He came by the way of Vancouver and the Sound and was bound for headquarters in San Francisco.

Klein Bros. have a new advertising scheme and want us to advertise the same in the Herald, but as it is against the U. S. postal law to advertise lotteries we were obliged to decline them and will explain the same by saying that they have a fine $400 piano on which they give a ticket to every purchaser of $3 or over.

The sale of reserved seats for the Keene company in "Held by the Enemy" opens this morning at Will & Link's music store. We would advise all desiring to be present to assist in welcoming this splendid company to secure their seats early, as our patriotic citizens will doubtless crowd the house to witness the great play to be given that night.

CASE OF ABDUCTION.

A Father Presumably Carries Off His Own Child From Its Mother. Rumors were afloat on Saturday evening that a man had carried off a child from the city going down the railroad on a run, being seen by parties near the Jewish Cemetery.

Yesterday it was learned from Mr. Johns, commonly known as Warm Spring Johnny, that the man was Dan Morris and the woman is Mr. Johns' step-daughter. The couple had been living at Sweet Home and came to Albany for some purpose. The young woman, after arriving here, informed her husband that on account of his cruelty to her, she would not live with him any longer. The announcement angered the man, and after having fortified himself with several drinks he went back and taking the little two year old girl carried her off with him, taking her on the rounds of the saloons, and as is reported to us, forcing her to swallow liquor at one place. A pursuit was finally put after him to regain the child for its mother, but he eluded those after him and carried the child to relatives in Seaside.

THE BRIDGE QUESTION.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD: SIR.—Recognizing the general principle that the public have the right to say how public monies shall be expended, we wish to protest against the high-handed and arrogant manner in which certain of our public officers are abusing the high stations to which they have been elected by the popular suffrage. In the matter of the location and building of a bridge over the Willamette at this city we will always be found ready to acquiesce in the expressed will of the majority and so long as everything is conducted in an honorable and legal manner we will aid with heart, hand and purse toward the consummation of our dearest wish, namely the construction of a handsome and substantial bridge. But we wish here to give notice that we will oppose in every honorable way any action that is not legal and that does not represent the wishes of the people.

The visit of the grand master will be remembered as one of the bright events in masonic work by all who were present.

A NEW VENTURE.

G. B. Conley and John Schlosser went to the North Santiam a short time ago to take up claims of timber and succeeded in locating only a bear's nest. J. P. Galbraith's horse and buggy took a spin in Corvallis, much to the detriment of the latter, on Saturday. Miss Flora Mason and Mrs. Aug. Lange had driven over there and left the horse securely tied to the fence, but he became frightened, broke loose and committed the damage mentioned. The gallantry of Mr. John Schmeer, who was in Corvallis that day, relieved the ladies of their strangled condition and returned them home, and the reluctant horse and debris of the buggy.

Mr. Norcross, brother-in-law of Mr. R. M. Robertson, whose trip from Ashland and bad luck in getting his horses killed by the cars has been spoken of, was taken with congestive apoplexy while attending sabbath school teachers meeting at the United Presbyterian church, and is lying in a precarious condition at Mr. Robertson's residence in this city. His many old friends wish for his recovery.

The new town of Minto on the Oregon Pacific, two miles above Gates, is two miles and a quarter from Leedy's Mill, but it will be the landing place for the tramway for that mill, the business of which will make all of the town there is of Minto for the present. The site, however, is on a fine piece of land belonging to Hon. John Minto.

HOW THE PROSPECTS ARE.

Western Oregon weather for week ending, Saturday, July 11th, 1891. PORTLAND OREGON, July 11th.—The temperature has been four degrees a day below the average. The weather has been partly cloudy with general rains on 9th, 10th and 11th. In some localities nearly an inch of rain fell. Over half an inch fell in this section.

The rains did some damage to the hay that was cut and down; considerable hay has been already hauled, and some remains to be cut. Generally the crop has been heavier than for many years, five tons per acre of clover hay is reported from Curry county. The wheat prospects continue to be unusually good. Twenty-two to thirty-four bushels are expected from one grain in Yamhill county. The heads are large and heavy full and plump. The grain is turning yellow and harvest will begin in ten days. Oats and barley are promising large yields. Fruit trees are heavily laden and are expected to be a crop that was expected; insects are few and no damage from them as yet. Hope are coming on well, the lice have not been as destructive as was anticipated.

