STATE AND COAST

A Newsy Budget From the State Capital.

A HUMAN MONSTROSITY.

Fire at St. Helen's Burns a Stable Containing Valuable Horses and Seventy-five Head of Cows.

SALEM Nov. 11.—Thirty teachers examined today at the quarterly teachers examination for teachers certificates.

J. S. Cavanaugh, assistant warden of the State Penitentiary was married here this evening to Miss Theo Van Wagner, a highly popular young lady of Salem.

Wm. Baltimore was examined here today and ordered sent to the asylum. He is 27 years of age and an imbecile. When a baby his head was large and after a few years his body stopped growing, but his head still continued to grow. He has no use of his limbs but has a good mind, although totally blind. His head continued to grow all the time and now measures nearly 40 inches in circumference. He has the face of a child and is very religious He talks a great deal. He has been a county charge for years and the nurse is compelled to lift him as she would a baby.

The Salem Building and Loan Association closed its second year today. During the two years 41 loans were made and the association has made $7659 87. In the first series $24 per share has been paid in and the shares are now worth $30 00.

FIRE AT ST. HELENS.

A Stable Full of Fine Horses and Cows Burned.

ST. HELEN'S, Or., Nov. 11.—At 4:30 this morning the barn of Connell Bros., of Portland, on Deer island, was totally destroyed by fire. The barn contained 75 head of cows and ten horses, including several valuable racers, and 125 tons of hay. Loss on property $7500; insurance $2000. Only two horses and one cow were saved. The fire is believed to have been incendiary.

ALASKA'S INTERIOR.

The recent return of a successful explorer in the unknown regions of Alaska will call attention to that far off country. In talking of his expedition, Mr. Glave said: "The one thing which has stood in the way of the development of this rich interior of Alaska is a section of land about thirty-five miles across, lying between the headwaters of the Yukon and the Pacific ocean at Chilkoot. This mountainous strip is a stumbling block across the natural entrance to the region, for when once it is passed you can travel by boat through the lakes and down the Yukon to the gold mines already opened below.

"At present the only mode of transport is by Indian packers, who charge $35 a hundred for carrying stuff, and at the same time are utterly unreliable. Miners often halt south of the divide for weeks, subject to the whims of these irregular carries. Even in the face of these difficulties still a few of the more undaunted push their way into the country each year, seaching for gold. Were a trail for pack horses proved practicable, there would be a large influx of immigration and a corresponding output of mineral product. With a reliable transport on land improved, navigation on the water would follow and the consequent shortening of the time of entering will give a longer season. Under present conditions food and other supplies are obtained at so great an expense that only a very rich claim will yield any profit to the workers. Whereas improved means of conveyance for men and their outfits will allow profitable working of many gold deposits now untouched.

"Were this country opened up by a pack trail, a wagon road would soon be built and steam locomotion is possible. Any further development of Alsaka means a great stimulus to the trade of the Pacific coast, for the cities here on Puget sound and those further south are the natural points of supply for all the operations carried on in Alaska, and the products of that territory must in turn be marketed through these centers. The trade with Alaska has already assumed such proportions that it is deemed worth competing for; but with the working of the rich gold fields of Central Alaska this trade would be worth a dozen, perhaps a hundred, times as much—in short, there is no limit to the possiblities of development.

"Certainly some effort should be made to put into shape a pack trail across the point mentioned, and remove this obstacle. The people of Juneau are petitioning the government for an appropriation for the work, and this petition shou'd be urged by Seattle, Tacoma, Portland, San Francisco, and in fact all of the cities which would benefit so greatly by Alaska's development. Were all the merchants, transportation companies and others who have direct interest in the undertaking to make common cause the work could be accomplished. The cost of a survey for the trial would not exceed $10,000, and the expense of building the trail itself would not be very heavy.

"The trail which we made this summer is the only practicable route into the country, between Mount St. Elias and the Yukon; and opens up, as well, the regions both to the north and south. The trail which should now be opened, as I have said, to the headwaters of the Yukon, must start from about the same point, and would establish quick communication between the outside world and the whole of the Yukon basin."

AMERICAN BANKERS.

THE ASSOCIATION IN SESSION IN NEW ORLEANS.

Secretary of the Treasury, Foster, Presents Some Important Figures About Silver Money.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 11.—The American Bankers' Association began its seventeenth annual convention to day, with about 300 delegates in attendance. Senator Randall delivered an address of welcome.

After the president's annual address, John Jay Knox read the report of the executive committee.

