Fruit men say that this fall the apple crop, in this section, is the best in quantity for many years, the quantity is good. Experiments carfully made have proven that to save the apples a person must spray. One man sprayed and saved 98 per cent. of his crop. The pear crop is found to be considerably below the average, occasioned no doubt by the cold spell late in April.

County stock inspector Simeral has a call to the vicinity of Mt. Angel, where some cattle are said to be suffering from pneumonia, which ailment is contagious.

M. J. Connor, was to-day appointed steward of the insane asylum, vice W. J. Irwin, resigned. Connor was formerly the book keeper.

Information reached Salem to-day, that upon the Luckamute river, in Polk county, Sunday morning, the little daughter of Richard Tom met death accidentally. She was riding a horse when the animal fell in such a manner as to internally injure her. She died after twelve hours suffering.

State School Superintendent E. B. McElroy has already commenced work preparing Oregon's educational exhibit for the world's fair. He received the first materiels to-day, being a box of sample work from the Ashland schools. It is the superintendents purpose to make Oregon's exhibit a creditable one, consisting of maps, papers, apparaties, etc.

PURSUING A CRIPPLE.

Not Satisfied With Deserting Him She Wanted His Money.

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 6—Mrs. Helen Wolfrom, formerly Mrs. Wagner, got a divorce from John Wagner, a crippled mechanic in the railroad shops here who can earn only half wages, several months ago, after four unsuccessful attempts, the simple statement of the husband having been sufficient to foil her attempt for liberation. Wagner showed that he had no desire to sever the tie, that he had always done his best to be a good husband and that the unwilling partner of his joys and sorrows appeared to be thinking of something else. He finally tired of fighting and the fifth suit went against him, the usual penalty of the alimony being attached.

The day after her divorce the woman married a Yolo county rancher, worth $300,000. Notwithstanding this, she has continued to pursue Wolfrom, insisting on alimony and the costs of the litigation. Attorney Hiram Johnston said the woman ought to be satisfied with the rich husband she had got. Judge Catlin remarked that that was the way it looked to him. Attorney McKeene became excited and wanted to know if the case was going to be decided without giving his side a hearing.

"Oh, I know all about the case" replied the court. "I remember when the testimony was being taken and am familiar with it. This man is a cripple and not a sound workingman. She has married a man who is more than able to pay all of her litigation expenses."

Mr. McKeene insisted that the fact that the woman's last husband was wealthy had nothing whatever to do with the case, but Judge Catlin held to his opinion and denied the application for alimony.

OBITUARY.

Sarah Wiseman Thompson was born in Kentucky Aug. 15th, 1824, and died in Halsey, Linn Co., Oregon, Sept. 18th, 1891, aged 67 years, 1 month and 3 days. She moved to Missouri when 10 years old. At the age of seventeen she was converted and joined the Methodist Episcopal church Dec. 21st, 1843, she was married to Mr. Mercer Thompson; they walked the path of life together till about five years ago, when her companion was called to his reward. In 1852, with her family, she crossed the plains and settled in Linn county where she lived until her death. She became the mother of a large family, and with her husband endeavored to train her children carefully in the fear of the Lord.

Many of the ministers of our church have found her home not only a place of rest, but helpful to their faith and courage. She was meek and unassuming, but diligent and delighted in attending the means of grace. Her death was fitting such a life. She was calm and trustful, telling her pastor and her family all was well. She triumphed over death by a glorious hope of immortality. Her children, her friends, and the church cherish her memory as one whose example they may safely follow. Her work and spirit live on, a power in her church and in her community. At the home of her daughter, Mrs. B. A. Stafford, she received the tenderest care that loving hearts could bestow.

A. C. FAIRCHILD,
Pastor.

THE SONS OF VETERANS.

How and When the Order was Organized.

The order of the Sons of Veterans was organized in 1881 by Major A. Davis, or "Father Davis," as the boys love to call him. Major Davis is a resident of Pittsburg, Pa. He is a man in whom the military spirit has ever burned brightly. He was born in Gardiner, Me., in 1835. In 1849 he sailed to California in search of the gold which was the magnet of so many lives. When the Crimean war broke out he enlisted as a subordinate officer in the French service, in which he remained to the close of the war. When the war of the Rebellion broke out he enlisted in one of the first regiments raised in the State of Maine. He rose from the ranks until, in 1865, he was given the rank of major, and was mustered out as such. He has endeared himself to the members of the order, as has his good wife, who is known among the Sons of Veterans as "Mother" Davis.—Frank Leslie's Weekly.

