NEGRO MINERS

Their Employment Leads to Serious Results.

THE WHITE MINERS STRIKE.

The Force Tried to Induce All to Strike, But Without Success—Firing on a Mining Train.

SEATTLE, May 19.—A special to the Post-Intelligencer from the Franklin mines says that everything is quiet there, although the dead line guarded by Pinkerton's is maintained. The white miners are showing signs of yielding. Several families left town to-day, selling their shanties, which were built on the company's property, to the company, which puts the negroes in possession at once. An increased force of negroes was put to work this morning and more will be put in to-morrow. A party of white miners went to the house of J. S. Fry, the white engineer of the engine, who refused to quit work, and assailed his wife verbally, so that she had to take refuge with her husband in the engine house. At Eewcastle, the other camp of the Oregon Improvement Co., the feeling runs very high, because a few men have stayed at work at the pumps and engines. Between 20 and 30 shots were fired at a special train at 9:30 last night while it was making the run from Cool Creek to Newcastle, a distance of two miles. Sheriff Woolery and Deputy McDonald were on the engine and several bullets whistled past their faces, but no one was hit.

DYNAMITE EXPLOSION.

A Train Demolished and Eighteen Men Killed.

TARRYTOWN, May 19.—Just before noon to-day a work train on the Hudson River road was blown to atoms near here, by an explosion of dynamite being transported for use in the track construction. There were probably thirty-four men upon the train, eighteen of whom were killed and the remainder seriously, and some fatally wounded. Many of the dead were blown into the river and five bodies still remain there. The train was torn in pieces, the track ripped from the road bed and a great hole torn in the earth. There were twenty-four cases of dynamite in the first car on the train, each containing fifty pounds. A spark from the engine, it is said, set fire to a greasy rope coiled in front of the packages and the explosion followed. Its force was terriffic, walls of houses in Tarrytown being shaken and some cracked, and window glass fell in showers to the sidewalks. Scores of clocks were stopped. As rapidly as possible the wounded were cared for by surgeons and removed to hospitals. Ten of those killed were picked up along the track, while five were taken from the river. Three of the injured died shortly after being picked up. It is believed there are still some bodies in the river, and the total number of killed will be twenty or more.

ANOTHER CONGRESS.

The Trans-Mississippi Financial Congress Assembles at Denver.

DENVER, May 19.—North, South and West sank all sectional interest at the first session of the trans-Mississippi congress, which opened here to-day. When the convention was called to order by Mr. Fishback, chairman of the local organization, fully a thousand delegates were present. Governor Routte on behalf of the state welcomed the delegates. Chairman Fishback deprecated the sectional bitterness, but warned the convention not to be blinded by the vital question awaiting settlement. Despite developments nine states in the New England corner of the country controlled the wealth of the people. They dominated politics and succeeded in demonetizing silver.

At the afternoon session, Mayor Shakespeare, of New Orleans, made speech in which he referred to the recent events in New Orleans, and said he thanked the people of the United States for the manner in which he was upheld in trying to do his duty as an American citizen. It is thought that ex-Governor Anthony of Kansas, will be elected permanent chairman to-morrow.

COUZINS AGAIN.

Her Motion to Remend Her Case to the State Court Denied.

CHICAGO, May 19.—The case of Miss Phoebe Couzins, seeking to compel the executive committee of the board of lady managers of the Worlds fair to restore her to the secretaryship, came up before federal Judge Blodgett to-day, on Miss Couzins motion to remand the case to the state court. Judge Blodgett denied the motion.

Chance for the Court-Martial.

NEW YORK, May 10.—A Washington special says that when the Omaha turned up at San Diego the other day, just after the Itata had gone to sea, a long cipher dispatch was sent her. Department officials were much surprised to receive an answer saying the dispatch could not be read as there was no cipher code aboard the ship. The Omaha is on her way home from the Adriatic station, and Admiral Belknap, commandant at that station, and Captain Cromwell, commander of the ship, will probably be called upon to explain why the Omaha was at sea without a copy of the code which is one of the essential features of the ship's outfit.

The Use of Tears.

Newcastle Chronicle.

