Sprague's "Social Session" company drew another large audience last evening. This is one of the very few attractions whose audiences increase with each performance. The company is one of the best we have ever had in face-comedy, and is fully as good as "City Directory," "Parlor Match," etc. The performance is more than pleasing; it is excellent. Portland Oregonian, Jan. 8, 1890.

The First of the Season. Mr. Geo. F. Simpson left at this office yesterday the first box of Albany raised strawberries of the season. They were raised by his son, A. C. Simpson, on his farm near the city and were fine specimens. Mr. Simpson says his land on the prairie cannot be surpassed by the richest river bottoms garden lands, and the strawberries certainly looked like it.

A BOY DETECTIVE.

He Assists the Police in Running Down a Gang of Burglars Near This City.

The police of this city have been on the alert for some time for a gang of burglars, who have been operating throughout the Willamette Valley.

Yesterday morning Charles Spaght, a young man who always has his eyes and ears open, told Chief of Police Hoffman that he thought these crackmen were camped below this city. The officer offered the boy $10 if he could locate the men, and would point out their camp to him. The boy started out on a detective search of his own. He carried a Winchester rifle, and went into the woods near the Jewish cemetery, where he had a suspicion they were stopping. He came upon two men camped in a position concealed from the road. The boy told the men that he was hunting pigeons, and sat down and talked some time. After observing closely the contents of the camp he returned and notified the police that he had found the men. Officers Hoffman, Lee and McClain and young Spaght proceeded to their rendezvous. As they reached it, one of the men was encountered in the act of leaving. Officer Hoffman covered him with a revolver, and he was soon in irons. Officer McClain came upon the other concealed near the camp. The fellow drew a revolver, when McClain quickly fired at him. The man started to run, but another shot from the officer he felt, and cried out that he was down, and not to shoot. The officer desisted, but before they could reach him, he got up and ran, escaping in the dense undergrowth. He had on neither coat, hat or shoes. It was after dark when he was not hit at all.

The prisoner was conveyed to jail and the contents of their camp was taken possession of by the officers. It contained revolvers, ammunition, keys, drills, saws, in fact a full kit of burglars' tools, besides stolen property, clothing, etc. Among the latter were two silver watches, one of which completely identified the burglars as the men who robbed the safe of Whitney, Elder & Co. at Stayton, as it had a charm attached bearing the inscription: "U. Whitney, Stayton Lodge No. 25 A. F. & A. M. of Stayton. It is also believed that they were the men who robbed I. Beam's store in this city.

The search for the other burglar was continued last evening, but without effect. The prisoner will be taken to Salem for examination, in which county Stayton is situated.

Neatly Kept.

A visit to the stable of the street railway company, under the skillful manipulation of J. S. Laddler, is worth the trouble it takes, just to see horses kept in the most comfortable and cleanly manner possible and every thing as neat as a pin. One stall is fixed up with vats in which the horses can stand for a short time to keep their feet moist and comfortable. The care, harness and every appearance is kept in first class style. In the office are kept full files of the latest publications upon subjects pertaining to the business all in apple pie order. The company, we are informed, will soon put on an open car which will be a great comfort during the warm weather.

THE APPROACHING FOURTH.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD. It looks as though Albany did not intend to celebrate this year, and that her patriotic citizens would have to go elsewhere to burn their powder and spend their money. This will take out of this city at least $5000, while an attractive and rousing demonstration on the Fourth day of July would bring in double that amount of money.

Not only this is to be considered but Albany did not celebrate last year, and to let a second Fourth of July pass with no celebration would look to an outsider as if all was not prosperity, in other words that a season of deterioration settled down on the "Queen City of the Willamette Valley." This, however, I am pleased to note is not a fact. Improvements are going on on every hand—hundreds of new and beautiful residences are being built.

The big steel bridge alone is enough to justify one of the grandest demonstrations ever witnessed in this city. Let Albany, rather than behind her sister cities, rather in the lead, and offer attractions that will bring to this city more people than were ever within its limits on any former occasion.

If this be done action must be taken immediately, as there is now very little over a month to complete all arrangements for the nation's greatest holiday. Would it not be proper for the mayor to call a public meeting for some time during next week, or even this? We should arouse ourselves, shake off this stupor and work harmoniously and the result will be surprising to the most sanguine.

PROSPECTS.