Secretary Green's report showed 1993 members, against 2060 last year, the falling off being caused by failures, deaths and resignations. A letter from Hon. Charles Foster, secretary of the treasury, was then read. The secretary said:

"The amount of silver bullion purchased with treasury notes under the provisions of the new law from August 13, 1890, to November 1, 1891, has aggregated 66,588,536 fine ounces, costing $68,626,585; an average cost of $1 03 per fine ounce. From this silver, $27,848,475 have been coined and the remainder is stored in the shape of fine bars in the vaults of the mints, as a reserve against the treasury notes outstanding.

"While it is true the amount of money in circulation in this country at the present time is greater than at any previous period of our history, and more per capita than in any of the leading commercial nations of the world with the single exception of France, I am of the opinion that, owing to our rapid growth in population and wealth, and extraordinary development in all kinds of business, the yearly increase in our circulating medium somewhat proportionate to our growth in population is imperatively demanded. The issue of treasury notes under this act affords such an increase of perfectly convenient and sound currency, based dollar for dollar upon the cost value of silver bullion, redeemable on demand in gold coin and with the pledge of the government to maintain it at par. Another object of the act was to provide a home market for the silver products of the United States by requiring the purchase of a quantity of silver approaching the monthly product of our mines.

NOTES FROM LEBANON.

LEBANON Nov. 10, 1891

Yesterday was payday on the ditch, over $7000 was paid out

Luther Benson in his course of lectures has drawn large crowds.

There will be a local teachers institute held here Nov. 20, and 21.

The public schools are over crowded and there is talk of employing another teacher.

M. A. Miller's immense stock of holiday goods is daily arriving and he expects to do a rushing business.

The city council recently appointed J. C. Gorden night watch. Clint makes a first-class officer.

City election the 7th prox.

Ben. H. Irvine and family of Scio, are visiting friends and relatives in Lebanon this week.

Work is progressing on Dr. Courtney's new brick notwithstanding the inclemency of the elements.

J. M. Zoosman, of Brownsville, is stopping in town for a few days.

Dr. Dudley our genial dentist is going East in a few days.

The democrats hereabouts are highly elated over Gov. Pennoyer's proclamation of thanksgiving in advance of President Harrison's doing the same. A premature discharge from one of the Texas rain machines must have struck Sylvester's spinal column with its warm atmosphere and started him off at a tangent or caused him to jump a cog or two.

Admirers of sweet toned pianos and latest improved organs should call at Will & Link's and see their magnificent instruments.

A FURIOUS STORM

Many Vessels Wrecked on the English Coast.

LOSS OF LIFE AND PROPERTY.

A Captain, his Wife and Son Among the Many who Perish Before the Fury of the Blast.

LONDON, Nov. 11.—Last night a heavy gale set in south of England and Ireland. Already a few dispatches are received telling of the wrecks caused by the storm. From Hythe, on the English channel, comes the report of the wreck of an English schooner. The crew reached the shore safely, but the captain, his wife and son perished. At Sandgate, the ship Benvenus was wrecked, and her crew took to the rigging. An attempt was made by lifesavers to rescue them but the sea was too high. Another vessel is reported a-shore close to where the Benvenus is.

A later report from Sandgate says all hope of saving the crew of the Benvenus is abandoned. The bodies of several victims have been cast upon the beach.

A body of troops have been sent to aid the lifesavers along Sandgate section of the coast in their efforts to render assistance to the distressed vessels and their crews. A telegram has been received from the Scilly islands stating that a schooner had been wrecked there. The crew was saved. A vessel named the Paramount was sunk off Lowestoft, in Suffolk, and all hands on board except two sailors were drowned. In London the storm has done considerable damage to buildings in course of erection. A dispatch received from St. Leonard's, a well known watering place in Sussex, announces that the bark Amor has stranded near that town. The crew took to the rigging, where they are now, all attempts to rescue them being futile; the only hope for the wrecked sailors is that the storm may subside before they die of exhaustion. Interruption of telegraph service is general throughout southwest England.

EX-BOSS BUCKLEY.

Even Canada is not a Safe Hiding Place for Him.

MONTREAL, Nov. 11.—Christopher Buckley, the ex-boss politician of California, simulated great surprise when informed last evening of indictments found against him and Samuel Rainey by a San Francisco grand jury. Although when first the news was broken to Buckley he appeared to be surprised, its character was not entirely unexpected. His every word and action indicated he had already long agonized himself to meet justice. He was thoroughly informed of the date and character of the departure of steamers leaving here for all foreign ports, and though he has rented an elegant and commodious residence it will not greatly surprise the people here, accustomed to the erratic doings and movements of boodlers in the past, to wake up any morning and find ex-Boss Buckley's mansion "closed for the season."

Notice to the Public.

