RAILROAD MATTERS.

Commissioners Firmly Adhere to the New Rates Established.

SCHOOL FUND DISTRIBUTED. Linn County's Share of the Same—Good Showing for the State—Another Linn County Notary.

SALEM, August 12.—Percy R. Kelly, of Albany, was appointed county public today.

The railroad commissioners today addressed to the Southern Pacific the reports of their findings in their freight rates, substantially as in these dispatches last night. The report goes to the commissioners today. The summarized report prescribes that at a day not later than September 1, the Southern Pacific will cancel and annual all rates, orders, tariffs, classifications, etc., now in force on their lines in Oregon, contrary to the rates as revised and modified by the board. There is a horizontal reduction of ten per cent on wheat rates and an average of 15 per cent on Oregon products, such as lumber, green fruit, vegetables, etc. The new rate on grain, flour, etc.: Albany to Portland, nine cents per hundred pounds in car loads; cattle, hogs and sheep per car, $28; horses per car, $36. In car loads per hundred pounds: Green fruit, 15 cents; flour, 18 cents. In car loads: Vegetables, 15 cents; wood, soft, 5; hard, 6; lumber, etc., 7 1/2.

The state treasurer today made the disbursement of interest on the common school fund as made by the board of school land commissioners among the several counties of the state. The total number of children of school age is 105,622, and the total appropriation, $15,315,190. Of this sum, 100,000, with 6000 children, gets $100.

The first wheat for the season was received this afternoon at the Salem flouring mill. It brought 70 cents. The quotation for the week has been 75 cents. This is a gentle re-advance, as the market has opened for many years. Last year the opening was 67 1/2.

Articles incorporating the Springfield Improvement Company were today filed with the secretary of state, capital stock, $200,000; incorporators, G. W. Larison, W. J. Pengra, A. O. Eckelson.

The quarterly teachers' examination commenced today. There are half a hundred applicants for certificates.

SORROW IN ISLEM.

The Sultan's Daughter Thought to Be Dying.

LOSAN, August 12.—From Constantinople comes the news that the Princess Zekia, favorite daughter of the sultan and wife of the Irish leader. While the sentimentalist disorder. The sultan is inconsolable, and has news brought him every hour of his daughter's condition. The sultan is deeply attached to Zekia. Her mother was an Anatolian, and one of the most beautiful women ever brought into Constantinople. Abdul Hamid, then not on the throne, bought her from a dealer in female slaves, and he became so attached to her that he neglected all his other wives. She died not long after the birth of Zekia, and for many days after her death Abdul Hamid remained as silent as a statue, barely eating enough to maintain life, and indifferent to all the world. It was thought for a time that his reason was affected. He recovered, and Zekia became the apple of his eye. In order to have her near him after her marriage, he appointed Nonreddin to duty at the palace. It is hoped the young woman will recover.

England's Political Leaders.

LOSAN, Aug. 12.—Sir William Harcourt now fills the second place on the opposition side, and has decidedly established a claim to succeed Gladstone in the leadership, the chance of Morley having been utterly extinguished. The most notable event on the opposition side, however, was the radical revolt against Lord Rosebery's intended leadership in the lords, which has been kept wonderfully quiet. This unexpected move has been quite successful, and Lord Granville's place is now filled by Lord Kimberley, with whom the radicals and Sir William Harcourt co-operate with much more cordiality and thoroughness than they would have done with Lord Rosebery, whose paramount and absorbing interest in political life is to find himself again at the foreign office.

SUICIDE BY AMMONIA.

The Terrible Agony Does Not Prevent Its Use.

No poison brings death with more unrelenting agony than ammonia, but that fact does not seem to discourage the suicide. The man Harrowitz, who deliberately swallowed a fatal dose of the drug in New York recently, is only one of the many who have gone the ammonia route to death in spite of the excruciating pain.

THE HUNGRY ELAMES

Oregon's Metropolis Visited by a $120,000 Fire.

WORK OF AN INCENDIARY. Kelly, Dunne & Co., and Zan Bros., the Principal Losers—St. Vincent's Hospital Escaped.

PORTLAND, Aug. 12.—Fire broke out at 5:15 o'clock this morning in the one-story wooden warehouse, at the southwest corner of Twelfth and K, owned by Kelly, Dunne & Co., and containing lubricating and paint oils. Owing to the inflammable contents of the building—nearly all being oil—the fire seemed to be all over it in a few moments after first discovered, and before any alarm was given. Dense volumes of thick, black smoke rose rapidly, there being no wind at the time. The flames leaped up high and raged with great fierceness, making a intense heat, and threatening with destruction the first houses in the rear, fronting on Thirteenth street and extending from J to K.

Before the engines arrived several other buildings were on fire. At 8:30 a. m. there were thousands of persons in the vicinity of the fire, and the engines were hard at work trying to extinguish the burning oil in the ruins of the first warehouse. Suddenly loud shouts were heard and flames were seen breaking through the roof of the high wooden building on the southwest corner of Eleventh and L, and the cry of "The broom factory is on fire," rang out with startling clearness. It alarmed all, for the building is very high, was full of dry material, and many houses are in its immediate vicinity.

It was occupied for the manufacture of brooms by Zan Bros., Feldman & Cole, and known as the Sunset Broom Factory. The building was of wood, three stories high, with a large one-story addition the same length and about as wide.

The fire in the factory spread rapidly, and there seemed no prospect that the department could subdue it.

It was a total loss, though no other buildings were burned. Large quantities of broom corn in bales were in the factory, and the burning with great persistency. Oil from the burned warehouse flowed through the gutters along the street beside the factory, making the danger of still more widespread fire quite imminent.