The use of tears is not generally appreciated, even by those who shed them most freely. It is assumed that tears are shed occasionally as an expression of grief, though tears of joy are not wholly unknown. This, however, is a mistake, for the discharge of tears continuous, and the flow of moisture from the lachrymal glands serves a very beautiful provision of nature. An immense quantity of fine dust is always floating in the air, and though this is impalpable to the vision, it would soon obscure the sight if allowed to remain in the eyes. The continuous flow of moisture from the lachrymal glands is sufficient to keep the eyeballs clear from this accumulation of dust, but when any grit, insect or smoke gets into the eyes it so effects the nerves as to cause an extra flow of tears to clear it away. Tears are thus involuntary, and may be caused by any pungent vapor, such as arise from acids or the odor of onions. The chief element in the composition of a tear is water, but with water is associated minute proportions of salt, soda, phosphate of lime, phosphate of soda and mucus; and when seen under the microscope a tear after evaporation looks like a very small fish bone, owing to the salines forming themselves into lengthened crosslines.

MARTIAL LAW.

ARMED SOLDIERS PATROL THE STREETS IN PORT AuPRINCE

The Deposed President of Hayti Said to be Responsible for the State of Affairs.

NEW YORK, May 19.—Martial law has been proclaimed in Port AuPrince. Armed soldiers patrol the streets night and day, and no one is allowed to enter or leave the city without a passport. The Haytian capitol is literally in a state of seige, and the cause of this condition of affairs is the agitation caused by the supporters of General Legets, the deposed president. This news is contained in letters received by merchants engaged in the Haytian trade in New York. It is also announced that the minister of finance and foreign affairs in President Hippolyte's cabinet has resigned, though no explanation is given. The report that an attempt had been made on the life of President Hippolyte is absolutely denied. The exact date on which martial law was proclaimed in the Haytian capital is not given. For months, though, it was said the supporters of Legitime have been actively engaged in stirring up a feeling against the present administration. The deposed president, who is now sojourning in Jamaica, it is said, has been regularly posted in the work of his secret emissaries.

President Hippolyte, however, has not been napping, and he is now determined to nip the threatened uprising in the bud, and at the same time if possible, to bring the guilty ones justice.

Tornado vs. Cyclone.

NEW ORLEANS, May 18.—A great lightweight glove fight between Andy Bowen, the "Louisiana Tornado," and Billy Meyer the "Streator Cyclone" occurred to-night in the famous Olympic club. Nearly 3000 people witnessed the fight. Betting was $100 on Meyer to $80 on Bowen. Bowen won the fight in the twenty-third round on a foul.

An Aged Hero.

Charles Brown, whose heroism in rescuing Mrs. Geisel and her children from the Indians during the Indian wars in Southern Oregon, was called to public notice recently by a correspondent of the Oregonian, is now a resident of Crescent City, Cal. He writes to correct a statement made by the correspondent that he was a Russian Jew. He is a native of Russia and came to America at the age of 18, but is a Christian. He is now 67 years old and unable to make a living by manual labor. He is a Mexican veteran, but has not yet received any aid from the government. This brave man certainly deserves consideration from his adopted country.

Stung to Death by Locusts.

ALGIERS, May 19.—The French savant, M. Kunket Herculais, president of the Ethnological society, who was employed on the government mission investigating the locust plague, met with a horrible death while examining the deposits of the locusts eggs at the village of Sideral. He was overcome with fatigue and heat, and fell asleep on the ground, and was attacked by a swarm of locusts and stung to death.

THE CONVENTION

National Union Party Trying to Be Born At Cincinnati.

PLATFORM IS EVOLVING.

Ignatius Donnelly a Leading Member of the Committee—Perhaps It Will Be a Cryptogram Platform.

CINCINNATI, May 19.—The National Union Conference begins its session to-day. The formality of the election was dispensed with, and C. F. Cunningham of Arkansas was introduced as temporary chairman. He made an appeal for harmony.

The committee on resolutions were appointed with instructions to go into session at once, and prepare a platform. Among the numbers are: California, H. E. Dillon; Iowa, J. B. Weaver; Minnesoto, Ignatius Donnelly; Wyoming, H. E. Sheare. The convention adjourned until to-morrow.

CINCINNATTI, May.—The committee on resolutions met this evening and organized by making Ignatius Donnelly, of Minnesota, chairman. Members who emerged at intervals from the committee room predicted the committee would work harmoniously and said the St Louis platform would be taken as the basis upon which to proceed. The "third party on the spot" enthusiasts to-night blossomed out with many pieces of blue ribbon about an inch square on their badges. One of them said when asked its meaning.

