IN MEMORIAM.

James Franklin Hall was born in Missouri, January 27, 1862, and died June 27, 1891, at Albany, Oregon.

"How slender is life's silver cord, How soon 'tis broken here; Each moment brings a parting word, And many a falling tear."

"And though these years to mortal give, Are filled with grief and pain, There is one hope, the hope of Heaven, Where loved ones meet again."

"There is no death; what seems So, is transition; This life of mortal breath Is but a suburb of the life Elysian Whose portals we call death."

Our respected and beloved brother Hall has been taken by death from militant membership of the Epworth League.

Brother Hall was a man highly esteemed by all who knew him, and one who lived his daily life in accordance with an exalted conception of the teachings of Christ, in whom he sincerely believed.

The church is sorrowfully bereaved by the untimely decease of a devoted and intelligently zealous member, whom while yet in the full vigor of young manhood, death has suddenly claimed.

We extend our sympathy and condolence to the relatives of our departed brother.

By the committee of the Epworth League, the First Methodist Episcopal church, of Albany, Oregon.

A Lost River.

According to the Los Angeles Herald, the Southern Pacific Railroad Company has lost a river, and in consequence a bridge whose occupation 'tis gone. The Whitewater river has flowed from the Sierra Madre mountains across the sands of the region just this side of Seven Palms as long as any one can remember. The station of Whitewater was located where the river crosses the railway and was supplied with water from its current. During the last heavy rains the Whitewater rose in its might and devastated the whole country round about, washing out the bridge and the road-bed and playing the mischief generally. Soon the rains and the river stopped simultaneously, and the river has not been found since. It appeared to become abandoned of itself for doing so, and is gotten up in a superb and attractive style and is really worth looking after. Mr. Leak, president of the Leak Glove Manufacturing Company, who are the real advertisers in the concern, and his lady, are with the car and are very pleasant and entertaining people. Through the failure of the gas ordered from San Francisco to arrive in time, no stereopticon exhibit could be given last night, but that article will undoubtedly arrive to-day when that part will also be added to the other attractions.

Mr. Leak, president of the Leak Glove Manufacturing Company, who are the real advertisers in the concern, and his lady, are with the car and are very pleasant and entertaining people. Through the failure of the gas ordered from San Francisco to arrive in time, no stereopticon exhibit could be given last night, but that article will undoubtedly arrive to-day when that part will also be added to the other attractions.