Early potatoes have been a very full crop. Cabbage and cauliflower plentiful. Tomatoes are ripening. Warmer weather and more sunshine is needed for all vegetation.

Western Oregon weather.—The temperature has ranged from 1 to 6 degrees a day below the average. Early frosts and late rains have been predicted, extending over the entire wheat belt of Eastern Oregon as well as Washington.

Having in progress, yielding well but some has been injured by the rains. The hay crop through the stock sections is especially heavy. The grain has a tendency to help spring grain to fill better. Fall wheat has headed remarkably well and the excellent prospects continue. General reports indicate that the largest yield, per acre and total, will be obtained. One of the best stands of fine crops in sections is a poor stand. Fears rye and other fruit promises unusually well. Crows are doing some damage to wheat in Morrow county. Warmer weather and sunshine are needed for all crops, especially, though so far it looks very well.

A Great Play.

"Held by the Enemy," an American play, by an American and for Americans, is the piece in which the return engagement here on Thursday of this week. The play was written by Wm. Gillette, one of our most celebrated American authors, and is founded on the scenes of carnage enacted during the civil war. It appeals to the heart of every patriotic American whose natural love of country and liberty teaches him to appreciate the beautiful sentiment of a play, the object of which is to strengthen the bond of union between the two formerly rival countries, both of which, after having struggled for supremacy, bow down and worship together, the stars and stripes. Through the entire play runs a humorous vein of delightful comedy, which, together with the stirring and interesting and the wonderful horse scene, an imitation of a horse coming from a distance, gradually getting nearer until it seems that the horse itself must actually burst upon the stage at full gallop, renders the piece the most interesting, interesting and effective of all the dramas which owe their origin to incidents connected with the war. The company presenting the play are known to be thoroughly first class and a performance such as we are seldom treated to in Albany may be confidently expected.

The Barn Burner Again.

About 10 o'clock Friday evening Brakenman Allen, of the Oregon Pacific, who resides in the eastern portion of the city, was awakened by a cry of fire and found his barn in a blaze, and it was with some difficulty that the barn was saved, some wretch without fear of God or his fellow-man, had set a fire under the manger, and the blaze burned up several feet before it was finally put out. The barn was a large one and was well filled with hay, and no doubt had it burned down have taken several houses near by with it.

GILLIAM COUNTY.

Heavy Rains and Good Crops. Harvest Commenced. CONDON, Or., July 10. Thinking a few lines from this part of the country would interest your readers, I send you a few items for consideration. It is raining heavily at present. We have had heavy rains the past month soaking the ground, and it has never before done in Gilliam county. Crops are excellent, better than they have been for years in this section of the country. Bunch grass is more plentiful than it has been in 1 or 2 years. Some are harvesting their rye crops, but the heavy rains are liable to spoil the hay that is cut down. Crops will very likely average 30 bushels per acre this season, and hay will average two tons per acre. Our little town of Condon county seat of Gilliam county is improving rapidly. Several new dwellings are going up at present, and among the special is a large hotel and a $2,000 school house. We expect to have a graded school this fall. County Commissioner W. J. Edwards returned on the 7th, from a visit to Eugene City. Major Jay P. Lucas returned Wednesday from a weeks' encampment at the Dalles. He reports a very favorable time among the O. N. G., boys while in camp. Born.—To the wife of H. N. Frazer of Condon, July 6th, a 9 1/2 pound boy. H. L. P.

I have been bothered with catarrh for about twenty years; I had lost sense of smell entirely, and I had almost lost my hearing. My eyes were getting so dim I had to get some one to thread my needle. Now I have my hearing as well as I ever had, and I can see to thread as well as a needle as ever I did, my sense of smell is partly restored, and it seems to be improving all the time. I think there is nothing like Ely's Cream Balm for catarrh. Mrs. E. E. Grimes, Randall, Perry, Co., O.

All sprinklers must be shut off promptly at 9 o'clock, and all leaks and water waste must be carefully guarded against during the coming week while the water is out of the canal, as only one pump can be used, and it is necessary to maintain sufficient pressure to keep water in the railroad and other elevated tanks.
