Mr. E. D. Cusick, of Salem, spent Sunday in this city. Mr. F. J. Irvine, of Tallman, was in the city on business Monday. Oh ladies, look here, 5 pounds of soda at F. E. Allen's for 25 cents. Mr. George W. Davis, clerk of the state school land board, is in the city. Keep your eyes open for bargains at F. E. Allen's cheap grocery store. Mrs. J. B. Williams, of Colfax, is visiting with Mrs. Wallace Baldwin of this city. Subscriptions for all leading newspapers and magazines received by F. L. Kenton. The teachers association at Scioto next Saturday, promises to be an interesting affair. Solaville water is kept constantly on hand by the bottle at G. L. Blackman's drug store. Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Starnard have returned from a visit with relatives in Brownsville. Go to the Albany Baths & Barber Shop for first class work. Geo. A. Landreth proprietor. The circuit court has commenced on a long docket. More than a week will be required to complete the work of the term. Mr. Frank Blodgett and Mr. Thompson started hunting yesterday. They expect to scour the Cascade Range thoroughly for an elk. Prof. Henry Sheak, professor of mathematics of Philomath college, during the past eight years, spent last Saturday and Sunday in this city. Remember the rehearsal of Belshazzar to-night in the college building. The first number, sixty-five and it is hoped all will be present. Important elections will be held in several of the Eastern states one week from to-day. The election news received by wire all night will be published fresh in the HERALD. Mrs. Mary Saltmarsh of Portland, passed through Albany yesterday on her way to the bedside of her sister, Mrs. Will Caruthers, at Lebanon, who is very low with typhoid fever. The Alliance Farmer, a 24-page weekly paper, published at Portland by D. C. Ireland & Co., is a new journalistic venture. It is neatly printed and starts with a good advertising patronage. We learn that Douglas county will not ship seventy-five thousand bushels of grain this year, for the reason that people who have land are turning their attention to prune culture, cattle raising and other pursuits. Now is the time to subscribe for newspapers and magazines for the winter. Remember that F. L. Kenton continues to receive subscriptions for all the leading periodicals at the grocery store near the postoffice. Price lists free. On the evening of Dec. 11th the ladies of the Congregational church intend giving at the opera house a Bazaar. Many beautiful and useful articles will be on sale, refreshments will be served, also a good musical and literary programme will be given. Mr. T. J. Overman has returned from the East, accompanied by his bride, who is Miss Minnie Bishop. They are well and favorably known in this city, and have the best wishes of a wide circle of friends. They will reside at Mr. Overman's home in the first ward. Tame China Pheasant. E. W. Beeman, conductor on the Oregon Pacific, who lives in the eastern part of the city, has one of the most attractive curiosities running at large about his place that can be seen. It consists of a fine specimen of a China pheasant rooster in all the glory of his bright plumage, so tame that he will come at the call of any of the family, eating from their hands. The result was probably due to the management of Mrs. Beeman who is a friend to dumb animals and an expert taxidermist. In the Police Court. Wm. Collins was arraigned before his honor, Judge Henton, yesterday on a charge of being drunk and disorderly. He admitted the fact and paid a fine of $5 and costs. Richard Roe was arrested for riding a horse at unlawful speed. He also plead guilty and paid his fine. An Old Favorite. The first time for many months the Home-Maker Magazine is on our table. It is improved and forms one of the most attractive of the magazines, and is a valuable book. It is published at 44 East fourteenth street Union Square New York. The Weather To-Day. Following is the forecast of the signal service for the next twenty-four hours: Rain, followed by fair but cloudy weather; cooler.

