OREGON PACIFIC TRAINS.

To the Editor of the Herald. The citizens of Albany are favored in regard to summer resorts. One can board the train at this city and go to the seaside in a few hours, or he can ride on a cushioned seat to the heart of the Cascade mountains. Trains eastward on the Oregon Pacific are now running on just the proper time to suit Albany people—up in the morning and down in the evening. The only improvement that could be made, and one that would be a great benefit to this city, is the running of a train once or twice a week to Coe. Traffic, both passenger and freight, is now lively on the eastward extension of the Oregon Pacific. Large shipments of lumber are made daily from the saw mills along the line, and it is to be hoped trains once or twice a week will be run to Coe to accommodate the settlers there who want to trade at Albany.

LEG BROKEN. Prineville Review: While riding after horses on Lower Trout creek, forty miles north of Prineville, last Wednesday evening, Bruce Healey met with an accident which resulted in the breaking of his right leg above the knee. He was endeavoring to drive some wild horses out of his herd, and when riding at a rapid gait his horse fell, landing on top of Mr. Healey's leg breaking the bone. Dr. Belknap was summoned and went down Thursday morning to reduce the fracture. Mr. Healey was intending to move to Willamette valley about the 15th of the month, but this accident will delay his starting for some time as he will not be able to travel for two or three months.

To my Friends in Polk County, Or. I wish to help every good cause, and in compliance with the wishes of Mr. E. H. Rice and others concerned I can most cheerfully recommend Mr. Rice's fencing as a perfect and durable fence and also will say he has proved reliable so far as his dealing with me is concerned, and I sincerely believe his fencing is the coming fence for the Willamette valley and will give satisfaction wherever placed. It is simple and easy to build and easy to put up. Try some of it as I did and see for yourselves. Yours Very Truly, JOHN VERNON.

Sued for Their Salaries. Salem Journal: That is practically what the case of State vs. J. P. Faull et al. amounts to. This suit is to be argued to-day before Judge Boise, and is brought in name of one Biggs, Gov. Penney's appointee, to oust the old commission. As that body went out of office, the suit is now for a judgment for salaries of the members of the old commission. Burnett, Williams, and Simon defend the commission, Knight & Holmes appearing for the state.

The Remains of W. M. Barbour. The remains of W. M. Barbour, the Lebanon merchant, who was murdered in Portland for his money and thrown into the river, were taken to Northwest Territory, B. C., by the widow Tuesday evening. The remains have been resting in a private vault in Lone Fir cemetery for some time, and as Mrs. Barbour has now settled up all her business affairs, she proposes to return to her former home and friends.

A Suit for Damages. In Justice Humphrey's court Monday the case of E. W. Acheson vs. Samuel Gourley for $72 damages was tried. Mrs. Acheson, it was alleged, was riding by Mr. Gourley's place near the Callipooa bridge when a dog frightened the horse, causing it to run away. A verdict of $25 and costs was rendered.

Important Matter. Julius Gradwohl informs us that in case a dwelling house which is insured should be burned while it is temporarily unoccupied, the insurance companies are not holding for the loss. It is optional with them whether they pay it or not, except in case where permission is granted by the company for a temporary time.

BASE BALL.

An Amateur Game Played Yesterday—The Albans and Salems Will Play. The base ball nines in block 3 and block 8 played yesterday afternoon, the latter winning in a score of 28 to 17. The block 3 nine was composed of the following: A. Jones, Perry Conn, Bert Magers, Wm. Mack, Geo. Stanard, Wm. Stites, Jos. Kleir, F. N. Nutting, Jack Smiley. Their opponents were Wm. Campbell, Edward Blodgett, Van Will-on, Elliot Irvine, C. W. Watts, Eugene Larimore, Edward Huston, H. J. Sawyer, Robert Huston. Jack Warner was umpire.

The game between the two alphabetical nines has been postponed until 5 o'clock Thursday evening. It promises to be a closely contested game. On Friday will occur a "booby" game.

It will be decidedly an amateur game, as no one who is a ball player will be allowed to play. Mayor Cowan will play in the pitcher's box and Ignatz Fox as short stop.

One June 27 the Albany nine will play the Salems, and will show the capital city base ball, how the national game is played.

THOS. MONTEITH, P. M.

QUERY ABOUT GARBAGE. To the Honorable Mayor of Albany and the City Council—Sirs: As a citizen and a business man of the city of Albany, I would like to know where the citizens of Albany can have their trash and garbage dumped, or will they let the garbage accumulate in their yards and cause disease to spread over the city. Don't you think that it would be advisable to establish a garbage dump some place in the river or some other place, so that the citizens can dispose of their garbage.

A LITERARY SENSATION.

