A HUSBANDS MISTAKE.

Husbands too often permit wives and parents their children, to suffer from headache, dizziness, neuralgia, sleeplessness, fits, nervousness, when by the use of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine such serious results could easily be prevented. Druggists everywhere say it gives universal satisfaction, and has an immense sale. Woodworth & Co., of Fort Wayne, Ind., J. C. Wolf, Hillsdale, Mich., and hundreds of others say it is the greatest seller they ever knew. It contains no opiates. Trial bottles and fine book on Nervous Diseases, free at Standard au' Cusick's.

SPECULATION DANGEROUS.

Scarcely a day passes without the news of some large failure flashing over the wires—the usual result of speculation in stocks or some equally dangerous venture. The same electric current carries to dear distant friends the sad tidings of death of loved ones—too often the result of speculation in patent nostrums. Moore's Revealed Remedy is no speculation but is sold on positive guarantee. Do not fail to go to your druggist and ask for your money if not satisfied. We know you will go and buy another bottle. For sale by all druggists.

THE GREATEST STRIKE.

Among the great strikes that of Dr. Miles in discovering his New Heart Cure has proven itself to be one of the most important. The demand for it has become astonishing. Already the treatment of heart disease is being revolutionized, and many unexpected cures effected. It soon relieves short breath, fluttering, pains in side, arm, shoulder, weak hungry hungry spells, oppression, swelling of ankles, smothering and heart droopy. Dr. Miles took on Heart and Nervous Diseases, free. The unequalled New Heart Cure is sold and guaranteed by Standard & Cusick, also his Restorative Nervine for headache, fits, sprees, hot flashes, nervous chills, opium habit, etc.

HAPPY HOUSEHOLD.

Wm. Thomas, Postmaster of Louisville, Ind., writes "Electric Bitters has done more for me than all medicines combined for that feeling arising from kidney and liver trouble." John Leslie, farmer and stockman, of the same place, says: "Find Electric Bitters to be the best Kidney and Liver medicine, made me feel like a new man." J. W. Gardner, hardware merchant, same town, says: "Electric Bitters is just the thing for a man who is all run down and don't care if he lives or dies; he found new strength, good appetite, and felt like he had a new lease on life. Only 50 cents a bottle, at Foshay & Mason's drug store."

REMARKABLE RESCUE.

Mrs. Michael Curtin, Plainfield, Ill., makes the statement that she caught cold, which settled on her lungs; she was treated for a month by her family physician, but with no result. He told her she was a hopeless victim of consumption and that no medicine could cure her. Her druggist suggested Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption; she bought a bottle and to her delight found herself benefited from the first dose. She continued its use until she had used six bottles, found herself sound and well, now does her own housework and is as well as the best.—Free trial bottle of this great Discovery at Foshay & Mason's Drug Store, large bottles 50c, and $1.00.

FOR A THIRD PARTY

The Farmers Alliance Convention Shouts Itself Hoarse.

A WONDERFUL PLATFORM.

It Is Like Haab, Composed of a Little of Most Everything, but Contains No Prohibition Sentiment.

CINCINNATI, May 20.—When the National Farmer's Alliance conference assembled this afternoon, a letter from L. L. Polk, which was read, advising the conference to issue an address and defend action on the part of the committee on resolutions was declared carried there was a loud demand that the negative be put more forcibly by the chair. The demand was obeyed and continued from time to time. Ignatius Donnelly, chairman of the committee on resolutions, climbed upon a rostrum at this juncture and almost his first words caused a whirlwind of excitement. The declaration from Donnelly which set the convention wild, was to the effect that he was there to report that the committee platform was a unit for the organization of a third party. Two alternatives were presented, he said, either to ignore the third party or to divide the friends of reform. He gave way to Robert Schilling, of Wisconsin, secretary of the committee, who read the platform.

