REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

The republican voters of the city of Albany are requested to meet in convention at the Armory on Saturday, December 5th, at 7:30 P. M. for the purpose of nominating the following candidates for city offices: Mayor, Recorder, Marshal, Treasurer, and to ratify the ward nominations for committee.

The ward meetings, for the nomination of one councillor from each ward and one committee man from each ward, will be held on Thursday evening, December 3rd, at 7 P. M., at the following places: First Ward—On the west side of the circuit court room. Second Ward—On the east side of the circuit court room. Third Ward—At the Farmers' warehouse office. Albany, Or., Nov. 14, 1891.

NOTINGS ABOUT TOWN.

Sauer kraut at Parker Bros. Sweet cider 25 cents a gallon at Parker Bros. Mr. Caleb Gray, of Halsey, was in the city yesterday. Swiss cheese, the finest ever in Albany, at Parker Bros. A. Cohen pays the highest market price for green apples. L. E. Blain returned last evening from a visit to Seattle. The Willamette is reported 5 1/2 feet above low water mark. The first lesson in the York will be given Friday evening at the dancing school.

Mrs. D. G. Clark and daughter came up on last evening's train from a visit to Portland. Any one wishing cards explaining the weather signals can get them by calling at F. M. French's jewelry store. Dr. Guise, formerly of this city, now of Woodburn, who has been dangerously ill with erysipelas, is learnedly convalescent.

The G. A. R. ball at the armory on Friday evening promises to be a success. Everything is in readiness, and a large crowd is expected. Arrangements were completed last evening for the grand Christmas ball. Parson's orchestra from Portland has been engaged for the occasion.

W. J. Adams, of the Albany Mining and Milling company, came down from the Mt. Hood work, and reports the new mill almost ready for operation. At the dedication of the new Christian church in Halsey recently, a collection and subscription of over $500 was raised to pay off the indebtedness.

Rev. I. B. Fisher, of Jefferson, was in the city recently looking after material to complete the new Evangelical church being constructed in that city on the Sanitation. The second half term of the dancing school begins Friday evening at the opera house at 8 o'clock. Prof. Ossar Fechter, the dentist, who was sick last week, will surely be here on that evening to play at the social, also Mr. Cowley, on the saxophone.

It is said that Captain Symons, United States engineer, has difficulty in securing as many men as are needed to work in the quarries at Yaquina which furnish stone for the jetties there. He is in need of a dozen or so men, who can have a job for the winter if they suit. The rehearsal of Belshazzar's Feast will be held in the opera house at 7:30 o'clock. All participants should be present, as the time of presentation is drawing near and there is no time to be wasted. Postponement of dates is out of the question, hence the necessity for thorough practice.

The financial and international bearings of the Jewish persecution will be explained in the December Forum by M. Leroy-Beaulieu, the greatest living authority on the subject. In the same number, M. Camille Pelletan, a member of the French Chamber of Deputies, frankly explains the French feeling towards Germany, showing that at some time another conflict about Alsace-Lorraine is inevitable. Held for a Dollar a Bushel. A slight decline has been felt in the wheat market in this city. Ninety and three-fourth cents has been offered until yesterday, when the price declined to 90. Little is being sold. A pool is being made up by farmers, which, it is said, will contain 60,000 and possibly 80,000 bushels, which is held for $1.00 a bushel net to the farmer. The owners of the pool are confident that they will receive a big round dollar a bushel for their wheat.

The Weather To-Day. The weather indications of the U. S. signal service for to-day is: For Oregon and Washington, fair weather, except scattering light rains on immediate coast; slightly warmer.

IN FAVOR OF ELECTRIC LIGHTS.

But Opposed to Corporations Ruling the City.

