

Morning Daily Herald

ON SALE. The DAILY HERALD will be on sale each morning at H. J. Jones' book store, where it can be procured at 5 cents per copy.

MONEY TO LOAN. In sums to suit, from six months to five years, on good Albany and Linn county real estate.

W. E. McPherson, Opp. Russ House, Albany, Or.

JOTTINGS ABOUT TOWN. S. A. Hulm, druggist, French's corner.

New jewelry of latest patterns at Will & Stark's.

Pay your school tax and save costs of collection.

Have you seen that elegant piano at Klein Bros.

Rev. Hanterter, of Lebanon, was in the city yesterday.

Uncle Bart Allen, of Halsey, was in the city yesterday.

Take a look at the piano at Klein Bros. shoe store.

Klein Bros. are giving a fine piano to their customers.

Have you examined that beautiful $400 piano at Klein Bros. shoe store.

Mrs. L. Bilyeu and son, of Eugene, went over to the bay yesterday.

A fine line of ladies' lawn Norfolk waists just received at the Ladies' Bazaar.

Mrs. E. C. Searls is in the city for a few days calling upon old friends.

Experts pronounce Klein Bros. piano one of the finest toned instruments.

Go down to T. L. Wallace & Co. today and buy a summer coat and vest for $1.

If you are hungry go to Parker Bros. and get a loaf of the best bread in the city.

E. G. Beardsley, formerly of this city, now of Newport, Yaquina Bay, was in the city yesterday.

Your school tax will be delinquent if not paid at once. Look after it and save costs of collection.

S. H. Davenport, the man arrested here for bringing a dog from Eugene, was tried in that city and very properly acquitted.

Salem, like Albany, overreached themselves when they crossed hats with the Seattle league team, as the score of yesterday's demonstration.

Albany people at Linn county's pleasure and health resort, Lower Sola, will be increased today by the presence of Mrs. Matthews and Mrs. D. C. Schell.

Mr. I. Hulme, master mechanic of the O. P. R. R., and wife, are visiting our city. Mrs. Hulme, we understand, is one of California's artistic daughters.

Prof. D. V. S. Reid was in the city yesterday. Himself and family will remove to Eugene this week where he will be busily engaged in preparing for the opening of the public schools, of which he is principal.

The Albany colony at the bay continues to grow. Late additions number among others: Omar Hendrickson and family, N. D. Conn and family, N. A. Boudgett, wife and girls, Mrs. Belmont, Mrs. R. A. Irvine, Miss Lillie Ridout, Miss Emma Pfeiffer, Miss Birdie Anslin, Miss Martha Chambers, Miss Stella Rankin, Mrs. Solomon and daughter, Frank Breckinridge, Percy Young and Carlton Sox.

The State Normal School at Monmouth is attracting a great deal of attention, and growing. The advertisement for it is now running in this paper. The board of regents for the school is an able body of men appointed by the state. The liberal policy pursued by the board in supplying apparatus and increasing the faculty will result in a full attendance from all parts of the state.

The Play Last Evening. To say that the presentation of "A Royal Pass," by Geo. C. Staley and his excellent company was simply immense is putting it light enough. The company is one of the best that has ever visited Albany, and Geo. C. Staley has few superiors in his role. The costumes were superb, while the singing of Miss Louise Haven and Mr. Staley never failed to elicit a round of applause from an appreciative audience. Miss Blair as Lois was perfect, and the other members of the troupe are far above average. The little Tom, Louise, is a bright child and exhibits a great deal of talent. The play, "A Royal Pass," is a good one, and deserved a much better audience, and but for the large number out of town to the seaside and mountains, there would have been few vacant seats.

They Get It From Albany. The amount of ice that is being used in our city just now would justify the operating of a first-class ice factory says the Corvallis Times. There is no reason why Corvallis should not manufacture our ice and save the expense of freight from other towns. The project has been talked of for several years, but still we have to depend on other towns for our supply of the congealed fluid.

Band Music. The Brownville Cornet Band, one of the best and most popular bands in the state, will disengage some of their choice music at Solaville, on Sunday August 2, 1891. Linn county's famous watering place is bound to be among the leading ones on the coast. The number of visitors to the springs is large, and every succeeding season will find it constantly increasing.