NEWS OF THE COAST. Interesting Items from Exchanges Throughout the Northwest. H. M. Barnes, treasurer of the town of Lakelse, is $800 short in his accounts and his bondsmen have put him in jail. His property is completely covered by indebtedness. The city of Rosburg has floated bonds to the amount of $25,000 for sewerage and city hall purposes. Till last Monday, Mrs. Anna Dodge, an aunt of Wm. T. Cole, of San Francisco, was an inmate of the Butte, Montana, poor house. That day she received notice that she is heir to an $8,000, 000, estate. The best is now none too good for Mrs. Dodge in Butte, or anywhere else. The attempts to induce the Yakama Indians to enlist in the army have been futile. Said one old buck: "Twenty years ago they were forcing us to lay down our arms for the plow, and now they are urging us to lay down the plow for the gun." A new town is springing up at the terminus of the Sumpter Valley railroad called McEwen. It will soon become a rival of Baker City for the trade of Grant county and the mines of that section. A locomotive of the O. and N. T. R. K. was recently at the shops, worked by a former employee of that road, while the locomotive was hauling a train at Pendleton. C. B. Wright came forward and claimed all of the rolling stock as his personal property and secured its release. The sheriff made the attachment by chaining the locomotive to the track. The Street Corner as an Educational Center. Although Albany is favored with excellent school facilities, it has been noticed during the past years that less than fifty per cent of the children enumerated attend school six months in the year. Some of the children attend necessary employment at home and elsewhere; but there are indications that bright minds that might make a high grade in various positions among their associates are spending their precious time and valuable talents in idleness in public places. The child is best prepared for the coming battle of life if he can work especially if he is educated. The child who has to work usually values school and books; if he is educated, he frequently craves the way for proper appreciation of an education, while all work and no play makes the child dull; yet true greatness is obtained only by hard work, a thing never learned by idleness on a street corner. A Nice Point of Law. W. J. Turnidge was the defendant the other day in a case before Justice Humphrey which brought up a nice point of law. Mr. Turnidge was arrested on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses, offered by his neighbor, George Bradley. The latter, it seems, owned a county warrant in the hands of the clerk. Having occasion to leave the county he instructed his mother to draw the warrant. Mrs. Bradley asked Mr. Turnidge to attend to the business for her one day as he was going to town, which he did. He drew the money and paid it over to her, except a few dollars which she owed him. For deducting the amount of the debt, he was arrested as stated. Justice Humphrey very properly held that he had committed no crime and discharged him. A Brace of Theives. On the arrival of the south bound overland train Sunday night two young men took the bus to the St. Charles hotel. They had a valise and behaved properly enough until officer Lee happened to board the bus just before reaching the hotel. They at once became nervous and as soon as the vehicle stopped they took their valise and started away at a brisk run. The officer chased them several blocks, but they finally evaded him by running down an alley. The only explanation the police can surmise for their strange conduct is that they had stolen the valise or were afraid the officer was on their track for some other crime and thought it best to escape while they could. The Lower Soda Shooting. Mr. Wm. McKinnon, who was arrested on a charge of shooting Mr. Atkinson in the leg recently is in the city. Mr. McKinnon's story puts entirely a different light on the affair. He says that Atkinson was angry at his boy, called him a liar and a tempter to strike him with a whip. This naturally aroused the father's ire and an altercation ensued. He says that Atkinson, while seated in his buggy, drew a revolver from his pocket, and in so doing shot himself in the ankle. Mr. McKinnon is well known in Albany, and has many warm friends here. Returned from the East. Mr. A. R. Chapman, the popular agent of the Oregon Pacific Co. at this city, has returned from a trip to the East. He attended the annual meeting of the National Ticket Association at St. Paul, and accompanied by his wife made a trip through the famous Yellowstone Park. They then visited New York and several of the Eastern States, and returned through New Mexico via the Southern route. They had a most enjoyable trip, which occupied about two months. Military B. H. F. Co., Oregon National Guards, will give a grand ball at the armory on Thanksgiving evening. Arrangements are being made to furnish excellent music and make it an entire success. The members of F. Co. will appear in uniform, and it will be a splendid military ball.

