The papers contain frequent notices of rich, pretty and talented young girls dying mysteriously, and each time the well-known specialist, Dr. Franklin M. POLITICS IN IOWA.

Assembling of the Democratic State Convention.

LABOR OVER THE PLATFORM.

The Convention Disputes on the Silver Question, and Finally Patches Up a Compromise Plank.

Des Moines, Ia., June 24.—The democratic state convention assembled here this morning at 10 o'clock. Chairman Fuller called the convention to order.

W. H. Butler, temporary chairman, made an eloquent address, in which he criticized the government and the work of the democratic party in Iowa would not be fully done until the prohibition force was swept from the code. Members of the new state central committee were then announced, and the convention took a recess until 1:30 P. M.

The committee on resolutions met to prepare a platform. The platform bills of endorsing Governor Hoies and his administration. The anti-prohibition plank of the platform of 1890 is reaffirmed, and the party is pledged to a legislative enactment of the Australian ballot or ballot reform system. The McKinley tariff law is denounced and the principle of a tariff for revenue only re-endorsed. State and national control of railroads is recommended, and general provisions for disabled and injured soldiers is favored. The world's fair of 1893 comes in for a plunk, and an ample and liberal appropriation is recommended. Upon the silver question there was a long dispute, but the committee finally decided to recede from the platform of a year ago and merely favor free coinage of silver upon the just ratio of making it a full legal tender for all debts, public and private.

The coming campaign is decisive because it is conceded by both political parties that the voice of the Iowa people will be a power in the coming national convention.

COAST NOTES.

It is getting rather late this season for talk of any Oregon Pacific extensions eastward.

The name of the Portland Examiner has been changed to the Dispatch. Tony Noltner is the editor.

From every direction come reports of bright crop prospects. There is going to be a big harvest this year.

The Pendleton militia company has disbanded, despite the efforts of Col. Houghton to keep it alive.

Independence lives in the hope of seeing her Mammoth motor line extended to Falls City and Salem.

Pretty soon now, after a few weeks of warm weather, the movement of travelers will be mountain and coastward.

A motor line will soon be built from Sodalville to some point on the Southern Pacific railroad, perhaps Lebanon Junction.

A state Chautauque association has been organized at Portland. C. C. Stratton is president and W. H. Narves is secretary.

Forest fires are a large and increasing evil. A large amount of timber on the Nehalem was burning a few days ago.

The wool clip of Eastern Oregon this year is unusually large, being about 1,000,000 pounds in excess of last year and of a superior quality.

No blights have ever come of the young timber, but the loss in the mountains above Mill City last winter. Perhaps some day his bones will be found bleaching in the sun along the Santiam's banks.

When the Southern Pacific is extended east five miles from the penitentiary switch at Salem to a connection with the Woodburn-Springfield (Oregonian) line a good town is certain to spring into existence at the junction.

The surveyors of the Sinclair & Eastern railway have completed the work of running lines for switches for the sawmills and sidetracks at Florence and Aene. Monday they started on their return to make the permanent survey.

A party of ten tendered started out from Waldport, in Benton county, to Cross Cape Perpetua, on the 15th inst and the result was that two of their horses lost their footing on the trail and fell to the rocks below. The men were badly injured and the tourists will be rather cautious about taking another pleasure trip.

Ravenous Crickets.

Localizer:—J. H. Thompson informed us that the crickets are wonderfully destructive in Okanogan county. They made their appearance upward upon the Okanogan river, and stripped the country all the way down it. At his ranch they have been very ravenous; they have eaten up 60 acres of grain and have taken it clean, grubbed it up as it were or so

The Second Day's Proceedings of the Baptist Association.

ABOUT OREGON IMMIGRATION

Crops are Good in Kansas, and Many Will Sell Out and Come West—News of the Northwest.

Salem, June 24.—The second day's session of the Willamette Baptist Association was full of interest, three sessions being held during the day. Rev. C. A. Woodly was elected to succeed himself as a member of the board of managers of the state convention.

The Sunday school report shows the most encouraging year's work of any in the history of the association. It has increased from 11 to 22 schools in one year. The committee on new churches recommended the reception of the churches of East Portland, Albina, Sellwood, Newberg, Hayesville and they were admitted.

Resolutions were adopted, the sense of which were that:

WHEREAS, The whiskey traffic has grown to such gigantic proportions and is so perfectly organized that it has become a dangerous power, both socially and politically, and we believe that the church should give out no uncertain sound on this question. We unhesitatingly condemn the toleration of the liquor traffic as morally wrong, whether with or without the sanction of the law, and would recommend our people to join in an aggressive warfare against this enemy of homes, churches and country; therefore be it

Resolved, That as an association of Baptist churches we agree to pray, labor and vote for the overthrow of the traffic, and view with astonishment and regret the action of our government in the matter of the Brussels treaty.

COMING TO OREGON.

The Best Crop in Years in Kansas—Many Will Sell Out.

Portland, June 24.—Dr. E. C. Elliott, of Wellington, Kansas, is in the city, and this evening talked to a reporter about the immigration to this state. "Yes," he said, "whole trainloads of our Kansas folk will be coming out to Oregon ere this time next year."

"Still the exodus this year will not be so large as that of next, because we will harvest fairly good crops this year, the best known since Grant's first term, and, of course, after harvest, not all can sell out in time to move, but those who are able to do so will. They realize that good crops in Kansas are few and far between."

REPUBLICANS IN CAUCUS.

A Secret Meeting of Political Leaders in Mansfield, Ohio.

MANSFIELD, O., June 24.—Secretary Foster, Hon. Wm. McKinley, J. D. Birne, of the Michigan Republican League, W. I. Squire, of Toledo, president of the Ohio Republican League, and several other prominent republicans are in the city to-day in secret conference with Chairman Hahn, of the republican state executive committee, with a view of furthering and promoting the interests and influence of the republican clubs among them, as well as the Moquis, over the school question.

Realizing the seriousness of the situation, the war department telegraphed General McCook today to take prompt and vigorous steps to prevent an uprising and to afford all necessary protection to the government schools. It is presumed that he will draw on the troops at Fort Wingate, N. M., and Whipple barracks, A. T., given no explicit information is as to which troops should be used.

Colonel Brett's dispatch stated that several Indians decried the surveyor's marks and threatened to burn the schools. They openly declared hostility to the government. He anticipated serious trouble, and urged the sending of a strong force with Hotchkiss guns.

Washington, June 24.—The attention of the war department was called this morning to the report that an Indian outbreak in Arizona was feared.

OREGON INDIAN WAR CLAIMS.

Certain Claims Which are Barred—What Has Been Paid.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—Attorney-General Miller has given an opinion that all claims for horses and other property lost in suppressing Indian hostilities in Oregon and Washington in 1855 and 1856, filed since June 3, 1874, are barred under the provisions of the act of March 3, 1873, §1,484, 700,000 of which has been paid to survivors of the war of 1812, the Mexican war and the war of the revolution.

A Noted Convict Dead.

Cole City, Ga., June 24.—Gen. Ward, the convict who led the recent break for liberty, and who was one of the most noted safe-blowers in the United States, has died from his wounds.
