LADY INVENTORS.

It is a masculine assumption that the inventors of this world are the result of masculine brains, but Harpers Bazar says that while those who decry women use as one of their chief arguments the statement that women have no inventive faculty, women, it seems, from the actual official returns, go straight on inventing. Not to speak of Catherine Greene, the wife of General Nathaniel Greene, who undoubtedly invented the cotton-gin and whose second husband induced her to abate her fear of ridicule and claim an interest in it, or of Mrs. Walton's achievements with noise-deafening, with smoke-burning, and with similar experiments, there are many other invention by women of equal importance. One woman has invented a method of converting a barrel of oil into ten thousand cubic feet of gas; another has invented a sewing machine that needs no threading; others have invented the ruffling and quilting attachments to such machines, and arrangements for sewing duck and leather. One such attachment made a fortune for Miss Helen Blanchard; and a new baby carriage brought to its inventor, a woman, the sum of a hundred and fifty thousand dollars. Another woman has invented a superior street-sweeper; another, a spinning wheel carrying as many as forty threads; another, a screw crank for steamships; and a chain elevator, a horse shoe machine, a reaper and a mower, a danger signal and so on without end, owe their existence to the brains of women. It was Miss Knight who invented a complicated machine for making the square bottomed paper bag, and refused fifty thousound dollars for the patent, and who also invented another machine that does the work of thirty pairs of hands in folding these bags. It is Mrs. Armstrong who has invented a machine for feeding cattle on trains; it is Josephine Davis who has invented an arrangement of lamps and rubber cloth for a hot vapor bath at home; Mrs Beastly, machine for turning out complete barrels by the hundred; Anna Conolly, a practical fire escape; Mrs. Bailey, an attachment to beds by means of which the patient can raise and lower himself. And among all these inventions none is perhaps of a more pleasing and grateful character than that of Mrs. Nancy Johnson, who invented the first ice cream freezer, but who, not so wise as some of her sisters, sold her patent for fifteen hundred dollars, all ice creams previous to her crank having been made by a slow and laborious stirring. And this is merely skimming over the surface and selecting a few instances that most easily strike the eye, leaving a multitude unmentioned. Nor are these inventions confined, it is evident, to the walks in life most familiar to women, as, among others, the grain elevator, the screw-crank for steamships, and the barrel-maker testify. And while the existence of all these patents and their results ought to confound the careless speaker who thinks so lightly of feminine capability, it does something far more important in showing how greatly enriched the whole world will be when the feminine mind as well as the masculine is fully brought to the work.

THE Argentine Republic in South America, it is said is making purchases of Mannlicher rifles, and a general impression prevails throughout the republic that war in the near future is probable. The dispatch which brings this information does not say with whom the Argentinians purpose to fight, but as Chile has been very gruff lately and is a long-standing enemy, it is possible that trouble with that country is feared. There are some old scores to be cleared off, and the question, which is the leading South American republic? is an open one, which both Chileans and Argentinians seem to be itching to settle.

THE ebulition of the Louisville Courier-Journal, in speaking of the new states recently admitted to the Union calling them rotten boroughs, because their strength will be given to the republicans at the next general election, is as partisan and one sided as is its advocasy of the action of the Michigan democrats in districting the presidential electors of that state, and seeking by a gerrymander to secure democratic electors. The cloven foot is to apparent, and the Michiganders may find out in the end that they have manufactured a boomerang to vex themselves with. Presidential electors should be by the state and not by district.

IT was thought that the tower business for the Chicago world's fair was decided in the negative, but late notes upon the subject say not. It is not much of a tower but it is said that the pier, extending 1,000 feet into the lake, is already completed. At its extremity, in place of the Casino, will be erected a tower 250 feet high. This will be of iron, covered with staff, and will resemble a lighthouse in appearance. From its summit electrical displays of exceeding brilliancy will be made, and by means of electric "searchlights" the grounds, or any particular portion of them, can be flooded with light on fete nights.

REMARKABLE RESCUE.

Mrs Michael Curtain, Plainfield, Ill, makes the statement that she caught cold, which settled on her lungs; she was treated for a month by her family physician, but grew worse. He told her she was a hopeless victim of consumption and that no medicine could cure her. Her druggist suggested Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption; she bought a bottle and to her delight found herself benefitted from the first dose. She continued its use and after taking ten bottles, found herself sound and well, now does her own housework and is as well as she was.—Free trial bottle of this great Discovery at Foshay & Mason's Drug Store, large bottles 50c, and $1.00
