In sums to suit. From six months to five years, on good Albany and Linn county real estate. W. E. McPHERSON, Opp. Russ House, Albany, Or.

JOTTINGS ABOUT TOWN.

Miss Mary was a good young girl. "Till this last year she was a fine thing, but she has become a poor thing. She said, 'It is hot as ever I saw it before in all my life.'"

A Royal Pass to-morrow evening. It is getting cooler, only 91 yesterday. S. A. Hulst, druggist, French's corner.

New jewelry of latest patterns at Will & Stark's. Mrs. W. H. Davis went to Harrisburg yesterday. Take a look at the piano at Klein Bros. shoe store.

L. E. Gray and family returned yesterday from Yaquna. Klein Bros. are giving a fine piano to their customers. R. A. Kampey, of Harrisburg, was in the city yesterday.

Ralph Fisher and family have returned from the seaside. Have you examined that beautiful $400 piano at Klein Bros. shoe store. Archie Monteith and son are visiting their old home in this city.

A fine line of ladies' lawn Norfolk waists just received at the Ladies' Bazaar. Experts pronounce Klein Bros. piano one of the finest toned instruments.

Your school tax will be delinquent if not paid at once. Look after it and save costs of collection. E. E. Pennington left yesterday for Pennington Point, Ill., being called by the illness of his father.

A couple of well known young men exchanged compliments and blows near the City brewery yesterday. County Superintendent Russell, in company with Mr. Smith, have been catching the beautiful mountain trout at Fish Lake with good success.

The trophies at the Victoria fire tournament will revert to the association, but when won three times they become the personal property of the winner.

Dr. E. L. Irvine and son, of Portland, came up yesterday to visit the doctor's parents, Hon. R. A. Irvine and wife, and spend a few days at Linn county's watering place, Solaville.

The Oregonian says that strawberry growers expect to have a fine crop to market next month if the unusual hot weather of the past few days has not damaged the young berries.

OREGON'S ALPS.

A Most Delightful Mountain Resort of Easy Access.

The wealthy Oregonian, desiring of submitting to the tortions and obsequiousness of the Alpine guide; of endangering his neck on the cliffs of the Matterhorn; and of freezing and spraining his ankles on the Rhone glacier, must of necessity travel seven thousand miles for the privilege of doing these things. The less affluent citizen can, for a mere trifle, and by journeying one hundredth part the distance, enjoy the pleasures of a mountain trip, equally as novel and interesting, amidst the Cascades, as by voyaging to Basle, Geneva, or Lucerne.

Right within easy reach of Albany is the lovely valley of Elkhorn. This delightful rest for the weary city-worker; paradise of the disciples of Izaak Walton, and elysium of the sportsman, will, in a few short years, be effaced by the ever onward torrent of American progress.

Switzerland the old endures forever; its tourist-worn crags, aged cliffs, and spots of historic renown conjuring up visions of Geister and William Tell, may be visited and dreamed over a lifetime hence, when the Switzerland of Oregon shall have faded from view forever. Then the snow-capped peaks of Jefferson and Hood will be sullied by the soot of a thousand factories; the fir and fern-covered hillsides be bereft of their mantle of green, and sealed by cable and electric cars, the smoke and bustle of crowded cities replacing the mists and stillness of today.

Had Longfellow visited the Cascade mountains ere he gave "Excelsior" to the world, the ever onward banner bearer would have been more patriotically and appropriately located amidst the Cisalpine scenery of Oregon.

The Oregonian school-boy has heard tell of the Mer de Glace, but can he locate the Mount Horeb of America? We doubt it; yet from the summit of this mountain can be viewed a scene unsurpassed for magnificence in any part of the tourist traveled world. The sunrise and moonrise over old Zell, the Aurora borealis-like sunset over the Coast range, and the like diorama of the sparkling and faraway electric lights of Albany produce an effect which has to be seen to be realized and its glories enjoyed. Nine snow-capped peaks and the magnificent panorama of a hundred forest bound hills and valleys, cascades and waterfalls add enchantment to the prospect. There, on Horeb may we enjoy the blue huckleberry feast of nature; there also may we shake our thirst and strengthen our inner man with mineral water from an icy spring, shoot the grouse and stalk the deer, and on the first of August, enjoy a slide and a scow-ball fight.

To roll rocks down the mighty canons and listen to the marvelous echoes afford amusement and instruction. The ascent of Mount Horeb is a matter of comparative ease, and is frequently accomplished on horseback by ladies and children. A month spent amidst the sylvan beauties of the Cascade mountains of Oregon makes us return with regret to the business and routine of city life.

A few hours journey on the cushioned seats of an Oregon Pacific car will take one to Niagara and from here the summit of Mount Horeb can be reached with a horse.

The Clever Actor. Mr. George C. Staley is a versatile and clever actor in the role of Andreas Hoffer, and in the several disguises which he assumes in the play; he shows both versatility and power. His voice is resonant and rich; in action he is conscientious and earnest, and throughout the role he is easily and without effort the cynosure of interest. Mr. Staley certainly has in this play a role admirably adapted to his ability, and it should bring him financial as well as artistic recompense says the Boston Herald. The company in support is notable for even and uniform strength, and the entire production is worthy of the highest success.

