HULBURT'S BODY RECOVERED.

Eugene Will Wear a Military Aspect for a Week—The Street Cars in Operation.

SALEM, July 26.—Judge Boise is preparing to construct a $2000 wharf and warehouse on his river front property. This is for the use of the independent Salem-Portland steamer Elwood.

Articles of incorporation of the City of Eugene were filed yesterday. The articles of the base ball association of Baker City; capital stock, $100; incorporators, H. C. Bowers, Wm. Smith, J. T. Donnelly.

The county fair's alliance met in Salem to-day for the purpose of electing delegates to the convention at Portland July 8, when a state alliance will be formed. Five alliances of the county had a representation by delegates to to-day's convention, and after a discussion decided to send the delegates unincorporated. The following were chosen: Chas. Miller, of Jefferson, John Jones, Salem, J. B. Heninger, Jewell Prairie.

The asylum for insane received two more patients to-day. One was Harmon Hall, from Clatsop county, who eats grass and performs queer pranks. The other one was Frank Yaletke, from Grant county. He is a Prussian, and believes people seek to kill him.

NEWS FROM EUGENE.

The Body of C. O. Hulburt Recovered From the River.

EUGENE, Or., June 26.—The body of C. O. Hulburt who was drowned in the Willamette at the mouth of the McKenzie on June 14th, was recovered from the river about 2 o'clock by his brother, who with others, has been searching constantly since the accident. The body had lodged on a riffle in about a foot of water one hundred yards below where he sank. Fortunately the river fell considerably last night which prevented the body from floating beyond the riffle.

Cars on the Eugene and College Hill Street Railway made their first trip this afternoon. A general invitation was extended to all to take a free ride and the four cars were crowded all afternoon. Regular trips will be made commencing to-morrow.

GOING INTO CAMP.

Eugene Will Wear a Military Aspect for a Week.

EUGENE, June 26.—The site selected for the military encampment adjacent to this city is already a scene of activity, and will be tenfold, populated by the 10th company of the Second Regiment to be to-morrow evening. A detachment from F. Co., Albany, arrived to-day, who with the detachment from the Salem and Eugene companies, are putting the camp in order. The soldiers will remain until the celebration here.

COAST NOTES.

Interesting Items from Exchange Throughout the Northwest.

Three years ago two Josephine county men bought and set out 1,000 fruit trees. This year they have contracted to deliver 2,000 twenty-pound boxes of fruit from those trees, illustrative of what Oregon can do as a fruit state.

Nehalem settlers feel discouraged over the rejection of the Buchanan survey. At a meeting last Sunday a petition was drawn up, numerously signed and sent to Washington, D. C. It is hard to say how many settlers who have lived there seven years, can get that land surveyed, and secure title to their land.

The seines have been doing very well this last week, John Fitzpatrick catching five or six tons per day on his grounds opposite Skamakawa. Gill-net fishermen are unsuccessful there, the salmon being so large they will not gill, says the Cathlamet Gazette.

The Eugene Journal now has in its position the press on which the Oregonian Spectator, the pioneer paper on the Pacific coast, was printed in 1846. It is one of the best hand presses on the Pacific coast at this time, and is apparently as good as new, after nearly forty-five years of almost constant use.

The Calapoos and Blue River Mining & Milling Company have purchased, at a cost of $1000, a portable stamp mill, which will be put in operation on the Poorman claim during the coming month. The mill is of one 1000-pound stamp capacity, and can be set up and operated in a short space of time, or carried from place to place for prospecting purposes, and when taken apart, the heaviest piece weighs but 3000 pounds; is conveniently operated by steam or water powers.

The coal mine owned by Col

Van Cleve, L. E. Blain and others

the Corvallis Times, was discovered about two and one-half miles from Toledo, up Depot slope, and the quality has been tested in Portland and pronounced good. There are two veins, one which is six feet below the surface; the other is eight feet thick and is seventy-five feet below the ground. Mr. Croeno says there is no question about the discovery of coal in paying quantities, and the mine will be developed at once. The company own 175 acres of ground where they have been prospecting, and last Saturday they purchased an adjoining 166 acre tract.

The city assessment of Eugene has just been completed. The roll contains the names of ninety-nine persons or firms who pay taxes on $4000 or over. The lowest taxpayer is Elias Stewart, who pays on $38,348. Three others pay over $50,000, and twenty others on over $10,000.

Pretty Women as Ushers.

New York Post.

Another step forward for charming womanhood. She has been installed as usher in an Eastern Methodist church, and is performing the duties of the office not only to the entire satisfaction of the elders and pastor, but to the delight of the young men, many of whom permit themselves to be lured within the walls of the sanctuary so that they may be seated by the modest and pretty ushers. This is another wedge for a new sphere for attractive women. If they make good church ushers, they will not make excellent theater ushers? It is a generally conceded fact that a woman is always conscientious in the discharge of her duty, and that she always endeavors to further the interests of the temple to the best of her ability. That is one of woman's virtues as a servant, and there is no question as to her being a valuable adjunct in every occupation. There is another phase of this subject that is worthy of consideration. The presence of respectable women is ever a refining influence. Man is a better being for coming in contact with them in shop, in office and in store. Their presence serves as a curb upon his impetuosity, and the finer elements of his nature have a chance to assert their rights. In a theater a polite and refined woman would have a fine field for the exercise of those graces with which nature has endowed her, for the good of the stronger sex. Besides, it would open a new avenue to make her self-supporting, and in these times of social complexities that should be taken into account.

