JOTTINGS ABOUT TOWN.

Fresh Eastern oysters at Isom's. Rev. E. N. Condit went to Salem yesterday. Isom has the only oyster parlors in the city. Mr. A. Halverson has gone to San Francisco to spend the winter. Mr. J. H. Kootz, a prominent citizen of Echo, Umatilla county, is in the city. Miss Mamie Vaughn, of Seattle, is visiting her sister, Mrs. W. L. Jester in this city. There is some talk of a citizens ticket being put forward at the approaching city election. The regular rehearsal of "Belshazzar" will be held at the college this evening. All are requested to be present. Admiration of sweet toned pianos and latest improved organs should call at Will & Stark's and see their magnificent instruments. The fish ladder at Niagara has been completed and the dam at the cataract raised so that the ladder is now in operation. W. S. Phillips had the misfortune the other day while splitting wood to split his foot as well as the stick, inflicting a severe wound. The north bound overland train will hereafter arrive at Albany at 4:23 a. m. Mails for this train will close at 8 o'clock the previous evening. Wild geese are said to be plentiful on the prairies. A few of them have found their way into the markets of this city. They are generally plump and fat. The state convention of the Christian Endeavor societies of Oregon closed with religious exercises on Sunday. The delegates returned home yesterday. The falling of a lamp at the residence of Wm. Fortmiller Saturday evening caused an incipient blaze, which was extinguished by smothering it with a rug, without any serious damage. The pile driver on the bridge work was moved across the river yesterday, and began work on the pier on the Benton county side. The work on the big bridge is progressing rapidly. Salem is going to "pave" the streets of the capital city with gravel. Outside of Salem such work would be called graveing the streets. It is not permanent enough to desert to permanent paving. Mr. Arthur T. Curtice, the popular and handsome conductor of the Oregon Pacific eastward division, is taking a two weeks vacation for the recuperation of his health. His place is filled by Mr. L. J. Bailey. The new city bonds were received yesterday morning from San Francisco, where they were printed. They are ready to receive the proper signatures and be turned over to the purchaser. The bonds are finely executed commercial paper. Two of the head carpenters who have been putting in the work for the Albany Mining and Milling Company at Quartz Hill, and Mr. Hastings, came out from the mine yesterday. They report the mine will be ready for work. There is scarcely any snow on the top of Stampede mountain. The sawmill company at Mill City have opened their saw dust chute since the saw dust law was declared unconstitutional and run it into the river instead. The Santiam Lumbering Co. had already expended about $3000 in making a flume to comply with the law, but having been prosecuted by some unscrupulous informers, they have now abandoned their flume and run the saw dust into the river. Attention Sir Knights. The members of Thembis Comandry No. 3 are hereby notified to report at their avyion on Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock sharp to attend the funeral of our late brother and past eminent commander F. J. Babcock. By order of the E. C. All masons in good standing are requested to attend the funeral. Aid Society Meeting. The Ladies Aid Society will meet to-day at 2 p. m., at the residence of Mrs. A. B. Seal. A full attendance is requested. Death of a Prominent Man. The news was received here yesterday of the death of Capt. F. J. Babcock at his home in Salem on Monday morning. He was well known throughout the state, having been Grand Secretary of the Grand Lodge A. F. and M. M. for a number of years, and recently was at the head of the Knights Templar organization. He was also a prominent man in the Grand Army of the Republic, being the second department commander for the department of Oregon, and also a past commander of Sedgewick Post in Salem. He was serving his second term as county clerk for Marion county, and was highly esteemed by all who knew him, and will be truly mourned. One of the death angels is gathering in the old soldiers and soon the Grand Army will be a memory only.

CIRCUIT COURT.

The Suit to Annul the Charter of the Oregon Pacific Dismissed.

Circuit court reconvened yesterday at 1 o'clock. In the case of the State vs the Willamette Valley & Coast Railroad Co. (the Oregon Pacific) to annul the charter of the corporation, a motion to dismiss the cause on the ground that the suit was brought in the wrong county, and for want of service was submitted. The motion was sustained and the case dismissed.

Alice McNeil vs John McNeil, divorce; granted.

Pauline Hegde vs John Schmeier recovery of money. Verdict for plaintiff as prayed for in the complaint.

Vironda Westlake vs W. E. Westlake, divorce; granted.

Arrested for Forgery.

Chief of Police Hoffman went to Seattle on Sunday, for the purpose of placing under arrest John C. Stoll, son of John T. Stoll, a well known wholesale dealer in harness and saddlery goods in Sacramento. The trouble is that young Stoll sold to C. C. McFarland of this city a check for $149, signed by his father. As Mr. McFarland was well acquainted with Mr. Stoll he readily cashed the check, but when it was cleared to be a forgery, and no other recourse was left Mr. McFarland but to send after the young man to Seattle, whither he had gone. Young Stoll was going by the name of Frank C. Smith in Seattle.

