To Raise the Price of Beef. Marshfield Coast Mail. The great herds of cattle in Southern and Eastern Oregon are being bought up, and there is danger that the price of beef will be advanced greatly before long. It is believed by many that an attempt is being made to "corner" the cattle market. Papers in various sections of the state report representatives of an Eastern syndicate buying all the cattle they can get and making no effort to send them away to any market. It is no more than likely, therefore, that a systematic effort is being made throughout the state to raise the price by reducing the supply.

FIRE AT LEBANON.

A Blaze Which Destroyed $10,000 Worth of Property. Lebanon was visited by a (10,000) fire Monday night. The Express published an extra yesterday giving the following particulars:

Excited voices and the sharp crash of the fire bell started the citizens of our little city last night. About 11:30 fire was discovered issuing from the back end of the grocery store of T. C. Peedler, rapidly spreading both ways.

S. P. Bach on the corner and the U. S. post-office and the harness shop of J. C. Frye and the office of Dr. Duckett, south to the Lebanon meat market building were completely destroyed.

The Peedler stock of groceries was a total loss, nothing being taken from the building. Mr. Bach estimated his stock as worth $4,000 to $5,000 on which he had insurance to the amount of $2,300. About $700 to $800 worth of his stock was taken out, but is of little value in its present condition.

Mr. Bach had just received about $300 worth of new goods which he had not opened. Mr. Peedler estimates his stock as worth $2,000 about, on which he had $1,000 insurance.

Speaking of the probable cause of the fire he said that he and Will Frey were in the store until about 11 p. m. and that he could not account for the fire unless it was caught in the ceiling from the flue—that he had been using his early stove, which had a pipe entering the main stove pipe.

The post office building, the office fixtures and most of the mail were entirely lost, the fire communicating to this building, as it seemed without set or hindrance, although the fire company and citizens were doing heroic work to check the flames. Postmaster Miller was on hand early and succeeded in saving some valuable mail and some of the mail bags.

The registered mail, stamps, money orders, about $100 in money, etc., were kept in the iron safe which cannot be opened for some time. It was not considered a very good one and it is not improbable that its contents are also a loss. The fixtures were valued at $300.

Judge Miller also loses part of his law library valued at $250. This morning the people will find themselves without a post office. Squire Hilly also lost some books valued not known.

There was no insurance whatever on the post-office fixtures. Judge Miller says if the government holds him responsible for the postage lost, he will be out about $60.

By the time the fire had well taken hold of the Bach store and post-office, a large portion of the population had arrived. Many willing hands assisted the firemen who fought bravely. No one was hurt, but the burning of the flue in the grocery store added to the very intense heat and for a while it looked as if the whole business portion of the town would burn.

The St. Charles hotel was saved as it seemed by mire, the fire department doing its best work. Had it caught that block could not possibly have been saved.

The buildings destroyed were the property of Dr. J. S. Courtney. He values them at $3,000 and had $1,500 insurance. The buildings were frame.

Mr. Will Frey who was with Mr. Peedler in the store a short time before the fire broke out makes the same statement that Mr. Peedler does, both believing the fire started in the roof, from the flue.

A summing up last night's losses will probably show about as follows: J. S. Courtney, $3,000; S. P. Bach, $450; T. C. Peedler, $2,000; P. M. Miller, $500; C. H. Duckett, $75; Frey Bros. $75; Total $10,650; Insurance $4,700.

LATER.—Postmaster Miller was in the city last evening. He stated that the safe had been opened and the contents were found to have been entirely destroyed. The burned buildings will be rebuilt without delay.

Attention: The very latest news is that you can buy at Julius Gradwohl's Golden Rule Bazaar, for net cash, 15 pounds of granulated sugar for $1.00 and 15 pounds of EXTRA C sugar. All goods sold for net cash from 10 to 25 per cent less than regular price, as I intend to open a strict cash business.

James Gradwohl, Albany, Or., July 21, 1891.

Some News: The Salem cannery is swamped with green peas, says the Journal. About a thousand bushels lie there rotting. When the farmers cannot haul them out to feed the stock, drays are paid to haul them away as garbage. Fifty teams were there unloading produce this morning. The supply seems to be immense and the finest in the world.

