

Morning Daily Herald

ON SALE. THE DAILY HERALD will be on sale each morning at H. J. Jones book store, where it can be procured at 5 cents per copy.

JOTTINGS ABOUT TOWN.

P. J. LaPorte is recovering from a siege of typhoid fever. Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Pfeiffer, of Portland, are in the city. Joseph Klein and wife returned last evening from Portland.

F. L. Such and wife came up from Portland last evening. Mrs. H. F. Hollenbeck has returned from a visit to Eugene. The river is very nearly as high now as it has been any time this winter.

Jay W. Blain and E. S. Barrows have gone to Southern Oregon on business.

Charles Parkes, of Tacoma, is spending a few days with friends in this city.

Claud Mansfield is in the city, having come down from the hot springs on the Upper Santiam.

Mrs. W. S. Petes, who has been visiting in this city, has returned to her home in San Leandro, Cal.

J. W. Cusick, D. B. Monteith, J. J. Dubruille and C. W. Watts came up from Portland last evening.

C. F. Cocker, of the Southern Pacific Co., was a passenger on the overland Portland bound train yesterday.

Let every member of the Y. M. C. A. be present at the meeting in the new rooms to-night at 8 o'clock, important.

The Salem Journal notes that marriage license has been issued to Miss Lucena Ryland, of Woodburn and Mr. O. L. Baltimore, of Albany.

Mrs. A. D. Barker and daughter Maggie have gone to California. They will remain some time in the hope of benefiting Miss Maggie's health.

Eugene has been selected as the place for the annual encampment of the Second regiment, of the Oregon National Guard. The citizens there have raised $1200 for that purpose.

Jack Smiley, catcher of the Albany base ball nine, while taking one of Larimore's wicked curves last evening tore a finger nail off of his left hand, which will disable him from active playing for a few days.

Summer has come at last and the Ladies Bazaar is now fully prepared to supply you with everything in the furnishing goods line for ladies and children. They have the largest line of childrens dresses and aprons ever shown in this city and at surprisingly low rates.

The Body to Be Shipped to Canada. The remains of W. M. Barbour, the Lebanon merchant, murdered for his money in Portland and thrown into the river, have been placed in a hermetically sealed casket, and will be shipped to London, Ontario, as soon as Mrs. Barbour can settle up her business affairs at Lebanon. Although almost heart-broken over the death of her husband, Mrs. Barbour insisted upon seeing the remains, and she bore up under the ordeal with great fortitude. She says she is going back to her old home in Canada, and she wants to bury the body of her husband there. There is still no clue to the murderer, although several men are suspected.

Base Ball Challenge. The "Linn's" base ball club, of Albany, Oregon, hereby challenges the "Albany's" to play a game of nine innings on their grounds in the city of Albany after May 21, for $50 a side, one dozen league balls, ten bats, chest protector, and catcher's mask and mitts. We also challenge any club in Lebanon or Corvallis, or the "Mascots," of Albany to play for $50 a side, a forfeit of $30 to be put up in the hands of the sporting editor of the Albany Herald on the day the challenge is accepted.

F. E. McMillan, Manager pro tem.

Linn County Crops. The condition of crops in Linn county up to the present has never been better and the outlook is flattering for a bountiful yield of grain. Reports from various parts of the county show that recent prolonged rains have flooded some fields of growing grain. From this cause slight damage has been done to wheat on low lands, but should fair weather follow the damage will not be appreciable. Over an average acreage has been sown, and present prospects are that the crop of 1891 in Linn county will be heavy.

Hail Storm. Quite a severe hail storm took place near Plainville on Wednesday. Its path was only about a mile wide, but in it the wheat leaves were beaten from the stalks, leaves from trees and wind-blown lights broken. No serious damage was thought to have resulted from it.

Alumni Meeting. The Alumni Association of the Albany Collegiate Institute is requested to meet for business on Friday evening, May 8, at 8 o'clock, at the residence of David P. Mason.

FLORENCE MASON, Secretary. DAVID P. MASON, President.