Logic of an English Justice.

Richard Chapman and Frederick Theobalks, two boys living with their parents at Mitcham, were charged on remand at Croydon on Saturday with stealing from an orchard at Mitcham a quantity of growing mushrooms, valued at 1s. 6d., the property of Edward Mizen, a market gardener. At the first hearing a constable informed the Bench that the boys were quite beyond the control of their parents, who refuse to take any further interest in them. Captain Kemmis (chairman) now addressed the prisoners as follows: "Boys, no doubt you stole the mushrooms, but you will have the benefit of any doubt that might exist, and be discharged."—London Chronicle.

A Very High Horse.

Valley City, N. D., has, it is said, one of the most extraordinary specimens of horseflesh in existence. He is a sorrel, stands fully nineteen hands, or six feet four inches from floor to withers. His legs are three feet six inches before touching the body, and a small bronco can easily walk under him. A man six feet in height can't see over his back, even when standing on tiptoe. In length he is fully thirteen feet, or seventeen feet from tip of nose to tail. When standing with his head as ordinarily checked up a six-foot man, foot man by standing on tiptoe, can just touch the base of his ear.

Determined to Be Independent.

The Sinslaw people are working out their own salvation in the right way. The Florence West says: "It is altogether probable the question of purchasing a steam schooner of our own will now again be agitated. There is no longer any question as to whether it will pay or not. We have sawmills which can supply a steamer with ample lumber to load out, and certainly there is merchandise enough coming to this port to give a boat a good load as often as she could make the trip. What say you people, will we buy a boat? Let's do it and bid defiance to Chance."

The Siletz Reservation.

The Siletz Indian reservation comprising 225,000 acres of fine land will be deminished in size within the next few years. Allowing eighty acres to the head, and taking the present registered population of 560 Indians, which is on the decrease rather than on the increase, would leave a residue of 170,000 acres, which if offered for sale by the government, would greatly be to the benefit of western Oregon. It will take another year to finish the allotment, but inside of a very few years will find this surplus land cultivated by the white man and into prosperous and happy homes.

RUNNING IN CHINESE

They are Smuggled Across the Border From Canada.

ARRESTED BY THE OFFICIALS

Caught In The Very Act--Two Men Arrested With Them--Implicated Officials.

NIAGARA FALLS, Oct. 6.—Not long ago the Chief of Police here received information that Chinamen were being smuggled across the border from Canada, being aided in so doing by some persons of influence on the American side. He put detectives at work, and the officers arrested two men giving the names of Abram Abrahams of New York and James G. Muldoon of Toronto. The prisoners had bought two railroad tickets and had subsequently joined two Chinamen, who were stopping at a hotel near the depot.

Muldoon had in his pocket a letter from D. M. Pomeroy, Deputy United States Marshal at Lockport conveying instructions as to how the Chinese might be worked across the line into the hands of Pomeroy and another deputy named Weaver. Expressions in the letter indicate that United States Commissioner Pound of Lockport and U. S. District Attorney Alexander, located in Buffalo, are also implicated. The four prisoners were turned over to Deputy Marshal Watts, of Buffalo, and will have a hearing on Monday.

A FIENDISH CRIME.

Men Are Arrested on Suspicion of Being the Perpetrators.

NAPA Oct. 6.—Sheriff George McKenzie has returned here with two men who are suspected of being the murders of Mrs. Greenwood in February last. Ten days ago he left here armed with a requisition from Governor Markham for the men who were then detained in jail at Glendive, Mont. They give the names of George and J. C. Dawson and say they are brothers, but the authorities are satisfied tney are not brothers.

They are held on a confession said to have been made in a jail in North Dakota.

The crime for which they are held is told as follows: A wayfarer on the road from Vallejo to Napa City early on the morning of February 10, this year, in passing the home Captain John Q. Greenwood, a wealthy rancher, found him lying in the road, his hands tied behind him and his person covered with blood from two pistol wounds in his head. He told a terrible tale of an assault by robbers on the night previous. Two men had attacked him, tied him hand and foot and drugged him. They had then compelled his wife to drink a potion of the same drug, after which they had bound her hands and bound her to a bed in an adjoining room. This done, they ransacked the house, displacing every piece of furniture in their search for gold, but finding only $14 in silver. They then appeared to leave the house, for all was silent, and Greenwood endeavored to free himself. He succeeded in breaking the cord that bound his feet and crept to the bedside of his wife and called to her, but she did not answer, no donbt being under the influence of the drug.