Since the departure of Amelie Rives-Chandler from this country almost immediately after her marriage, we have had only brief newspaper paragraphs concerning her life and literary intentions. Not a little curiosity has been displayed as to the possibility of her complete withdrawal from the field of letters. It is now nearly three years since anything of importance has appeared from her pen, but no one has believed that the exceptionally brilliant author of "A Brother to Dragons" had finished her career as a writer. A recent paragraph in the daily papers announced the fact that Mrs. Rives-Chandler was hard at work upon a new novel destined to arouse the entire literary world by its artistic merit and bold originality. There have been many conjectures advanced as to the probable source through which the new novel would be given to the public. Notwithstanding the high prices which Mrs. Chandler demands for her manuscripts it is known that many publishers were in the field in competition for her latest work. While many rumors were afloat, the Cosmopolitan Magazine had quietly secured it and placed it in the hands of a famous artist in Paris for illustration. It is announced now that the first chapters will appear in the August number of the Cosmopolitan, and that, in the estimation of critics who are most competent to judge, this last story will be the most finished, as well as interesting, product of this versatile Southern pen. The story is likely to be the literary sensation of the year. Its publication in the Cosmopolitan is a guarantee that it will contain nothing of the kind that excited criticism in Amelie Rives earlier productions.

To the Public and Especially my Friends of Polk County, Or.

I will say I contracted with Mr. E. H. Rice, proprietor of the Combination Fence, for ninety-five (95) rods, and he agreed with me to complete the same in ten (10) hours, and he, with the assistance of two other men, completed the ninety-five rods in eight hours time, and I must say the fence in my judgment is the best wire fence I have ever seen, and shall use more of it as fast as my rail and other fences require replacing; and I am happy to recommend the fence and Mr. E. H. Rice to all my neighbors, as a man worthy of your patronage, he is no humbug. Yours Respectfully, S. K. CROWLEY.

DEATHS AT OAKVILLE.

OAKVILLE, June 1, 1891. Within the past six weeks four deaths have occurred at Oakville. On April 15th we laid to rest Mrs. Anna McBride; and on May 29th Mr. Wm. Andrew McBride, son of Arthur McBride and son-in-law of Washington Pugh; and on May 28th Mrs. Eva Farrar, wife of Robt. Farrar and daughter of Chas. Pattison. These were all members of the Willamette United Presbyterian church, and by their loss will not only be felt by the families, but by the church and community as well. In the death of Mrs. McBride and Mrs. Brown, aged 85 and 79 years respectively, we have set before us the striking metaphor, gathered "like a shock of corn fully ripe." In that of Mr. McBride and Mrs. Farrar, each 28 years of age, we see an illustration in the "flower soon cut off."

TIMBER DEPREDACTIONS.

Rascality Reported From the Oregon Boundary. A. B. Hall, special agent of the land office, is investigating several timber land frauds along the northern coast and in several of the lower Oregon counties. Writing of his work, he says that the scheme as to timber is "a robbery in disguise." There is in that section a considerable extent of unsurveyed government land. The thieves do not confine themselves to unoccupied land, but invade land that has been entered. The scheme as to timber is to agree with the owner of a quarter section to buy the stamping. The stampage is then legitimately removed and the logger finds it an easy matter to "put a heavy force cross the line on the adjoining quarter." An instance is noted where 350,000 feet of timber was taken during the absence of the owner in one week. He reports forty cases of depredations.

NORTHWEST NOTES.

J. W. Creighton, a resident of Fox valley, was thrown from his horse Sunday last and sustained several injuries, among which was a severe injury to the spine. William Culber, in jumping off a train in motion at Pendleton, was thrown to the ground and his left leg whirled underneath the train, the foot being ground off at the ankle. The citizens of John Day, in Northern Grant county, have raised sufficient money to purchase a newspaper plant, and have engaged the services of a practical printer to publish the same. Fifteen men are employed on the portage road at the Cascades. It is well known that by contract, says the Times-Mountain, there would be several hundred at work, and the road would be completed in two or three weeks. The crops through Gilliam county show a better prospect than for several seasons past. The bad weather has prevented shrinkage at and before ripening. The weather is quite favorable for a large yield and for excellent quality. A dwelling house was destroyed by fire at Arlington Thursday. An infant who had been in the house by its mother, came near perishing in the flames. It was rescued just in time by a gentleman who rushed into the house. The Pendleton machine shops' force is busy with ironwork for the new opera house building at La Grand. There are three lists and six columns to be cast. One foot of the lintels is to be twenty-seven feet long and to weigh 3000 pounds, the largest casting ever made at the shops. R. Alexander, a well-known merchant of Pendleton, left Sunday on a visit to his mother in Germany, whom he has not seen for twenty-five years. On his return home he stops at St. Louis to attend the Savage's Grand Entertainment, L. O. O. F., as grand representative from Oregon.

Half Fare Rates.