Horse Killed. A horse owned by E. L. Bryan had its leg broken by the engine of the Albany local train Wednesday evening, and the poor beast was killed by the marshal to end its misery.

THE COUNTY COURT.

The Commissioners of the New Bridge at Ellsworth Street.

Where Butter Brings Only Ten Cents a Pound is No Place to Live.

"Good butter is 10 cents a pound," says a Kansas exchange. This settles it. That paper gives its opinion a black eye right there. It advertises that place as a good one to live. Where butter will bring only 10 cents a pound is no place for live people stay. It shows that money is scarce.—Astorian.

The brilliant prospects of a few weeks ago for crops in Kansas are being barred up by hot winds. A man now lives in Salem who has harvested seven crops of potatoes in Kansas, and never realized a dollar from them.—Salem Statesman.

Yesterday's papers announced that a small green bug had attacked Kansas wheat and oats, and was killing it out. Between the goldbug and the greenbug the ordinary Jayhawk stands a slim chance.—Newberg Graphic.

Columbia Rising. From The Dalles Times-Mountaineer comes the report that the Columbia is rising at the rate of five feet every forty-eight hours at Kettle Falls, according to the measurement taken by the government engineers. The Pioneer says the engineers will break camp at Grand Rapids, just below Kettle Falls, the latter part of this week and move on down the river. The water is too high to permit close observations of the obstructions at that point, but by crowding the work by night and day Mr. Cuthbert has obtained data sufficient to enable him to make a close estimate of the cost of removing them, and also of constructing a portage railway from a point below the rapids to the island above the Kettle Falls. It is believed that he will recommend the latter in preference to blasting at the rapids and locks at the falls. The engineer corps will go into camp at Fort Spokane and wait for low water to complete their work.

Small Robberies. F. N. Woodworth, who lives on Howell prairie, was in Salem to see the president Tuesday. He was in the jam at the state house, and during that time had his hip pocket picked of seventy-five cents in small change in a purse. He had two other purses in other pockets on his person, containing nearly $300, but the thief only got the seventy-five cents. A. A. Miller, pressman of the Statesman, with family, was out to see the president, and upon his return home discovered that someone had entered his residence on Union street and stolen three loaves of bread, eight glasses of jelly, and a piece of meat from the pantry. Whoever did this evidently was hungry, and if he will just return the jelly glasses Mr. Miller will be satisfied.—Statesman.

Steamer Ashore. The steam schooner Record went ashore on the south spit at the mouth of the Siuslaw last week. She was loaded and was passing out and must have missed the channel as the steamer Chance passed over the bar next day and reported thirteen feet of water on the bar. The latest reports say the Record will probably get off with the loss of her rudder and propeller. A large part of her cargo consisted of lumber and barrels of salmon, and part of this was thrown overboard. The steamer is owned by San Francisco parties.—Eugene Register.

Brought to the Asylum. John Cyr was brought up to the asylum to-day. Cyr's demented condition is due to the excessive use of alcohol. Seven years ago he landed in Astoria penniless, and in five years he had accumulated wealth to the amount of $20,000, principally in timber lands. During that time he was a constant user of strong drink. For the past two years he has hardly seen a sober day and has run through with considerable of his property and deformed his reason by drink.—Salem Journal.

She Didn't Die. On the 13th of last December Mrs. Horace Smith of Evansville said to her family: "I shall die on the 11th of April, and you can all prepare for it." On the 11th she dropped down on her bed to die as per programme, but her husband wrenched there with a syringe of cold water to make her jump, and the dying performance was therefore declared off until next winter.

Our Cash Lenders. Don't fail to call every day at Mueller & Garrett's and secure their leaders for spot cash only. They have just received a fine line of staple and fancy groceries to be sold at the lowest cash figures. Call and see their leaders to-day; it will pay you well.

A Correction. In a correspondence from Eugene, recently published in the Herald an allusion was made to Fairmount addition which needs correction. The statement that the property was likely to pass into the hands of the sheriff was a mistake and without foundation. The men who have control of the property are perfectly reliable, and have means to carry out all their plans.

