Albany, after being in a white heat for several weeks over the bridge question, has decided to build a high bridge in the upper end of town. Property interests were the cause of the division of sentiment. To a disinterested observer the selection is the best that could be made. A drawbridge would be a source of endless expense and annoyance.—Eugene Guard.

POOR BALL PLAYING.

The Lebanons Defeated in the Second Game in This City Yesterday.

The second game in the series between the Albanys and Lebanons occurred in this city yesterday afternoon. The game was called at 2:20, with Pres B. Marshall as umpire, who did the job fairly and impartially.

The positions of the nines were as follows: Albanys—Rennie, c; Larimore, p; Marshall, 1b; Huston, 2b; Young, 3b; Rietzke, l f; Welch, c f; Leimert, r f; Van Wilson, s s.

Lebanons — Galoway, c; Cunningham, p; Wright, 1b; Nickerson, 2b; Lewis, 3b; Beard, s s; Monfore, l f; Klepper, c f; Shaw rf.

The afternoon was clear and not excessively warm, and the large number of spectators expected to see a close game, but were more or less disappointed. Cunningham, who is said to have played with the San Franciscos, was in the pitcher's box for the Lebanons. Beard went to the bat and retired gracefully on a grounder, which Larimore put to first. Monfore made first on Rennie's passed ball. Cunningham struck out. Rennie's muff sent Monfore to third. Wright struck out to Larimore, and retired the side.

Marshall took the bat for the Albanys and went to first on illegal delivery. Rietzke took his base on balls and stole neatly to second. Van Wilson took first on illegal delivery. Marshall stole home, making the first score. Young hit to third and went out on first. Rietzke scored. Welch made a safe hit to first but ran out at second, and Wilson scored. Larimore went to first on illegal delivery, the Frisco pitcher seemingly being out of practice. Larimore stole home. Rennie made a safe hit to first and stole second. Leimert took first on a dead ball. Huston struck out.

Klepper took the bat to open the second inning, and struck out. Lewis flew out to Larimore. Shaw was gracefully fanned out, striking vainly at Larimore's curves.

Marshall took the bat for the Albanys, and found Crawford's up curve, but neglected to reach first. Rietzke hit a foul and "shorty" had it. Van Wilson went out to third, the inning closing with a clean score for each side.

In the third inning Nickerson went out at first on Rennie's throw. Galloway found Larimore and made first. Beard sent a daisy to center field which Welch muffed. Monfore struck out. Cunningham flew out to Rietzke, retiring the side.

The Albanys then went to the bat. Young went out at first. Welch did the same. Larimore went to first on balls, and stole second and third. Rennie hit to first and Larimore scored. Leimert sent a two-bagger "over the fence," and Rennie scored. Huston took first on a dead ball. Klepper muffed Marshall's fine fly and sent Leimert home. Rietzke made a two-bagger, and Huston scored. Van Wilson hit to first and Marshall scored. Rietzke went out at the home plate.

In the fourth inning the Lebanons again retired without a score.

The Albanys did some fine batting and pile up ten runs, Rietzke sending a fly across the diamond, bringing everybody home and making a home run. The Lebanons became rattled and did some wild throwing.

In the fifth inning Larimore was tired; the fielders fumbled the ball and the Lebanons scored eight times. Wright went into the pitcher's box for the Lebanons. The Albanys couldn't find him and retired with two runs.

The game was then uneventful to the close. Wright's arm was weak and gave out. Cunningham was batted out of the box and Monfore tried it. The Albanys were too much for them, however, and the game at the end of the eighth inning stood Albanys 33, Lebanons 11. The latter made six more scores in the first half of the ninth inning, when the game closed.

The score by innings stood:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
Lebanons	0	0	0	0	0	8	2	0	1	11
Albanys	4	0	5	10	2	2	6	4	—	33

There was a big score of errors on both sides. The game lasted two hours and thirty minutes.

Had Wright's arm been all right the Lebanons would have given the Albanys a close rub.

"Shorty" Galaway is a daisy catcher, and helped the Lebanons amazingly, but he could not play it alone.

Leimert, Larimore and Rietzke each distinguished himself in pulling down some of the Lebanon's hot flies.

Juvenile Base Ballists

Friday afternoon on the Third ward grounds a game of ball was played between the following boys' clubs: Burkhart nine—Walter Farrell, c; Oscar Zevss, p; Henry Zaches, ss; Fred McDonald, 1st b; John Talt, 2nd b; Ed Palmer, r f; John Chiswell, c f; Third ward nine—Rocky Willis, c; Fred Weatherford, p; Jos. Sternburg, s s; Albert Senders, 1st b; Harry Cusick, 2nd b; Wade Davis, 3rd b; Robert Ashby, l f; Frank Layton, c f; Ed Zevss, r f. The score, after a hotly contested game, was 13 to 9 in favor of the Third ward boys.