"The child is already born and we mean to put clothes on it right away," intimating that the growth of the new party spirit had been such that those who had been concealing their real sentiments from prudential motives are inclined to throw off their mask and urge immediate action in the matter. The committee on permanent organization to-night selected Senator Peffer for permanent chairman. Hugh Kavanaugh, of Cincinnati, J. A. Brooks, president of the national farmers' alliance, and Gideon and Delameter, of Colorado, an old-time greenbacker, were made vice-chairmen.

A largely attended mass meeting was held to-night. The orator of the evening was Senator Pfeffer of Kansas. He began by saying these people before him were harbingers of a revolution that will dethrone money and re-establish the authority of the people. It is a movement not to destroy but to create, not to tear down but to build up; not to destroy the wealth of the rich but to restore to labor its just reward. Referring to a placard on the balcony of the hall, "Nine million mortgaged homes," Pfeffer said it told volumes. "What shall we do with money power? We'll raise up a power among the people, make our own money and use it. (Tremendous applause.) Take their railroads? No, we'll build our own (more applause). We'll fight with ballots and prayer, for the alliance is in a great messure taking the place of churches. Pfeffer closed by giving the new party a great boom in these words: "Does this mean a new party?" (Cries of yes.) "What else are we here for? The prophecy of the hour is that a new party is to be born here, and its name is to be the national party. (Great applause.)

General Master Workman Powderly addressed the meeting. Among other things he said: "The Knights of Labor will vote the principles of their organization and when you form a party embodying such principles as has been announced here to-night, you will find every knight of labor standing at the polls and doing his full duty." The meeting dispersed cheering again and again for Powderly and the knights of labor.

A Bogus Land Detective.

SPOKANE FALLS, May 19.—A bogus special agent of the general land office has been operating through Eastern Washington for the past week with good success. He goes by the names of Pendleton, Pemberton, Zemberton and Temberton. He threatens sawmill men with prosecution for buying timber from settlers who have not yet proved up on their claims and has bulldozed so far as heard from, five or six men out of sums ranging from $200 to $500. When last heard from he was in the Okanogan district. Advices from Washington say he has no connection with the general land office. He has operated around Walla Walla and through the Big Bend country.

Pressed Into the Service.

TACOMA, May 10.—Dan Gallagher, who claims to be the son of ex-councilman of Portland, and tells a story of his experience with boarding house keepers. Gallagher says, last summer, while at Astoria, he took a drink in Grants boarding house and in a short time became unconscious. When he recovered he says Larry Sullivan, and another boarding house keeper, were carrying him aboard a ship, he resisted and was terribly beaten. They took him aboard the ship Charles S. Bement bound for Europe. While on the Columbia river bar he jumped overboard, some one immediately began shooting at him, hitting him on the thigh, he was finally picked up and fed on bread and water for eight days. The ship reached Dublin, Ireland, and when the crew were being paid off Gallagher refused to take money. The captain tried to pursuade him to sign articles, offering him good wages during the entire trip. This he refused and referred the matter to the U. S. consul, who took testimony and forward it to U. S. court at Portland. The Bement is due in Portland in a few weeks.

Still Buried in The Deep.

Speaking of the drowning of a beautiful young lady on Sunday evening, by being thrown from a row boat in which she and a young gentleman were boatriding near Swan Island, below Portland by swells made by a passing steamer, the Oregonian says the treacherous Willamette still holds the fair form of Elizabeth Whitefield, the young lady who was accidently drowned on Sunday night. The river was dragged for the body nearly all day yesterday but all efforts proved unsuccessful. Hugh Brady, the expert body-finder, is sick in the hospital. He could recover the remains quicker than anyone else in the city, but as he is to sick to get up, the next best thing was to get his gappling tools. These were used, but in vain, The channel of the river is about fifty feet deep where the drowning occurred, and as the current is quite strong the body may be carried some distance before it is recovered.

The Markets.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 19.—Wheat $1.72½@$1.75 per cental for good to choice shipping grades and $180 @1.85 for milling qualities.

NEW YORK, May 19.—Money on call easy, closed offered at 3; prime merchantile paper 5@7, sterling exchange quiet, weak; 60 day bills 4.83½; demand 4.87¾.

COAL OR NO COAL.

THAT IS THE QUESTION THE ESMERALDA IS COGITATING

The Chilian Steamer's Dander is Said to Have Risen—She May Take the Coal by Force.

