WORDS FROM WASHINGTON.

How Times Are Improving and Prospects Brightening. As I never see any news from our little southeast corner, will send an item or two. This has been the summer of our happiness. Plenty of rain, plenty of grass and good crops. The star of hope, after being hid by the lusters of the long tail combination again comes to our tired eyes, his brilliancy riveting our evening king of the observatory call it Alliance, the other members of the faculty name it Jim Blain and claim its climax of splendor will be reached November 1, 1892.

Trade is reviving at our towns, merchandise declining and all but cattle and farm products advancing. Wheat 60c cleaned, barley 55c, oats 55c, hay 12 1/2 per ton, cattle on foot, 2 1/2, stock cattle, 11, 11 1/2 and 12 1/2 for 2 and 3 year olds. This has been a remarkable good year, peaches, plums and prunes being plentiful, and selling at the orchards for 1/2 and 1 cent per pound, delivered 2 cents.

The year has been very encouraging. There has been discovered in the county limits in the way of valuable stone, magnesite, granite and marble. The siliceous and good names just across our border have been worked up to their full assessment and only await the hand of transportation to open up to us all the advantages of the miner's camp. The schemes that are being worked up with closed doors, as to irrigation, are most promising, for the sun never shown on land that will better pay the outlay for water than Astoria county.

A. HUTTENBILDER. A City of Adversity. Since the fire The Dalles has been visited by the Dalles and conditions of mankind says the Times Mountaineer. The fire and life insurance agents are seen upon our streets, and also other persons who migrate in this our time of adversity, there is an opportunity to reap a harvest. During the history of this city, it has suffered from fires in 1846, 1867, 1870, 1880, 1882, 1888, 1891 and from floods in 1866, 1876 and 1880, and has survived all these disasters. In 1871 all buildings—except the residence of Prof. Condon—were leveled to the ground; in 1873 all business ceased, and Washington and north of Third, were swept and to the river were a mass of smoldering ruins, and the freshets of 1866, 1876, and 1880 flooded the streets to the court house block on the corner of Third and Court streets. After each of these disasters The Dalles has gone forward and built up the demolished structures and been a better town than ever before. Now, when she has an opposition boat on the river, is projecting railroads to the interior, and is acknowledged to be the lead city in the inland Empire, a million dollars gone up in smoke will not cripple her resources or stop her on the onward road of prosperity. Spirit, pluck, energy and enterprise will accomplish wonders, and we are satisfied our business men possess the means and will exert them to the advantage of The Dalles and vicinity.

Utterior Motives. Oregonian notes and comments says that a recent strike of men in New York city was based upon the demand that the women who were their fellow-workmen should receive full wages for men's work. A most just demand, indeed, and at first breath one would think that these men had become suddenly imbued with the chivalric spirit of the knights of olden times. But it is charged, with much accompanying proof, that pure selfishness on the part of the men instigated the strike. They believe, and with some reason, that if employers are compelled to pay full wages to women they will prefer to hire men instead; so that equality to pay may be the means of working a hardship to the gentler sex.

Six Hearts That Beat as Three. Hyman is now completing the work of Cupid during the past summer. Three more licenses have been granted to as many matrimonially inclined couples as follows: Clara Irvine and Ava Anderson, J. L. McCoy and Olive Pendleton, Grant N. von and Belle Smith.

Funeral of Henry Ingram. The funeral of Henry Ingram will occur at 1:30 this afternoon from the Albany Furniture Co.'s undertaking rooms under the auspices of the A. O. U. W., of which he was a member.

Accidently Killed. Roseburg Review: A sad accident occurred about half way between Coquille City and Roseburg on the Middle Fork road yesterday. F. A. Golden, a druggist of Marshfield, and wife were coming to this city in cart, and had driven into a creek to let their horse drink, when the animal became frightened, and jumping suddenly threw Mrs. Golden out. Her head struck against a stump and she died within a few minutes. Mrs. Golden was a most estimable lady, and her sudden death will be a severe blow to a large circle of friends and relatives.