Beef Cattle Needed.

The general outlook in the beef cattle line in this state indicates a larger demand. The Oregonian says that grass-fed beef is beginning to come to market. Mr. P. B. Beckley, of Oakland, Douglas county, known as the cattle-king of southern Oregon, has brought in twenty car-loads of cattle, sheep and hogs, which he sold to the American Dressed Meat Company and W. W. Spaulding. He says the Willamette valley will turn out quite a number of beef cattle this season; and as the rains have been good for the grass the cattle will be in fine condition. So many Eastern dealers are buying cattle in Eastern Oregon, Washington and Idaho, that the price is kept up to a pretty high figure. Mr. E. May, of the American Dressed Meat Company, says he has bought $250,000 worth of beef cattle in California and Nevada during the past year, and that altogether not less than half a million dollars has been sent out of this state for beef during that time. He says he has now 300 head of grass-fed cattle at Pendleton, and will not have to go outside of the state for beef for the next four or five months. There will always be a market for good cattle at a fair price hereafter, and the farmers and cattle men of this state should not allow so much money to go out of Oregon to buy beef.

Snake Story.

East Oregonian: Foreman How, of J. C. Smith's sheep ranch saw a snake in a peculiar manner the other day, so it is reported. He was working in the field with a new-style harvester, when he was surprised at the sudden appearance of a huge rattler caught by the machine, which rolled up with the grain and came unpleasantly near. His snakeship was promptly dispatched. After this no less than one rattler and three gopher snakes were caught up in the same manner. What in the world were they doing with that harvester this early in the season anyhow. Harvesting snake stories?

Hop Lice.

Eugene Guard: We were shown some leaves from Dan Linton's hop yard to-day that were covered with hop lice. they are in his yard this year as they were a month later in 1890. He will commence to spray at once, using a solution of quassia. To our unexperienced eye the lice greatly resemble the common green aphid.

Have you seen those beautiful cement walls in the cemetery, put up by E. W. Achison, at all the cost of stone.

NORTHWEST INDIANS

They Will Have a Big "Bow-Out" on the Fourth of July.

NEWS EAST OF THE ROCKIES.

An Insane Mother Drowns Her Children—A Woman Who Refused a Fortune—The Indian Troubles.

SEATTLE, June 26.—Arrangements are being made at Port Hadlock for a great Indian "potlatch," compared with which all others on Puget sound will sink into insignificance. It is to come off on July 4th and it is expected that from 3000 to 4000 Indians will be in attendance from various places in Western Washington, besides large delegations from the reservation west of Union City. Chief Patsy, the stalwart brave who for twenty-six years has made his headquarters at Haslock and Seabeck and who has acquired much wealth, has donated $2000 in cash toward the potlatch. Other leading Indians have also donated large sums.

A potlatch house, so called, which is now being built to entertain the gathering, hordes at the grand powwow, will be 54 feet wide by 250 feet long, and it will take 850 yards of ducking to roof it. The sides will be of lumber and this is being got out now by the Haslock Mill company. A large force of men are already at work on the frame of the mammoth structure. The Indians as well as the whites thereabouts are looking forward to the event as the greatest of the kind in the history of Puget sound. Nothing like it has ever before been known. There will be wild Indian dances and a powwow that will commemorate many deeds of valor of early chiefs.

There will be, in addition to old-time Indian horse races and canoe races, many feats of strength which of late years have fallen into desuetude. All the early Indian wars will be recounted by the ablest native historians, and the occasion will be made in all respects memorable. The whole will be crowned by the evening of the chief and Chief Patsy by his tribe of two fine young Indian women who are thereafter to be his wives. Chief Patsy has long been married and his old wife will not be put aside.

TO DINE IN STATE.

How Queen Victoria Will Receive the German Emperor.

LONDON, June 26.—The queen will give two state banquets in St. George's hall during the visit of the German emperor and empress to Windsor on Saturday, July 4th, the day of their arrival, and on Tuesday, but on the other days of the imperial visit the queen and guests and members of the royal family will dine in the grand dining room of the castle, which is now rarely used, as her majesty prefers the oak room, which opens from the corridor and overlooks the quadrangle. The dining-room at the northeast corner of the castle is en suite with three drawing-rooms—green, crimson and white. It was beautifully redecorated in cream and gold during the spring of 1887.

The principal object in the room which is not one of the state apartments, are a sideboard of carved rosewood and a gold punch bowl and ladle for which George IV paid 10,000 guineas to Rundell & Bridge, which is placed on a stand of malachite.