After some efforts to arouse her. Greenwood sank down exhausted by the bed and lay there until the clock struck 11, when he was aroused by voices outside. The robbers had returned to complete their work. They took the captain out in the hallway, gagged and retied him and then shot him twice in the head. Believing him dead they left him and returned to where his wife lay and shot her dead. They then left the house for good. Greenwood managed to crawl to the road and was there found.

The country about was intensely excited and posses scoured the hills in every direction, and ran down every clew, but without avail. Large rewards were offered and under this stimulus numerous arrests were made throughout the state, always of the wrong men.

CALIFORNIA STATE GRANGE.

Holding Its Annual Session With Great Success.

HAYWARDS, Oct. 6.—Today the State Grange, Patrons of Husbandry, met in this place to remain in session five days. The citizens of Haywards have arranged a good reception to their visitors this evening. The people subscribed liberally, and the town is now in holiday attire. Flags, streamers and floral decorations greet the eye along the principal streets and the visiting grangers will find very hospitable people awaiting their coming, and see one of the prettiest towns in the state most elaborately decorated. The hotels and private houses are able to accommodate all, and it is now estimated that fully 500 grangers and visitors will be in attendance. Stages will be provided free by the committee daily for the visiting grangers to see the valley, and the street cars will also be free to them during their stay here. G. S. Laugan will deliver the address of welcome, which will be responded to by the master of the State Grange, E. W. Davis, followed by a fine musical and literary entertainment and dance, which will be free to all. The following have stated that they will probably be present: Leland Stanford, T. J. Geary, J. McKenna, J. T. Cutting and E. F. Loud.

NICKEL STEEL PLATES.

They Are to Be Given Another Severe Test.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—The most interesting and important armour plate test, so far as the country is concerned, will take place this month at the naval proving ground at Indiana Head on the Potomac. Last year the results were in favor of nickel steel as against all steel plates, and this year the attack will be mainly on the former, although all steel plates will be fired at that no opportunity for practical comparison may be lost. There have been predictions that no foundry on this side of the Atlantic could supply armour plate for the new United States vessels of war, and that the navy department would be forced to go to Creugot, in France, where the victorious nickel steel was manufactured, or, all else failing, to Cammel & Co. in England, where the destroyed compound plate of the Annapolis trials was made. Almost within one year from the time of those trials, however, two companies have produced eight plates which are to be made the subject of this month's test at Indian Head. It will be interesting to note whether these initial productions of domestic foundaries equal or excel, in all those qualities which go to make up a perfect armour plate, the manufactures of more experienced English and French foundaries.

There is no reason to believe, say ordnance experts, that this equality at least shall not be attained. Foreign processes of manufacture have been purchased by two domestic companies, and with improvements in the method of treatment suggested by the proverbial American ingenuity and inventiveness, the expectation that better general results will be obtained is not unreasonable. Such trials as have been held with small plates of domestic manufacture have been eminently satisfactory, and the tests of the three-inch nickel plates of the Harvey process at Annapolis last May suggested the line of subsequent operations.

Railway Competition.

ST. PAUL, Oct. 6.—It is announced that the Canadian Pacific and the "Soo" line are hurrying to completion the Pacific branch of the "Soo" from Hankinson, N. D., northwest to Regina, on the main line of the Canadian Pacific. This is done, it is said, in anticipation of the completion of the Great Northern to the coast, the Canadian Pacific thereby losin its St. Paul connection. It is now reported the obtaining of a line between the Twin cities and the Pacific coast is the only object of the new line. As soon as it is completed it is said there will be an entirely new traffic scheme put into effect by the Canadian Pacific, which will include the running of all through passenger trains between Montreal and Vancouver by way of St. Paul and Minneapolis.

The Circulating Medium.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—A statement prepared at the Treasury Department shows that there was a net increase of $24,551,000 in circulation during September and a net decrease of $11,506,000 in money and bullion in the Treasury during the same period.

Sad Story of a Life.

Salem Statesman: Sheriff Creop, of Grant county, arrived in the city Sunday night with George Enos, an old man, who, by reason of his misfortunes, has lost his mind, and was committed to the asylum. He was born in Portugal and coming to America he acquired, by hard work and frugal living, a fortune, which, through improper business management and the possession of too many friends, disappeared and he was left penniless and friendless, with an enfeebled mind and no home but the one he has just found in the asylum.
