Likely to Be Inoperative.

The action of the state medical board in refusing to recognize the diplomas of old practicing physicians who were graduates of such schools as the Cincinnati Medical College and the Rush Medical College of Chicago, and have been eminently successful in their practice, having a large clientage at present, will be likely to render the law both unpopular and inoperative, as the physicians will not submit to the demand for an examination with the attendant fees to go into the pockets of the board. The plea that the colleges named are not in good standing because they are two term schools is a puerile one. The most eminent physicians of the country are among the graduates of the two term colleges.

Left Off the Commission.

Pendleton East Oregonian: E. J. Summerville was left off the allotment commission by the "powers that be" in Washington. It is said that a petition against his appointment was gotten up by certain French and mixed blood residents on the reserve whom he antagonized when he was agent, and forwarded to the department. The petitition did not pass through Agent Moorehouse's hands, and was unofficial, but it appears it was the cause of Mr. Summerville not receiving his appointment as commissioner. He was given no opportunity for defense.

WATERLOO WHISPERINGS.

Waterloo will celebrate the coming Fourth of July.

Camp meeting will be held in the near future at this place.

In addition to our town improvements, a new side-walk has been laid on Soda street.

Several loads of shingles passed through this place for parts unknown this week.

There were 14 persons babtized Tuesday at 3 P. M. at this place. We witnessed a scene at that time. A boy of about 15 years of age was to be babtized. The boy's father became enraged, plunged into the water and threatened war. Quite a struggle was made and the boy was not babtized. The mother and boy seemed very anxious to have the rite administered.

Stock buyers are inhabiting this section of the country.

Married, near this place Sunday, by Rev. Mr. Scott. Mr. Larkell and Miss Anna Gilliford. The bride is a sister of Mrs. Jas. Hedgepath

Programme for celebrating the Fourth, will be arranged this week and no pains will be spared to make this a success.

A number of campers seeking recreation, have spent the week at this place.

Soda water is as good as ever, cool and sparkling.

The Hop Outlook.

The following is from the Portland Telegram: "G. J. Hanson, of the Hanson Hop and Malt company, of Milwaukee, arrived in Tacoma the other day, having made a tour of inspection of the California and Oregon hop fields. Mr. Hanson said: "I predict that a large portion of the hops of Washington will this year be destroyed by hop lice. The conditions seem favorable for a wholesale devastation of the Washington hops by that vermin. I think that our experiences in Wisconsin will be repeated. There the year previous to the season when the lice wiped our crop, there were millions of them. The prospects are that the Oregon and California hop yield this year will be much more of an average crop than the Washington yield.' He visited Puyallup and North Yakima. Last year his firm used 2500 bales of Washington hops. Mr. Hanson's statement in regard to the lice is corroborated by the Portland dealers. One merchant who has made a trip of the Willamette valley and has seen all the yards, says that reports in regard to the lice have been much exaggeated.

CITY COUNCIL.

A Large Number of Contracts Let for Street and Sidewalk Work.

A meeting of the city council was held last evening to let contracts for street and sidewalk work.

All bids for street work were accepted and the work ordered done within thirty days. River gravel was ordered used. The street commissioner was instructed to proceed at once and do all work ordered by the council for which there was no bid.

J. B. Tillison was let the contract for building the following 10 foot walks at 34 cents per foot, adjoining property of B. F. Smith, and the whole of south side of First street, between Lyon and Baker streets, except the Oregon Pacific property. Ten foot walks at 23 cents as follows: B. F. Smith and Cunningham.

O. W. Warren was awarded the contract to build a 10 foot walk adjoining Cranor and Montieth's property at 34 cents per foot and a six foot walk adjoining the Settlemeir property at 21 cents per foot.

Wallace Baldwin was awarded the contract for building all sidewalks for Oregon Pacific property.

Miller and Brown received the contract for building the following six foot walks: Smith Knox 22¾ cents, Peter Riley 19¾ cents.

The street commissioner was instructed to build all walks ordered for which no bid was accepted.

On motion council adjourned.

NORTHWEST NOTES.

