

THE OREGON PACIFIC.

The Road Ordered Sold on December 9—The Probable Outcome.

The suit of the employees of the Oregon Pacific railroad for their delinquent wages, came up before Judge Pipes at Corvallis yesterday at 1 o'clock.

The case was argued, and the court issued an order that the road be sold on December 9, also that the receiver's certificates be issued to each employee covering the respective amounts due them, so that they should be entered as preferred claims, a first lien, to be paid first out of the proceeds of the sale.

While this is not what the employees had hoped for, it will insure them receiving all of their pay by the date named. It is not known what action they will take. While it is certainly true that they should have been paid long ago, a strike now would not help matters.

The HERALD has heretofore felt justified in criticizing the management of the road for allowing its faithful employees to go unpaid so long, but it should also be remembered that the present management has been embarrassed by the war among the New York bondholders and could not carry their plans as speedily as they wished.

The case is now nearing a settlement, by which the men will receive their pay, and the road will be reorganized on a basis to insure its completion to an eastern connection. Col. Hogg has spent the best part of his life in this undertaking. There is no denying the fact that he has mapped out a great work, in which he has associated with himself some of the wealthy and influential railroad men of New York.

UNITED PRESBYTERIAN SYNOD.

The synod met yesterday morning at 9 o'clock. The election of moderator resulted in the choice of Rev. H. W. Crabbe of Los Angeles.

Mr. Crabbe has been pastor of a congregation there for four years, and previous to his coming to the coast he was a successful pastor at Buffalo, N. Y.

But little was done in the forenoon except the appointing of various committees and the referring to them of matters brought before the synod.

At noon lunch was a rain served at the residence of Mrs. Walter Monteth. It was a magnificent banquet, and was evidently appreciated by the members of the synod.

In the afternoon, spirited conferences were held on the Board of the Church and on Finance. The moderator opened discussion on the former theme; and Rev. A. F. Kirkpatrick on the latter. Mr. Kirkpatrick is in a sense, an expert on matters of finance. He has done much in other parts of the church to increase the contributions to benevolent objects.

Through his efforts the Extra-Cent Day band was organized; a large number of the synod's members uniting in such an organization.

In the evening Rev. W. A. Spaulding of Spokane preached an able sermon.

The Oregon Presbytery held a brief session at which it decided to petition the synod for a division into two presbyteries.

The petition will doubtless be granted, and in turn the synod will probably ask the same to be formed into two synods. This marks the growth of the church on this western coast.

The Waterloo Hosiery Factory. A company has been organized to build and operate at Waterloo a factory for the manufacture of hosiery and all kinds of woollen goods.

The plant has already been purchased at a cost of $60,000 and is being packed and will be in Lebanon inside of thirty days.

Lumber has been secured and will be on the ground in a short time to build a large shed in which to store the machinery until the mill can be constructed. The mill will employ 150 men. The machinery altogether weighs 150 tons.

The Lebanon Effort. The Lebanon Daily Effort has suspended publication. Owing to a misunderstanding with the printers and the editor, W. M. Driscoll has sued the Lebanon Express for two hundred and fifty dollars damages.

The trial will come off next Tuesday in Justice Hyde's court at that place. The Lebanon brother has now discovered how appropriately he named his paper.

Finger Amputated. Mr. Geo. Hochstetler had the misfortune yesterday while operating a buzz planer at the Sugar Pine Door & Lumber Company's factory, to have his left hand caught in the knives, lacerating the middle finger, so that it required amputation. Doctors Maston & Davis performed the operation.

THE NORTHWEST LEADS.

Oregon and Washington are Great Wheat Raising States.

Among the great wheat raising states as given in the advance sheets of the monthly report of the agricultural department, Oregon and Washington stand at the top.

In the yield per acre for wheat Oregon and Washington stand two and one-half bushels per acre above the general average, it being fifteen bushels. This fifteen bushels in three bushels above the average for the years from 1880 to 1890 inclusive, making Oregon's yield far above the yield of the country per acre, and Washington's still farther above.

