A SUPREME COURT DECISION.

Fatal Accident in a Wash'ington Logging Camp—The Markets in Portland—Other News.

SALEM, Nov. 24.—In the supreme court to-day the proceedings were as follows:

D. M. Osborn & Co., vs. L. W. Deyoe et al., respondents, appeal from Linn county, argued and submitted.

A. E. Currie, respondent, vs. S. P. R. R. Co., appellants, appeal from Linn county, judgment affirmed, opinion per curiam.

The assessment roll for Clackamas county shows a total taxable property amounting to $1,186,635. There are 482 polls. This is an increase over last year of about $60,000.

The organization of the state reform school will be increased from time to time as may be necessary. The first regular teacher is L. M. Gilbert, of Champoeg, who has been elected to fill such position. The legislature did wisely in enacting a law which does not compel parents to carry their wayward children into open court in order that they may be sent to the reform school. All this can be done privately and in chambers.

CRUSHED IN A LOG-WAY.

Fatal Accident in a Washington Logging Camp.

BLAINE, Wash, Nov. 24.—Last evening at Roval City logging camp, a train became detached from the locomotive at the top of the grade and the cars rushed down the hill, crashing into the rear of a tender, knocking it from its trucks, and pinning the engineer and two choppers between the cab and tender, crushing and cutting the engineer terribly, but it is thought not fatally, and severely cutting and crushing two choppers. Surgeons from Blaine attended the injured men.

Willamette Valley Grain Elevators

PORTLAND, Nov. 24.—Frank H. Peavy, the grain dealer and capitalist, has returned from a trip up the Willamette Valley. He is favorably inclined toward the project of constructing grain elevators at Albany, Salem and other cities.

FRANCE AT THE FAIR.

Her Display at Chicago Will Represent Her Friendship for the U. S.

PARIS, Nov. 24—An important banquet was given by a distinguished company last Wednesday evening to the new French Minister to the United States, M. Patenotre, and its bearing on the cordial relations between France and America, with immediate reference also to French intereets in the Chicago World's Fair, were suggested in the brief dispatches sent from here.

The health of the guest of the evening was proposed by M. Bartholdi, president of the Union Franco Americaine, which gave the banquet.

"I shall return to the United States," replied M. Patenotre, "with the greatest possible pleasure, and it will be my duty, as well as my privilege, to foster the feeling of amity which exists between the two greatest republics in the world, an amity the expression of which I trust you will find in the brilliant showing which France will make in reply to America's invitation at the exhibition of 1893."

A SHREWD TRICK.

How Letters Are Examined by Postoffice Thieves.

Do you see this letter, torn here in the middle of this side? What do you suppose did it? Done by the string that is used to tie up the bundle of letters in the mail bag? That is what almost every one thinks, but it isn't the fact. It is done by Postoffice thieves. I got that straight from the Postmaster of a large city not very far from here. It is a shrewd trick to deceive the man who receives the letter. He knows that after the letters have been collected at the office they are put through the stamping machine, which cancels the stamp and prints the postmark at the same time. Then they are sorted out according to their destination, and all those going to the same place and tied up in one bundle, They have a peculiar way of tying them, used at all postoffices. They use rather fine string, and it is put around the bundle twice, once around the ends. The letters are not all of the same size. Some are no longer than others, and some are in square envelopes, while others are in the old-fashioned long envelopes. This being so, it follows that if the string is drawn tight, as it must be to hold the letters together, some of the larger letters will be cut on the side or end by the string. The Postoffice thieves know this as well as any one else, and so when they wish to find out if there is any money in an envelope they simply tear it a little on the side or the end. Almost any Postmaster considers it a favor if a man getting such a letter will take it to him. They always make an endeavor to trace such letters, and then watch if other letters coming over the same route are torn in the same way. You can usually tell whether the letter was really torn by the string or by hand, for the string will wear and fray the edges before it cuts into the letter itself.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

BIG CROP IN CANADA.

Striking Evidence of a Prosperous Season.

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 24.—The report of the bureau of industries shows the grain yield in Ontario this year as extraordinarily large. Wheat and oats are above the average. The crop of wheat, spring and fall, is estimated at 32,584,026 bushels—nearly half as much again as the crop of 1890. The oat crop exceeds that of last year by more than 22,000,000 bushels, while the average per acre is the highest in ten years. The root crop is enormous, but potatoes are much damaged by rot. The acreage of barley sown is 148,000 less than last year, yet the crop is 541,737 bushels larger, owing to the great yield. The average sown in wheat this fall is 15 per cent. greater than that sown in 1890, but the prospects of the yield are hardly as good as last year.

FROZEN TO DEATH.

A FAMILY OF EMIGRANTS PERISH IN TENNESSEE.

