HEIGHT OF CRUELTY.

Nervous women seldom receive the sympathy they deserve. While often the pictures of health, they are constantly ailing. To withhold sympathy from these unfortunates is the height of cruelty. They have a weak heart, causing shortness of breath, fluttering, pain in side, weak and hungry spells, and finally swelling of ankles, oppression, choking, smothering and dropsy. Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure is just the thing for them. For their nervousness, headache, weakness, etc., his Restorative Nervine is unequaled. Fine treatise on "Heart and Nervous Diseases" ane marvelous testimonials free sold and guaranteed by Stanard & Cusick.

A MYSTERY EXPLAINED.

The papers contain frequent notices of rich, pretty and educated girls eloping with negroes, tramps and coachmen. The well-known specialist, Dr. Franklyn Miles, says all such girls are more or less hysterical, nervous, very impulsive, unbalanced; usually subject to headache, neuralgia, sleeplessness, immoderate crying or laughing. These show a weak nervous system for which there is no remedy equal to Restorative Nervine. Trial bottles and a fine book, containing many marvelous cures, free at Stanard & Cusick's who also sell, and guarantee Dr. Miles' celebrated New Heart Cure, the finest of heart tonics. Cures fluttering, short breath, etc.

CATARRH.

The ablest physicians of the present age recognize catarrh as a blood disease which aggravates the mucous surfaces. Moore's Revealed Remedy purifies the blood, restores health to the affected membranes, stops offensive discharges and corrects the breath. For sale by all druggists.

THE PULPIT AND STAGE.

Rev. F. M. Shrout, Pastor United Brethren Church, Blue Mound, Kan., says: "I feel it my duty to tell what wonders Dr. King's New Discovery has done for me. My Lungs were badly diseased, and my parishioners thought I could live only a few weeks. I took five bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery and am sound and well, gaining 26 lbs. in weight."

Arthur Love, Manager Love's Funny Folks Combination, writes: "After a thorough trial and convincing evidence, I am confident Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, beats 'em all, and cures when everything else fails. The greatest kindness I can do my many thousand friends is to urge them to try it.' Free trial bottes at Foshay & Mason, Drug Store. Regular sizes 50c. and $1 00.

REMARKABLE RESCUE.

Mrs Michael Curtain, Plainfield, Ill, makes the statement that she caught cold, which settled on her lungs; she was treated for a month by her family physician, but grew worse. He told her she was a hopeless victim of consumption and that no medicine could cure her. Her druggist suggested Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption; she bought a bottle and to her delight found herself benefitted from the first dose. She continued its use and after taking ten bottles, found herself sound and well, now does her own housework and is as well as she was.—Free trial bottle of this great Discovery at Foshay & Mason's Drug Store, large bottles 50c. and $1.00.

SPECULATION DANGEROUS.

Scarcely a day passes without the news of some large failure flashing over the wires—the usual result of speculation in stocks or some equally dangerous venture. The same electric current carries to dear distant friends the sad tidings of death of loved ones—too often the result of speculation in patent nostrums. Moore's Revealed Remedy is no speculation but is sold on positive guarantee. Do not fail to go to your druggist and ask for your money if not satisfied. We known you will go and buy another bottle. For sale by all druggists.

MORE WAR VESSELS

Seizure of Panama Demonstrates the Necessity.

CHARLESTON GOES TO CHINA.

Refugees On Board of the Panama Will be Protected—No Action as Yet Taken.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—The seizure of the Pacific Mail steamer City of Panama by the Salvadorian authorities may result in the sending of United States war vessels to these waters. How to meet this possible contingency is something that is bothering the navy officials. There are only three vessels now at San Francisco besides the Charleston, which is ordered to China, and it is questionable if any of these can make the trip. One of the trio is the Pensacola, which arrived to-day. The others are the Omaha, which recently returned from China, and is now out of commission, and the Ranger, which has within a fortnight come up from Nicaragua for repairs. The former is the only one that could possibly leave soon, and as she is badly out of condition, her journey to San Salvador would be slow, if not dangerous. It has not been determined that the seizure of the City of Panama will n cessitate the presence of a man-of-war at La Libertad; but to be prepared for that contingency, the department has been in telegraphic communication with the authorities at San Francisco to-day about the three ships. The absence of any official particulars from Minister Pacheco at Guatemala leaves both the state and navy departments in doubt as to the course to be pursued. If it turns out that the political refugees are still in the city of Panama, the departments, to be consistent with the position taken in the Barrundia case, must necessarily give all possible protection to them until some understanding can be reached with the Salvadorian government. In the absence of any definite official information, Mr. Soley declines to discuss what action the navy department will take in the matter, further than to say that the subject is receiving careful consideration, and that the navy will not be found wanting when called upon.