He is to sympathize With. The Astoria Sentinel says: The pro tem editor of this sheet has a bowl in a very uncomfortable place which he offers as an excuse for mistakes and scarcity of news in this issue.

Special Notice. We have just received a fine lot of California canned honey, clipped, best, peaches, apricots, pears, etc. Don't fail to try them, at Mueller & Garrett's.

SPEEDING EASTWARD

THE PRESIDENT LEAVES FOR THE EAST.

The Party Returned to Portland—The Trip Through Eastern Oregon—At Pendleton.

PORTLAND, May 7.—President Harrison and party returned to this city from the South at 4:02 this morning and left at 7:17 a. m. The president was not up in time to appear to the public before departing, but gave a lasty glance out of the window and waved his hand to the people alongside, as the train moved slowly out.

Short stops were made at the Cascades, The Dalles and Celilo. At the latter place the president visited the salmon canneries and was presented with a box of fresh caught salmon.

PENDLETON, May 7.—The president and party visited Pendleton at 5:10 o'clock this evening, and had a grand reception.

EXPERIENCE IN EASTERN OREGON. During the afternoon the presidential party made short stops at Arlington and Umatilla Junction, consisting of the Dalles and Celilo, were manifested by the residents of the former place. Umatilla, however, being the questionable distinction of being the only place yet visited that allowed the occasion to pass without recognition of any kind. A few people were assembled at the station and the president stepped out on the rear platform to greet them, but they made no demonstration whatever. Soon after leaving this point, the travelers were treated to a sand storm which threatened at one time to result in a blockade, but the wind fell slightly and the train maintained its schedule. Pendleton was in gala attire. The throng was swelled by excursionists from Wala Wala and other places. The presence of about a hundred Indians, "men and women," dressed in blankets and feathers gave a picturesque coloring to the scene. They belonged to the Umatilla, Cayuse and Wala Wala tribes and were all well mounted. Their leader carried an American flag.

In response to an address of welcome, the president greeted the veterans, pioneers and children present, and to all he gave assurance that these distant states are not forgotten by those who for the time are chosen to administer public affairs at Washington.

THE INDIAN CHIEFS MAKE SPEECHES. Postmaster General Wainmaker was called for, and he made a brief speech. Addresses were also made by Ya-Tina-Ya, chief of the Cayuses, and Peo, chief of the Umatillas. The former took occasion to complain of the sale of a portion of the reservation allotted to his tribe, and said it was contrary to the agreement. Peo said that the Umatillas would continue to be friendly to the government. During the speechmaking some of the squaws and trinkets to Mrs. Harrison and Mrs. Dimmick at four or five times their retail value. The president fully appreciated them.

About four miles out from Pendleton the train stopped to allow the president to receive the pupils of the Umatilla Indian school.

BAKER CITY, May 7.—The people of La Grande illuminated their city to-night and turned out in force to greet the presidential party. Mayor Finn boarded the train and delivered an address of welcome, to which fitting responses were made by the president and postmaster-general.

By special invitation a stop was made at 10:45 o'clock to-night at Baker City, where the visitors had a rousing reception. The president and Postmaster-General Wainmaker spoke to the crowd and their remarks were loudly applauded. Secretary Rusk suffering from a cold contracted yesterday and took no part in today's demonstrations. He expects to be able, however, to greet his friends in Idaho to-morrow.