NEW YORK, May 19.—A special to the Mail and Express from Acapulco says: "It seems now certain that the Esmerelda must have to recourse to some desperate means to secure coal. It is announced to-day that the Pacific Mail Steamship Company ordered its agents here not to sell the Esmeralda coal under any circumstances. This order was communicated to the Esmeralda and it is now thought to be extremely probable that the Chilian boat will take coal by force, as there is absolutely nothing to prevent him from having his vessel alongside the coal bunks and taking what he wants, for the forts are worthless and the Esmeralda could, if molested, lay Acapulco in ruins in half an hour. There is intense excitement."

THE BUTTER MARKET.

Probability That Prices Will Be Higher This Year Than Last.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 19.—"There is not nearly as much butter being packed this season as last," said J. T. Rowe to-day. "Last year butter was down to 16 and 17 cents. This year good butter is selling at 21 cents. The market was thoroughly cleaned up before this season's packing commenced, owing to the demand from the East for our butter. Last year the Eastern market stiffened and kept Eastern butter out of our market, and the result was our home product was so'd quickly, for we never have a surplus of California butter here, and none of last year's product was held over. Butter will not sell at low prices this year, because it is probable grass feed will be shorter than last year."

STEAMSHIP ROUTE.

From San Francisco to Puget Sound.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 19.—The steamship, The West Indian, is loading and will sail for Victoria, B. C., Thursday. She has accomodations for 33 cabin and the same for her sterage passengers. It is learned that another steamship is now on her way to San Francisco and as soon as she arrives she will be run in conjunction with the West Indian. She is expected to arrive here in about six weeks and will be followed by a third for the same route.

Mail Route To Alaska.

A dispatch from Washington says that the first office act of the postmaster general, on his return to the department from the western trip was to authorize the establishment of a very complete mail service with the territory of Alaska, which will be inaugurated in July. The contract was awarded Monday to the North American commericial company of San Francisco, which will put on a line of steamers running as for west as as Ounalaska, touching at all intermediate parts.

FOREST FIRES

Towns in Wisconsin Wiped Out by the Flames.

THE PEOPLE BARELY ESCAPES

Saved Their Lives by Fleeing on a Departing Train—Other Towns Are Surrounded.

MILWAUKEE, May 19.—Dispatch to the Sentinel to-night report that forest fires are destroying the little village of Amherst, on the Milwaukee Northern line. Most of the inhabitants have boarded a train and were taken to the Iron mountains. There was no time to save anything. Garth, Wis., is completely surrounded by fire and every one in the town are fighting flames.

Slavery in Morocco.

LONDON, May 19.—Tangier advices state Sir Charles Evensmith the new British minister to Morocco, has begun a crusade for for the abolition of slavery, which still flourishes in the empire. The slaves are brought from Timbuctoo and other important points to be sold in the Moorish cities. Thousands of boys and girls have been brought in caravans from the interior. The children are offered for sale in Fez and other places. The children, especially the boys, are treated with terrible cruelty.

Queen Natalie Captured.

BELGRADE, May 19.—The prefect of this city was charged by the regents with the duty of expelling ex-Queen Natalie from the Servian territory, and went to the latters residence to-day, and in spite of her earnest protests compelled her to enter a carriage which drove towards Quay on the Danube where the royal yacht is moored. The students turned out in force, and surrounded the carriage, detached the horses and dragged the vehicle back to the ex-Queens residence.

Kentucky Elks.

LOUISVILLE, May 19.—The Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks has taken possession of the city. At a formal meeting at Liederkranz hall about noon Governor Buckner welcomed the visitors for the state, and Mayor Tyler for the city. E. B. Hays, of Washington, was chosen permanent chairman. This afternoon 2000 Elks paraded, with numerous bands and several handsome floats.

The Death of a Tramp.

Tuesday morning the body of a man was brought to town from near Iona, eight miles above Ritzville, crushed, mangled and bleeding, in an unconscious state, his hurts resulting from being thrown under the freight train while in motion, or losing his hold while attempting to board the train, stealing his ride. His right leg was broken twice below the knee, the hip bones crushed and broken, the flesh torn, and internal hemorrhages caused his death at 1:40 in the afternoon. At one time he recovered sufficiently to make a statement, which was taken by Attorney Oliphant, and signed by the dying man, as follows: 'Name is Joseph; was going to work fifty miles below; was beating my way; other parties got on who gave the brakeman 50 cents for a ride. I had no money and was riding on brakebeam when a brakeman kicked me off. Have a mother living in Hepler, Crawford county, Kansas."—Adams County Times.