The average of Oregon per acre for wheat is seventeen and one-half bushels above the general average. The average of Washington is eighteen bushels above the country in general.

The yield in thrashing has been in most districts higher than the apparent condition of the crop throughout the season would seem to indicate. The favorable conditions that prevailed from seed-time to harvest gave the plant a vigor and development even greater than observed throughout the season realized, and the full measure of the results of this remarkable season was only told by the thrashing machine.

The general average per acre for the whole breadth of the nation harvested is returned in the department's investigation at fifteen bushels per acre. This is three bushels per acre above the average for the years 1880 to 1890 inclusive, and more than one bushel above the highest average ever before recorded.

The yield in Oregon in the cases of both spring and winter grain, the former averaging 16 1/2 bushels and the latter 14 1/2 per acre. The Northwest stands high, not only in wheat, but in other products of the soil. Oregon averages twenty-eight bushels per acre of potatoes and Washington ninety-seven. Only one state, New Jersey, equals ninety-eight; but it is comparatively unimportant—the yield is small. In corn Oregon is thirty-seven, Washington ninety and Idaho does not raise any. Our average of rye is below the general average; of oats it is one bushel above being thirty and five-tenths per acre. Barley is twenty-one per acre, two bushels below. California, the report says, presents a disappointing output, a large area having been cut for hay, and some districts, notably in the San Joaquin valley, returned reduced yields, that are nearly failures. This is a most different from the information heretofore published concerning California.

The report throughout gives a very promising condition of agricultural products, and wheat in particular.

It is said that the up-river boats are ready to move and will be in operation between Albany and Portland, and also to points above, just as soon as there is enough water to bear the boats when they are loaded. The Oregon Pacific's Bently Hoag and Sisters will be on the route, and the independent saler Forland Elwood will resume her regular run.

Price of Sugar. Some inquiry has been made in reference to the fall in the price of sugar, as announced in our dispatches recently. A careful reading of the dispatch will show that the price referred to was in Philadelphia. Some have construed that the price was meant for San Francisco but such is not the case.

Races at the Fair Grounds. Arrangement are being made by the horsemen of Albany and surrounding country for a series of races at the fair grounds on Saturday October 31st. They expect to have some good purses and some interesting races.

A Money Order Office. From and after the 5th day of October the postoffice at Sweet Home will be a money order office where orders can be had on all money order offices in the United States.

OREGON AT THE WORLD'S FAIR.

A Final Effort Being Made to Raise Funds for the Exhibit.

Active steps are now being taken by the Oregon State Board of Commerce to raise money for the Oregon exhibit at the world's fair, the matter having been thoroughly discussed at the recent meeting of the board in Portland.

The plan, as decided upon, is to raise $25,000 at least, and an effort will be made in some manner to increase the amount to $100,000. Canvassers are being appointed and sent out over the state with authority, and the proper documents, to solicit subscriptions.

Mr. W. H. H. Grant, one of the canvassers, has just returned and Major George W. Ingalls, another canvasser, will go to Eastern Oregon next Monday. Each canvasser has a letter of authority and explanation from the executive committee on the World's Columbian Exposition, and is supplied with blank notes and receipts. The notes are void unless there shall be raised the sum of $25,000. The members of the executive committee are:

Charles H. Dodd, of Portland, chairman; Henry Felling, of Portland; treasurer; Charles Randolph of Portland; secretary; T. F. Osborn, Portland; S. M. Yoran, Eugene; J. T. Apperson, Oregon City; Samuel White, Baker City; and D. C. Garrigus, Marshfield.

The letter to the people of Oregon, dated Portland, October 20, 1891, and signed by Charles H. Dodd, chairman, and Charles Randolph, secretary, is as follows: THE BOARD'S APPEAL.

Fellow citizens:—Preparations for a suitable display at the World's Columbian Exposition at Chicago, 1893, are believed to be well under way, and many of them far advanced, in every state in the Union, except only Oregon.