Postponed Until 1 O'clock To-Day. The preliminary examination of F. S. Ingram for the murder of his brother, Henry Ingram, was set for 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, but on motion of the defendant's attorney the trial was postponed until 1 o'clock to-day.

Wanted. A house of not less than five rooms near the center of the city. For particulars inquire of the agent at the S. P. depot.

WOULD BE JAIL BREAKERS.

Two You had Criminals Attempt to Gain Jail Liberty. About 1 o'clock Thursday morning George and Frank Willis who are confined in the county jail for house breaking, were discovered making an attempt to gain their liberty. A noise, as if rattling iron was heard in their cell, which awakened the sheriff, but nothing beyond a few scratches on the cell floor were found until yesterday morning brought to light a case-knife, which was stowed in the bed. The boys, though quite young, one of them 15 and the other 16 years of age, are hardened criminals. The oldest has served two and a half years in the penitentiary and a short term in the Multnomah county jail.

Well Played. "Baron Lights" by the Grimmer-Davis company at the Opera House last night was played to perfection, and held a large audience from first to last. The piece is an excellent one, full of stirring incidents, and in the hands of such popular actors could not fail to please. The parts were well sustained throughout.

Charged With Bigamy. The trouble with the Episcopal clergyman in Oregon City has led to investigation. A dispatch from there says that the open quarrel between the Episcopal church of this city and Rev. J. M. Donaldson, the late missionary in charge of the parish, is called to the mind of that parish and new light thrown upon his standing as a minister, by the arrival of certain certified documents from Austr. La, where he was located before coming to Oregon City. These documents give a full account of his trial and sentence by the bishop. The accusation charged that he was married and living with one woman, while his wife, by a former marriage, was still living and undivorced. The "year book" trial and sentence by the bishop. By the terms of the sentence passed by the bishop at the close of the ecclesiastical trial, which found him guilty of the offense charged, he was "deprived of his license and authority to perform the office of priest and to discharge the functions of his sacred office, both in the district of Kapunda and Hamilton, and within the diocese of Adelaide." With this sentence against him in Australia, now he came in charge of a church in America, is the question which presents itself to the Episcopal brethren here. Mr. Donaldson is supposed to be at New Westminster, B. C.

A Big Fruit Farm. Roseburg Review: Gen. Jas. A. Varney who has been at Oakland for some time past, has returned to The Dalles. Mr. Varney is making every preparation to remove to Oakland with his family and will leave the Columbia river country next week, taking with him his entire nursery stock. The general is manager of the Chenoweth Park Fruit association, at Oakland, which owns 2700 acres of fruit land near that place which will be set to fruit. Three hundred acres will be planted this year and the remainder as fast as possible.

Must be Making Money. Grants Pass Courier: J. R. Markley & Co., are busy on the county records limiting up unassessed property for the county. Mr. Markley is from Corvallis and has been engaged in several counties in the West. Bontion county paid over $200 for a present owner's book; Tillamook, $500, and it is said that Multnomah will pay over $50,000 for the work. Josephine county work will probably charge a piece of scrip to be drawn for $2000.

Says It's All Right. The Salem Statesman says: W. M. Sterling has just completed the contract of repairing the roof at the state insane asylum building. He says he found it in a sorry condition, generally, and had not the repairs been made this year, an entire new roof would have had to be put on next season at a heavy expense. The roof has all been painted and the leakages stopped. While engaged in this work Mr. Sterling had a good opportunity of seeing the inward workings of the institution. He has many high compliments for Dr. Rowland as superintendent. He says as far as he has been able to observe the patient's every want is carefully looked to.

COAST NOTES.

Miss Grace Isaacs, of Walla Walla, an estimable young lady, who was one of the unfortunate victims of the railroad disaster at Lake Labish, near Salem, is now stopping at the home of her grandparents, Colonel Fulton and wife, at Biggs station, Sherman county. Miss Isaacs is still in a precarious condition of health and confined to her room a good portion of her time. Another attempt is being made to oust Unipattli Indians in the service of Uncle Sam. The first trial some time ago resulted in a complete failure. The Indians said they did not want to leave their homes and in fact refused to war. It is understood that this time, also, the proposition to oust does not meet with favor among the Indians. Captain Lee, Lieutenant Hardman and a small party of troopers from Fort Walla Walla are at the agency for the purpose.