The platform reported by the committee on resolutions to the national convention, ran in part as follows: That in lieu of the great social, industrial and economical revolution now dawning upon the civilized world, and the new and living issues confronting the American people, we believe the time has arrived for the crystallization of the political reform forces of our country and the formation of what should be known as the peoples party of the United States of America.

Second—That we most heartily endorse the demands of the platform of the national convention, held at Omaha, Neb., in 1890, and the Omaha platform of 1891. We demand the abolition of the national banks, as banks of issue and as a substitute for the national bank notes. We demand that legal bank notes be issued in the name of the people, and that the business of the country on a cash basis, without damage or special advantage to any class or calling, such notes to be legal tender in the payment of all debts, public and private, and such notes shall be loaned to them at not more than 2 per cent per annum, upon non-perishable products as indicated in the sub-treasury plan, and also upon real estate, with proper limitations on the quality of the collateral, and the amount of loan. We demand for an unlimited quantity of silver. We demand the passage of laws prohibiting alien ownership of land and that congress take prompt action to destroy all means of public communication and transportation, and if its control and supervision does not remove the abuses now existing, we demand the government ownership of such means of communication and transportation. We demand the election of president, vice-president and United States senators by a direct vote of the people. We urge that the national committee be appointed by this conference to be composed of three members for each state represented to attend the national conference on February 22nd, 1892, and if possible unite with that and all other reform organizations there assembled. If no satisfactory arrangements can be effected, this committee shall call a national convention, not later than June 1, 1892, for the purpose of nominating candidates for president and vice-president.

Amid a perfect cyclone of enthusiasm the delegates moved the adoption of the platform as read. The convention went wild, and the delegates mounted chairs and tables, shouting and yelling like Comanches. A portion of the convention in a thunderous chorus sang to the tune of "Good-bye my lover, good-bye," the words "good-bye to parties, good-bye," and then the "doxology" of the tumult surpassing in its remarkable suddenness and vigor anything that had ever previously taken place in the convention, lasting fully an hour or an hour and a half, until it ceased from sheer exhaustion of the delegates. The name of the new party, the Peoples Party of the United States, elicited an outburst of applause, and as each plank was read the cheering was renewed frequently.

One plank recommended universal suffrage for favorable consideration, and another demanded the payment of pensions on a gold basis. The former met with a rather chilly reception, but the latter was roundly cheered. At this juncture one of the delegates objected that the platform was not sided for the farmers alliance, but he met with little encouragement. Schilling announced that the pension plank was left to the soldier members on the committee, with an inquiry whether it was satisfactory, and on their acquiescence this was adopted.

The platform proper, exclusive of resolutions, was adopted by a rising vote. At this stage the convention was little better than a howling mob, and in the midst of the confusion G. M. Miller, of California, came to the front on the prohibition question, which had been ignored in the platform and resolutions. All efforts to choke him off with points of order were ineffectual. The resolution offered by him was brief but to the point. It said, "resolved that we favor the abolition of the liquor traffic." After another wild uproar the prohibition amendment was overwhelmingly defeated. The resolutions were then adopted with only three dissenting votes. To-night it is reported that many members of the national reform organization, headed by President W. W. Jones of Illinois, will withdraw from the party, because of the defeat of the prohibition resolution.

Wright, clerk; G. L. Blackman, accountant. The following officers were appointed by the captain: P. G. Anderson, standard bearer; C. E. Russell, guard; M. Scott, sentinel; John Robson, picket.

COURT OF INQUIRY

SOLDIERS IN THE SHADOW OF THE GALLOWS.

It Is Believed All Engaged in the Lynching Will Be Apprehended Soldiers in Jail.

WALLA WALLA, May 20.—At the court of inquiry to-day Captains Winter, Walder, Hatfield and Smith were examined. The feature of the day's testimony was the fact that the soldiers who kept and an ex-soldier. On the night of the lynching Casey was at the jail and talked with the soldiers. He was the only citizen admitted inside. His mouth is now sealed. It is believed he is afraid to testify, though he claims to know nothing. Eight soldiers have been arrested and are in jail. It is understood the grand jury has also indicted them. Six more, supposed to have been implicated, have deserted. It is believed all engaged in this lynching will be apprehended.

