A TERRIBLE TRAGEDY

Henry Ingram Slain by His Brother Last Night.

A LAND QUARREL THE CAUSE.

The Coroner's Jury Pronounces It a Deliberate Murder—The Murderer in Jail.

At a late hour last night information was received in this city of the killing of Henry Ingram by his brother Frank at the farm of the latter five miles south of this city. The shooting was the result of a quarrel over the division of the Ingram estate and a contest over the terms of the will left by their mother. Threats had previously been made by the dead brother and several shots had been fired on a former encounter. Several days ago the HERALD published an account of a farm hand on Frank Ingram's place discovering a man piling around the house, and how he drove him off with a gun. Night before last the man returned again and was armed, but was again driven off by the hired man, after some more shooting.

Late last night the same hired man came to this city in hot haste on horseback, seeking the sheriff and a physician, and bearing the information that Frank Ingram had shot and killed the brother, who was his brother, Henry Ingram. It appears that about 8 o'clock in the evening, Henry was discovered approaching the house armed with a gun, Frank Ingram, with a revolver in each hand, met him and commanded Frank to throw up his hands, and on his raising his gun to shoot, opened fire upon him, killing him almost instantly. The sheriff, coroner, Dr. W. H. Davis and others left for the scene, but at a late hour had not returned.

The quarrel was provoked by the brother who was killed, he having laid in wait for the purpose of killing his brother on several different occasions. Frank Ingram seemed equally as determined not to be driven away, and had asked the sheriff if he would be allowed to carry a revolver. Both brothers expected bloodshed and were well armed. It was a most unfortunate family quarrel, which ended in a deplorable manner.

The above particulars are as obtained from the hired man. The officers returned at 3:30 this morning with some additional particulars. The coroner's jury consisting of Alex Humphrey, C. W. Watts, Alex Kenney, E. A. Miller, Robt. Strong and John Mullan, found that the deceased came to his death at the hands of Frank Ingram, and that it was a deliberate murder, and that Ingram be held for murder. The evidence showed that Frank Ingram had waited at a tree near the house for his brother, and when he came up within eight feet he ordered him to throw up his hands and in the encounter he shot him twice through the heart. Ingram claimed that he heard another man running and also shot at him. A short time afterwards he heard his fallen brother make a slight noise, and shot him again in the face. He claimed that up to that time he did not know who he was shooting at. A shot gun with a discharged shell was found lying by the side of the dead man. Ingram was brought to this city and lodged in jail. Frank's brothers were unmarried and aged about 35 and 38 years, and live near each other. Coroner Farrell took charge of dead brother's body.

AT THE CHRISTIAN CHURCH.

At the State Ministerial Association of the Church of Christ, yesterday papers on the following subjects were presented: "Duties of the Evangelist," "Communion," "Church Finance," by T. F. Brown of Hillsboro; "Unity of Action," by W. R. Williams of Salem; "Prayer in the evening," by David Wetzell of Portland; "The Triumph of Christianity Superhuman." The session has been very profitable and great good will result. On Wednesday the papers were: "Qualification of Elders," by D. M. Day of Dallas; "Ministerial Qualifications," by A. B. Wade of Hillsboro; "The Preacher as a Pastor," by David Wetzell of Portland. In the evening a sermon was delivered by W. R. Williams of Salem on "How Much Can We Know of God." The services of the ministerial meeting closed last evening with an excellent sermon by David Wetzell, of Portland church. The people of Albany have been very courteous and kind in their treatment of the visiting brethren, and the press of the city have their thanks. Strong resolutions were adopted in favor of the utter prohibition of the manufacture of and sale of intoxicants, and the abolition of the use of tobacco among preachers and all others of the church. A great good has been done. Adjourned to meet at Hillsboro, in Oct. 18-22. A large number of preachers were present and all return home happy.

THE WEATHER TO-DAY.

The weather forecast of the U. S. Signal service for the next 24 hours is: cooler; fair weather, warm wave disappearing.

ABANDONED THEIR CONTRACT.

Surveyors Up the Santiam Leave Their Work in a Miserable Condition.

Information has been received in this city that the surveyors who had the contract for surveying township 10 south in ranges 4, 5 and 6 east, have made a miserable mess of the work, and finally jumped their contract, after fooling away several months of good weather in discovering the fact that they do not know how to make a public land survey, leaving the settlers to wait another year before they can hope to begin to acquire title to their land.

Surveyor Wm. Campbell, of the Dalles, who has been in charge of the work, has been running several boundaries, but when another contractor, Surveyor Bashe attempted to cross section the work, the two surveyors could not agree by a good many rods. They could make no further headway. After flitting about over their territory, doing a little work here and a little there, they finally tangled up what they had done until they abandoned it.

The excuse they made of bad weather driving them out is all balderdash, as the finer weather has ever been experienced in Oregon since they have been at work, even up to present time. Settlers up the Santiam, both in Linn and Marion counties are angry to conclude either that the surveyors do not understand their business or have been purposely delaying the work. The land here ought to be surveyed, so that the hundreds of actual settlers can acquire title to the land they are now holding only by "squatters' rights," but would seem from the manner of their work that some more competent surveyors would have to be given the contract before it can be done.

