Herbert Ridenour, 11-year-old son of William Ridenour, of Benton county, accidentally shot himself Sunday with a target gun. Death was almost instantaneous. From sunrise to sundown on August 22th, a thirty-three cylinder threshing machine shelled out 2200 bushels of wheat and 250 bushels of oats, near Salem. Regular meeting of the Woman's Relief Corps will be held at the G. A. R. hall on Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. A full attendance is requested. By order of the president. Mr. F. E. Webb, formerly pastor of the M. E. church in this city, and for the last year located at Sellwood, to which place he was returned again, was in the city yesterday calling upon old friends. The Salem Journal says that the Methodist ministers attending the conference in Salem are exceedingly pleased with their plying at the hotel Willamette, and take it with a relish. Well why shouldn't they. A very pleasant party was tendered Mr. and Mrs. George McKnight at their home a few miles from this city last evening. Several carriages carried a number of young people from this city, and the occasion was said to have been a most enjoyable one. Connections Must be Made. The Herald is pleased to note that its suggestions as to the necessity for decisive action on the part of the city authorities to enforce sewer connections made, have been acted upon by the city council. The proceedings of the council as published this morning show that the city proposes now to compel property owners to make such connections immediately, and in case of further refusal to do so the city will do it, and make the same a lien upon the property. This is as it should be. A large amount is being expended to complete the city's sewerage system, and the public health demands that after the sewers are completed the value of the work shall not be destroyed by a portion of the property owners neglecting to make the proper connections. All complaints of such instances should be promptly reported to the city recorder.

CITY COUNCIL.

The City Will Enforce the Sewer Connections to Be Made Immediately.

The city council met in regular session last evening Mayor James L. Cowan in the chair. The councilmen present were Burkhardt, Tabler, French and Allen. The recorder reported that the bonds of the sewer contractors, Bays, Jeffreys & Co., were signed and approved.

H. Bielow, Harper Cranor, Caspar Vandrom were given liquor licenses. The recorder was instructed to issue licenses to Curreli & Bender, when the bonds were properly signed. John Chiswell was awarded the contract for building the sewer across Galapooia street between Sixth and Seventh streets of eight-inch pipe, at 52 cents per foot, the contract to be completed within 30 days; bonds, $25.

Recommendations of the street commissioners were referred to the committee on streets and public property. The recorder was instructed to prepare notices and serve upon all property owners adjacent to lateral sewers, who have not made connections with the same, requiring them to make such connections within 15 days, in default of which the city will proceed at once to do the work, the same becoming a lien upon the property.

Antonelle and Doe Again. Since the falling out a year ago of the partnership firm of contractors J. S. Antonelle and L. B. Doe, they have furnished between them considerable litigation. Doe now comes to the front with a big damage suit against his whilom partner. He alleges that some time last month Antonelle caused his arrest and imprisonment before the Portland police court for obtaining money by false pretenses, alleging that Doe had secured $8000 from an onelle by means of fraudulent time checks. When the case came up to be heard Doe was discharged. He asks for $25,000 damages to his name and reputation, inclusive also of the expense of his defense.

Evangelical S. S. Picnic. The Evangelical Sunday school of this city, which is enjoying a remarkable degree of prosperity, for mid-summer, will give a basket picnic on Thursday afternoon August 27th in Mr. Hackleman's grove, east end of the city. Amusements will be provided, and a free supper given at 6 p. m. for the children and all others who will avail themselves of this opportunity of an afternoon's outing in God's first temple. All baskets left at their club corner of Fourth and Lyons street, not later than 1 p. m. on Thursday will be delivered on the ground.

Change of Business. Mr. J. A. Gross, who is well known to the traveling public as the genial confidant of the Depot Hotel, has sold the business to Mr. Caspar Vandrom. The latter is thoroughly acquainted with the business, and under his management the hotel will lose none of its old-time popularity. Mr. and Mrs. Gross will spend a few weeks in the mountains on severing their connection with the business, in which they have been identified so long, on September 1. They also contemplate a trip to Europe for the benefit of Mr. Gross's health.

Big Oregon Peaches. Mr. H. F. Hulbert left at this office yesterday some peaches grown in his garden in this city, which should remove all doubt from the minds of anyone who are skeptical as to Oregon's peach raising capabilities. They were fine, large and rosy and grew upon a two year old tree which bore two and a half bushels of as fine peaches as can be produced in any state.

To Locate the Piers. Mr. Frank J. Miller, superintendent of the Albany bridge, is in the city for the purpose of acting in concert with the manager of the bridge company in locating the piers. The latter, however, did not arrive yesterday, but will probably come up from Portland to-day. Work on the piers will commence probably next week, or as soon as the piling and other material can be placed on the ground.

Where is William Cushin. William Cushin, who was last heard from at Bonner, Mont., last year, is wanted by his relatives. He is 48 years old, is five feet in height, and weighs 110 pounds. Any information leading to a discovery of his present whereabouts will be gratefully received by addressing Martin Cushin, Plattsburgh, Neb.

On for the Mountains. Charles Cusick, Prof. W. H. Lee, Fred Fortmiller and Wm. Lyons will leave to-day for a week's outing up the North Santiam. They will go to the famous Blowout lake, where there is said to be fine fishing as well as some of the wilkiest scenery in the West.