The spiritualists of the Northern Willamette valley will hold a grove meeting at New Era, Clackamas county, Oregon, beginning Friday, June 12, and ending July 5, 1891.

Eastern Oregon cattlemen are continually improving their breeds. The latest importation is a large herd of thoroughbred shorthorns and Devons by Joseph Trippeer, of Wapinitia.

At the Cascade Locks the water is so high that very little work can be done on the canal. Stonecutting can still be continued; but work in the bottom of the excavation cannot be prosecuted.

The little town of Hood River has evinced a wonderful growth in the last few months, and beautiful cottages dot the hillsides in every direction. Manufactories are being put in operation, and the rich, natural resources of the vicinity are being developed.

Another bridge burned on the Union Pacific near Mosier Monday. Passengers were transferred to a steamer and continued on their way. The Dalles Times-Mountaineer says: "It seems possible, by a sufficient force of track-walkers, to avert these mishaps, and, as the lives of the traveling public are endangered by such occurrences, they have the right to demand of the company ordinary care and diligence as protection against them."

A subscription paper was circulated at Harney Saturday soliciting funds to aid in carrying on the work on the artesian well at Harney, and was liberally patronized by the Burns people, considering the hard times, says the Burns Items. All look upon this matter as one of public importance, and wish to have the work carried on to a successful termination. If artesian water can be obtained at Harney, it may be at other places in the valley also. The well is now down over 400 feet, with fair indications of artesian well.

Blind School.

Little Mary Roberts, of Linkville, who has been a pupil at the State Blind school for some time, paints a delightful picture of that institution, says the Klamath county Star. She entered the doors last September and is now able to read point print as rapidly as anyone reads a book. She became quite an adept at type writing, and she has learned to sew so well that she expects soon to enter the embroidery department. She is a very intelligent little girl, and it is touching to hear her tell how truly and why the inmates all love Mrs. and Miss McFadden, Miss Olive Copwell, Miss Scott, the music teaher and Mr. Gardner, the net and hammock teacher. The institution is trying to get all the blind little ones, and why should it not? It is the best home on earth for them. The state supports the teachers, and the little ones, with their intellects and sympathies developing among their own class, feel less keenly their common misfortune. Besides, they learn there to be self-supporting. That institution is a credit to Oregon.

MINING NEWS.

The Golden City Company Make an Important Deal.

An important mining deal has been entered into by the Golden City Mining Company and Mr. Richard Herris, of Denver, Colorado, which means a great deal for the Santiam mining district.

Mr. Harris, who is a wealthy mining man, and is also backed up by other Denver mining capitalists, for the consideration of a block of stock in the Golden City, has agreed to put in a ten stamp mill and a saw-mill, wire run tramway and other improvements, the cost of which will overrun $50,000.

This contract means the development of the twenty valuable claims belonging to this company, and the bringing of a large working force into the mining district contiguous to Albany.

Mr. Harris is a miner of experience and sound judgment, and, after prospecting the Santiam mines, pronounced them the best in the United States.

The action is certainly one of importance for Albany. It will soon be followed by other movements upon other claims that will be of equal importance.

THOROUGHBY ANGLICAN

The Change That has Come Over Nellie Grant Sartoris.

Mrs. Sartoris (nee Grant) is a specimen of the complete Anglicizing that a dozen years' residence on the other side can make in a native American. Mrs. Sartoris was born and bred in the United States, and so were her parents, grandparents and great-grandparents before her. She married a Briton a dozen or more years ago, went over the seas to live with him, and now comes back to her people and friends with three beautiful children, named out of an English story book Rosemary, Vivian and Lionel. Julia, Ellen and Hiram are not so romantic, but they are names, too, that twenty years hence, in all probability three descendants of the Dant-Grant-Sartoris family will prefer to their own ridiculous appellations. By the death of her father-in law, who admired her very much, Mrs. Sartoris inherited a comfortable sum, which a dissolute son is not able to touch. Although perfectly independent, she could not be induced to live in America again. She prefers England.—Chicago Post.

USES OF HOT WATER.

It Is One of the Best Among Simple Remedies.

Hot water is one of the best among simple remedies. For instance, headache almost always yield to the simultaneous application of hot water to the feet and back of the neck.