Electric Lights and Eyesight. Dr. John H. Payne, oculist, says: "Most persons who use the incandescent electric lights like a new lamp because the light is whiter and more brilliant than after the lamp has been in use for two or three weeks. This is wrong. It is this dazzling white light that causes the eye to become tired, and the best, for in these lights has become changed to a pale yellow, which is the ideal color. Just as in noon-day brightness human sight is not so clear and far-reaching as at the yellow sunset, so a new incandescent burner is not so good for the eye as an old one. An old burner so adjusted and shaded that the light from it does not shine in the face, is the ideal artificial light. An argand gas burner comes next. The use of the arc light should be confined to street lamps. Some store keepers still use them, but they are terribly injurious to the eye. This is because the intensity of the light is constantly changing, and this jarring of the blaze is much worse for the eye than the flicker of the gaslight. I have had occasion to treat a great many people for inflammation of the retina caused by working by the light of arc lamps."—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Witchcraft in Mexico. There are still several tribes of Indians in Mexico which believe in witchcraft, and the other week a woman was killed because it was pretended that she drove over into the United States and filled up the space with rain.

COAST NOTES.

The Baker City Reveille has discontinued its daily edition. That's better. A daily newspaper in a weekly town is a poor investment for both the proprietor and his patrons.

Cedar logs which were cut back in the 50's in Snishish county, by McClellan's army during the Northwest boundary dispute are still sound, though overgrown with moss and brush.

The interior department has just issued 208 patents for Oregon city lots. These lots were granted by act of congress of September 27, 1860, and the owners think that forty years is plenty long enough to wait for a little.

The house on the old home ranch of Senator Hilton, on Pine creek, Gilliam county, was destroyed by fire last Wednesday afternoon. The fire originated in a defective flue.

The State teachers' Association will begin at Yaquina bay about the last day of next June and continue in session till July 4, when John F. Caples will deliver one of his soul-stirring orations.

The First Congregational church of Tualatin will be dedicated May 17. The sermon will be preached by Rev. T. E. Clapp, R. C. F. Clapp, D. L. Forberg, W. W. Eldridge, D. Staver and R. M. Jones will assist in the services.

Barney Goldsmith, the late democratic nominee for United States senator, was introduced to President Harrison here, says the Salem Journal, though his small stature made it difficult for him to reach the platform of the car to shake hands.

Each Brook, from Stockton, Cal., started Tuesday morning from The Dalles, to drive 1,000 head of sheep to their own state, which they have purchased exclusively in this county. They bought 200 spring lambs, which are to be delivered in Reno the coming fall.

The Eugene Journal says that a large iron tank, about 50 feet in diameter, has been placed upon brick foundation near the railroad track a short distance west of the Eugene mills. It is to contain petroleum. The standard Oil Company will make Eugene a distributing point.

Joseph Connor, who died at his home near Sisters, Crook county, April 26 of a gripple, was born in Indiana in May, 1831. He came to Oregon in 1852, and was well known throughout Linn county in 1883 with his brother James, where they engaged in farming. He leaves three brothers.

THE WORLD ENRICHED. The facilities of the present day for the production of everything that will conduce to the material welfare and comfort of mankind are almost unlimited and when Syrup of Figs was first produced the world was enriched with the only perfect laxative known, as it is the only remedy which is truly pleasing and refreshing to the taste and prompt and effectual to cleanse the system generally in the shortest time, or, in fact, at any time any the better it is known the more popular it becomes.

BUSINESS LOCALS. Ribbons at cost at Sears. Klein's $3 shoe box on all. Hulin & Dawson, druggists. French keeps railroad time. Nice greens at Parker Bros. Conn & Hendrickson, grocers. Vunk corner of second and Ferry street and see samples. Try Conn & Hendrickson's svrup, the finest in the market. Retail in quantities to suit. If you want a durable mount go to E. W. Achison, who are handling nothing but the best grades. Have you seen those beautiful cement walls in the center of a put up by E. W. Achison, at all the cost of stone. The Ladies Bazaar continues to lead in the millinery line. Remember they have the latest city styles and the lowest prices. Do you want to be happy and make those about you pleased, if so go and get one of those lovely toned piano's at Mrs. Hymans.

Teachers Examination.

Notice is hereby given that the regular public examination of teachers, for Linn county, will take place in Albany, commencing on Wednesday, May 27 at 10 o'clock p. m. and continue until Friday noon, May 29. All teachers must positively be present at the time of commencement, as no one will be admitted to the examination who is not so present.
