THE ELUSIVE ITATA

The Charleston Gives Up the Chase and Joins the Squadron

BUT THE PREY CANNOT ESCAPE

The Charleston Will Not Wait for the Itata to Surrender.

WASHINGTON, May 27.—The navy department to-day received the first news from the Charleston since the vessel left Annapolis the first of last week in continued pursuit of the Itata. When the vessel failed to launch at Panama within the time expected, the department said it was very probable that it had been decided to keep straight on down the coast, and that the Charleston would be heard from at some Peruvian port. This prediction is fulfilled, for the port at which the Charleston announced her arrival is Callao. The whereabouts of the Itata is had from being known at the port, or Captain Henry reported that he had seen nothing of the Italian cruiser down the coast. The Charleston will join the squadron under Admiral McCall in Chilean waters, and it is surmised that a report will at no very distant date come thence, announcing the peaceful surrender by the insurgents of the elusive craft Itata, which the United States government will libel and perhaps forfeit for violation of the neutrality law.

A BRUTAL PRIZE FIGHT.

It Was Very Properly Stopped by the Police.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 27.—About 300 people witnessed a fight between the middle-weight, Charlie Turner, colored, and Alex. Gregg, gains, for a purse of $1000 at the Occidental Club this evening. In the third round Turner was knocked down three times. In the fourth round the black man was so weak that he had to be assisted to his feet by his seconds. Greggains went at him like a cyclone, while Turner leaned helplessly against the ropes. Greggains rained his right and left upon his head, Turner being unable to hold his hands up or protect himself. Turner fell to the lower rope and Greggains continued to pound him, when the police stepped into the ring and ordered him to stop. The referee awarded the fight to Greggains.

SPokane's Commerce.

Investigating the Alleged Northern Pacific Discrimination.

Spokane, May 27.—Inter-State Commerce Commissioners Veazey, Bragg, Morrison and Knapp, today began their hearing of complaints of the Merchants Protective Union against the Northern Pacific Railroad Company, charged with violation of the interstate commerce law, discriminating against Spokane shippers by charging the same for short haul long hauls to terminals, and favoring interior cities east of Spokane. Great interest was manifested in the hearing. Both sides are represented by eminent counsel. During the day the testimony of six shippers was taken. The examination will continue for several days.

A MOTHER'S AWFUL DEED.

Becoming Despondent She Burns Herself and Child.

TORONTO, Kan., May 27.—A small frame cottage was burned this morning. In the ruins were found the charred remains of Mrs. Auptegoff, aged 25, and her three children. Circumstances point to deliberate and carefully planned murder and suicide. The father, who is a teamster, left home early this morning to look after work. The family has been very despondent, because he was unable to obtain work.

OREGON STATE GRANGE

Opening of the Annual Session at Hillsboro—The Address.

HILLSBORO, May 27.—A large and enthusiastic gathering of farmers and their wives greeted Worthy Master H. E. Hayes when he called the eighteenth annual session of the Oregon State Grange of Patrons of Husbandry to order at 10 A. M., in Hillsboro Grange hall. The meeting was opened in the fourth degree with the following officers present: M. H. E. Hayes; O. C. Verhelme; Leo William Holder; S. J. D. Chitwood; A. S. W. A. Sample; Chap. David Ely; T. J. B. Stump; Sec. W. M. H. Hiley; G. K. S. A. Dawson; P. Mrs. M. J. Train; F. H. D. Gilson; C. Hattie Henulger; L. A. S., Lydia B. Leabo.

The morning session was secret and consisted of an announcement of the order of business, appointment of committees and routine work. The committee on credentials reported delegates from 16 counties except Klamath, Lake, Harney, Crook, Grant, Baker, Jackson, Josephine, Coos, Curry, Tillamook and Clatsop. There are fifty delegates in attendance. At 2 P. M., preceded by the band, the grange marched in a body to ### where the public exercises were held. The afternoon meeting was opened by a brief introductory speech by Master Hayes, followed by music by the choir.

Dr. F. A. Ealy, mayor of Hillsboro, then made the address of welcome. He heartily welcomed the members of the State Grange to Hillsboro. He outlined general agricultural pursuits, their pleasures and trials, the benefit derived from the grange meetings in exchange of ideas, etc.

The response to the address of welcome was made by W. A. Sample, of Helix, Umatilla county. Mr. Sample is a pleasing speaker and he outlined the benefits of the grange and the beautiful influences and happy lives enjoyed by the rural population.

The master of the California state grange had been expected and a letter of regret was read from him by Secretary H. E. Hiley. Music preceded the annual address delivered by H. E. Hayes, master of the state grange. He outlined the happy and prosperous condition of the Oregon producer as compared with the producer in sections climatically more vigorous. He lauded the organization of the grange, showing the good and benefits derived. The growth of the grange was also shown. He recommended a more vigorous prosecution of the extension of the grange and its effects. He spoke of the rapid advance made by the state Agricultural college and its splendid working system now in vogue. He spoke also in praise of the state weather bureau and its good effect, its cooperative benefits, its report and the work done by it. Free coinage of silver was given a favorable notice. The loaning of money on farm values at 2 per cent, was urged, and contracted currency was claimed to be ill in its effects. He asserted that though the grange was not organized to enter into political parties, yet for the good, the prosperity and success of the farmers he deemed it advisable to take a hand in the creation of a party that would further the interests of the farmers, and not trust to the promises of old parties.

