Wheat has advanced to 90 cents in this city. This is nearly a dollar a bushel for wheat than it has been in Oregon for many years. Miss Mamie Hyde, who has been attending school at Monthly, has been ill for several weeks with fever, but is now convalescing.

The young people of the 1st Presbyterian church will give an old time meal at the W. C. T. U. hall Friday evening, Nov. 27th, come and guess on the doughnuts. Mrs. D. E. From two to three carloads of horses per day are being shipped from Eastern Oregon to Eastern markets. At this rate the surplus will soon be got rid of, and then the breeders will begin to realize good prices at home.

On Thanksgiving day at 2:30 p. m. there will be a Thanksgiving prayer meeting of the members of the Young Men's Christian Association at their rooms in the Foster block. A cordial invitation is extended to the pastors of the various churches to unite with us in this service.

The Approaching Holidays. Mr. Julius Gradwohl desires to announce to the public that his splendid stock of holiday goods is now open. His array of beautiful and useful holiday necessities is complete, and he invites everybody to call and see them, whether they wish to purchase or not. It is a beautiful sight to look through his store. Holiday shoppers should make their selections early and have them laid away for them, or they may find that just what they wanted has been sold if they delay.

The Big Minstrel Show. Mr. Will M. Talbot, advance representative of W. S. Cleveland's Minstrels, was in the city yesterday arranging for the appearance of this big city show on Tuesday, Dec. 1. This is one of the most famous minstrel shows in America. It consists of forty people, and their jeweled costumes are worth a fortune of themselves, being insured for $10,000. Their gorgeous street parade is said to be alone worth the price of admission. This splendid show will appear in its entirety at the Albany opera house on next Tuesday evening. It will certainly draw a crowded house.

WEALTH IN WHEAT.

It Brings Millions of Dollars to Farmers of The Northwest.

When the great adaptability of Oregon, and especially the Willamette valley, as a wheatgrowing section is recalled, and the wealth that is annually returned for this staple product, it is not difficult to understand why the average farmer devotes himself heart and soul to wheat growing. Wheat is worth to-day 90 cents. This is of course an exceptional year as to prices, and wheat has not been as near a dollar a bushel for a long time, but it always brings good returns in Oregon for anything like good, honest cultivation of the soil.

Wm. N. G. Babcock, of Walla Walla, president and executive commissioner of the Washington world's fair commission, has issued in the form of a bulletin, some interesting facts about wheat growing, which are equally applicable in the Willamette valley, except that prices are better here, owing to nearness to the seaboard and to market.

I have endeavored to ascertain the cost of production per bushel and the profits per acre. In doing this I took three successive crops which averaged thirty-three bushels to the acre. All work was done by contract, the plowing, seeding, harrowing and harvesting being paid for by the acre and the threshing by the bushel. The plowing cost $1.25 per acre; harrowing and seeding, 90 cents per acre; harvesting and heading, $1.30 per acre; threshing, 6 cents per bushel. This made the cost per bushel a little over 19 cents. I then added interest on the value of the land for two years and counted the cost of production at 26 cents. As the three crops sold in the field for an average of 55 cents per bushel, I counted the profits at $8.28 per acre for each crop.

It is generally considered that from September 15 to December 1 is the best time for seeding, though sowing in the summer, and at any time in the winter or early spring, will ripen at the same time and in Oregon it is not strange to know what is being sown in every month of the year. This is an advantage which the Eastern farmer, limited in his seeding time, can thoroughly appreciate.

A Beneficial Improvement.

The new sanitary system just completed at the public school building was put into use yesterday. The old system was faulty, and the board of directors desired to make the improvement as perfect as possible. The new system of McFarland Supplonia system of closets, and awarded the contract to Messrs. Hopkins Bros., to put the sanitary condition of the building in thorough order, which they have done to the satisfaction of the board of directors and the public. The old system has been entirely removed, and the basement disinfected, until it is as clean as any part of the building. Hopkins Bros. have taken great pains to make the work complete and have succeeded in doing so. The planing being an excellent job. There need now be no fear in the part of parents from any faulty sanitary condition in the public school building, for it no longer exists.

The New Year's Herald.