The Albany College.

Concerning this popular institution of learning the Oregonian says in commenting upon a matter already referred to by the Herald: One of the best evidences of the general prosperity of the state is the growth of higher educational institutions at various points, notably throughout Western Oregon. One of the oldest of these institutions, the Albany Collegiate Institute, a school founded by the Presbyterian church, has felt the growth to the extent of necessity for more accommodations and better facilities for its students, who now number considerably over 200. Efforts are being made to raise sufficient funds among the friends of the institution to erect a handsome and commodious structure that would be an enduring monument to the cause of education. The people of Albany should give liberally, for such a building would add much to the beauty and importance of the city.

The Flag on the Public School.

The Corvallis Gazette says the children of the public school manifested an unusual degree of interest at the flag raising exercises last Friday afternoon. Sept. 8, F. B. McElroy, F. M. Johnson and T. Graham made appropriate remarks to the assembled pupils in the hall which was filled to its utmost capacity. The rooms were profusely decorated with bunting and ornamented with flowers. Many recitations were listened to. Prof. McElroy said it was much pleased with the work, and the board expressed satisfaction. The children had a right to feel a great interest in the matter, as the flag was purchased with their own money. Lessons of patriotism to the youth should be taught from the beginning of their lives, and the board has not been wasteful. Prof. Blanchard deserves credit for the success of the occasion.

A Land Locator Foiled.

Among the cases disposed of before Judge Boise, of Salem, last week, was an action brought by W. W. Hepburn vs Dr. W. S. Mott, for money alleged to be due on account. After the evidence was heard, however, the court turned the tables and a verdict was returned in favor of the defendant for the sum of $80. The evidence showed that the plaintiff had obtained money from the defendant under false pretenses and when the latter asked him to return it he trumped up an account against the doctor, commenced action for money, and then proposed compromise, but the doctor not being one of the compromising kind let the suit go to court with the above result. Mr. Hepburn is a land locator, who, it is said, is not for dealings not becoming a honest man. In this instance, however, his crookedness did not serve him well and if he should have dealings with a few more men like Dr. Mott, who will learn in time that honesty is the best policy.—Hatch.

The Weather To-Day.

Following is the forecast of the signal service for the next twenty-four hours: For Oregon and Washington general rain and mostly heavy, with snow in the mountains in Eastern Oregon; generally warmer, except along the coast.

THE WORLD ENRICHED.

The facilities of the present day for the production of everything that will conduce to the material welfare and comfort of mankind are almost unlimited and when Syrup of Figs was first produced the world was enriched with the only perfect laxative known, as it is the only remedy which is truly pleasing and refreshing to the taste and prompt and effectual to cleanse the system gently in the Spring-time or, in fact, at any time any the better it is known the more popular it becomes.

OREGON CROP STATISTICS.

Information Desired by the State Weather Bureau for a Report for the year.

The Herald is in receipt of a letter from Mr. B. S. Page, observer of the United States Weather Bureau and chief of the Oregon Signal Service, urging the importance for replies to the circulars which he has sent out with blanks enclosed for filling out the yield in the different precincts which is necessary for all portions of the state to be properly represented in a complete report of the crops for this year.

The blank circulars sent out ask for the number of acres of wheat, oats, barley and corn in the respective precincts, the average yield per acre and the general quality of the crop; the number of acres of hops in cultivation and the number of pounds yielded; the number of pounds of wool clipped the number of tons of hay raised and the average per acre; the number of acres of peaches, apples, prunes, pears, cherries and melons in cultivation and production in pounds. These letters are not only sent to every postmaster in the state but to many prominent farmers and fruitgrowers as well, the object being to get them to those who are best informed as to the yield in their respective precincts. From the returns already made it is evident that the crops this year for exceed those of any previous year and when the grand total is made out Oregon will have a crop bulletin that she will not be ashamed to show to the world. Those who receive these circulars should furnish the information asked for, or as near an approximation as possible with as little delay as necessary.

The Election News.

Great interest is centered in the elections that will be held in several Eastern states to-day. The election news, telegraphed until late hour, will be published in the Herald. The returns will be as complete as possible and there is little doubt but that the Herald will be able to announce how New York has gone, and whether McKinley is elected in Ohio or not, as well as the result in the other states, where the contest has been watched with interest.

MARRIED.

DAVIDSON.—LANG.—At the residence of the officiating minister, Rev. Joseph Pearl Oct. 25 1891. Mr. C. H. Davidson, and Miss Viola G. Long, all of Halsey, Oregon.

DIED.

GODLEY.—In East Portland, Monday morning, Nov. 2, 1891, Mr. C. C. Godley, aged about 75 years.