TELEGRAPHIC NOTES.

Maryland farmers' alliance men endorse the democratic nominee for governor in that state.

The New York democrats will nominate their ticket at Saratoga on the 15th of next month. It is said that they will nominate Cleveland for governor, thinking to strengthen his chances for the presidency thereby.

The rival political factions, democratic of course, in Mississippi, are bitterly opposing each other and it is said that their action will culminate in the return of both George and Walthall to the national senate.

George Jones, editor of the New York Times, died in Holland Springs, Maine, Wednesday. He was born seventy-nine years ago at Poultney, Vt., where his father settled on coming to America from Wales. It was in this village that Jones met Horace Greeley, and the two boys formed a friendship that lasted nearly half a century. They were employed together in a country store and on the Vermont Spectator, both owned by Amos Blias. Young Jones went to New York in 1843, and again met Greeley, but declined an offer of partnership in the Tribune. Later Jones went into a news agency at Albany, and in 1851, he accepted a salaried position of the business office of the New York Times, then owned by Raymond & Weston. Upon the death of Raymond in 1869 there was a fight for the control of the paper. The largest stock owners were Mr. Jones, the Raymond heirs, E. B. Morgan, a congressman, and Louis Jennings, an Englishman. Jennings conceived the scheme of securing control of the paper by purchasing the Raymond stock and uniting with either Jones or Morgan. Jones heard of this, and succeeded in having removed the settlement of the Raymond estate from the New York courts to the courts of Oneida county. There he succeeded in acquiring possession of the Times stock held by the Raymond heirs, which gave him control of the paper. Jennings subsequently sold his stock to Jones.

Wednesday saw the close of the life of James Russell Lowell. He spent most of his declining years with his daughter, Mrs. Edward Burnett, at Deerfoot farm, Southborough, Mass., and with his grandchildren, whom he adored. Here he did his last literary work. Almost to the last he was a hard worker. He has not been seen so often in society of late as formerly, and up to five years ago he seemed in robust health. It appears the poet was taken sick about five weeks ago and two weeks or more ago he became delirious. Up to Monday he recovered consciousness only at brief intervals. Monday afternoon he gave the members of the family signs of recognition, but when the nurses changed bedding he suffered intensely when moved, and finally said, "Oh, why don't you let me die." These words were his last. He seemed from that time to lose heart, and gradually his life faded away. He continued in a comatose condition until 2:15 o'clock this morning, when the last spark of his life went out. Beside him in his last moments were the sister of his first wife, his daughter, Mrs. Edward Burnett and her husband, the ex-congressman, as well as the nurses and servants of the household. Although it was known he could not live much longer, death seemed, nevertheless rather unexpected. Transition from sleep to death was so easy that for a few moments nobody in the room observed that he had ceased to breathe. His eyes were closed and they never opened. He passed away with only a heavy sigh to indicate the separation of the great soul from the worn-out body. The funeral will be held Friday at noon in Appleton chapel, Cambridge.

CIRCUS NAPOLEONS.

The 20th Season of Sells Brothers. Enormous United Show.

The great out-door field of tented entertainment is now substantially occupied by but two managements, and Sells Brothers are "equal partners" in the division. In fact in the exclusive possession of many rare creatures and noted performers, they hold first place, and their visit to Albany on Aug. 19th is surpassingly rich in well-founded promises of elaborated and enjoyable entertainment. Their Roman Hippodrome, Wild Moorish Caravan and Spectacular Pilgrimage to Mecca; enormous Menagerie, Triple Circuses, Tropical Aquarium, Royal Japanese Troupe, Circus of the Sahara Aviary, Caravan of Trained Animals, Arabian Nights Entertainments and Superb Fairland Street Parade, contain more than enough strange sights, thrilling races, sensational acts and glowing pageants for a whole carnival week. Nor does mere quantity banish quality from the colossal tents. Such features as the pair of Liliputian Cattle, the flock of Ostriches, the Hairless Horse and the pair of giant Hippoptami are not to be found elsewhere. Among the hundreds of artists shines Cyrene, the pre-eminently great Spanish Dancer, whose poetical and emotional measures have delighted and captivated the great cities of both Europe and America. The coliseum contests are of the exciting character, the performances phenomenal, and the fun epidemic. Make ready for a glorious holiday.

Give the Girls a Show.