John W. Hellebrand, of Oregon, Tillamook county, reports having seen in the Nestucca valley millions of the worms that are the reason for the failure of the country. The road in the Nestucca valley was full of these worms and they seem to be drawing their slow length along eastwardly. About every mile on the side of the valley in the mountains they were taken millions of these worms, advanced in that elevation another stage in their development. The insects in the mountains were winged.

During the fire at Condon last week two Indians confined in the county jail pending removal to the penitentiary to serve a sentence of one year for horse stealing, were released and rendered valuable service in extinguishing the flames. As a reward for their services a number of signed petitions has been sent to the governor asking their pardon. The two Indians passed through this city last week in charge of an officer for Condon, says The Dalles Sun, and it may be that executive clemency in their behalf was invoked in vain.

How Onions Grow. Grants Pass Courier: A Jackson county miner who farms a little, was in town Monday. He found ready sale for the savory bulb at 1 1/2 cents a pound, and declared that he has raised three tons of onions on a strip of land three rods in size, and he is decidedly of the opinion that there is more money in two acres of onions and beans than in thirty acres of grain. His ranch is on bench land and he irrigates by tapping a hillside spring. His name is Cypri.

A Painful Accident. M. E. Bilyeu received a painful injury last Saturday, says the Sea Press. He was hauling logs for Green McDonald's new residence and in passing through a gate he in some manner got his leg caught between one of the heavy timbers and the gatepost, bruising it badly. Dr. Hyde dressed the injury and found no bones broken though Mr. Bilyeu will of necessity be laid up for several weeks.

Hobo Thieves in Salem. Salem Journal: The Recorder's court this forenoon presented the appearance of a second hand dealer store. Carpenter's tools, a stack of yarn and two sample cases of shoes were scattered about, as the result of a haul made by the Salem police Wednesday evening. Tuesday night J. H. Colburn, a Joehammer, complained of losing his sample cases. Yes, indeed, two tramps were at a second hand store trying to sell some of the stolen goods. When arrested they confessed the crime and the officers got to the clue to a hiding place of stolen property, where a variety of articles were found. The shoe cases contained two dozen pairs of fancy low shoes, in satin and velvet finishes of the most costly character. Mr. Colburn is at Sacramento and has been telegraphed to. The cases were hidden under an empty house and an old bridge beyond the depot.

The Dalles Times Mountaineer: The citizens of Whatcom are freezing the salmon caught in that vicinity for the export trade, and they expect to reap a rich profit from this industry. Near The Dalles the salmon run is equal to any on the coast, and the cold-storage plan could be adopted with great advantage to the fishermen. By this means fish are kept in as good condition as though taken recently from the water, and in the East, where Columbia river salmon always commands the highest price, families could be furnished with salmon throughout the year. If the Pacific coast desires to reap a rich profit in the future, she must develop every natural resource, and the wealth in our streams must be made a factor in progress as well as the fertility of the soil.

Wanted to Rent. A four or five acre tract of land near Albany for the purpose of raising garden truck. Any having such land to rent will confer a favor by addressing Pater Downs, Albany, Oregon. Your school tax will be delinquent if not paid at once. Look after it and save costs of collection.

The Ideal Baking Powder is Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder. For more than fifty years Cream of Tartar and Bicarbonate of Soda have been used for leavening purposes with sufficient flour added to preserve the strength of the powder unimpaired, and this with the addition of whites of eggs comprises this pure and wholesome leavening agent, that has been the standard for 40 years. In its use pure, wholesome and delicious food is always assured. Makes cake and biscuit that retain their moisture, and while they are flaky and extremely light they are fine grained, not coarse and full of holes as made with ammonia baking powders, latter dries up quickly. Alum powders leave a bitter taste in the bread or cake. Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder once used, always used.
