Nora Page, a young country lass, in love with Si; Felix Schmidt, an inventive Dutchman; Robert Denny, a bogus stock speculator; Ezra Page, an honest old farmer who does not understand speculation; Moses Wilton, a Hebrew money lender, and numerous friends of the Page family. VISITING THE MILITIA.

Governor Penoyer Takes the Boys in Blue by Surprise.

Thursday was the day set for Governor Penoyer to visit Camp Grant, at Eugene, where the O. N. G. boys are learning the duties of a soldier.

The officers were making considerable preparation to receive the governor in a proper manner befitting the honors due to their commander-in-chief and the head official in the state, but the governor concluded that his duty was to see how the boys were actually performing the duties of militiamen, so he stole a march upon them and made the visitation upon Wednesday. But he found the officers and men true to their work and faithfully performing their duties as soldiers, and was highly pleased with their performance in drill.

He witnessed the various evolutions, battalion drill and dress parade, and reviewed the command, and expressed himself as highly pleased.

In the evening the governor watched the merry throng at the dancing platform, where a large number of the citizens of Eugene were having a nice, social time with the boys. Having viewed the scene with satisfaction and pleasure for some time, he started, in company with Captain Sladden, of Eugene, and Surgeon Ellis, of Albany, for the colonel's tent. In attempting to pass between two tents they were saluted with the stern command to halt, and refused the privilege of further advancing without giving the countersign. As they were not in possession of the word, the stalwart soldier, who belonged to one of the Coos county companies, held them as prisoners until the corporal of the guard could be summoned. The governor afterward complimented the soldier from his prompt discharge of duty, and found, in conversation with him, that the man had seen former service with Custer. Captain Sladden was inclined to be restive under the five minutes detention, but the governor was amused and pleased with the incident.

Governor Penoyer came down from Eugene on the early morning train yesterday and went out on the Oregon Pacific to Mehama, returning in the evening to go on to Salem this morning.

For a Congregational College.

The committee appointed by the Congregational association of Oregon at its last annual meeting to take steps to establish a Congregational college in Oregon, met in Portland Tuesday. There were present of the committee Messrs. Albert Brownell, D. B. Grap, Frank M. Warren, Napoleon Davis, W. H. Morrow, James H. Morrow, James Steel, B. S. Huntington, I. A. McCrum, H. A. Shorey. Reports from the various sub-committees were submitted showing what had been done.

After a full discussion of the matter presented it was unanimously resolved to carry out the instructions of the association and to take the necessary steps to establish a Congregational college in Oregon, and a committee was appointed consisting of H. Allen Shorey, James Steele and W. H. Morrow, to receive propositions from the various parts of the state for a location for the college. The committee are of the opinion that arrangements can be made whereby the college may open in September next. Mr. Brownell, who resides in Albany, has returned here to see the location of the college will depend somewhat upon the inducements offered by the various citizens of Oregon. Albany might secure it if sufficient encouragement is given, as this city is centrally located and would offer a good site.

Wheat Prospects.

A Puget sound grain buyer, says the Astoria Bulletin, in summing up the wheat prospect, thinks that the inland Empire will furnish for export 15,000,000 bushels of wheat, and of that amount 15,000,000 bushels will go to market via Puget sound and the balance will go eastward by rail. Portland does not seem to cut any figures in the case according to this story, nevertheless she will obtain part of the wheat, even though it will be impossible to compete with the sound as to freight rates. It may teach the arrogant city above us a lesson to lose the wheat business for a year or two. Then they would be willing to build a road down to deep water and place Oregon on an equal footing with Washington.

Oregon Newspapers.

A newspaper directory just issued reports Oregon's thirty-one counties as having 131 newspapers, fifteen of which are dailies, and nearly all of the remainder, we dices. Of course Multnomah is the banner county, having four dailies, and twenty-eight weeklies and monthlies. Seven counties—Crook, Curry, Josephine, Klamath, Lake, Malheur and Sherman—are reported as having but one paper each. There is no county in the state without a newspaper. In Linn there are eight, two of which are published daily. Lane has six, Polk four, Benton five, and Umatilla seven.

Increase of Salary.

During the last fiscal year the business of the Albany post office has increased sufficiently to entitle it to a raise of salary, and beginning July 1st an additional $100 was added making the salary now $1900 per year.

The Klickitat Leader says that over in his county the faces of the farmers have so shortened since the late rains that barbers have reduced the price of shaving to fifty cents.

THE TEACHERS AT YAQUINA.

A Profitable and Interesting Session Being Held Down by the Sea.

NEWPORT, Or., July 2.—At the forenoon session of the department of superintendence yesterday. W. I. Reynolds presented in a very practical and enthusiastic manner, his plan for grading the country schools of his county. A profitable discussion followed, in which Superintendent Price, Yates, Baker and others participated. It was the general opinion that the schools could be successfully graded and the work systematized as to render it more efficient. In the afternoon the "Lawful Duties of Teachers" was presented by Superintendent Wetzell, of Multnomah county.

The discussion which followed on this subject drew out very many valuable suggestions. "Superintendents' Lawful Duties" was next presented by Superintendent W. E. Yates, of Benton county. This subject elicited much discussion on technical points of law. Professor J. B. Horner made an oral report of the condition of the State Teachers' Reading Circle. He reported an enrollment of 390 members; that seventy-five had read the entire course and had received certificates; that twenty-five had read the two years' course and had been presented with diplomas. He also reported that the expenses of the circle had been about $300 and the receipts had been but $150, and that the difference he had paid from his own pocket.