They Met With a Snow Blockade and Lost Their Way in the Storm.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 24.—It is said that an emigrant train, consisting of six wagons and thirty-three people, on the way West met with a snow blockade in the Chilhowie mountains. The men, women and children, with the exception of a farmer named George Akers, who was somewhat intoxicated, went into camp Sunday. Akers persisted in going on through the storm and said he would not stop until he reached the mountain top. Monday morning, when the other members started from Knoxville they traced Akers and his wagons a few miles and then lost all track of him. The supposition is that the foolhardy man and his family lost their way and rolled into the river or fell into some deep ravine and were frozen to death.

President's Message of Condolence.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—The president was informed of the death of Governor Hovey, of Indiana, by a telegram from M. G. McClain, of Indiana. The president sent the following message: "The news of the death of Governor Hovey, which your message conveys, fills my heart with sorrow. He served his country with rare devotion and distinction in high civil and military offices, and he will be sincerely mourned as a brave comrade and a generous friend by all who knew him. Please convey to his family my sympathy and regret that I am not able to leave Washington to attend the funeral services."

A Disastrous Prairie Fire.

DENNISON, Tex., Nov. 24.—News has reached here of a disastrous prairie fire near Colbert station, I. T. Great quantities of hay were burned and much damage done. The buildings were occupied mostly by poor settlers. There is much suffering.

Cram's Unrivalled Atlas.

The new edition of this unrivalled work is now being delivered by the agent, Mrs. A. M. Talt. The work is a most excellent one, and this edition is a great improvement upon former ones, giving all the latest date and much new matter that was not in the previous editions. It should be in every family, and on every business man's desk. Those who are not supplied can procure the atlas by addressing P. O. Box No. 60 Albany Oregon.

I am an old man and have been a constant sufferer with catarrh for the last ten years. I am entirely cured by the use of Ely's Cream Balm. It is strange that so simple a remedy will cure such a stubborn disease—Henry Billings, U. S. Pension Att'y, Washington, D. C.

For eight years I have suffered from catarrh, which effected my eyes and hearing; have employed many physicians without relief. I am dow on my second bottle of Ely's Cream Balm, and feel confident of a complete cure.—Mary C. Thompson, Cerro Gordo, Ill.

THE SPEAKERSHIP.

Bynum Withdraws From the Race In Favor of Mills.

HE TALKS ABOUT POLITICS.

The Tariff to Be the Main Issue of the Presidential Contest in 1892—Eastern News.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—Bynum, of Indiana, comes out with a card withdrawing from the speakership contest. In his card Bynum said: "I never pressed my candidacy and consented only to the use of my name until it became evident the contest was narrowed down between Mills and Crisp. I shall heartily support Mills. While none of the candidates are strong tariff reformers, none so prominently represents the position of the party on this question as Mills. He is known to the people as a prominent figure in the house on this question, and his defeat would, in a great measure, be accepted as an abandonment of the issue. Tariff is the issue upon which we must aim in 1892, and there should be no semblance of wavering or halting at this critical period. Unless the party stands firmly and aggressively in favor of this issue, the farmers of the Northwest, who gave us such sweeping victories in 1890, will become discouraged, and may abandon a hope of success through the organizations of our party.

VESSEL ASHORE.

The Southern Pacific's Collier Wrecked Off Victoria.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 24.—Vice-President Crocker, of the Southern Pacific company, states his advices show that the collier San Pedro, ashore off Victoria, had a large hole in her side, and from the reports he feared she might be lost. The coal had been taken on from the Union colliery in British Columbia, in which place the steamer had run while the company was waiting for the water to subside in the recently flooded Carbonado mines. This was the San Pedro's first trip to the Union colliery. Her coal was of a superior quality and was valued at $24,000. There is no insurance on the steamer or cargo. The San Pedro was valued at $350,000. If the vessel goes to pieces she will be the third steam collier lost by the Pacific Improvement Company. The San Pedro was one of the finest vessels of her class, and her loss would be severely felt by the Southern Pacific Company, as she was run for the sole purpose of supplying coal for the corporation's locomotives and ferry steamers.

The Little Georgia Magnet.

A Woman Who Once Astonished the People of Albany.

LONDON, Nov. 24—The all absorbing topic of conversation in London to-day is Mrs. Annie Abbott, the magetic woman from Georgia. Never before has any American woman been so widely discussed or advertised. The penny dreadfuls have printed pages about her, each vieing with the other in giving an alleged solution of her mysterious powers, and even the Times has had long, ponderous articles day by day. The music hall that was fortunate enough to engage Mrs. Abbott for $100 a week is turning hundreds of people away nightly. Sandow, the strong man, has issued an informal challenge through the Herald saying that he would back himself for any amount to lift her, and the trial will probably come off next week. Mrs. Abbott weighs ninety-eight pounds.