Elmira Telegram: The ball that Bishop Cleveland Coxe started rolling after the girls who ride bicycles has not yet headed them off. A writer to the Boston Globe aptly calls attetion to the fact that it is not long since another church dignitary, Dr. Morgan Dix, objected to the entrance of girls into universities, because it was not "proper for young women to be exposed to the gaze of young men, many of whom were less bent upon learning than upon amusement." However little she may realize it, every girl who rides her steel horse is a vived illustration of one of the greatest waves of progress of this century, the advancement of woman in freedom and opportunity. A wise physician once said that the opinion that a good woman should stay closely at home had killed more women than any other one cause. In the days of our grandmothers the suggestion of regular gymnastic training would have been received with horror. It was hardly proper for a woman to have any knowledge of the construction of her physical system. All that is changed now, and the world of common sence says to the lady bicyclist, as to the girl who seeks to know everything that is good for her to know, "keep right on."

Summer in the Country.

Such is now the rule of American life. We long to hear the song of the birds, the hum of the bees,—even the lowing of the kine and the click of the scythe has its charm. We long for its "even spun" life, a rest from dint, the clash, the conflict and sharper contact and jostling of city and town life. So we vacate our cosy and spacious homes, and for a time, dwell in the sometimes narrow rents of country life, for the sake of its broader skies and wider fields and woods But the change is not free from danger. There are unripe fruits, which the children will eat, cold winds from in our summer dress we get chilled malarial air full of fever and ague. So we must be cautious of exposure, eating, drinking, and taking with us Humphreys Specifics. The No. one for fever, chill or exposure, Nos., four, five and six, for summer complaint, and Cholera, and especially Nos., ten and sixteen for malaria, and ague. With these simple specifices we are armed for emergencies, can meet the enemy at the very door, and preserve not only our peace of mind, but the health and safety of ourselves and household. Humphreys' Manual (144 pages) will be sent post paid upon application to the Co., Cor. Wiliam and John streets, New York.

STATE AND COAST.

An Important Seizure of Opium at Portland.

LIGHTHOUSE AT PATOS ISLAND

Spokane Review—The Festive Hop Louse Still Holds the Fort—New Corporations.

PORTLAND, August 13.—Early this morning, Customs Inspectors Porter and Eggleston, who have been on the lookout for opium smugglers for some days past, saw two men going up First street, and making for the Chinese quarters. They had tracked them down from the City of Mexico, which came in from Alaska a few days ago, and suspected that they were trying to smuggle opium into some Chinese joint. On being taken into custody thirty-six five-tael cans of opium, worth about $235, were found concealed about their persons, principally in the slack portions of their trousers.

The men proved to be John Duffy and B. Anderson, sailors on board the Mexico.

The men waived examination before Commissioner Woodward this afternoon, and were brought up before Judge Deady for sentence.

Major Handbury yesterday dispatched Mr. G. W. Freeman, of his office, to make surveys of the proposed light-houses at Patos Island and Turn Point in the Gulf of Georgia. Major Handbury and Captain Rhoudes visited the gulf a few month since and selected these sites, and now the second step toward building the houses has been taken. When the appropriation is made, that will be a very long step toward it.

It is said that Nels W. Durham, managing editor of the Spokane Review, has worked so hard that he must take a long rest in order to be himself again, and that A. W. Slawson, of the Oregonian, will relieve Mr. Durham.

THE HOP CROP.

In Great Danger From the Dreaded Louse.

PORTLAND, Aug. 13.—"Hopgrowers up the valley," said a well-known dealer who has just returned from there, "are feeling very blue over the present condition of the plant. Lice are thick. No one doubts it. All using preventatives cures and washes.

"It cannot yet be said to what extent the crop will be injured. This will not be known for a week or two. We cannot determine this until the hops are nearly ripe, when, from the appearance of the vines, the work of the lice can be seen. It should be destroyed. This is fast becoming one of the most important products of the Northwest."

SAN FRANCISCO, August 13.—A train of ten freight cars loaded with live stock was derailed early this morning in South San Francisco, and John W. Molloy, an employe of the Western Sugar Refinery, who was riding on the train, was so badly mangled that he died after reaching the receiving hospital. Brakemen Kelly and Quinn were hurled from the top of the train, but escaped with a few bruises. Several of the derailed cars had the ends badly smashed, and about 100 feet of the track was torn up. None of the live stock was injured. The derailment was caused by a switch having been left open either by accident or design.