To get the best of the electric light system, the city should be organized for the purpose of making money for its stockholders by rendering certain services to the public and individuals. The city gave it a franchise for that purpose, just as the state grants franchises to railroads to serve the public and individuals in other ways. Each are corporations, the one subject to the control of the city council, the other to the state legislature. It is the legitimate business of all such corporations to make all the money they can and they are expected to avoid themselves of every lawful means to that end. It would doubtless please the electric light company to have its stockholders or special friends, the managers of the city government, as in that way it can get even more remunerative contracts from the city than it now has, although its present contract with the city has enabled it, as it did, to pay twenty per cent on its investment in the first six months of its existence. The company has a right to get its stockholders or friends in control of the city affairs, if it can. It is because of this right and the efforts of a self company to do so, that the attention of the voters was called to the case of the present contract in paying out the public money to enrich that company. The council has the power and right to regulate its charges, just as the legislature has the right to regulate the charges on railroads. It would not be good policy for the people of the city to elect stockholders or bondholders of a railroad or to let the legislature to regulate or make contracts for them on railroad matters. Neither is it good policy for the people of Albany to elect its officers shareholders or special friends of the Electric Light company, for any other corporation or large consumers of electric light having special rates, to make contracts with said company or to regulate its charges for light. It does not answer the complaint of "Citizen and Taxpayer" that the city government has been lavish in paying out the public money, and that the exactions of the electric light company have been oppressive and unjust, to say as you did: "If you don't want the light, you don't take it, but go back to kerosene lamps." The S. P. R. Co. made recently to some of our grain dealers, who found it cheaper and to his interest to buy a large amount of wheat from Tangout by wagon to Albany, rather than comply with the extortionate demands of the railroad company. The Herald did not approve of the railroad argument, then it is hardly consistent for the Herald to adopt it now. No one should be nominated or elected to any office in this city who wears the yoke of any corporation, who her the same be a railroad company, an electric light company, or any other kind. Men should be nominated and elected who have no private or selfish ends to attain in the management of public affairs. Electric lights, as well as railroads, are a public necessity, but a limit should be put to the extortionate charges of both.

GREEN AND TAXPAYER.

A Modern Whipping Post. A story comes from Yaquina City that Ernest Smith, aged 17 years, tried to ravish the 12-year-old daughter of Life Manning, says the "Corvallis Times." In fact, the enraged father caught the boy in the act and had ample proof to send him to the penitentiary. But by some peculiar compromise between the father, the justice of the peace and the boy's mother, legal proceedings were dropped and Mr. Manning was privileged to punish the boy as he thought best. So he took the boy to a secluded spot and the justice accompanied them, as a referee. He was stripped and lashed until his body looked like a riveted map of Africa, and although the punishment was not strictly according to the letter of the law, it was both severe and effective. Of course the proceedings may have been a trifle irregular, but we never like to question the decree of a court.

Back From the Convention.

Pendleton East-Oregonian: W. A. Sample, represented Oregon together with C. R. Rork at the national convention of the National Farmers' Alliance & Industrial Union, lately in session at Indianapolis, returned Sunday. He reports that full delegation was present, that the convention was a harmonious one, and a grand good time together was had by the delegates, notwithstanding the representations in the Associated Press. The meeting was successful and beneficial in its results.

For Another Church Edifice.

Rev. C. A. Wooley is in the city soliciting aid for the purpose of building a Cumberland Presbyterian church edifice in the eastern portion of the city. While there are a goodly number of churches in the city, Mr. Wooley thinks there is need of a church in that locality, and says he is meeting with good success. Grand Ball and Supper. There will be given at the G. A. R. hall, by the G. A. R., and W. R. C., of Albany, a supper and dance, Friday evening, Dec. 4th, 1891. The dance will be in the armory, the supper in the G. A. R. Hall. Good music and a fine time is anticipated. Tickets, including supper, $1.50.

MORTUARY.

How the Bodies of the Victim and the Lunatic Slayer Were Buried.

From the Portland Dispatch we learn that the body of the man Cook who shot and killed Mr. Stine, the editor of the Whiteson Advance, was brought to that city yesterday for interment. Cook was a member of the G. A. R. in good standing and will be buried by that organization, the post in that city of which he was a member, officiating. The coroner's jury in the case rendered a verdict that Cook shot Stine while in a state of temporary insanity and then took his own life. Mr. Stine was buried at Independence. It is said, to say at the least.

Our Sister City.

Under this heading, Bob Johnson, the versatile editor of the Corvallis Times, after a visit in this city, says: Albany always has been a kind of a twin sister to Corvallis. Not because of any particular affection existing between the two towns, but from the fact of having a similar excuse for living and having been on the turf about the same length of time. We are kind of a Siamese twins with the river for a connecting cord. From birth Albany has been the largest child and on several occasions when fortune seemed to smile on her has been loath to recognize or admit our common patrimony. Now our sister means well, but whenever a new enterprise springs up in her midst her self-esteem is apt to give her the notion that she is the hub of the universe—the railway center of the world. She never did recognize in Corvallis a rival, but has always considered us as a poor relation, and often had to condescend to notice us in our common society. But she is outgrowing this foolish notion. She keeps close to her heels in the race for supremacy. We have been girls together, but Albany had a change in life about two years ago and put on long dresses. She developed into a fine looking city and her main streets commands respect. She has reached her majority and has doffed her swaddling clothes. But we, too are beginning to take the tucks out of our calicoes and some of those mornings Albany will be proud of her twin sister and will willingly march hand in hand through the ages to importance and prosperity.