WASHINGTON GOSSIP.

Formal Call for the Next Republican Convention.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—The republican national committee met this morning and prepared a formal call for the next national convention to be held at Minneapolis.

The committee then called on President Harrison and Secretary Blaine, and was photographed on the treasury steps. Members of the Minneapolis delegation called at the state department this morning and paid their respects to Secretary Blaine. They then called on Acting Secretary Grant in the war department, and were photographed in a group on the north porch of the building.

The committee of awards of the world's fair called at the White house this morning, and had a brief interview with the president in regard to the fair.

RAILROAD PROJECT.

Work Being Done by the Southern California Road.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 24.—General Manager K. H. Wade, of the Southern California railroad, returned to-day from Denver. He was shown a dispatch from Denver, in which it was stated that he and other Sante Fe officials were there to arrange a war on the Union Pacific on account of the latter's withdrawal from the Leadville pool. "While I cannot say that the matter will not affect [illegible] continental rates," said Mr. Wade, "I do not think it very likely. The business from Leadville in hauling ore and kindred freight is immense, and is very desirable, but so far as I am informed on the matter, it is purely a local affair and will probably remain so." Mr. Wade stated that all the surveys and plans prepared for the construction of the Temecula Canyon branch of the Southern California road to San Diego, which was destroyed by the floods of two years ago, have been rejected by the finance committee of the Santa Fe, and a new survey will have to be made. Orders were issued for the immediate completion of the Mentone & East Highland belt line in San Bernardino county, which will give the Santa Fe control of the largest orange-shipping points in that county. "When will you commence work on the line to San Francisco, Mr. Wade?" "That is a matter we are not discussing in the newspapers," replied the magnate."

A DANGEROUS COUNTERFEIT.

It Is an Imitation of a Twenty-Dollar Gold Certificate.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 21.—Secret service officers have been notified that one of the most dangerous counterfeits ever issued is in circulation. It is a photographic counterfeit of a $20 gold certificate, check letter A, B. K. Bruce, Register, and James Gilfillan, Treasurer. Its department series is A372,945.

The notice describes the counterfeit as photographically perfect in its lines, but in its color it is distinguishible from the genuine. The back of the counterfeit bill is light brown, while the back of the genuine is orange.

The counterfeit is half an inch shorter and one-eighth of an inch narrower than the genuine. The paper is of good quality and contains the threads which have so long baffled the skill of counterfeiters.

INDIAN FARMERS

ALLOTTING LANDS IN SEVERALTY TO THE APACHES.

The Braves Find Raising Crops More Profitable Than Raising Scalps.

SANTA FE, N. M., Nov. 24.—Special Agent John K. Rankin, of the Indian bureau, is in the city making up a final report of his labors during the past five months among the Jacarilla Apache Indians, whose reservation is in the northern part of Rio Arriba county. In company with a deputy United States surveyor Mr. Rankin has just completed his task of allotting the lands in severalty to the Indians of the tribe. The work was at the request of the Indians themselves. Eighty acres of agricultural, or 160 acres of agricultural or grazing lands, were surveyed and allotted to each of 840 Indians. There are ten more Indians in the tribe, but their whereabouts are unknown. Thus 150,000 acres of the reservation have been cut up into small farms, and when these allotments are approved by the Indian office these Indians will take formal possession of their lands, and the residue of the reservation, 250,000 acres, will be thrown open for settlement as public domain. Agent Rankin says this tribe is making excellent progress toward becoming self supporting, and are pleased with the prompt action of the government in awarding them their homesteads. Many of them have built good farmhouses already, and are cultivating the soil and raising stock with an earnestness that bodes good for the future of the tribe.

The Salton Sea Drying Up.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 24.—A gentleman who arrived from Salton yesterday said: "The Salton lake is fast drying up, the water having receded to such an extent as to show very clearly the old locomotive which was submerged at the end of the railroad spur near the salt works. This is three miles south of Salton sea. The spur to the mines has been partially rebuilt, and will be completed in a few days. A great stretch of desert, which was submerged, is now dry, and is covered with a glistening coating of salt. The salt company will resume operations very soon, taking chances on the waters coming in again at the high water season next year."

Fraudulent Insurance Companies.

CHICAGO, Nov. 24.—Attorney-General Hunt to day filed a petition in the circuit court to wind up and dissolve the Chicago Mutual Life Benefit Association and the North American Benefit Association, on the ground that they had been conducting their business in a fraudulent manner, and chiefly to pay salaries of their officials. The Mutual Life has unpaid losses of $123,000. The North American has liabilities of $78,700 and assets of $18,000.

Three Children Suffocated.

PARIS, Nov. 24.—Three children belonging to an English family named Trump were suffocated in their home in the Rue Dominique, a red hot stove having set fire to the bedsead in the absence of the children's parents.