Preached at Gatesville. A subscriber at Gatesville writes to the Herald, under date of July 20: "I see in to-day's Herald that your Mill City correspondent claims that Rev. H. H. Brown, of Salem, preached at that place last Sunday. His four correspondents were mistaken, as Mr. Brown delivered a couple of sermons here on that day and denies any knowledge of having preached at Mill City."

New To-Day. Braumson, of the Palace Restaurant, has purchased of W. A. Meier the City Restaurant and will hereafter serve his patrons at the latter place. The restaurant will be retitled and furnished and will be strictly first-class in every particular. Mr. Braumson thanks his patrons for past favors and solicits their patronage in the future.

UP THE SANTIAM.

The Rapid Development of a New Country—A Growing Trade. HALSTEAD, July 21, 1891. If one wishes to see a frontier country undergoing a rapid process of development, nowhere can it perhaps be better observed than up the Santiam on the line of the Oregon Pacific railroad.

The time was when the North-west was the zone of the pioneer, but the far West is no longer the wild country it once was. The advance of this state from its pioneer period to civilization, has left but a few more remote localities to the operations of frontier life.

The advent of the Oregon Pacific railroad has proved a potent factor in the development of the Upper Santiam country, and has added to its value in a commercial way, as well as increasing its attractiveness as a tourist resort.

New towns have sprung up, and new homes dot the rich little valleys along the course of the Santiam far up into the heart of the Cascade mountains. The trains run daily as far as Halstead, and regularly twice a week to Coe, 60 miles east of Albany. Some idea of the valuable resources of this district can be obtained when it is stated the eastward division of the Oregon Pacific now pays about as well as the road from Albany westward to Yaquina. The writer has been told that the lumber shipments alone from the saw-mills which are cutting the spruce and fir along the route of the road up the Santiam, pay the running expenses of that portion of the road, and passenger and other traffic is considered a long train loads of lumber, laths and shingles are hauled daily into Albany from this district.

A work train with a force of men has been employed for some time putting the extreme eastward portion of the road in thorough repair. This force is now at work between Halstead and Coe.

The settlers in this district above Halstead, who have been holding their land by "squatter's rights" only, and have been waiting for the government survey, are about to see their hopes realized, as a force of government surveyors are now completing the unfinished survey of township 10, range 1 E., and also one or more townships immediately east of it. This will open up to actual settlement a broad area of the public domain, which is valuable for its fine timber, and as fruit lands, and to which the settlers occupying it have been unable to either improve or acquire title to.

During the summer months the number of people seeking pleasure recreation and health, who flock to this wonderful region, is steadily increasing, and they are rewarded in the fullest measure, for they find the purest air, the coldest water and moderately good trout fishing in the roaring Santiam and its clear tributaries.

Besides the railroad, a good wagon road runs as far east as Brown's mill, and the Minto Pass trail is a good open trail for pack horses across the mountains.

The largest saw-mill on the river is at Mill City, operated by the Santiam Lumbering Co. The mill at N.agara, or Brown's mill, is being enlarged and its capacity will soon be forty or fifty thousand feet per day.

At Lyons, Halstead, Gatesville, and at the new station of Minto, mills are also putting their lumber products upon the market.

At Gatesville is the road into the Santiam mines, where the Albany Mining & Milling Co., and Messrs. Woodin, Warner & Co., are already working the mines to profit and arranging to put in new and enlarged mining machinery.

Further down the road are fertile valleys, where waving grain, thrifty orchards and neat farm residences proclaim the richness of the soil and the energy of the people.

This country has better homes, more people, greater products than formerly. Its influence is felt in the trade of Albany, and with its wealth of mineral, timber and agricultural resources, this will be a steady increasing quantity.

W. The Grouse Law. Young grouse are now large enough for eating, but the new game law protects them until September 1st, when they may be killed until November 15th. Ducks can be killed from September 1st, to March 15th. Sportsmen will do well to note the changes in date made by the new law.

