Signed Another Man's Name.

A professional "dead beat," answering to the name of J. M. Hill, was arraigned in Justice O. P. Cowsh's court on a charge of forgery. He waived examination and was held in $500 bonds, in default of which he now occupies a berth in the county jail with gloomy prospects ahead. The circumstances are: Yesterday morning Hill presented a note for $51 signed by Samuel Bryan, of Tangent, at the First National bank and received $30 therefrom. It was soon discovered to be a forgery and a warrant was issued for his arrest, with the above result. He also obtained $5 from Dr. G. W. Maston on a note for $51 on E. J. Bryan, but the money was afterwards refunded on being confronted by the doctor and accused of his crime.

Quite a Relic.

A Chicago dispatch says that the trunk or chest which Ferdinand and Isabella of Spain used when they visited summer resorts in his way to Chicago, consigned to McKinzie's warehouse at Tacoma, who purchased the antiquity on a recent trip abroad. He paid $100 for his treasure and has ample proof of its genuineness. The Custom-house officers refused to pass it free of duty, inasmuch as the article is constructed by the McKinzie family as not an antiquity, and is therefore subject to duty. The chest is said to be over 325 years old, and was for several hundred years among the royal treasures of Spain.

He will bring with him the prize winners in the poultry line of both Oregon and Washington for 1891. This will be a display of as fine a lot of fowls as the United States affords. The exhibition will be free and every farmer should come to view on one of these days to see this grand array of thoroughbreds. Don't forget the time.

Mr. Julius Gradwohl, the enterprising proprietor of the Bazaar store in this city, which contains the largest and best selected stock of crockery, glass and other wares for domestic use, in the valley, as well as fancy wares, toys and beautiful holiday goods, has replenished and enlarged his entire stock and now has a store that is a credit to himself and an ornament to the city. His shelves, counters and every available space are filled with the choicest and most varied stock of goods ever seen in this valley, including a mammoth display of holiday goods. His stock grows and holiday shoppers should lose no time in seeing his wonderful array which is not surpassed by any on the coast either in elegance or prices.

He also carries a gigantic stock of beautiful handkerchiefs, stand lamps, bicycles, tricycles, suitcases and velocipedes, which he guarantees to sell as low as any place in Oregon. His assortment of fine teas and coffees is always complete, as well as a general stock of family groceries. He carries his goods direct from the manufacturer in the same way.

The U. S. Circuit Judgeship.

A Washington dispatch of the 4th, inst., says: It is said that the Oregon senators have agreed to recommend Joseph S. Smith Jr. United States circuit judge. On account of action of the delegation is held in abeyance until Representative Hermann arrives with his influence toward promoting the aspirations of the little boss. It is not believed that Simon can be appointed, for the men who are working for other candidates will probably resent Simon in such a position. He would not be in favor with Mr. Harrison. The prospects for W. Lair Hill, of Washington, are said to be bright. All the Washington delegation have endorsed him, as well as most of the bar in the state. A curious feature of the endorsement is the warm commendation that Hill receives from Tacoma. It would never be suspected that there was any feeling because the judicial aspirant is a resident of Seattle.