The Herald's press was started yesterday printing the first pages of the big New Year's issue. An edition of 15,000 copies will be printed, including the Daily and Weekly. It will be printed on fine book paper with special ink, and will be profusely illustrated. This edition will represent an outlay of over $1200, which is considerable for one issue of a newspaper, and it will be the best one ever published in Albany. The various resources of Albany, Linn county and Oregon in general, especially the great Willamette Valley, will be treated as they deserve, and the record of improvements in and about Albany will set forth in detail. It will be a valuable advertising medium, and business men are already taking space which insures it being a great issue.

At the Opera House.

A large audience was present to witness the performance of the New Minstrels at the opera house last evening, and they were delighted from the opening selection to the close. The company, which includes the Noss family, is composed of talented artists every one. They gave a most refreshing example of what can be done in clean, sparkling comedy, together with a great variety of finely executed music on every conceivable instrument, affording an evening's entertainment that was keenly enjoyed by every one present. They deserve a liberal patronage wherever they go.

Captured a Swan.

It is too late in the season for fish stories, so the Pendleton East-side team brought on Friday a large white swan was brought to Pendleton by John Jordan, who tells a singular story of its capture. The young man was near his father's place on east Birch creek, and saw eagles chasing the swan, which in its hurry to escape, flew directly over the young man's head, and by a quick jump he managed to seize it by the neck and bring it down, the disappointed eagles flying angrily away. The story may be doubted by some, but John has the live swan to prove it.

NEWS OF THE COAST.

Interesting Items from Exchanges Throughout the Northwest.

Miss Lou Chandler, daughter of Thomas Chandler, who lives just across the river from Independence, died November 18, at midnight, from injuries received by a lamp explosion a little over a week ago.

Frank Perkins, who has been a resident of Baker county for ten years, elapsed three weeks ago with a girl adopted about two years ago by the Perkins family, deserting his wife and seven little children. A short time ago he had the audacity to write to his wife asking her to forward the girls trunk to Weiser.

Hon. L. Bilyeu, of Eugene, is interested in the Maxwell will case, which has been attracting so much attention in Lane county. The will was made thirteen years ago and disappeared. Two witnesses have been found in Portland who saw it executed, and saw the stocking of money, about $5000, which the old lady hid. Renewed interest will result.

The annual statement of the Baker City auditor shows that the city ran in the $7000 during the past year. It has a bonded indebtedness of $50,000 and $33,000 of unpaid warrant is outstanding, with $1300 on hand. The Democrat, commenting on the condition of affairs, says: It will be readily seen that the city is fast following in the footsteps of the county in the reckless accumulation of indebtedness.

W. Turner and Friend Gallamo, of Pendleton, were arrested the other day on a charge of shooting a pheasant, which by act of the legislature, is an offense against the law of the state. The pheasant was shot in the foothills of the county in the reckless accumulation of indebtedness.

Heppner has had a scandal. Isaac N. Basy, a hotel-keeper, left his wife and family and fled the country with Mrs. Dora Wilson, a milliner and a widow. Basy's creditors caused his arrest but he paid all claims, and then left with the woman, deserting his family.

The Corvallis Times claims the following building record for that city the past year: $50,000 wagon and carriage factory, $20,000 hotel, $20,000 college dormitory, $10,000 city hall, $10,000 foundry and farm implement factory, besides fifteen or twenty residences estimated to cost $25,000. Total, $135,000.

Sierman county has not a saloon within her borders. Last term of circuit court three saloon-keepers were indicted for selling liquor without license and each fined $300. Now the last saloon is closed, as the keepers are unable to procure the necessary precinct majorities in order to obtain license from the county court.

All illustrated papers of the United States have been "acquired" by the enterprising editor of the Grant County News, who, in the issue just received, publishes pictures of the Duc de la Rochefoucauld and Miss Marie Mitchell. The Duc is very bald-headed and his picture has done duty in many papers of the northwest as the before taking of a noted hair vigor, while the young lady's face is surprisingly like that which accompanies a certain complexion nostrum. The pictures are remarkably distinct and lifelike and mark a new era in journalism in Oregon.

A Pioneer Relic.

A relic of early days in Oregon has been unearthed in the Harney country. The Harney Times says that some prospectors, while digging for gold in an old spring at the head of Trout creek last week, unearthed a fairly well preserved bronze rifle head. It was some four or five feet under ground, and remarkably well preserved. The rifle was still on the skull intact. This find is of some interest, as it has been pretty generally believed that there was never any buffalo on this side of the Rocky mountains. An old Pitie Indian, who was over at Crow Camp in the summer, who was doubtless over 100 years old, has told of seeing herds of buffalo ranging over this valley in his early boyhood days, and his story, which was considered then a common every day Indian lie, is confirmed by the finding of this unmistakable proof of the animal's having been there.

