The raport, however, to throw all the business into the new organization. In addition to this, the alliance's position is to control absolutely the grain business of the state. In every county where the alliance will pledge support to a store a manager will be appointed and goods supplied by the National Union Company for a share of the profits. The National Union Company is the outgrowth of the Ocala convention. The scheme was sprung then and approved by President Polk. Three months later a meeting of capitalists was held in New York city, a company formed, and $3,000,000 of capital stock subscribed. It is probable the work of appointing agents will begin immediately, and the first stores established the first of next January.