I have this day sold to R. G. Watson & Co, the grocery store and comission business heretofore carried on by me, at the corner of Ellsworth and Second street, consisting of stock of groceries, provisions fixtures, etc. I will pay all bils incurred by me while conducting said business, on presentation. I retain the book accounts, and parties indebted to me can call and pay at the store until Dec. 1st, 1891. R. G. Watson & Co., receipting for me. After that date all unpaid accounts will be placed in the hands of my attorney for collection. E. J. LANNING.

Nov. 2, 1891.

Having bought the grocery and commission business carried on at the corner of Second and Ellsworth streets by Capt. E. J. Lanning, and laid in a full and complete stock of choice family groceries and supplies, we respectfully solicit the patronage of former customers and of the people generally of Albany and vicinity.

R. G. WATSON & Co

Referring to the above I take pleasure in recommending my successors, R. G. Watson & Co, to former customers and the people of Albany and vicinity.

E. J. LANNING.

They Want Rain.

The Pendleton East-Oregonian says that the grangers of Umatilla county are talking seriously of making a proposition to Melbourne, the Australian who hides himself from view and seems to call down rain from the heavens whenever he desires, without invoking Jupiter. He is wanted next May and June when rain is particularly needed in that country. The plan is to secure him a guaranty of ten cents an acre, to be paid in case he succeeds in producing a downpour when ever one is considered necessary. As Melbourne has offered to water Kansas for ten cents an acre it is believed he will look upon the proposition with favor. It is to be hoped the scheme will materialize, as folks here will then have an opportunity for personal investigation of the rain-making process. Melbourne seems to have met with as much or greater success that the government experimenters.

Some Restriction is Necessary.

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—During the month of October 36,798 immigrants passed through the barge office.

A Dividend of 25 Per Cent.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 11.—The board of directors of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad today declared a 25 per cent scrip dividend.

VIGOROUS WAR TALK

PLAN OF THE CAMPAIGN AGAINST CHILI.

Fleets of the United States to Enforce a Response From the Bellicose Chilians.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—An official well versed in naval and state department affairs says: "It is only within the last two days that a settled programme has been determined upon. It is substantially this: A demand has already been made on Chili for explanation of the cruiser Baltimore tragely. Within a short time a second demand will be made. The second demand will recite that the first one has not met with the prompt action which the United States expected. If Chili fails to act, the final stroke of the programme will be made. Fleets of the United States will meet in the harbor of Valparaiso. The purpose is to make this demonstration unprecedented in the naval history of the United States. Every available warship which floats the United States flag will take part in the movements. For the time being the squadrons which maneuver in foreign ports will be broken up and absorbed in the main rendezvous at Valparaiso. The new ships and those which are being repaired in the navy-yards will be centered in Chilian waters. It is believed the mere presence of this naval force will be sufficient to force the Chilians into an immediate response. If it is not, it will then be for congress to decide upon the future course, and if need be, issue a formal declaration of war."

Much indignation is expressed at the state and navy departments at the conduct of certain English newspapers in ascribing foolish sentiments and remarks to Minister Egan and Captain Schley, in connection with the pending questions between the Chilian and United States governments. No one here believes what the papers assert, and the opinion is held in the departments the English papers in question are engaged in an effort to foment the growth of a feeling of animosity by the Chilians against the people of the United States.

Lepers Turned at Large.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Nov. 11.—The lepers are now at large. Neither the government nor the Canadian Pacific would take any action, and the city council was so rash as to turn them loose. They have been rejected and driven away by their own countrymen in the portion of the city set apart for the Chinese. People are discharging their Chinese help, and great uneasiness is felt. There is some talk of their striking for the American line.

Troublous Times in China.

SHANGHAI, Nov. 11.—Intense excitement prevails here. The course is tending toward a great civil war. Foreigners in China are in extreme peril. A chief of the great secret society, Kalao Hin, has been arrested in the French concession at Shanghai. The viceroy at Nankin has ordered him to be tortured, hoping he will betray his accomplices; if not, he is to be beheaded. The whole province of Hunan is in a state of siege and revolt.

Fell Dead.

These words are familiar to our readers, as not a day passes without the report of the sudden death of some prominent citizens. The explanation is "Heart Disease." Therefore beware if you have any of the following symptoms: Short Breath, Pain in Side, Smothering Spells, Swollen Ankles, Asthmatic Breathing, Weak and Hungry Spells, Tenderness in Shoulder or Irregular Pulse. These symptoms mean heart disease. The most reliable remedy is Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, which has saved thousands of lives. Book of testimonials free at Stanard & Cusick, who also sells the New Heart Cure.