Thanksgiving Ball.

The grand uniform ball to be given on Thanksgiving evening at the armory by the members of F. C. promises to be a most enjoyable affair. Good music will be in attendance, and no pains will be spared to make it a success. Those who have not received invitations and wish to attend should call upon the committee, either Wm. A. Humphrey, H. L. Walden or James Ash.

Not a Pleasant Prospect.

In the matter of the future welfare of the Pacific coast farmer, the binding time business is one of vast importance. The future of that business is not reassuring, according to the Seattle Press. It is not only a substitute for, but in every respect superior to glycerine, cold cream, vaseline and like preparations. Try it. For sale by Foshay & Mason.

Fatal Malady.

It is said that Captain Medoram Crawford, of Yamhill county, one of the oldest and best known of Oregon pioneers, cannot long survive, being afflicted with a cancer of the tongue.

BAKING POWDERS.

What the Minnesota State Authorities Know About Them.

If there is a doubt in anybody's mind as to the quality of the various baking powders of the market, it will be settled by the evidence given upon the subject by the state officials of Minnesota. The Dairy and Food Commission and the State Chemist are the highest official authorities upon such subjects in this state, and their evidence will be accepted as disinterested and unprejudiced. It is their business to examine the quality of the different food products, and suppress the sale of those found impure and unwholesome, and all will admit that they have performed their duties without fear or favor.

At a recent examination by a Legislative Committee to determine the qualities of the various baking powders sold in Minnesota, State Chemist and analyst to the Food and Dairy Commissioner, Dr. Benjamin F. Drew, gave the following evidence: Ques.—Dr. Drew, I see by the report of the Dairy and Food Commission of this State that in making analysis of the various baking powders of this country you have found a result of your examination that the Royal Baking Powder contains and gives off in baking a greater per cent. of carbonic acid gas (leaving gas) than any other baking powder made; is that true? Ans.—Yes, sir, that is a fact.

Ques.—Then the Royal Baking Powder, possessing the qualities, is the best powder made, is it not? Ans.—Well, that would be the natural conclusion. Ques.—Well, that is the fact, is it not? Ans.—Yes, sir.

One of Penney's Pleasantries.

Our dispatches this morning from Salem credit Governor Penney with saying that he would rather run a saw-mill than become United States senator. He would think he had been run over by a steam roller if he were a good-sized saw-mill at least, before he would get through running the gauntlet of the republican majority in the Oregon legislature necessary to be encountered in reaching that position.

Double Wedding.

At the Methodist church, on Wednesday evening, November 25, 1891, at 8:30 p. m., will occur the double wedding of J. McClellan and Miss Clara Connors and J. L. Underwood and Miss Cora Loftin. The contracting parties are among our most popular young people, and it will be an interesting and unique affair.

A Beautiful Sight.

Julius Gradwohl wishes to renew his invitation to the ladies of Albany to call and see his beautiful array of hanging lamps. It is a sight worth looking at. He has just received a complete line of bicycles and tricycles for boys and girls. He has also received a large lot of sugar, and those who wish to purchase while sugar is cheap, should not wait. He still sells choice Arbuckle's coffee at one pound for 25 cents. It will pay you to call and inspect his goods. Those who want fine holiday presents should call and have them laid away for them.

The World Enriched.

The facilities of the present day for the production of everything that will conduce to the material welfare and comfort of mankind are almost unlimited and when Syrup of Figs was first produced the world was enriched with it by perfect laxative known, as it is the only remedy which is truly pleasing and refreshing to the taste and prompt and effectual to cleanse the system gently in the morning, or, in fact, at any time any the better it is known the more popular it becomes.

Fine Suttage.

W. R. Graham, the tailor has received one of the largest lines of fine suitings and trousseings to be seen in Oregon, outside of Portland, embracing all the desirable patterns for winter wear. His prices will be found so low that any one could afford to wear one of his neat fitting tailor-made suits and overcoats. He warrants his goods to be first-class, and guarantees a fit. Call and see his new patterns.
