CANADIAN ANNEXATION.

The Chronicle gives a pretty pertinent view of matters in replying to a criticism of the Vancouver, British Columbia, Telegram. That paper had claimed that the Canadians have a right to scrutinize our expenditures and condemn extravagance in the payment of pensions, because there is a large annexation party which may ultimately succeed in carrying the Dominion over to the United States. "In that event," remarks the Telegram, "Canada would have to pay its share of the pension list," and adds, "if this were determined on the basis of population Canada's share would be something like $10,000,000 per annum." The Chronicle replies by saying that the Telegram ought to dismiss any fears it has on this score, for if we annexed Canada the Canadians could do like most of the people of the United States, avoid paying any portion of the amount consumed in pensioning soldiers. The United States imposes no per capita tax. Its two sources of revenue are from customs duties and the tax on liquors and tobacco. So if a man cares to refrain from drinking and use of tobacco, and will stick strictly to home manufactured goods, he can avoid contributing a dime to the pension fund. This being the case we must insist that Canada has no right to criticise our expenditures, even if there is a large party that contemplates annexation.

The value of building and loan associations as a factor in the development of the country, is daily becoming better known. There are 111 of these associations now in existence in California which have loans outstanding at present to the amount of $12,204,864. This means that by cooperation persons who would perhaps otherwise have been unable to do so have acquired property to the above indicated amount. In the course of a very few years, if these co-operative building associations continue to increase as they have been doing, thousands of persons will be indebted to them as the instrumentality by which they were enabled to procure a home or a start in life.

The election in Ohio this year has more than the usual significance that attaches to a simple state election. It may mean the determining of the next presidential race, for if the democrats gain control of the state legislature, and pass a law districting presidential electors, and the gerrymandering methods are used that have before been brought into play, the majority of electors will surely be secured by the democratic party in that state. However the McKinley canvas, if it rests with the tariff issues, which are the main things associated with the McKinley name, will go strongly in his favor for the real work of the tariff law is becoming better known and creating a strong and active sentiment in its favor.

The improvement of harbors and rivers, so that navigation can be safe and successful is one of the most essential works to be accomplished by congress. Even if the performing of that necessary duty on its part does gain it the sobriquet of "billion dollar" congress, it is to be hoped that the action will be taken all the same. We need the harbors and we need the river transportation, and money spent in that manner is well invested.

When Columbus was made a prisoner in San Domingo the governor who arrested him feared there might be an attempt at a rescue. So he trained a cannon on the entrance of the citadel, in which Columbus was confined. That cannon has lain in the same place ever since until now, when Mr. Ober, a world's fair representative, recovered it, and with the permission of the governor of San Domingo, brought it to the United States. It has been shipped to Chief of Construction Burnham in order that he may use it in some way in ornamenting the exposition grounds.

Harvest is over. The largest and most successful crops of all kinds, save hops, ever experienced in the state have been gathered. Yields have been large and all products of good quality. The people are to be congratulated on the success of the seasons labors. Prosperity and good times exist in every portion of the state. Stock wintered well, increase of sheep was large and wool clip enormous, climatic conditions favored the growth, development, yield and harvest of hay, cereals and fruit. The water has been quite plentiful for the miner. Everybody appears to have been favored, and happiness reigns. Prosperous times are assured in Oregon.

A convention of representatives of the militia of the different states of the Union will be held in Chicago Oct. 20 to discuss and take action upon the question of a proper military display during the dedicatory ceremonies of the world's fair on the week of Oct. 12, 1892. The delegates, one from each state, have been appointed by their respective governors upon invitation of the exposition committee on ceremonies. A full attendance is assured.

Always on time with the best the market affords. Try, and be convinced. C. E. Brownell.

REMARKABLE RESCUE.

Mrs Michael Curtain, Plainfield, Ill, makes the statement that she caught cold, which settled on her lungs; she was treated for a month by her family physician, but grew worse. He told her she was a hopeless victim of consumption and that no medicine could cure her. Her druggist suggested Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption; she bought a bottle and to her delight found herself benefitted from the first dose. She continued its use and after taking ten bottles, found herself sound and well, now does her own housework and is as well as she was.—Free trial bottle of this great Discovery at Foshay & Mason's Drug Store, large bottles 50c, and $1.00