SUGAR IN THE NORTHWEST.

Speckles Must Look Out for His Puget Sound Market.

VANCOUVER, B. C., June 26.—An official intimation was received here that the Dominion government had decided to admit raw sugar into Canada free of duty, but will retain the duty on the refined article. Much satisfaction is expressed here at what is regarded as a sensible act on the part of the government. To the Vancouver refinery it simply means that Speckles must keep out of the British Columbia market, for unless he will agree to this Vancouver sugar will be made to demoralize his Puget sound market. In the meantime fifty tons of refined sugar reached here to-day on the Empress of Japan, on a consignment to Puget sound points. This would indicate some big backing from abroad.

REFUSED A FORTUNE.

Lady Burton Burns Her Husband's Manuscript.

LONDON, June 26.—In addition to the facts which have been published about the burning of the manuscript of Sir Richard Burton's last work by his widow, although she was offered 6000 guineas for it, the following story, as told by Lady Burton herself, will be particularly interesting.

It must be borne in mind that when Sir Richard produced his famous translation of the "Arabian Nights" there was a great outcry on the subject, as it was alleged that, although in an expurgated form the book was in every library in the world, yet unbridged it was what is published, and was only suitable to be in the hands of scholars, who are presumably beyond the consideration of ordinary morality.

This book, it may be added, fetches large sums whenever a copy is offered for sale. Lady Burton's present action condenses her to poverty. "My husband," she said, "had been collecting for fifteen years information and materials on certain subjects for his last volume of "Supplemental Nights." When it was finished he then gave himself up entirely to writing this book, which was called "The Scented Garden," a translation from the Arabic.

"It treated of a certain passion, but don't let any one suppose for a moment that Richard Burton ever wrote anything from an entirely new point of view. He dissected the passion from every point as critically as a doctor would dissect a human body, showing its source and origin, its evil and good, as well as its proper uses."

"The day before he died he called me into his room and showed me a page of the Arabic manuscript on which he was working, and said: 'To-morrow I shall finish this, and I promise you after this I will never write another book on this subject.' He added: 'I am afraid it will make a great row in England, because the "Arabian Nights" was a baby tale in comparison to this.' Next day he died."

Alter serious consideration his wife burned the manuscript page by page.

AN INSANE MOTHER.

She Drowned Her Three Children in a Lake.

Hudson, Wis., June 26.—While John Carson of the town of Troy was in the city yesterday afternoon his wife became violently insane and drowned her three children, the eldest of whom is aged 6 years. Mrs. Carson is a young German woman 29 years old. She had shown some signs of insanity during the last three weeks, but her condition had not been alarmed, as she was a very affectionate mother, and she and her husband had lived a very happy life.

She was alone yesterday afternoon with the children and when her husband came home he found his wife and children missing. Some distance away he found his wife on the bank of Lake St. Croix. She told him she wanted to drown herself. He asked for the children and she replied that she had drowned them in the lake. She said the devil was after her and she wanted to escape. The bodies of two of the children were recovered. The woman was sent to an asylum.

GOLD IN THE TREASURY.

It Is Less Than at Any Time During Three Years.

WASHINGTON, June 26.—A statement prepared at the treasury department shows that the net gold in the treasury, coin and bullion, on the 30th of May, was $121,233,329, or $11,373,824 less than was held on the 1st inst., and $68,899,085 less than was in the treasury June 1, 1890. The statement only goes back to January, 1888, at which time the net gold in the treasury amounted to $292,955,184, or $81,621,845 more than at present. The gold holdings were greatest in March, 1888, when they were $213,818,253.

THE INDIANS.

It Is Believed the Trouble Will Not Result in Bloodshed.

WASHINGTON, June 26.—Commissioner Morgan, of the Indian bureau, has received further telegrams from Superintendent Colville, of the Moqui Pueblo Indian school in Arizona, which is the seat of the Indian troubles there. The Indians are opposed to having their children attend school, and threatened to burn the school houses. The prompt action of the military, it is thought, has averted serious trouble and the Indians will be pacified.

PARNELL AND HIS BRIDE.

He Is Coming to America Month After Next.

LONDON, June 26.—Parnell and his bride arrived to-day. A second and religious marriage ceremony was performed to-day. It is supposed to satisfy the Catholics. Parnell himself has made up his mind to go to America month after next. He wishes to have a consultation with William Redmond before he leaves Ireland, and Redmond, at Parnell's request, will go to Ireland and report to Parnell.

Hypnotism as a Defense.

FARGO, N. D., June 26.—Joseph Remington, charged with the murder of James G. Fleet, elevator agent at Arthur, last winter, was arraigned yesterday. M. A. Hildreth, his attorney, entered a plea of not guilty on the ground that Remington was hypnotized when he killed Fleet.

Big Crops in Kansas.

ABILENE, KS., June 26.—The harvest is in full blast and farmers are finding the yield of wheat far in excess of anticipation. There is great scarcity of hands, and unless help is secured much grain will be lost.