The people of this state are generally aware of the situation, and have heretofore been taken to place Oregon, in at least some degree, abreast of her sister states in this important matter. It was believed by most of our citizens that an appropriation of a reasonable sum of money ought to have been made by the legislature of the state for this purpose; in this, however, we were disappointed. The reason for that failure need not be discussed; suffice it to say that we are now confronted with the fact that unless we ourselves voluntarily assume the work of supplying the means nothing is likely to be done to maintain a creditable position for the state, and secure the advantages to be derived to its people and all its property interests by a fair exhibition of its productions and resources in that which promises to be by far the greatest exposition the world has ever seen.

With a view to making a definite effort in this behalf, and in the absence of any other known movement in that direction, the Oregon State Board of Commerce has appointed a special executive committee, named above, for the purpose of raising a sufficient fund to secure a proper exhibit on behalf of Oregon at this exposition. It calls for no apology from us in presenting this subject to your attention, believing as we do, that it is one which ought to, and presumably does, interest every citizen of the state, and especially all who feel any degree of state pride and desire to place the state before the people of the world in its true attitude as respects its advantages and marvelous resources in comparison with any other section of our country.

To accomplish the end in view in anything like a satisfactory manner will require a considerable sum of money. Something can be done with $25,000, but at least $100,000 ought to be economically expended in preparing for a creditable exhibit and in caring for it during the six months of the continuance of the exposition. Our neighbor on the south, the state of California, has appropriated $300,000, and our infant neighbor on the north $100,000 of public money for this purpose.

This committee has decided that a canvass of the state shall be made, and the people asked to contribute to the fund proposed to be raised. We shall endeavor to secure an aggregate sum as large as possible, but have concluded that unless we can, within a reasonable time, raise at least $25,000, we must abandon the effort, as less than that sum could not produce results which would be other than mortifying to the pride of every Oregonian.

The committee in the prosecution of the work before them, hereby authorize the bearer hereof, Mr. W. H. H. Grant, to visit such portions of the state as he can obtain subscriptions to the proposed fund; conditioned that all such subscriptions are contingent on the aggregate amount raised, being at least $25,000, the subscriptions failing to reach that sum in the aggregate, all agreements on account of them to be void and of no effect.

We commend our solicitor to your patriotic consideration and to your liberality as a citizen, and wish to the best interests of Oregon.

NOTE. Six months after date, for value received, I promise to pay to the order of CHARLES H. DODD, chairman of the executive committee on the World's Columbian Exposition of the Oregon State Board of Commerce, the sum of _____ dollars, payable at the _____.

The obligation is valid and payable only in the event of there being, prior to the maturity hereof, the sum of at least twenty-five thousand ($25,000) dollars, subscribed bona fide by responsible parties to a fund now being raised, under the auspices and direction of the "Executive Com-

Dr. Price gives larger and fuller cans than those of any other Baking Powder manufacturer.

Above cut represents the comparative size of one pound can each "Dr. Price's," "Royal" and "Taylor's One Spoon." These cans were set side by side, then photographed down in exact proportions to admit the plate in this space. Ask your grocer to set a one pound can of any other brand alongside 1 lb. Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder, and observe the difference, as illustrated above.

Adulterated powders may usually be detected by their heavier bulk, as shown by the small cans, and these scantily filled, often containing a circular to help fill out the cans. It is a singular fact that many of the ammonia and alum baking powders are advertised as "Absolutely Pure." All official examinations prove that it would be safe to reject all powders labeled absolutely pure.

The economy in using Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder does not consist alone in the fact that much larger and fuller cans are given, but Dr. Price's is a stronger, purer and more wholesome baking powder than any other known. Does better work, and goes farther, hence more economical in every way.

What woman would use an ammonia or alum baking powder if she knew it? Such powders not only undermine the health, but ammonia gives to the complexion a sallow and blotched appearance.

Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder is reported by all authorities as free from ammonia, alum, lime, or any other adulterant. The purity of this ideal powder has never been questioned.

Refuse all substitutes—they may conceal ammonia or alum.