Improves With Age.

The wooden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Ardy Hunt was celebrated yesterday in appropriate and pleasing manner, their many friends extending congratulations and wishes for the return of many annual anniversaries extending beyond the golden limit. A five year old fruit cake was cut for the occasion and found to be perfect and like wine to improve with age. The sample piece gave ample proof of that fact.

TEACHERS INSTITUTE.

The following is a report of the institute, held at Sheild, Nov. 27th, and 28th. Meeting was called to order by Superintendent Russell. Remarks were made by a number of teachers concerning the advisability of organizing a local institute to be called Teachers Association of the third district. Meeting with no objections, Prof. Wilkes, of Sheild, was elected president, Prof. Reeves, of Halsey, secretary. In the absence of the secretary, Miss Ramsey was appointed to fill the vacancy. The committee on programme Mr. Gibson, Miss Pugh and Miss Porter. On resolutions, Mr. Waldron, Rev. Elwirth and Linnie Ramsey. As no programme was prepared, a number of questions were written by the teachers and placed in a query box. These were thoroughly discussed by Superintendent Russell, Rev. Elwirth, Prof. Wilk and others. On motion, adjournment was in order to meet again at half past one.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Meeting was called to order by President Wilkes. The topics for discussion, were proper incentive to study. How should writing be taught in primary grades? Also the proper way in which spelling should be taught. These were ably discussed by the different teachers. A motion was made to hold the next meeting in three weeks. On motion it was decided to hold the next meeting at Halsey. The following resolutions were read and adopted by the association. Resolved, That the teachers of this association, tender our thanks to the good people of Sheild for their hospitality and kindness extended to us during the institute. Resolved, That the thanks of the teachers are due to the trustees of the M. E. church for the use of their building. Resolved, That we extend our thanks to our county superintendent for the interest he has manifested in this meeting and for his aid and in helping to organize this association. Resolved, That our thanks are due Professor Howard for his excellent talk on Friday evening. Resolved, That we extend our thanks to the three young men who so kindly furnished music for the entertainment on Friday evening. On motion the institute adjourned to meet again at Halsey, Dec. 18 at 9 o'clock.

MR. WALDRON, REV. ELWIRTH, LINNIE RAMSAY, COMMITTEE.

HOLIDAY SHOPPERS.

Should See the Wonderful Array at Julius Gradwall's Bazaar.

Mr. Julius Gradwall, the enterprising proprietor of the Bazaar store in this city, which contains the largest and best selected stock of crockery, glass and other wares for domestic use, in the valley, as well as fancy wares, toys and beautiful holiday goods, has replenished and enlarged his excellent stock and now has a store that is a credit to himself and an ornament to the city. His shelves, counters and every available space are filled with the choicest and most varied stock of goods ever seen in this valley, including a mammoth display of holiday goods. He has added a new line which consists of a beautiful assortment of rolled gold jewelry warranted to wear as good as gold and costing one-tenth as much money, diamond cut pins, rings, fine minkies for holiday presents and novelties. His stock is now in and holiday shoppers should lose no time in seeing his wonderful array which is not surpassed by any on the coast either in elegance or prices. He also carries a gigantic stock of beautiful hanging lamps, stand lamps, bicycles, tricycles, safes, and velocipedes, which he guarantees to sell as low as any place in Oregon.

His assortment of fine teas and coffees is always complete, as well as a general stock of family groceries. He buys his goods direct for net cash and sells them the same way. Fertile Proscription. Oregonian, note and comment, relates that Florence, the comedian, was not noted as a temperance lecturer, but a bit of advice which he not infrequently gave showed that he was considerable of a philosopher. If you must drink, said he, buy a gallon of whiskey at a time and make your wife the barkeeper. When you are dry, give her 15 cents for a drink, and when the whiskey is gone she will have, after paying for it, $1.75 left, and every gallon thereafter will yield the same profit. This money she should put away, so that when you have become an inebriate, unable to support yourself, and shunned by every respectable man, your wife may have money enough to keep you until you find a drunkard's grave. History is silent as to whether the Hon. Bardwell Slotte followed this excellent advice, but certain it is that he and his good wife prospered financially all their later years.

Heading off the Worms.

A fruit grower in Umatilla claims to have discovered a means of doing away with the destructive ex-dim moth. He floods his orchard every spring, and his theory is that the moth is drowned when ready to leave its winter quarters in the ground. As proof that this is efficacious, he states that his orchard is not troubled, while all his neighbors are obliged to spray their trees repeatedly during the summer.