SINGULAR COINCIDENCE.

Sad Story in Connection With The Walla Walla Lynching.

Postmaster J. D. Laman on Monday received two letters that contain in their short length the stories of human life in its fullest form, says the Walla Walla. They are tragedies in anticipation not alone in the answer that will be returned in each, but from the peculiar combination of victim and assailant, and the fact that the letters subtitled were written from the same section of country and the attention of the writer of each letter was called to the same matter through a news item in the same paper. Following are the letters, which both received on Monday.

BETHLE, N. Y., May 5, 1891. "D. G. Hunt, the slayer of Private Miller, was taken from the jail in Walla Walla, Wash., and hanged by soldiers."

Hos. Sir—I clipped the enclosed from a newspaper. As I have a son, Emil E. Miller, in troop D, Fourth cavalry, I am very much afraid it might be him. If so, please let me know at once and oblige, yours very respectfully,

SUSANNAH MILLER.

N. B.—If my son is all right please hand him this letter.

ROSSE, ST. LAWRENCE COUNTY, N. Y., May 4, 1891.

Dear Sir: The Elmira Telegram of April 27 has a statement to the effect that a man following the gambling profession had been shot by a number of soldiers in revenge for his having shot one of their number in an altercation in or near Walla Walla, giving the soldier's name as Miller and his regiment as the 4th Cavalry. I have an uncle living in or around Walla Walla for many years, Andrew J. Hunt, and fearing there might have been a mistake and the possibility of its being "A. J." instead of "D. J.," I have written this letter to you. Kindly ascertain if the unfortunate man was Andrew J. Hunt, and if not, kindly make inquiries for me and hand my uncle this letter, which holds my present address. I came here last month.

VILIA H. PHARES.

No appointment will be made of a second judge for the First district under the act of the last legislature, the governor holding that the law is invalidated by the record of the lower house, which discloses the fact that the enacting clause was added after the bill had passed both houses.

OREGON'S ATTORNEY GENERAL.

The following is a short sketch of Hon. George E. Chamberlain, the first attorney general of Oregon:

George E. Chamberlain was born near Natchez, Miss., June 1, 1854. He attended the public schools in the latter place, completed the course of studies previous to entering the law office of W. H. Holmes, Marion, in a general merchandise store, hoping to earn means to assist him in attaining a classical education. In 1872 he matriculated at Washington and Lee university, remaining there four years, graduating in the academic department as A. B., and in the law department as B. L. in 1876. He studied law during the summer of 1875 in the office of Hon. John K. Tucker, who for several terms represented his district in Virginia in congress, and who was one of the professors of law at the university at the time of Mr. Chamberlain's graduation.

After graduation he returned to his home in Mississippi, remaining there till after the presidential election of that year, casting his maiden vote for Tilden and Hendricks. The opportunities for advancement in his chosen profession being limited in the South at that time, he came to Oregon, arriving at Albany on the 6th day of December, 1876, where he has resided ever since.

During the winter and spring of 1877 he taught a district school in Linn county and shortly afterward procured a situation as deputy county clerk of Linn county, serving in that capacity for a year or two, and making the acquaintance of nearly every man in the county. In 1879 he formed a copartnership with Judge L. Flinn, of Albany, with whom he was associated till 1887 in the practice of law.

Mr. Chamberlain was elected in 1880 to the legislature, and was next to the youngest member of that body.

He was elected district attorney of the Third judicial district in 1884, and though the district was republican by a majority of 800, Mr. Chamberlain carried it by 375 majority. He has always been a consistent democrat, and shortly after the death of General M. V. Brown, he succeeded to the editorial management of the States Rights Democrat. He is at present cashier of the Linn County National Bank.

Still They Come.

