the only remedy which is truly pleasant and refreshing to the taste and prompt and effective to cleanse the system gently in the Spring-time or, in fact, at any time any the better it is known the more popular it becomes.

Injurious to the State.

Tacoma Globe: For the reputation of the army, and especially of this department, it is to be hoped that the federal authorities will act promptly in this instance. The old idea that we are more or less uncivilized in the Northwest, which wholly dispelled in the East. Outbreaks of this nature do not tend to improve our standard or to encourage immigration and investment. In this state the law is ample to protect life and property and punish offenders. We have no need to corrupt an inflexible courts and juries. We cannot afford to allow such outbreaks to pass unnoticed.

They Are In It.

Call early and secure the best material to order at cost. Zaches, the tailor, opposite postoffice.

NOTES OF THE NORTHWEST.

Short Paragraphs from Exchanges Throughout the Coast.

Last week the people of The Dalles voted to bond the city for $25,000 to complete the water works.

A slight snowfall surprised the people of Prineville last Friday morning. Those who slept until 7 o'clock failed to see it.

The McMinville Reporter champions the wild currant as the state flower for Oregon. The selection would indeed be appropriate.

Thirty persons were buried in the Jacksonville cemetery during the year 1890. This shows a light death rate in that thickly-populated region.

The farmers in Crook county are about through their spring seeding. The fall grain on the ranches looks healthy, and shows no indications of having been injured by cold weather.

Rev. J. T. Watson has just closed a revival meeting at Falls City, Polk county. About twenty persons were converted, most of whom were heads of families, that had never been converted before.

The Grant county News says: The hydraulic mines of the North Fork have started work. These mines have the best water supply of any in the country, and will perhaps not close down before next November.

Canyon creek, in Grant county has been located as mining ground with the intention of incorporating a stock company and working the ground by means of hydraulic elevators. A million dollars is estimated as laying in the flat.

The engineers who are locating a railroad line from The Dalles to Tugh valley find an excellent roadbed and a practical route over which to construct a railroad.

Were it not for the Deschutes headwaters, the Oregon Review might be possible that this proposed line would be extended to Prineville.

Charles Cooper, of Prineville, has been arrested, charged with killing to line mares belonging to T. F. Buchanan by feeding them pulverized glass and iron filings.

Cooper was held in $5000 bonds. The incident on which he was held was all circumstantial, though of sufficient importance to warrant the matter being inquired into by the grand jury.

A runaway horse and wagon in Victoria, B. C., tore down six ancient awnings last Sunday.

Some of them had been standing for thirty years and were a nuisance to every one who walked under them. The Colonel suggests that the horse be decorated with a silver medal and be placed on the retired list with a full pension for removing such dangerous obstructions.

Back From The Siuslaw.

The Oregonian says that Major Handbury, Captain Symons and Lieutenant Burr, United States engineers, who were recently appointed a board to examine the mouth of the Siuslaw and prepare a project for improving it, returned yesterday from a visit to that place. They had rather a rough trip, as they had to travel all the way from Eugene to the coast in an open buckboard, and it rained all the time. Neither Major Handbury nor Captain Symons had ever been over to the Siuslaw before, and they were surprised to see so much good country along the coast. They also were able to learn what a fine route there is for a railroad from the Willamette to the coast down the Siuslaw, the pass through the mountains being only 700 feet above tide water.

They passed a party of surveyors, about twenty in number, engaged in locating a railroad over this route and were informed that there was no doubt but that the road would be built. The people of Siuslaw are very anxious to trade with Portland and are anxiously looking for the placing of a steamer on the route between Portland and Coos Bay, which will have their goods sent to that place and will have a boat run from Siuslaw there. At present they procure goods from San Francisco by way of Yaquina which is unsatisfactory on account of the delays which occur. The examining board held a meeting yesterday to consider the project they are to prepare but did not arrive at any conclusion.