Only one block from the factory stands the St. Vincent hospital, on the northwest corner of Eleventh and M. This was also in danger, for the roof was very hot and the air full of sparks. Wet blankets were spread on the roof and water used freely, so that it did not ignite.

This would have been a fearful calamity, as it contains over 150 patients, about one-third of whom are perfectly helpless. Every precaution was taken, for stretchers were ready, and a number of carriages ordered in case the inmates would have to be removed. Some scoundrel had dipped up oil from the gutters and poured it over the wood and sidewalk by the hospital. Had he been discovered the citizens would have made quick work in disposing of him.

The losses and insurance as near as can be ascertained are: Kelly, Dunne & Co. say that they had an insurance of $24,000 on the burned warehouse and contents. On the double warehouse, which was first burned, and which contained oil mostly, the insurance was $18,500. On the single warehouse opposite, which contained paint, the insurance was $500. They estimate the total loss about $30,000, or $15,000 more than the insurance.

L. P. W. Quimby's barn was worth $800; insured for $500. His horses, harness and carriages were saved, but about $200 worth of hay and grain was lost by the latter—lost and on this there was no insurance. His house is scorched, the damage being mostly to the paint.

Mr. Mann, corner Third and Lincoln, owned the four houses on Thirteenth, Nos. 188, 190, 192, 194, and was insured. His loss on these will be about $800.

M. Swenson resided at 188, and is damaged slightly by removal of goods.

No. 190 was occupied by John F. Merrill on the first floor and Hartley Morgan in the chambers. The former lost considerable by the damage to goods and was insured.

No. 192 was occupied by Gerson Kahn, who kept a large stock of gent's furnishing goods and was fully insured by the Nehalem bar.

No. 194 is the corner house, occupied by William Winkler, who had no insurance. All these five families had but little loss, caused principally by the removal of goods.

Zan Bros., and Feldman & Cole think their loss will be about $75,000, as they had a large stock of goods in the warehouse, besides fine machinery and a considerable amount of broom corn and manufactured brooms.

This would make a total loss of $120,000.

FOREIGN NEWS.

Expert of Meal and Rye Forbidden from Russia.

BERLIN, August 12.—The ukase forbidding export from Russia of rye and rye meal of every kind and brand, which was published in the official journal at St. Petersburg yesterday, has created an enormous sensation in this city. The ukase came as a complete surprise to the dealers in grain here. There is some difference in the dispatches in regard to the date on which the prohibition will go into effect. Several early dispatches yesterday stated the ukase would go into effect immediately, while late telegrams announced it would not be enforced until August 27. This affords great relief. The influence of this action on the part of the Russian government was immediately felt on the bourse here, and it is immediately while late telegrams announced it would not be enforced until August 27. This affords great relief. The influence of this action on the part of the Russian government was immediately felt on the bourse here, and it is immediately while late telegrams announced it would not be enforced until August 27. This affords great relief.

Chancellor Von Caprivi is dead to all appeals made to him to remove the grain duties.

The Russian measure will not be felt for several days. Rye imported by Germany from Russia cannot be replaced by that of any other country. A further and rapid increase in the prices of breadstuffs must be expected. This will greatly strengthen the agitation conducted by leaders of the freinising party, and promises to augment the opposition to the government. Russian finances will also suffer from the prohibition.

LOSAN, August 12.—The English newspaper press is much disturbed over the announcement that the Russian government has decided to prohibit the export of rye. The general feeling is that although Great Britain will not be affected to such an extent as many and Austria, she will inevitably suffer to a great degree from the prohibition.

The Daily News this morning, commenting on the action of Russia in prohibiting the export of rye, says it is reassuring to learn that the crop promise to yield an exceptionally large harvest. The farmers of America, the paper declares, are masters of the situation, and it is hoped they will use their strength mercifully. Making corners in the necessities of life are never laudable, and at the present juncture it would be little short of fiendish.

AMONG THE PUGILISTS.

Tommy Warren is Willing to Fight Cal McCarthy.

NOFOLK, Va., Aug. 12.—For several weeks past Tommy Warren the champion feather-weight pugilist of the world, has been in this city, the guest of Mike Haley. Yesterday Mr. Haley received a telegram from Charles Noel, president of the Olympic Club at New Orleans, stating that his club will offer a purse of $2000 for a fight to a finish between Tommy Warren and Cal McCarthy. The fight is to take place on September 10th. Mr. Haley has telegraphed President Noel accepting the offer on behalf of Warren, who will commence training at once in this city. There seems to be no doubt that McCarthy will accept.

A Celebrated Case.

PORTLAND, Aug. 12.—The long litigated case of the Oregonian Railway Company, limited, against the Oregon Railway & Navigation Company is settled.

It came to an end this morning in the United States circuit court by the entry of an order made by Judge Deady approving the report of the master, George H. Durham, as to the receiver's accounts, and discharging Receiver Charles N. Scott.

Found Unconscious in a Boat.

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—Early yesterday morning a boat was discovered floating on Redland lake, about four miles from Nyack, by Louis Williams. In it lay Mary Heinrich, unconscious and bearing all the indications of having been outraged. The girl was a servant employed by Mrs. Schiller whose house is situated near the lake. The boat had been hired Friday evening, and it is thought the girl has floated about the lake in a state of insensibility since that time. The woman is still unconscious and will probably die.

Dr. Lindsey Dead.

PORTLAND, Aug. 13.—Rev. Dr. A. L. Lindsey died at 1 o'clock this morning without regaining consciousness. He apparently passed away without pain, and failed to recognize any of the anxious ones grouped around his bedside.

Every grocer, druggist and saloon man should keep Coronado mineral water on hand. It will be called for, as it is the best. John Isom Jr., sole agent.

Allen's do their own delivering, carefully and promptly.

Leave your orders for dressed chickens at Allen Bros.