Two more insane persons were given into the care of Dr. Lane, superintendent of the asylum, yesterday. One was O. R. Myer, from Ashland, Jackson county. He is aged 30 years, and his insanity is attributed to onanism. He imagines people are trying to poison him. Emma Chambers was the second one, and came from Grant county. This is her second attack, and her age is 27 years. Her loss of mind was caused by the death of a child. This runs the number of inmates on the roll up to 680.—Statesman.

That Microbe Killer.

State Food Commissioner Baker has a chemical analysis made of the microbe killer, a patent medicine the analysis was made by the state chemist. "It shows," said Mr. Baker, "that one gallon of the liquid contains 11.7 grains of hydrochloric acid, 4.33 grains of nitric acid, 15.89 grains of nitric acid, and sulphuric acid, or oil vitriol, 3.8 grains by weight. The microbe killer, when heated with metallic zinc, dissolved the zinc. The amount of zinc that would (theoretically) be dissolved by one gallon of the microbe killer is about 2 dr. 41.9 grains; or in other words, one of the microbe-killer contains enough free acid to dissolve the amount of zinc I have mentioned. The law requires that the article should be so marked that all people who buy it may know its contents, and the microbe-killer is not sold that way at present. The agent tells it in judge not labelled so as not to show its chemical ingredients.

Oregon Is It, Too.

While on the coast the president gave us lots of tally, in Omaha he said he hoped California and Oregon would excuse him if he said that "the states that raised corn are the greatest in the world." Why, that's all right, Ben; you're quite excusable. Bless your large presidential heart; didn't you know that California and Oregon raise the boss corn? You didn't exclude us when you talked about corn states, though you thought you did. When it comes to corn, why we are right in it along with Nebraska and Indiana and the other "great states."

Weather Breeders.

Lieutenant John P. Finley, signal service officer, has issued a circular, which states that the storms that enter the Pacific coast near Vancouver pass eastward into the interior of the country and thence to the Atlantic coast. The weather of the coast is dependent on these storms and is influenced by their movements even after they have passed over the Rocky mountains. He thinks the weather bureau should be kept informed of the weather conditions over the entire country west of the Mississippi valley. The office is in daily receipt of telegraphic reports of the conditions prevailing west of the 90th meridian.

PELTED WITH HAIL

A TERRIFIC WIND AND HAIL STORM IN THE EAST.

Farmers Have Lost Their Entire Possessions Crops Destroyed—Animals Killed.

ST. LOUIS, May 20.—Additional particulars of a terrific hail storm at Gainesville, Texas, are to the effect that the damage is about fifty miles in length and from two to five miles in width. Farmers all lost their entire possessions. Crops were destroyed and houses, fences were laid waste by the winds. Birds and small animals were killed by the thousands by the hail storm, but no person is reported hurt.

RED OAK, Ia., May 20.—A serious cyclone is reported to have passed through part of Iowa, doing considerable damage. No one was hurt so far as known.

ST. LOUIS, May 20.—A special to the Republic from Centralia, Mo., says: A fatal and destructive tornado passed a mile north this morning. A number of persons were injured.

MEXICO, Mo., May 20.—A terrific tornado passed three miles north of this place this afternoon, in the vicinity of Bean creek. So far as heard from fifteen houses in the vicinity of that place were destroyed, ten or twelve persons killed, an equal number fatally injured and a large number badly hurt.

SWARMING TO AMERICA.

Ignorant Italians Coming to This Country by the Thousands.

WASHINGTON, May 20.—The United States consul at Gibraltar in his report to the state department, says that during the last four months, thirty-one foreign steamships have touched at his port, carrying more than 20,000 Italian emigrants to the United States, and many more are expected soon. The United States consul at Naples reports a vast multitude of Italians leaving for the United States on every steamer, mostly of a very ignorant and undesirable class. Some districts in Italy are nearly depopulated.

A Visit to G. A. R. Posts.