Flowers of the War. Before the war there was no such flower as the daisy in Virginia. The hardy flower was a curiosity. Now the fields just around Richmond are white with them. This is especially so of the late battle-fields about the Chickahominy river, and wherever the federals had encampments. An investigation shows that the seeds of the prolific daisy were brought by the union soldiers in Virginia, when they were camped near the city. An old battery west of Richmond is the spot from which the daisy first spread.

Watch For Them. Manipulators of gold coin must be on the lookout for sweated $5 and $10 gold pieces. They are loose up in Seattle, and are reported to be appearing in Portland also. The Seattle Telegraph warns the people of Seattle not to be deceived by this poor money. Ten dollar pieces under the sweat of process are minted at $8, and $9 at $4 in the government repositories of wealth. Chemical analysis shows these coins have been sweated by a solution of nitric and muriatic acids and that the tallow oil is to the amount of 20 per cent.

Go down to T. L. Wallace & Co. today and buy a summer coat and vest for $1. If you are hungry go to Parker Bros. and get a lot of the best bread in the city. Pay your school tax and save costs of collection. Have you seen that elegant piano at Klein Bros.

CONDITION OF THE CROPS.

Harvest Has Commenced—The Peach Crop is the Largest on Record.

Crop-Weather Bulletin, No. 20 for the week ending, Saturday, July 25th 1891. Thursday, the 23d was the warmest day on record; the maximum temperature ranged from 90 to 105 degrees. The 22d and 24th were warm while to day is much cooler. On the evening of the 23d thunder storms were observed in various localities, though little rain fell.

The hot weather was favorable to the ripening of grain but slightly injurious to gardens. Wheat harvest is generally in operation, and reports indicate that there are signs of increased prices and it bids fair to be as high or higher than previous years. Oats are coming well and ripening rapidly. The coolness is becoming dangerous and doing damage; the apple crop will be poor. The hop louse is fairly well under control. Green corn and peaches are ripe and plentiful; the peach crop is the largest on record. Peaches are generally not over an average crop, though in Douglas county the trees are heavily loaded with fruit. Hay harvest in sections, continues and all reports indicate heavy yields.

In Eastern Oregon the warm weather has brought spring wheat rapidly forward; fall wheat is being cut, heads are at work in the Columbia river valley; in Union county and south of the Blue mountains the spring wheat is backward and harvest will begin about the 19th of August. All reports indicate wheat to be better than was expected; by all odds the grain crop will be the largest ever produced. Reports from the wheat districts of the world, other than the United States, indicate a general deficiency, this means a demand for American wheat and good prices. Already there are signs of increased prices and it bids fair to be as high or higher than previous years. Oregon is to be congratulated on its immense yield and prospective good prices, resulting in prosperous times for the agriculturist.

GATEVILLE ITEMS.

At the regular meeting of the Mount Horeb alliance of this place Saturday, eleven new members were initiated and a number of others sent in their application for membership. The members are highly elated at the future prospects. They expect to have between 75 and 100 members before the end of this quarter.

Ben Shepherd, who was taken to Lyons to appear before the justice of the peace at that place on a charge of larceny, has returned, having proved his innocence. T. Henness preferred the charge against Shepherd.

Henness and Shepherd treated the boys of the Henness mill to a festive dinner on Saturday night, since, and as Henness came out second best, he hit upon the novel idea of squaring accounts by having Ben arrested on a charge of hog stealing, putting the county to useless expense, furnishing employment for the justice of the peace at Lyonsville, and lots of fun for the lawyers.

Mr. Florer and family started for the valley Saturday, to remain until after harvest.

Mr. H. O. Benton and wife, of Brunswick, Mo., arrived on today's train, to visit friends at this place.

We had quite a ball game yesterday. Gateville played against Brown's Mill. The score stood 19 to 10, in favor of Brown's Mill.

We understand that the Gateville boys are going to organize and practice, so as to play the Lyonsville nine in the near future.

Notice to Water Consumers. Water is being wasted to such an extent and so unnecessarily that we are obliged to enforce a strict observance of the rule in regard to house plumbing, viz: From 5 to 9 A. M. and from 10 to 10 o'clock P. M., and to caution all users of water to guard against leaks from faucets or other fixtures. The continuous running of water through closets or other fixtures, or permitting hose streams or water to run all night, will be deemed sufficient cause for shutting the water off from premises where allowed without further notice. Albany, Or., July 18, 1891. A. C. W. T. & L. Co. WALLACE BALDWIN, Cashier.

Important to Housekeepers. It gives Julius Gradwohl great satisfaction in selling his fine Golden Rule tea and baking powder with clean prices or without them, that his customers who have purchased invariably return and say they are well pleased, that the tea is No. 1 and the baking powder is as good as the best. All his teas and baking powder bears the name of Julius Gradwohl's Golden Rule Bazaar and are expressly put up for his business, and he still continues to give with each pound of tea or baking powder an elegant piece of glass-ware.

From the Klamath. Mrs. Sloan, formerly a well known resident of this city, but for the past three years matron of the Indian school at the Klamath agency, arrived in this city yesterday to make a short visit here for a few weeks, when she will return to her husband at the agency, who still holds the position of carpenter and sawyer. Mrs. Sloan says that the new agent, Col. D. W. Matthews, formerly of Salem, is giving splendid satisfaction and the affairs of the agency are in good condition.