THE CITY COUNCIL.

P. E. Allen Elected Councilman from the Third Ward.

Mayor Jas. L. Cowan presided, and the councilmen present at the meeting of the city council last evening were Hawkins, Tabler, French and Burkhardt.

An ordinance relating to the establishing of grade, depth and location of main sewers on Maple, Ferry and Madison streets was read third time and passed unanimously. The recorder was instructed to advertise for bids for the above work, the same to be opened August 14, 1891.

The seat of G. W. Smith, as councilman from the first ward, was declared vacant, and the council proceeded to the election of a member from that ward. On the sixth ballot F. E. Allen was unanimously elected to fill G. W. Smith's chair, for unexpired term. The council adjourned to meet August 14, 1891.

Trouble Never Comes Single. Another committee waited on the O. P. officials at Corvallis Tuesday but it was one from the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers at Portland. It seems the engineers of this road have had unusually long runs at small pay. They appealed to the officers of the road a short time ago for lighter work and better pay, but their demands were ignored. The matter was placed before the Brotherhood and a committee was sent down here for a conference with the manager. The committee returned to Portland, but we were not been able to learn the result of the conference. It is reasonable to presume, however, that the case will be settled to the satisfaction of the engineers, as the Brotherhood will stand no funny business.—Corvallis Times.

Finishing Touches. The final touches to the Albany bridge contract were given yesterday, by approval of the ordinance bill by the mayor, and the signing of the contract with the King Bridge Co., by the Portland Bridge Co. The signing on the part of the city was by Mayor Cowan and Recorder Henton, and for the bridge company by Robt. Wakefield. Bonds will be entered into to the amount of $300,000 work to commence within twenty days and be completed by the first of December. The lumber, 100,000 feet, will be procured here and the workmen, twenty-five or thirty, will be hired here, except five or six skilled workmen. All is well that ends well, and the bridge question is ending well for Albany and Linn county.

Notice to Water Consumers. Water is being wasted to such an extent and so unnecessarily that we are obliged to enforce a strict observance of the rule in regard to hours for sprinkling, viz: From 5 to 9 A. M. and from 6 to 10 o'clock P. M., and to caution all users of water to guard against leaks and to repair or cover fixtures. The continuous running of water through closets or other fixtures, or permitting hose streams or sprinklers to run all night, will be deemed sufficient cause for shutting the water off from premises where allowed without notice.

Albany, Or., July 18, 1891. A. C. W. T. & L. Co. WALTER BALDWIN, Cashier.

A Bad Chinaman. Yesterday Sam Sing, a bold, bad Chinaman gambler, went to San Wa's storekeeper, and making him believe that Sam Wa had ordered it, procured $40 from him. Sing then went to other fellow Chinamen, getting $3 or $4 from several, until he had about $100. With this sum in his pocket he skipped out for Salem on the noon train. As soon as San Wa was informed of the matter he procured the assistance of the marshal, had the recalcitrant rogue arrested in Salem and returned here for trial.

Gov. Penney's Appointee. Mr. W. A. Sample, the governor's new appointee as regent of the State agricultural college, is a leader in the grange and alliance movement. If he can cultivate the farmers' sense half as well as he has the farmers, says the Long Creek Eagle, he will be a good regent. He is reputed to be a very good man and an excellent one for the position to which he has been promoted.

Devil Fish. Councilman Garrett brought from the Bay an ugly specimen of the octopus, or devil fish, which some fishermen had captured. It is the veritable devil fish although a small specimen it was on exhibition in a bottle at French's yesterday.

River Notes. The stage of water in the Willamette is one inch below low water mark. All boats have been withdrawn from the river, running now only as far up as Salem.

Discharged. The case of seduction from Shedd, mentioned yesterday morning, had a hearing before Justice Humphrey and the accused was discharged for lack of positive evidence.

