A EVIDENT MERIT.

For the Australian system of voting there is one recommendation that the Chicago News finds that is worth considering. It says one of the striking proofs of the benefits to be derived from the Australian system of voting at election is the effort that is deemed necessary to be put forth in teaching voters how to fix their ballots. That a very large proportion of the votes cast at elections under the old system were deposited under "instructions" is very evident. Henceforth every voter will be required to give some thought to the important work in hand when he enters the polling booth. The "vest-pocket" plan of voting did much to encourage the intelligent casting of ballots, but the Australian method, as is already evident, will bring about another great advance in intelligence and independence at elections. The voter is alone with his conscience and a blanket ballot is likely to prove a better man than the voter with a ward-worker looking over his shoulder. It is to be expected that the persuasive voice of the of the "straight-ticket" fanatic will be unheeded in that moment of good impulses, and that the best candidates will be singled out by expressive crosses placed opposite their names. It is impossible for a man to vote a ticket under the Australian system and at the same time to think of something else or of nothing at all. That careless voting has been amazingly common cannot be doubted by those who view the present laborious efforts of the politicians to teach men of good understanding how to make crosses with a pencil opposite the names of their chosen candidates. The necessity of voting and thinking at the same time is distinctly beneficial.

WHEN the British press undertakes to show that the Americans engage in bluster when dealing with the nations, and by implication that England does not, it calmly ignores the fact that Great Britain has always acted the bully in dealing with small countries. The San Diego Union recalls the following instance to illustrate the truth of this assertion: In 1852 the British Vice-Consul at San Jose, Guatemala, Mr. McGee, was challenged to a boat race to an incoming Pacific Mail steamer by the boarding officer of the port. Mr. McGee was successful and was on the gangway ladder of the steamer just as the boarding officer reached the step, but the two went aboard together. Mr. McGee's success so incensed the officer that he notified the Guatemalan authorities that Mr. McGee had violated the customs law by preceding him aboard the steamer. Mr. McGee was arrested, convicted and punished with fifty lashes on the bare back. He explained the occurrence to his home government, and within thirty days a British man-of-war was in the port and demanded that the Vice-Consul be paid $1000 for each lash, and that the boarding officer be taken out and shot or the city would be bombarded. The demand was complied with.

A NAVAL officer expresses the opinion that the Chileans might be foolish enough to sail to San Francisco or San Diego and menace those cities. It is hardly probable that they would resort to so foolhardy a course, although they have often freely threatened to do so. Just now their navy will have as much it can attend to take care of Valparaiso, but it might not be a bad idea, should it be learned that any of their vessels have sailed north, to put the cities named in a better posture for defense than they are at present.

THE Chilians, it is said, have been in the habit of threatening to send their vessels of war up along the coast, to bombard our Pacific coast cities. Now that actual misunderstandings have arisen between that nation and the United States, it is feared by some of the citizens of this country, that those bloody Chilians may attempt to carry out their threats and in the defenceless condition of the cities, may actually commit serious depredations. These fears are totally without foundation, for our government can meet them with counter irritants quite sufficient to render them perfectly harmless. They will hardly attempt any such thing and it they do will realize that they have made a great mistake.

THE Japanese earthquake of Wednesday last turns out to be a more serious calamity than at first reported. Over three thousand lives have been lost, and there has been great destruction of property, owing to buildings being shaken down and resulting fires. No doubt the seismic disturbances are much severer in Japan than those we experience, yet there is good reason to believe that the loss of life and destruction of property is due in a large measure to the defective construction of the buildings which are shaken down. Many of the old feudal castles, which seem to have been carefully built, stand the rockings, while the later constructions of an inferior character came to grief.

IT is a peculiarity of human nature that the sordid part will gain the ascendancy and cause a man to prostitute his energies for gold. As an outcome of this side of human nature we have now the picture of Thomas Nast whose pencil during the Tammany Tweed matter was such a pungent aid towards cleaning up much of the filth of Tammany, now using his pencil to uphold just what he was working against at that time

Height of Cruelty.

Nervous women seldom receive the sympathy they deserve. While often the pictures of health, they are constantly ailing. To withhold sympathy from these unfortunates is the height of cruelty. They have a weak heart, causing shortness of breath, fluttering, pain in side, weak and hungry spells, and finally swelling of ankles, oppression, choking, smothering and dropsy. Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure is just the thing for them. For their nervousness, headache, weakness, etc., his Restorative Nervine is unequaled. Fine treatise on "Heart and Nervous Diseases" and marvelous testimonials free sold and guranteed by Standard & Cusick.

Mothers!

Castoria is recommended by physicians for children teething. It is a purely vegetable preparation its ingredients are published around each bottle. It is pleasant to the taste and absolutely harmless. It relieves constipation, regulates the bowels, quites pain, cures diarrhœa and wind colic, allays feverishness, destroys worms, and prevents convulsions, soothes the child and gives it refreshing and natural sleep. Cassoria is the children's panacea—the mothers' friend. 35 doses, 35 cents.

REMARKABLE RESCUE.

Mrs Michael Curtain, Plainfield, Ill, makes the statement that she caught cold, which settled on her lungs; she was treated for a month by her family physician, but grew worse. He told her she was a hopeless victim of consumption and that no medicine could cure her. Her druggist suggested Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption; she bought a bottle and to her delight found herself benefitted from the first dose. She continued its use and after taking ten bottles, found herself sound and well, now does her own housework and is as well as she was.—Free trial bottle of this great Discovery at Foshay & Mason's Drug Store, large bottles 50c, and $1 00