Vernona Jarbeau Coming. He who misses seeing and hearing Vernona Jarbeau in "Starlight" will have a matter for future regret. "Starlight" is a string of the brightest and most popular melodies culled from here, there and everywhere. There is very little dialogue, but there is plenty of the best sort of singing. Jarbeau herself is generous of heart and time and presence. She simply bubbles over with life and individuality. From the crown of the head she carries so jauntily to the toe of the slipper that sometimes twinkle in mid-air in a manner quite as bewitching as daring, the characteristic shows itself. She sings French songs, English songs, a topical song, dances with inimitable abandon and laughs with an infectiousness that no one can resist. Her prettiest bit of acting is perhaps in the little scene at the piano, and her most charmingly rendered song, "Where Are You Going, My Pretty Maid?" She has a clever set of people with her and she is not afraid to let them make the most of their opportunities. This celebrated comedienne and her brilliant musical comedy company, will be in this city, June 1st.

THE Y. M. C. A.

Recapitulation of the Recent Convention Held in This City.

Number of sessions, 8; number present at all of the sessions, 2400; number of delegates present, 24; number of resolutions, 4; number of collections, 272; amount of collection at Sunday evening meeting, $20.25.

On Monday afternoon at the meeting for ladies in the rooms, a ladies auxiliary was organized with 25 charter members, this number will, without doubt, be doubled by the time the next meeting is held which will be next Monday afternoon. The ladies are bound to make this a very important factor in our work and it has been our experience that when they start out to do a thing, they generally accomplish their end. This, we think, was fully demonstrated in the week that has just passed. We prophesy that no page in the history of this association will outshine the one just written, the convention that has just closed was a complete success in every particular, and the part which the ladies took was very conspicuous. Mr. J. A. Dismont, traveling secretary for the Pacific Northwest, stated that in his 12 years' experience in Y. M. C. A. work he never saw more beautiful and better supplied delegations than the ladies of Albany served at our convention, hence we have every reason to feel proud of them and think that too much cannot be said in their behalf, and we wish to once more thank them for their kind and generous assistance, for it has certainly been the means of great encouragement to us in our work. To those who so kindly opened their homes for the entertainment of visiting delegates, we wish to express our gratitude, and to every one who assisted us in any way during the convention, we wish to say that they have helped to put new life into the association, and that we shall strive with more earnestness than ever to merit your kind wishes and hearty support.

We wish to congratulate the executive committee of the Pacific Northwest in securing the services of such an efficient and conscientious traveling secretary. We believe that in Mr. Dismont we have a general that is thoroughly capable, through Divine help, to call magnificent forces to his command, and we predict that ere the hand of time shall mark the year of 1893, there will be a grand and forward movement in the ranks of the Y. M. C. A. of the Pacific Northwest.

But after all our traveling secretary would be crippled in his work were it not for his companion, Mrs. Dismont, who goes with him from place to place, laboring with heart and hand to interest the mothers, wives and daughters in reaching out for the boys and young men. It is our conviction that this is one of the most important parts of the Y. M. C. A. work, and with our hearts filled with gratitude for what her earnest efforts has accomplished for us here in Albany, we can only say, "God speed her, and may she be the means, in the hands of bringing out of the depths of sin thousands of young men, and placing them in the paths of Christian fellowship, where the love of God is supreme.

H. W. Young, Secretary.

G. F. RUSSELL, County School Superintendent.

The Decoration day issue of the Albany, N. Y. Telegram will be the most original, unique and popular paper ever presented to the American public. Nothing like it ever attempted by a newspaper in the nineteenth century. As a mechanical wonder and a military literary library there will be nothing to even compare with it issued in this country. It will be printed on red, white and blue paper and consist of 16 pages. If there is no agent in your town you can have the paper mailed to you at five cents a copy.

THE WORLD ENRICHED.

The facilities of the present day for the production of everything that will conduce to the material welfare and comfort of mankind are almost unlimited and when Syrup of Figs was first produced the world was enriched with the only perfect laxative known, as it is the only remedy which is truly pleasing and refreshing to the taste and prompt and effectual to cleanse the system gently in the Springtime or, in fact, at any time any the better it is known the more popular it becomes.

Good Recommendations. EUGENE, OR., April 1, 1891. We the undersigned citizens of Eugene, Oregon, having thoroughly tested the Pacific Washing Machine, do most cheerfully recommend the same to all who need a first class machine. It does its work perfectly in a remarkable short time, and without any labor, so to speak. It is all that Messrs. Bunch & Williams claim it to be. It is the best machine we have seen used, and does its work better. A. G. Hendricks, president Lane county Bank, T. G. Hendricks, president First National Bank, F. M. Wilkins, Mrs. G. P.