The Oregonian says that Lieutenant Colonel O. Summers, department commander of the G. A. R. of Oregon, has returned from a trip through the valley on a visit to several of the posts. He visited the G. A. R. posts at Independence, Dallas, Corvallis, Newport, North Yamhill and Lafayette. As the department of Oregon embraces fifty-six posts, he will be busy for a while visiting all of them. "There are now about 2500 members of the G. A. R. in this state," said Lieutenant Colonel Summers, "but by the end of the year we shall expect to have 5,000. I found all the posts I visited in very good condition and most of them are making active preparations for the customary observance of Memorial day. The crops are looking fine down the valley and the indications point to a beautiful harvest."

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Upmeyer, of Harrisburg, were in the city yesterday looking after business matters.

THE WAR SHIPS

There Is Every Prospect of a Great Naval Battle.

WAITING FOR THE ITATA.

The Charleston Has Orders to Take Her at Any Cost, and the Esmeralda Equally Determined.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 20.—A Washington special to the Evening Post says the United States government has instructed Admiral Brown to demand the surrender of the Itata, when she arrived in any port of Chili in the hands of the insurgent. The Mexican government has refused to allow the commander of the Esmeralda at Acapulco to use the telegraph lines at that point, so the Esmeralda is held there practically a prisoner. She has no coal and cannot get any, and cannot get communication with the insurgents in Chili.

The feeling against Mexico among the Chilean insurgents is very bitter, and the Esmeralda would bombard Acapulco immediately if her officers and the insurgents at home were not afraid of the interference of the United States.

AN ARMED ENCOUNTER.

It Was the Outcome of a Factional Fight Over Sunday Closing.

SPOKANE FALLS, May 20.—Considerable excitement was occasioned at Oakesdale this morning by an armed encounter between Geo. Comeygo, a prominent banker and attorney, and the town marshal and his deputies. The affair was the outcome of a factional fight over the liquor question. A saloonkeeper named Howard had been fined for selling liquor on Sunday. He was advised by Comeygo to resist arrest, which he did unsuccessfully. Marshal Manning then tried to arrest Comeygo, who drew a revolver and fired several shots, one of which struck a bystander in the leg, inflicting a slight wound. The town is quiet to-night and all the saloons are closed.

THE BIG FIGHT.

Everything Is Readiness for It to Come off To Night.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 21.—Jim Corbett and Peter Jackson rested from their training to-day and tomorrow evening the greatest heavy weight contest ever seen here will occur at the gymnasium of the California Athletic club. A most critical examination has failed to reveal any fault in the physical condition of either. Jackson now weighs 177 pounds. Betting has become spirited during the last twenty-four hours. Great crowds gathered in the pool rooms to-night and a large amount of money was wagered, the usual odds being one hundred to sixty-five with Jackson as the favorite.

SHROUDED IN MYSTERY.

A Port Townsman Politician Found Dead in His Room.

PORT TOWNSEND, May 20.—Wm. Donovan, a prominent democratic politician, was found dead in his room this afternoon with a bullet hole in his head. When found he had a revolver in his hand. What prompted him to take his life is a mystery.

At Damascus Monday night F. J. Ward's hotel was burned to the ground. The house was a two story frame valued at $6,000; insurance $2,000.

A SHOOTING AFFRAY.

As Is Usual It Was All Over a Woman.

SALEM, May 20.—Monday night at Wheatland, Yamhill county, John W. Smith and John Brooks engaged in a shooting scrape, in which both men were slightly wounded. The trouble was caused by the attention Brooks paid to Smith's wife. Brooks began firing at Smith, and the latter drew a revolver to defend himself. Brooks was arrested and there is talk of lynching him.

Money for Oregon.

WASHINGTON, May 20.—The secretary of war has made allotments of money for the various states and territories for arming and equipping militia on the basis of representation in congress. Oregon and Washington get $2,764 each. The funds will be available the first of July next.

Dropped Out of Sight.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 20.—W. R. Poland, aged 65 years, who came to this city from Oregon on May 18th, has been missing from the American exchange for several days.