A towel folded several times and dipped in hot water, and quickly wrung out and applied over the toothache or neuralgia, will generally afford prompt relief.

A strip of flannel or napkin folded lengthwise and dipped in hot water, wrung out and then applied around the neck of a child that has croup will sometimes bring relief in ten minutes.

Hot water taken freely half an hour before bed time is helpful in the case of constipation, and has a most soothing effect upon the stomach.

A goblet of hot water taken just after rising, before breakfast, has cured thousands of indigestion, and no simple remedy is more widely recommended by physicians to dyspeptics—Ladies' Home Journal.

Milton's Editors Arrested

East Oregonian: Milton's city fathers recently passed an ordinance to prohibit the playing of foot ball, base ball, etc., on Sunday. About twenty citizens and business men afterward concluded to defy the ordinance and to have a game of ball on the Sabbath, and did so. The following Monday certain Milton preachers went before the recorder and swore out warrants for the arrest of Editors H. L. Bowmer and F. G. Hull of the Milton Eagle on the charge of instigating the game and violation of the city ordinance. Brothers Bowmer and Hull were also threatened with a boycott by a councilman if they made allge in any further criticism of the council's action, which they have been condemning in their papers. At last accounts they were not yet under arrest. They will be defended by citizens who played in the game.

Sociable at Tangent.

Tangent Grange will give a sociable in the Tangent warehouse on June 12th begining at 8 P. M. The programme will consist of singing, speaking and selling the basket. Last but not least will be voting on the prettiest lady, who will receive a nice cake, and the homelist man a delicious pie.

DOLPH IN THE FORUM.

Oregon's Senator Tells the World of Our Glorious Country.

The following articles are copied from the advance sheets of the "Forum" for June. Senator Dolph is doing good work for Oregon in writing for a public journal of such world-wide circulation:

OREGON'S MILD WINTERS.

The climate of both Oregon and Washington is mild and equable. In Western Oregon and Washington it is difficult to draw the lines that divide the sea ons. Winter is usually a wet season, but there are often long periods of perfect weather in February and March. Flowers frequently bloom in the open air in January, and green fields of growing grass and grain may be seen all winter. Once or twice during the winter a few inches of of snow falls, but it disappears rapidly. At intervals of several years occurs a winter with ten days or two weeks of freezing weather and a considerable fall of snow. The summers are cool and excessive heat is unknown. In Eastern Oregon and Washington the climate is different. The dry season of summer is more protracted, the rainfall is less and the heat is greater, though it is never excessive. The winters are colder, but of short duration, the snowfall is light and seldom lies long in the valleys, and live stock ranges on the plains all winter thriving on the natural grasses without other food, except when the snow is unusually deep or the cold period unusually protracted.

The commercial outlook of Oregon is westward. It is nearer by the breadth of a continent to the markets of the old East and of the Pacific islands than are Atlantic ports. No just estimate can be placed upon the future volume and value of the trade with Asia. No one nation can control it, but the struggle to possess it will be mainly between England and our Pacific coast states. British statement, with proverbial sagacity, foresaw this struggle, and it was not the result of accident that in settling the Oregon boundary we lost the island of Vancouver and half of Puget Sound. In this struggle the new northwest will have an advantage over California in distance, and in the fact that the ocean stream which rises off the coast of Asia and flows eastward to the American continent gives to every ship bound for a northwestern port a gain of twenty miles in every twenty-four hours. The region will have an advantage over Great Britain in the local production of the staple articles required for the Asiatic trade. He who should now undertake to estimate the commerce of the Pacific coast with Asia and the Pacific islands twenty-five years hence would find few who would not consider his estimate exaggerated.

Important to Housekeepers.

It gives Julius Gradwhol great satisfaction in selling his fine Golden Rule teas and baking powder, with elegant prizes or without them, that his customers who have purchased invariably return and say they are well pleased, that the tea is No. 1 and the baking powder is as good as the best. All his teas and baking powder bears the name of Julius Gradwhol's Golden Rule Bazaar, and are expressly put up for his business, and he still continues to give with each pound of tea or baking powder an elegant piece of glassware.