If these gentlemen, who under no circumstances should be allowed any legitimate excuse for tampering with the work and delaying the settlement of that district for another year, the settlers there would be glad to know what it is. Surveyor General Byars should inquire into this matter, and see that the work is placed in competent hands as speedily as possible. In range 4 the township boundary had already been run, and the unfinished work could have been easily completed had any sort of diligence or inclination to do so been manifested by the surveyors.

THE COUNTY COURT.

The Proposition for This County and Marion to Build a Bridge at Mill City Rejected.

In the matter of the application of J. H. Peery and others for county road, ordered open for county road; ordered open for county road. The petition of Geo. M. Stafford and others for county road was dismissed. The matter of procuring booths for election purposes was continued until next term, when bids will be received.

PROSPEROUS TIMES.

The City at the Head of Willamette River Navigable.

The Harrisburg water power Co., have elected as directors, A. Davis, Perry Hyde, R. H. Rumpy, J. F. Hendrix, E. E. Wyatt, John K. Carrington, and H. M. Roberts, and these directors will meet Thursday the 8th and elect their officers. Not an unoccupied dwelling in the limits of our city, in fact there has been several of shacks boarded up to serve as a temporary stopping place until better arrangements can be made. The Harrisburg Lumber Co. are running on full time and are about fifteen days behind on orders. Snodgrass Bros. are shipping from this station 750 head of cattle for the Eastern Oregon range. Eugene Baslow has two deal-dings and one store building under contract to be completed in the near future. Father Kelsey is building a nice two story cottage in Schooling's addition. We are informed that Mr. Payton A. Bennis, the purchaser of Father Kelsey's farm intends to plant a large nursery this season. The management of the Harrisburg Hotel is giving general satisfaction. The displacement of "moss" has had something to do with slow progress of our water ditch, but to the surprise of many that part of the work is now about done and the sentiment is to push forward the enterprise. Our school house has just been remodelled to make room for the larger attendance. We have not a daily attendance of 140 pupils and there are more yet to come. Our district made no mistake either in voting a tax for a free school or in securing the services of Professor Rathford to act as principal of our school, as a matter of fact none can boast of a better school than we now have. Professor Millard has just closed a successful term of music lessons with a concert, all who were in attendance had a good word for the professor. Dr. W. F. Mendenhall will overhaul the old Smith Brassfield & Co., store houses immediately will arrange for a north front and when completed will have three splendid business rooms fronting to Smith street, which will vastly improve the appearance of this portion of our little city.

BEACON LIGHTS TO-NIGHT.

Albany opera house to-night, Mr. De Witt Young's military drama "Beacon Lights" will be presented by the famous Grismer-Davies dramatic company. The following comment is in the Sun: "The play in which Joseph Lighter and Phoebe Davies opened at the Alcazar last Monday night, is possessed of much literary merit, and is filled with numerous situations of a sufficiently striking nature to keep the interest of the audience up to the highest pitch from the first rise to final fall of the curtain. Besides this play seems to have a special adaptation to the peculiar talent of the Grismer-Davies, perhaps this result of the thorough acting which Mr. De Witt Young has done, changing many of its original lines and adding strength to nearly all the situations. It is a big success. Get seats reserved at once at Will & Link's music store."

THE TEMPERANCE LECTURE.

The great lecturer Luther Benson, filled every nook and corner of the W. C. T. U. hall last evening, and held his immense audience for an hour and a half with his wonderful wit, pathos and humor. As a temperance lecturer he is a great success. To night he speaks again in the M. E. Church and an admission of 10 cts will be charged.

MATTERS OF IMPORTANCE.

The Public Schools of Oregon at the World's Fair.

The Salem Statesman says that "State School Superintendent McElroy is already busy preparing Oregon's educational exhibit of the world's fair. He has already received the first invoice of material for the exhibit, which will be a comprehensive one. This invoice is from the schools of Ashland and will be added to from time to time by the several cities, towns, villages and hamlets in the state. Oregon's school exhibit at the world's fair will consist of kindergarten work, school drawing—free hand and pen work—school apparatus, models, diagrams, copies of illustrations, statistics, maps, historical and geographical—and general specimens of school work. It is expected that our higher institutions of learning—colleges and universities—will furnish statistics and illustrations of buildings, libraries, museums, collections, courses of study, catalogues, etc. Prof. McElroy will be engaged in this work all fall and has found houses of preparing such a collection under a credit to the great state of Oregon."

We understand that a systematic work is to be inaugurated in this matter, and our Albany public school, and the direction of Prof. McElroy will take a deep interest in the matter, and send forward a full and creditable exhibit. The schools in the other towns of the country should also participate in these important exhibits. Married at Eugene. At the meeting of the Oregon State Eclectic Medical Association at Salem Wednesday letters and papers were read from members who could not be present at the meeting. Dr. H. Michener's essay was on "Childish Legislation," and his excuse was that his brother had just arrived from Kansas and the marriage was celebrated that day at Eugene. Dr. Michener's home is in Halsey. Big Saw Mill Enterprise. Mr. J. Haley, of Green Basin, was in the city yesterday. He stated that he had sold his timber claim at that place to T. H. DeCew & Co., of Essex, Ontario. These gentlemen have also purchased other timber lands in that vicinity, and expects to start a big saw mill there next spring. BUSINESS LOCALS. For nice fresh oysters go to John Isom's.