That Explosion.

A loud explosion which shook windows in this city and even in Tangent, seven miles away, was heard on Friday evening about 9 o'clock. It occasioned considerable conjecture as to its cause. It is learned that it was a huge charge of dynamite used by R. S. Barkhart in blowing out an obstinate big stump on his place adjoining the city.

Have you seen those beautiful cement walls in the cemetery, put up by E. W. Achison, at all the cost of stone.

THE FIRE FIENDS AGAIN.

Another Barn Burned Last Evening by Unknown Incendiaries.

At 9 o'clock last evening the ringing of the fire bell again called out the department on the double quick. This time the fire was located in a barn owned by James Hanon, in the rear of Isaac Beam's grocery store on Jackson street. The barn, which was a small affair, was consumed. The fire was evidently of incendiary origin, and was no doubt set by the miserable villains who have been the authors of the other fires recently.

The police are puzzled at the motives of the incendiaries, and as yet have no clue as to their identity, but they are vigilant, and the guilty parties will doubtless be brought to justice, in which event their punishment will be by no means light.

COAST NOTES.

La Grande is rejoicing over the successful plant of the Brick & Tile company just organized at that place. The first clip of brick will be ready for burning this week.

A. C. Cook, of Union, went over to La Grande a week ago expecting to return the same day and has not been seen since. He had only $7 with him. It is feared he has been foully dealt with.

Price Bros., of Coquille City, on Friday last felled the largest red cedar yet in that locality. It measured thirteen feet in diameter at the butt, and they expect to realize 100,000 shingles out of it.

The Eagle creek mines seem to be attracting quite a lot of prospectors this season, and they are opening some fine looking quartz ledges. If only capital would get hold of the gold field Union county's output would exceed the rest of Oregon in precious metals in a comparatively short time.

An Indian row occured at Sambo bar, Klamath river recently in which two Indians were killed. The difficulty grew out of the superstitious notion that one Indian gave an Indian girl some kind of medicine under the influence of which she was seduced from the home of her parents.

Pleasant Surprise Party.

A pleasant surprise party was tendered Miss Mamie Cox, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Cox, at their elegant new residence in the Third ward, last evening. A number of friends assembled and assisted in an informal house warming. The residence was planned and built by Mr. Cox and is an ornament to the city. Some delightful music was furnished by Mr. Cox on the violin and Miss Mamie Cox and Miss Kate Senior on the piano. Ice cream and cake were served, and a most enjoyable evening was spent. Those present were:

Misses Clara Pentley, Zella Parker, Jessie Hunter, Anna Hunt, Daisy Stroup, Kate Senior, Lillie McHargue, Maud Warmouth; Messrs. S. W. Paisley, Wm. Richards, Merrill Phillips, Harry Baldwin, F. E. Dorris, L. Ross, Harry Palmer, Andrew Hunter, James Hunter, J. D. James, Harry Price.

A Desprate Prisoner.

Friday evening about 7 o'clock Sheriff Croisan entered the county jail and had a narrow escape from death at the hands of a prisoner named Clark. Clark is a tough character, held for robbery committed at Turner. Several days ago he attempted to break jail, but was frustrated. He was put in the murderers' cell. At night the sheriff went in to see him. Clark had torn his bedstead up and obtained a stick of oak wood three feet long with which he intended to knock the sheriff down and escape. The sheriff was too quick, and ordered him to stop three times. He then shot at him, but the ball missed. Clark was then subdued. He is a bad character, and a noted jail breaker. He was put in the dark room. The sheriff was in the southern part of the county to-day to see about taxes, taxes when an insane woman attacked him with a pitchfork. He had a narrow escape.

A THANKFUL PARSON.

A pious parson good and true
Was crossing o'er the seas,
When suddenly there fiercely blew
A wild and sweeping breeze.
He feared the storm the ship would wreck,
His heart was sore afraid.
He sought the captain on the deck
And found him undismayed.

The captain saw his awful fear,
And led him up to where
The servant of the Lord could hear
The sailors loudly swear.
"You clearly see," the captain said,
"If danger hovered nigh.
They'd all be on their knees instead
And asking grace to die.

The parson felt his words were true,
And when the skies grew fair
He marvelled how the sailors knew
Just when to pray or swear.
But when the seas wildly flowed
Had ceased to plunge and spout
Unto himself he said: "It showed
They know what they're about."

But later on another storm
Came fiercer than before,
The parson heard with wild alarm
The ocean's angry roar.
He sought the deck in awful dread
To near the sailors get.
He listened—then he bowed his head—
"Thank God, they're swearing yet."