Another Railroad Combination.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 13.—A New York special says a story is current in Boston to the effect that the Hopkins-Searls and Crocker interests in the Central Pacific and the Atchison people's Missouri Pacific and Union Pacific interests will be brought closer together than ever before, and that representatives of the California parties above mentioned recently had interviews with the Union Pacific and Gould people, looking to such a combination.

Steamer Arrivals.

YAQUINA, Aug. 13.—Steamship Willamette Valley arrived at Yaquina with the following passengers: L. T. Curtin, Frank M, Taylor, E. M. Starr, and wife, Mrs. J. A. Campbell, Mrs. D. A. Frazer and child, Miss Hill, J, M. Rupert, E. E. Rupert, Dr. Gallagher and wife, D. C. McPike, Mrs. Dunbar, W, Pratt, W. Wexant, Mrs. Dr. McClary, A. A. Minor.

Not a Fish Story.

The location of the Washington fish hatchery in Mothow was probably the best place it could be put in the state, says the Wilbur Register. A fish rack has been placed in the steam for the purpose of ascertaining, as near as possible, the run of salmon during the season. K. K. Parker stated that the fish are so thick in the upper part of the stream as to actually frighten a timid horse so oad that it cannot be made to ford the river. He says this is no fish story, but a positive fact. Fish Commissioner Crawford himself admits that he "never saw the beat."

Hop Growers, Attention!

Scio Press: An effort is to be made to organize a Hop Growers Association, for mutual benefit, in this city. To that end we have been solicited to publish a call for a meeting of the growers in this vicinity next Saturday at 10 a. m. at the eity hall. The movement is worthy. The interchange of ideas on subjects pertaining to the growing of hops will no doubt result in benefit to all concerned, especially will this be true if some plan is suggested by which the louse pest is done away with. Let everybody interested in the growing of hops attend. In a multitude of counsel there is safety, it is said, and the interchange of ideas will lead to better and more economical ideas, etc.

How the Baby Looked.

A mild-mannered young man, with a keen sence of the varieties, was congratulated last week upon a small, but appreciable addition to his family. He responded courteously to the usual solicitous inquiries and accepted all congratulations in a spirit of gentle dignity. One friend, more inquisitive than the rest, asked: "Well, old fellow, how does the baby look?" "How does he look?" repeated the happy father, with a never-thought-of-before expression in his face; "well, now that I am called upon for an off-hand description, I should say that he looks like a pug dog with its face painted red."

State Fair.

The stables at the state fair grounds near Salem, are filling up with horses in training for the fall races. The time intervening between this and the time when the state fair begins—Sept. 14th—will be improved by horsmen and all that is in their horses the different trainers will endeavor to bring out. There are now four stables of trotting horses there and five more are daily expected from Eugene. It is anticipated that there will be a fine array of horses and other live stock this season. It is hoped Yamhill will be well represented at the fair with live stock and other farm products.—Dayton Herald.

He Could Run.

Scio Press: The horse race last Friday was won by the Bellinger boys. It was a close run, and both horses were put to their best speed. Another race followed between horses owned by Polk Thomas and Schultz, the Albany butcher. Polk had a soft snap—in his mind. And, say! the way that old, stove up, spavined, knock-kneed cuitan of Schultz's did run "surpasseth all understanding." If that butcher was to bring a saw horse over and want to run it, Polk wouldn't bet much on the result of the race.

To Portland or Seattle.

The Gray's Harbor Times, published by Ted Piper, has suspended publication and Mr. Piper is packing up, preparatory to removal to Seattle, where he is offered a position on the Post-Intelligencer, or to Portlpnd, on the Oregonian. Mr. and Mrs. Piper's many Salem friends will be pleased to hear of the young couple's success in which ever city their new home may be made.—Salem Statesman.

Big Crop.

Fabritus R. Smith has just cleared up threshing in a field of wheat that averaged 35 bushels of wheat to the acre. The land has been cropped with grain for over 30 years. It has never been fertilized, and only summer followed about once every four years. This is prehaps not a very remarkable yield, but under the circumstances shows a high record for an old Oregon farm.—Salem Journal.

A Three-Cornered Race.

INDEPENDENCE, Ia., Aug. 13.—C. W, Williams offers to give a purse of $10,000 for a three-cornered race between Stamboul, Nelson and Allerton, with a liberal allowance to the former two for expenses. Nelson is willing to enter his horse and Hobart has been wired for an answer regarding Stamboul.

Mr. Wakefield, in charge of the Albany bridge, for the company who have the contract, is expected in the city to-day and will commence operations here as soon as material can be procured.