SWEET HOME Nestling down among the hills, surrounded by a fringe of majestic firs, twenty-seven miles east of Albany, on the Willamette Valley road, lies the beautiful village of Sweet Home. Its environment is suggestive of the name, "Sweet Home." The present town is located on the banks of Ames Creek, and was founded in 1879 by James Simonds erecting the store building now occupied by Hamilton & Andrews. It has since steadily gained in population and importance, until to-day it contains two hundred and fifty inhabitants, one general merchandise store, one drug store, three blacksmith shops, one wagon shop, two feed stores, two hotels, one butcher shop, one tannery, one church, one barber shop and saloon. The post office has lately been moved into a nice commodious building and the interior arrangements speak well for the postmaster Mr. O. T. Lubker. Several new dwellings are being constructed this fall. The surrounding country is mainly hill, although there is several fine bodies of prairie land, all of which are susceptible of a high state of cultivation. The hill lands are used mainly for meadow and pasture, yet when grain is sown on them they produce even more than prairie lands. A large quantity of road land remains unsettled, that might be made into beautiful homes with out an extraordinary outlay of labor. This is an excellent fruit country for fruits of all kinds, especially grapes, Mrs. W. S. Wilson of Wiley Creek having some this fall that rival the California product. Study Up. Joking apart, it does look as if a little elementary instruction is needed in the shape of an object lesson regarding the Australian system of voting recently adopted by the state legislature, and to be put in practice for the first time in this state at the June '92 election. So many blunders are being made by the voters of other commonwealths that even though we of Oregon are exceptionally intelligent, some of us may make a mess of our intentions next June and vote against the very man or men for whom we desire to cast our distinguished suffrages. The new law does not apply to municipal elections, unless especially provided by an amendment to the city charter, which is not the case in Albany. In the state and county elections, the ticket will have to be printed with the names of all the candidates on one ticket, and the voter will have to designate by a mark of his own which candidate is to receive his vote. No one polling place is to receive the ballots of more than 240 voters and at each polling place there must be at least three booths for the accommodation of voters when they prepare their ballots. The county will have to furnish booths for each precinct before the June election. Back to Town. The irrepressible Tom McNary, the individual with blonde eyes and a countenance that betrays a and a ruinous taste for raw whisky, like the proverbial bad penny, is back to town. He was howling drunk last evening, and in a fair way for a week's stay at tabled note Hoffman. McNary is now accompanied with the chiefs of police of nearly all the towns in Oregon. He is naturally a good hearted fellow, but excessive drinking has been his ruin, and has made him notorious for delighting to paint things a vermillion hue wherever he goes. Teachers' Examination. Notice is hereby given that the regular public examination of teachers, for Linn county, will take place in Albany, commencing on Wednesday, Nov. 13th, at 10 o'clock a. m., and continuing until Friday noon, Nov. 15th. All teachers must positively be present at the time of commencement, as no one will be admitted to the examination who is not so present. G. F. RUSSELL, County School Superintendent. Height of Cruelty. Nervous women seldom receive the sympathy they deserve. While often the pictures of health, they are constantly ailing. To withhold sympathy from these unfortunate is the height of cruelty. They have a weak heart, causing shortness of breath, fluttering, pain in side, weak and hungry spells, and finally swelling of ankles, oppression, choking, smothering, and dizziness. Preaching at Oakville United Presbyterian church Sabbath Oct. 25, at 11 o'clock a. m., and at the Shield chapel at 7 a. m., by Rev. A. F. Kirkpatrick of Tacoma, Washington. QUARTER OF A CENTURY AGO. There set out a quarter of a century ago, her county what of a man who has since become identified with the resources and development of that country. This man is no other than Mr. John Stewart, one of the wealthiest and most influential citizens of the county. In a recent letter he says: "I had been suffering from pain in my back and had used many remedies without any but temporary relief. The pain in my back had become so severe that I was prevented from attending to my work and could not move without the use of a cane. Hearing of Oregon Kidney Tea, I was induced to try a box, and from that very first dose I found instant relief, and before using half the contents of the box the pains in my back entirely disappeared. I have every faith in the virtues of the Oregon Kidney Tea, and am conscientiously recommending it to my friends. I would not be without it for any thing." Oregon Kidney Tea cures headache, insomniacness of urine, brick dust sediment, burning or painful sensation while urinating, and all affections of the kidney or urinary organs of either sex.