Untrustworthy Citizens. La Grande Gazette: Those who object to public improvements on the grounds of increased taxation, are neither useful nor ornamental as citizens. They ought to be given a little touch of high life and be made to pay a rate of taxes that would compel them to sell out and move elsewhere. The town has no use for them.

University of Oregon at Englewood. Next session begins on Monday, the 21st day of September, 1891; tuition, free. Four Courses: Classical, Scientific, Literary, and a short English course, in which there is no Latin, Greek, French or German. The English is pre-eminently a business course. For catalogues or other information, Address: J. W. JOHNSON, President.

Examination of Teachers. Notice is hereby given that the regular examination of applicants for certificates to teach in the public schools of Linn county, Oregon, will be held at the superintendent's office in Albany, on August 12, 1891. G. F. RUSSELL, County superintendent.

NEWS OF THE COAST.

Interesting Items from Exchange Throughout the Northwest. A new postoffice is to be established in the Santiam mines. Newport is beginning to rival other Oregon towns as a summer resort.

R. Isenhoot, charged with attempting to kill Allen Henry at Primeville, has been held in the sum of $1000.

News if received from the Santiam country of rich developments in the property of the Gold Mountain & Dry Creek Company. Much interest has been aroused.

A big whale came into the bay last Sunday and spouted around Empire City in fine style. Some of the people went out in a boat and langed away at the sea-monster, causing it to get down out of sight.

The railroad commission say the new tariff sheet submitted by the Southern Pacific Company is an advance on all present freight rates except wheat, where a slight reduction is offered. The commission is getting statistics to make a just system of rates.

The settlers on the surveyed lands in Harney valley are taking the necessary steps toward having their lands surveyed, and the matter will soon be presented to the surveyor-general in due form. This will enable them to make final proof, at an early day. Some of them have very valuable ranches.

Thursday at La Grande the iron of one of the brick buildings being erected there gave way in some mysterious manner, and started to fall outward. It was braced with timbers, pushed back in place and fastened with iron rods. Every one is at a loss to account for the building's strange behavior.

Portland parties have made a proposition to V. Watter, owner of the roller mills at Parkersville, a few miles from Gervais, to remove the mill to Gervais. The Gervais board of directors has appointed a committee to assist in bringing about the desired end and it is probable that before the year is over Gervais may have a flouring mill of good capacity.

Fishing in Rogue river's tributary streams about Ashland and even higher up in the mountains is better this year than ever before known. This was caused by the recent a broad area of the public domain, which is valuable for its fine timber, and as fruit lands, and to which the settlers occupying it have been unable to either improve or acquire title to.

The prospects for a good start here never so flattering, people say who know, as at present. The prizes have been increased, and $15,000 is offered in premiums. The grounds have been greatly improved, enlarged and beautified, and the electric car line now runs from Salem to the grounds. The fair opens September 15 and continues one week.

Saturday afternoon a bound ran a small lawn from the hill to a mud flat opposite Newport, and after half an hour's struggle, succeeded in injuring the little one so badly it could not get up and some of the boys went over and killed it to end its misery. While the dog was trying to kill it by biting its hams, its cries were most pitiful and plainly heard from the town.

I have been bothered with catarrh for about twenty years; I had lost sense of smell entirely, and I had almost lost my hearing. My eyes were getting so dim I had to get some one to thread my needle. Now I have my hearing as well as I ever had, and I can see to thread as fine a needle as ever I did, my sense of smell is partly restored, and it seems to be improving all the time. I think there is nothing like City's Cream Balm for catarrh. Mrs. E. E. Grimes, Rendell, Perry, Co., O.

Notice to Water Consumers. Water is being wasted to such an extent and so unnecessarily that we are obliged to enforce a strict observance of the rule in regard to hours for sprinkling, viz: From 5 to 9 A. M. and from 6 to 10 o'clock P. M., and to caution all users of water to guard against the waste from faucets and other fixtures. The continuous running of water through closets or other fixtures, or permitting hose streams or sprinklers to run all night, will be deemed sufficient cause for shutting the water off from premises when allowed with the water meter.