Sure Cure for the Liqueur or Opium Habit. The East India cure for these awful habits can be given without the patient's knowledge, and is the only known specific for the purpose. It is not injurious in the least degree; manufactured by the Eastern Drug Co., San Jose, Cal., and for sale at J. A. Cumming's drug store only.

FROM OVER THE COLUMBIA.

One hundred and twenty patients of the insane asylum at Stellacoom were removed to the Medical Lake asylum last Friday.

Prospectors are thickly scattered through Kittitas county, and some of them are making valuable finds of gold, silver, iron, and coal.

The board of trade of Garfield has taken up the subject of water works for the town and proper fire protection is no longer to be neglected.

The miners at the Granite mine at Wallace quit work Tuesday. The miners' union wants uniform wages for all men who work under ground—$3.50 per day.

The Fort Angeles people are enthralled over the prospect of striking natural gas. They say two symptoms are abundant in the double deposits of coal and oil.

The Indians complain that there was a light run of salmon at the Clealum falls this season. They will be considerably short on salmon when winter comes.

Mr. J. Nowell, a man of about 50 years of age, who recently moved to Centralia with his family from Oregon, died Saturday from the effects of his service in the army in the late war.

Track laying on the Seattle & Montana has reached the Stillacoom river, and is now in progress near Arington. Some work yet remains to be done on the bridges at Stanwood.

An English syndicate has been experimenting at New Westminster in canning fish in glass jars. The scheme is said to be successful, and hereafter this syndicate will can all their salmon in glass jars.

The snags on the Snohomish river will shortly be removed, as the crew for the government snagboat Skagit will be on the river in a few days, and work will commence immediately. A snag-boat has not done any work on the river for the past year, and plenty of work awaits them.

Finding Asbestos. The efforts of eastern manufacturers has led to the pushing of search for the non heat conducting mineral-asbestos, and resulted in extensive finds in Jackson county. Scott Morris in the Oregonian how the find was originally made: As usual, this discovery was made by a man who was looking for quartz, a different mineral. Mr. Daniel Reynolds, in 1887 or 1888, while prospecting for mica, encountered a very tough rock which made his work very slow and arduous. He finally abandoned his prospect, but carried to his home samples of his exceedingly tough find. It was found to be hornblende similar to the surface croppings common to the neighborhood. He distributed the rock among his neighbors and the many visitors to his romantic mountain home—"Oak Hill ranch." By many of the unscrupulous it was thought to be only a curious petrification. Obtaining a good specimen, and believing it to be of possible commercial value, I broke it up and sent samples to mineralogists and manufacturers of asbestos. Professor T. Condon, of Eugene, pronounced it asbestos of good quality and urged the location of the lands bearing it. Mr. Herbert Lang, of Portland, agreed with Professor Condon as to the probable value of the find. The manufacturers were anything but sanguine, claiming that the rock was non-fibrous and of little or no value. They, however, expressed the belief that a valuable quality of the rock would be found by following up the various leads. Until recently nothing more was done. Late in 1890 George Bacon, an agent for asbestos paints, saw a specimen of the rock, probably in the cabinet of Herman Helms, of Jacksonville. On inquiry he learned of its source and, in company with Frank Bybee, he went to Mr. Reynolds' place in quest of a sheep ranch (?). For a trifle he got a member of Mr. Reynolds' family to show him an asbestos prospect. They at once posted notices on two claims. Soon after this Mr. Bacon showed samples of the rock to Captain Tyler, of Forest Grove, Or. Arrangements were at once made for the mining of a few hundred pounds of the rock for inspection by a representative of a New York manufacturer. The rock obtained was not satisfactory to this critical English gentleman, who hotly charged the parties interested with unfair dealing. This stirred Captain Tyler's blood and he came here himself. He was soon satisfied that spinning asbestos exists here in probably paying quantities. By his efforts the Puget Sound Asbestos Company became interested in the find. The members of the company at once filed a number of claims, covering over 500 acres. This was a signal for a rush.

Mothers? Castoria is recommended by physicians for children teething. It is a purely vegetable preparation its ingredients are published on each bottle. It is pleasant to the taste and absolutely harmless. It relieves constipation, regulates the bowels, quietes pain, cures diarrhoea and wind colic, allays feverishness, destroys worms, and prevents convulsions, soothes the child and gives it refreshing and natural sleep. Castoria is the children's panacea—the mothers' friend. 35 doses, 35 cents.