The committee on the selection of books for this year's reading for the circle reported that they recommended "Gordy's Lectures on Psychology," "Kellogg's School Management," "Frye's Child and Nature." The report was adopted. The following resolution was adopted:

WHEREAS, It is provided by law that a county board of examiners shall not issue more than one certificate of any one grade to the same person, and

WHEREAS, Such persons upon going into another county may receive a second certificate of the same grade, there being no rule to enable the county board to prevent such evasion of the spirit of the law, and

WHEREAS, It is obviously detrimental to the best interests of the public schools of the state at large for a teacher to continue teaching school in the same grade in another county as in the county in which he receives the first certificate on the grade. Be it

Resolved, That the State Board of Education be requested to make a rule that but one third grade certificate be issued to any teacher in the state of Oregon, and that additional question be made for applicants for certificates to answer which will enable the county board to determine what grade of certificate said applicants have held, or do hold at time of examination.

The department then adjourned to meet one year hence at the time and place designated by the superintendent of public instruction.

The following county superintendents are in attendance: J. D. Denman, Malheur county; H. S. Strange, Union county; D. W. Jarvis, Umatilla county; Troy Shelley, Wasco county; W. A. Wetzell, Multnomah county; Alex. Thompson, Clackamas county; D. W. Golder, Marion county; J. H. Russell, Linn county; W. I. Reynolds, Polk county; L. H. Baker, Yamhill county; W. E. Yates, Benton county; C. S. Price, Jackson county.

The first session of the State Teachers' Association proper was held in the opera house on Wednesday evening. The house was crowded by a large and enthusiastic audience. The address of welcome was delivered by Rev. Booth, of Newport. To this address Professor P. L. Campbell, president of the State Normal school at Monmouth, responded in an eloquent and humorous manner.

The address of welcome from Benton county was delivered by Superintendent W. E. Yates, response by Superintendent H. S. Strange, of Union county.

President Van Scoy, of the Willamette university, delivered a very able and interesting lecture upon the "Teacher's Profession." Prof. Hawthorne, the chairman, made a few remarks, after which the meeting adjourned.

The exercises were interspersed by excellent music by the Apollo club of Albany and the Arion orchestra of Corvallis.

ABOUT HOPS.

A Belief That the Pesky Parasite is Not the Genuine Hop Louse.

Much has been said about hop lice in Oregon this year, and it is believed that nearly every yard in the state is affected.

There is cheerful news, however, received from the Washington hop fields. It is to the fact that the supposed louse is a fraud, and that he is not the real hop parasite. Ezra Meeker has just heard from Louis R. Searles, a prominent hop dealer of New York city, who says:

Fier Bros. received to-day a box of leaves from Oregon, which on close inspection we found to contain no hop lice, but a large quantity of nits, such as I saw when I was there, and which are not destructive to the hops, and are an entirely different species of insect from the hop louse. It leads me to think that perhaps the crop in that state is infected with these nits and not the lice.

Then, also, Mr. Meeker comes to the conclusion, after an extended trip through the hop yards of Washington and Oregon, that the bug on the hop vines of these two states are identically the same, but are not the real hop-vine aphid. As Mr. Meeker is somewhat of one of the best authorities, his judgment can be relied upon as representing very nearly the truth.

Fred S. Meeker has just determined to get the best of testimony on the bug. So recently he gathered some dog fennel, hop leaves, and other green stuff on which it was visible. These he wrapped in separate packages, and sent to Professor C. V. Riley, United States entomologist, department of agriculture, Washington, D. C., for careful examination. The result of his observations will soon be known.

Professor Riley is about to issue a pamphlet on the hop louse and its remedies, which will be sent to the dealers and growers of the Northwest.

It is now said that the insect known as a "nigger head" will destroy the hop louse, and that its propagation will bring good results.

Mr. H. L. Reese, a Portland hop man, made a tour through the Willamette Valley, and he says:

"I was glad to find that the dangerous hop louse has disappeared with the sunny weather, and I do not think our vines will be troubled with them again this season. The pests are to be found in oak and willow as well as upon the leaves of 'dog fennel.' The fact is, the present crops are to be found in the fields of the most skillful growers.

"Everything indicates that prices will be good this year, though 26 cents per pound is about the highest offer made so far in our district."

I have been bothered with catarrh for about twenty years; I had lost sense of smell entirely, and I had almost lost my hearing. My eyes were getting so dim I had to get some one to thread my needle. Now I have my hearing as well as I ever had, and I can see to thread as fine a needle as ever I did, my sense of smell is partly restored, and it seems to be improving all the time. I think there is nothing like Ely's Cream Balm for catarrh. Mrs. E. E. Grimes, Rendell, Perry, Co., O.

IN MEMORIAM.

HALL OF ALBANY LODGE, No. 4, I. O. O. F., ALBANY, OR., July 1, 1891.

To the N. G. Officers and Members:

Again has death, the great mystery, entered the portals of our order's home and taken from our brotherhood an honored member, a worthy brother, a true Old Fellow, a good citizen, a genial companion, a firm and steadfast friend. He had scarcely reached the prime of life ere God unmoved his weary star. His was a sudden call. The silver cord was hurriedly cut in twain, the golden bowl quickly broken, and the pearl dropped from the wasted shell, and the spirit returned to God who gave it. Brother James F. Hall is dead. The record of an exemplary life, though brief, is complete. It is another summons, and the wisdom that suggested it, and the power that enforced it, are alike the same silent, mysterious agency that chooses the purpose and then presses on unchallenged.

Resolved, That we tender to the afflicted sister our heartfelt sympathy and condolence in this her dark hour of sad affliction.

Resolved, That the charter of this lodge be draped in mourning for the period of thirty days.

Resolved, That these resolutions be spread at large upon the journals of this lodge, an enrolled copy sent to the sister of the deceased, and copies to the HERALD and Democrat for publication.

Fraternally submitted,

T. J. STILES, J. K. WEATHERFORD, J. F. BACKENSTO, Committee.