The citizens of Hillsboro are extending to the visiting grangers their utmost courtesy. To-morrow afternoon a grand ride will be given to the visiting grangers by the citizens, covering the surrounding Tualatin plains.

AN AGED SINNER.

MURDERED BY HIS SON OVER A WOMAN'S LOVE.

Father and Son Fight for the Hand and Fortune of an Orphan Girl.

LEWISTON, Me., May 27.—A dispatch from Buttrick, a town on the Grand Trunk, in Maine, of the extreme western portion of the state, gives the particulars of a terrible tragedy between a father and son for the possession of a young woman. The affair occurred on Saturday night in the lumber town of Lewiston in Maine, and the parties implicated are all lumber men. Two years ago Peter Lancoatic, a French Canadian from the province of New Brunswick, who left a small country store, died, leaving 150,000 and some $2000 to his only child, a daughter named Jeanne. She was then 15 years of age, and on his death-bed the father appointed Jackson Oldershaw, a lumber boss, as his guardian until she was 21 years of age. Oldershaw was a widower, with an only son, Roger, a young man aged 25. Both father and son were men of passionate, selfish natures, and both cast covetous eyes upon young Jeanne and her little fortune. The old man had great influence over the girl, who stood much in fear of him, and it was due to persistent persuasion on his part that she promised to marry him, although she preferred the son. The latter learned of his father's intention and got the girl to promise to elope with him. Saturday night they attempted to steal away while the elder Oldershaw was away, but he returned unexpectedly and caught them in the act. In a fit of rage he drew a revolver and fired at the son, but the girl jumped between them and received the ball in her shoulder. In falling, she knocked the pistol out of Oldershaw's hand, and he grabbed an ax to save himself from his son, who rushed at him armed with a similar weapon. The two men fought like tigers, both being badly cut, when the elder slipped on the blood which flowed from the girl's wound. While down, his son nearly severed his head from his body. Oldershaw died instantly, and the girl was the last hope of the girl who was not expected to live.

CATHOLIC EMIGRANTS

A Plan for Fostering Catholicism in America.

THEIR EXCLUSIVE EDUCATION

The Free Masons Denounced as Wicked—The Details of the Remarkable Plan Outlined.

BERLIN, May 27.—It is learned here that Herr Cahensly is the principal mover in the efforts of the European Catholic Immigration societies to induce the pope to follow distinct national lines in fostering the church work among Catholic immigrants in America. This subject was referred to in recent dispatches. Cahensly's championship of the movement has borne fruit in frequent instructions to Herr Von Schoener, German representative at the Vatican, to use his influence whenever he could. The Austro-Hungarian ambassador, it is understood, has similar instructions. The plan as outlined is that schools are to be established, the list of studies to comprise the national language of the different races of emigrants, as well as the language and history of their adopted country. Catholic associations of different kinds are to be formed to preserve the Catholics from the wicked societies of Free Masonry, etc. The campaign has been directed solely by the committee in Germany, which, by its activity, has secured the support and approval of other European countries. There will be a great curiosity to know the view American bishops take of the matter. The plan proposed in the memorial seems to be peculiarly adapted for preservation in America of languages and race distinctions of emigrants. Countrymen who are immigrating to America, of upwards of 400,000 a year, says the memorial, could constitute a great power and a mighty factor in the development of Catholicity in different parts of America. It then goes on to detail the plans necessary to carry out the views.

THE PRESBYTERIANS.

Report of the Committee on Foreign Missions.

DETROIT, May 27.—After devotional exercises at the Presbyterian general assembly, Dr. Johnson reported favorably on a religious exhibit at the world's fair. Dr. Nichols read a report from the committee on increase of ministry, with particular reference to reception of ministers from other denominations; referred to committee on foreign mission reported. The report notes the resignation of John C. Lawrie, D. D., senior secretary, and the appointment of David Gregg, D. D., to be member of the board; also of the field secretary, Rev. Thomas Marshall. The treasurer's report for the year ending April 30 shows an expenditure of $973,000, which leaves a shortage for last year, an aggregate addition to mission churches is 2875. The increase in pupils in schools is shown, as is also the growth in favor of medical missions.

They Bought Some Seed.

The Record says: "A large, fine-looking man was visiting the Ashland ladies recently selling them seeds for an improved clausatia vine that blossomed out into a flower as large as a sunflower. With a very sweet-scented lot of talk and pretentious ceremony he succeeded in planting a box of his seeds in the gardens of a large number of Ashland's flower-loving ladies, taxing them a fee of from $1 upwards. He did well. The seeds are also doing well, after considerable nourishing and very tender care. They are radishes. The handsome florist is gone, and there is lots of good-natured smiling going on at the expense of the victims."