Bonds Approved. At the meeting of the state board of land commissioners held yesterday the bonds of the new clerk, G. W. Davis, were approved by the Statestern. His bonds are $5000, with G. G. Bingham and E. P. McCornack as sureties.

MY FIRST AT THE ALTAR.

They Did all Their Courtship by Letter.

A young and pretty society belle of Southern Pennsylvania is now on her way to Bath, Me., as the bride of a well-known native of that state. And so we are told of this beautiful couple is a tale of romance and love that is something of a departure from the usual style. The bride was Miss Jennie D. Taggart, the daughter of Frank H. Taggart, an assistant appraiser at the Philadelphia custom house. She is now Mrs. Bowers, a business man of Bath, Me., and until they met at the altar in the Methodist Episcopal church, at West Chester, they had never seen each other. Truly this was love at long distance and not at first sight, and the quotation, "Eyes looked love to eyes merrily," is hardly apropos, while that couple read, "Thoughts spake love to thoughts that spake pain, and all went merrily." A lengthy courtship existed between this young couple, though they had never met each other. Three years ago mutual friends of both in writing to Miss Taggart mentioned the young man away up in northern Maine, saying that she would like to introduce Miss Taggart to Mr. Bowers. It was suggested that introduction by mail take place. This was followed out and a formal introduction took place. After this courteous but cool, correspondent took place between Mr. Bowers and Miss Taggart. The mutual friend was brought into the conversation very often, and did much to make a thaw, so that in a short time something other than the weather and commonplace topics found its way in the long drawn out conversation. It was soon learned that Mr. Bowers' family and Miss Taggart's family were well acquainted and also that Bowers formerly made Philadelphia his home. This gave much material for correspondence and gradually the stages of acquaintance and friendship were passed and little Cupid sailed the correspondence up to the beautiful lake of Love. Each found much to admire in the letters. Both of them were students and each other's characters and dispositions between the lines and neither was found wanting. Exchanged photographs and love's mementoes further cemented the long distance affair, and finally young Bowers made a formal proposal, was accepted, and Miss Taggart announced the engagement and the marriage took place last week.

Important to Housekeepers. It gives Julius Gradwohl great satisfaction in selling his fine Golden Rule tea and baking powder, with elegant prizes or without them, that his customers who have purchased invariably return and say they are well pleased, that the tea is No. 1 and the baking powder is as good as the best. A PROBABLE MURDER.

A fire that recently took place in Newburg, it is now thought was set to cover up a murder. The Salem Journal says that District Attorney Bingham has been investigating the case. On July 18 a dead body was found in the burning ruins of the house. The trunk only remained, the limbs being consumed by the fire and the skull bare of flesh, only two teeth remaining. A Waterbury watch found on the body and a strip of dark clothing are the only means of identification. Public prosecutor's attention was called to a wound in the back which had evidently been made several days previous to the fire, as it was full of maggots and decayed. The officer's investigation results in the conclusion that the wound in the back was a stab from a knife.

Several persons were suspected of the crime. Straw and shavings had been carried from a shed near by and an old Irishman named Mike Mulien, who came up on the Elwood the night of the 15th and again left Salem July 18th, has been searched for in vain. A Russian peddler who was seen near the house the Wednesday before the fire, according to the habit of his craft.

One McCully, who has spent a year in the pen for trying to club a man to death for his money in Linn county, is now under arrest, and bound over after a preliminary hearing at Newburg. The corner's jury also found that the body was that of an unknown man murdered by some person unknown.

THE WORLD ENRICHED. The facilities of the present day for the production of everything that will conduce to the material welfare and comfort of mankind are almost unlimited and when Syrup of Figs was first produced the world was enriched with the only perfect laxative known, as it is the only remedy which is truly pleasing and refreshing to the taste and prompt and effectual to cleanse the system gently in the Spring-time or, in fact, at any time any the better it is known the more popular it becomes.