The deceased came to Oregon in 1852 and settled in Albany. He was a pioneer hotel proprietor of Albany running the Pacific hotel. He was in the tin business for a number of years, and was city treasurer in 1877. He was a member of the Presbyterian church. The remains will be brought to Albany and buried beside Mrs. Godley, who died eight years ago.

QUARTER OF A CENTURY. There is a man in my back who has been with me for a quarter of a century. He is a man who has been with me for a quarter of a century. He is a man who has been with me for a quarter of a century.

AGG. The weather and most influential citizens in the county. In a recent letter he says he had been suffering from pains in my back and general kidney complaint for some time, and had used many remedies without any but temporary relief. The pains in my back had become so severe that I was prevented from attending to my work and could not move without the use of a cane. He was cured through a friend, of the wonderful cures effected by Oregon Kidney Tea. I was induced to try a box, and from that very first dose I found instant relief, and before a box had been consumed the pains in my back entirely disappeared. I have every faith in the virtues of the Oregon Kidney Tea, and am conscientiously recommending it to my friends. I would not be without it for anything.

Oregon Kidney Tea cures headache, inconvenience of urine, brick dust sediment, burning or painful sensation while urinating, and all affections of the kidney or urinary organs of either sex.

NEWS OF THE COAST.

Interesting Items from Exchanges Throughout the Northwest.

The Oregon City Enterprise is a quarter of a century old, having begun its twenty sixth year last week.

A number of the Eastern Oregon papers are calling for an extra session of the legislature, to pass a bill for a portage road above the Dalles. It would be a good thing to have such a law passed next winter, but there are many objections to extra legislative sessions.

The run of salmon on the Siuslaw this fall has been very disappointing to fisherman and canneryman. There has not been more than one-sixth as large a run as heretofore. The force of Chinamen at the cannery are doing a good portion of the time.

The work on the survey of the big Umatilla irrigation ditch is progressing well. It is thought that the engineers may be able to complete their work in another month; construction work is also in progress. This enterprise is probably the largest of its kind in the state, if not the entire country.

Eleven carloads of cattle, about 225 head, were shipped from Pendleton one day last week to the Seattle market. They were purchased from cattlemen in the Beaver creek country. A second shipment will be made on the 5th, of 220 head, all from Beaver creek, and will be shipped on the 5th or 6th, bought from Mr. Hyde on the north fork of John Day.

What is known as Ray's ferry, below Salem, was established by the Hudson Bay Company in 1826, it being the first one on the Willamette river. In 1850 C. F. Ray was the only owner of a wheeled mail route in Oregon territory, it being from Oregon city to Salem. He introduced the first Concord coaches in the Northwest and built the first livery stable in Salem.

A peculiar condition of affairs exists at Pendleton, where suits have been brought against the Oregon and Washington Territory railroad to secure payment of some old claims. For some reason connected with their ownership the engines are not liable to attachment, but the coal in the engine, and shippers who do not wish their shipments delayed now purchase and provide the engines with coal, and run them out of Umatilla county.

The amount of freight handled by the Southern Pacific for Jackson county is about 100,000.00 pounds annually. The average freight rate from San Francisco to Albany over the Yaquina bay route is 26 cents per hundred. A railroad to Crescent City would give Jackson county an even better rate than Albany now enjoys, and a gain to the county of $1,440,000 annually. It would make a difference of 16 cents a bushel on wheat.

James Duffin, an old gentleman, who was removed to the hospital in Pendleton from Milton a week or two ago, has been discharged sane. Age and infirmity have weakened his faculties, and he has developed a mania for starting fires, which places the hospital in danger, as he cannot be watched constantly. Burned paper is found in his bed, and the other day he built a fire in a chair with shavings. It has been thought best to send him to the asylum.

The Pendleton East Oregonian says: Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Sample leave this evening for Indianapolis, where Mr. Sample will attend as a delegate from Oregon to the Supreme Council of the National Farmers' Union, to be held in that city. The other delegates from this state are Prof. Rork of Marion county, and Major Bruce of Benton county. Prof. Rork will arrive in Pendleton Tuesday morning and goes to Astoria to remain during the day, before starting east.

Carl Mohrback, a business man of Pendleton, in hurrying across a small trestle to get out of the way of an approaching train, stubbed his toe on a spike, fell between the ties, the side of his head striking a rail, and being crushed to death. Mr. Mohrback was removed to his home, but did not recover consciousness for over an hour.

Another delegation of Astorians are preparing to leave for South Africa, but they will try a different route from that taken by Grant, Simit and "Dutch Bill," says the Astorian Talk. There will be six in the party, and they will build a small schooner of 80 or 100 tons burden and will set sail from Astoria direct for Delagoa bay. Three of the party are navigators and will have no trouble in reaching their new region of wealth; they will skirmish around the transvaal and diamond fields, and if they are not satisfied with the outlook they will come back to the Columbia again and try their luck.