Improving the Building. The Catholic school building has been raised several feet from its foundation, and workmen are busily engaged making the basement higher and more commodious. The school will reopen on Tuesday next, Sept. 1.

THE SANTIAM MINES.

The New Machinery Now on the Way—The Outlook Very Encouraging.

Plans and specifications of the Albany Mining & Milling Company's new quartz mill, which was shipped on the steamship Williamette Valley and arrived at Yaquina Monday, are to be seen in the office of the secretary, J. V. Pipe, in this city. It is a complete plant and will cost when ready for work in the mines between $25,000 and $30,000. It is a ten stamp mill, each stamp weighing 550 pounds, and its capacity is 30 tons per day. The mill and machinery will go direct to Gateville, and from there will be hauled to the mines on wagons, the contract having been let to J. M. Huston & Co., of this city.

The company already has a small mill and retort, and a saw-mill, driven by a 40-horse power engine, now in operation at the mines. It will require about a month to get the new mill into the mines. In the meantime the company is working three shifts of men night and day, running a lower tunnel in on the ledge. A good many thousand tons of ore is in sight ready for work. Thirty tons of ore that will be crushed in a day will be reduced to about three tons of concentrates which will be shipped to the smelting works, probably to San Francisco, or the Linton works. The gold from the plates will of course be reduced at the mines. The company has had accurate tests made of the ore, and know what they are doing. They have enough paying ore in sight to justify this outlay, and before anyone hardly realizes it a big mining industry will be in operation at our very door.

Other companies are arranging to put in machinery to work their mines in the same district. The Albany Mining & Milling Co., has erected a two story boarding house and has saved over 100,000 feet of lumber for other buildings at the mines, so it can be readily seen that a thriving camp is already springing up in the Santiam district.

SUCCESSFUL INQUEST. Coroner and Engineer Getting at the Facts in the Case.

The coroner was satisfied that some one was to blame. It might be the railroad company; it might be the engineer; it might be the conductor; it might be the dead man. That was what the coroner proposed to find out, and being fully impressed with the gravity of the occasion he arose from his seat, struck an easy attitude with one hand resting on the table, and looking at the engineer over the top of his glasses said with some severity:

"You were running pretty fast?"

The engineer in the witness chair didn't seem to be at all disturbed. He crossed his legs, leaned back in the chair and answered carelessly:

"We were making pretty fair time."

"Running faster than usual?"

"Some. We were behind time."

"Making fifty miles an hour?"

The engineer was cautious. He knew the speed was limited when running through certain towns on the road.

"Well, I wasn't keeping the time," he said.

"Was the bell ringing and the whistle sounding?"

"I suppose so. That was the fireman's business."

"Didn't you hear it?"

"No, I wasn't listening."

The engineer let that pass and squared himself for the last attack.

"Did you see the man?" he asked, shooting a finger out in the direction of the engineer.

The engineer looked at the finger a moment and blandly said:

"What man?"

"The dead man, sir, the dead man. Don't trifle."

"Oh, yes, I saw him."

"Now, sir, be careful what you say. Take plenty of time to think."

The coroner was most impressive. "When and where did you first see him?"

The engineer pulled his mustache thoughtfully for a moment.

"You want me to be exact?" he asked.

"I do."

"It's pretty hard to estimate distance, you know."

"Of course; but a great deal depends on it in this case. Do the best you can."

The engineer pulled mustache a little more. Then he said:

"I won't be sure as to a foot one way or the other, but my best estimate would be that when I first saw him he was four and a half feet above the smoke-stack."

PEARLS OF WISDOM. He who does not look before, lags behind. You will not be loved if you care for none but yourself. He who is always prying into other men's affairs, leads a dangerous life. More people are drowned in the bowl than the sea. Gaming is the child of avarice, but the parent of prodigality. He that speaks doth sow, but he that holds his peace doth reap. The stone is hard and the drop is small, but a hole is made by the constant fall. The greatest cunning is to have no cunning at all. He is much to do who would please everybody. Life is half spent before one knows what life is.

USES OF SUMMER GIRL. TO THE BIRD. About the summer girl the bird Doth sing and sing and sing, Because the rymes he writes, to him A steady income bring.

TO THE CLERGYMAN. With happy eyes the clergyman The summer maiden sees, And smiling, sees her flirt and dream Of future marriage fees.

TO THE LAWYER. The summer girl doth much delight The wily man of law, For he from trash of promise fees An income rich doth draw.

TO THE DOCTOR. The summer girl increases trade, The doctor doth aver; For he doth daily physic men Who die for love of her.

TO THE ARTIST. But most of all the artist's soul The summer girl doth raise, For in her form he sees the life Of his beloved Greece days.—New York Herald.

FIRE, FIRE, FIRE!! Are You Ready For the Cry? There seems to be an error in the statement that only foreign insurance companies lost in the recent Lebanon fire, for one of Julius Gradwohl's companies, the Oakland Home, paid Wednesday to Mr. Bach, the full value of his loss in that company to his entire satisfaction, which seems to be the usual custom of Mr. Gradwohl's companies to pay promptly their full losses as soon as they occur. Therefore if you want to insure your property well go to Mr. Gradwohl, who represents six No. 1 insurance companies with a capital of a hundred million dollars.
